MISS RUDKINS' STORE NEWS.

"Inflammation Of Values."

This is a disease that is spreading among down-town dry goods merchants. The cause is careless handling of the truth; which sooner or later recoils—boomerang-like—upon the too imaginative merchants.

The remedy, if taken in time, is to do a little more harping on the truth in quoting values of goods.

You'll never catch this little store advertising $1 Dress Goods for 29c, or $1.50 Walking Hats for 49c. The average woman is too well posted on values to impose on her good sense in that manner, and she also knows to give a wide berth to the store troubled with "Inflammation of Values

What we do advertise is that we have—

The best 50c Dress Goods for 50c.
The best 25c Hats for 25c.
The best 20c Hats for 20c.
The best 75c Kid Gloves for 75c.
The best 10c Plaid Tartan for 10c.
The best 40c Evening Dress Silks for 40c.
The best $2.75 Mantles for $2.75.

We know our Prices are right and stick to them every day of the week. Remnants don't worry us, old stock don't need pushing out, because we have none to push.

THE PENNY POSTAGE.

The Canadian Design for the New Imperial Stamp.

EVOLVED BY HON. WM. MULOCK.

White Patriotic and Very Artistic, It Will Attract Attention by Its Decided Originality, and Will Distinguish British Possessions From Those of Any Other Power—To Issue Christmas.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Broad Imperialism was dominant in the mind of the Postmaster-General when he selected the design of the new stamp with which penny postage between Canada, Great Britain and many sister colonies will be inaugurated on Christmas Day. When Mr. Mulock was in England recently he was struck by the failure of the great mass of the people there to appreciate at their true value the portions of the British Empire beyond the sea. The thought occurred to him that no more effective object lesson of the vastness and solidarity of the empire could be given than by presenting a picture contrasting the dimensions of Greater Britain with those of all other powers. This idea has taken definite form in the design of the new Imperial penny postage stamp, for everything but the actual drawing of which Mr. Mulock personally must be given credit. Upon returning from Great Britain he invited designs from a number of artists, embodying the idea which he had in his mind, but when these were submitted he found that they did not meet the object in view. Then he sat down, pencil in hand, and roughly sketched on paper what he wanted, after which he passed it over to an artist, that the lines might be skilfully and symmetrically drawn. The result is a design strikingly original, artistic to the eye, and flattering to the pride of all people of British sentiment. In size the stamp resembles that of the jubilee issue, but in no other particular. The Imperial penny postage stamp is not designed for a special issue, as was the jubilee stamp, but it will take its place among the regular postal issues, its distinctive character being derived from its unique design and the special purpose for which it is intended. The feature of the stamp is a neatly executed map of the world, in miniature, distinguishing the British Empire from the possessions of all other powers.

The British possessions are painted in red, and these stand out in bold relief against a dark background. Surmounting this instructive picture is a representation of the Crown, underneath which is a bunch of oak and maple leaves, symbolizing the unity of England and Canada. At the upper edge of the stamp are the words "Canada postage," in a neat letter. Underneath the map is placed, "Xmas, 1898," so that the date of the inauguration of Imperial penny postage shall be made a matter of record. On each of the lower corners appears the figure "2," indicating the denomination of the stamp, and at the lower edge is this suggestive passage, taken from the words of one of our patriotic poets, "We hold a vaster empire than has been." Mr. Mulock will be able to claim the credit of giving the public the cheapest map of the world ever issued, and if it suggests to the minds of the British people a realization of the relative place occupied by the country amongst the nations of the earth it will serve a worthy purpose. The Postmaster-General has also a plan in preparation to disseminate in an easily understandable form statistical information showing Canada's position in the march of progress. Statistics, however eloquent they may be of greatness, are often robbed of their merit by the manner in which they are served up and by a too solicitous regard for cumbersome detail. It is the purpose of Mr Mulock to have prepared a card bearing the impress of the new penny postage stamp, together with a table of figures indicating the important elements in Canada's claim to greatness, the volume of her trade, her area, the magnitude of her natural productions and industrial output, transportation facilities, her position upon the great highways between Europe and the far East, and other matters of equal importance. These cards will be placed in envelopes and distributed amongst teachers and others in Canada and in Great Britain, in the hope that they may assist in the formation of a true idea of Canada's present and prospective position.

AWFUL HOTEL FIRE.

Big San Francisco Hotel a Total Ruin—Loss of Life—A Gallant Man's Tragic Death.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 25.—The Baldwin Hotel caught fire at 8.25 a.m. on Wednesday, and it has been entirely destroyed. There were 800 people, guests and employes, in the hotel when the fire broke out and a number of these people are thought to have lost their lives. J. L. White is one of the victims, but before he gave up his life, the gallant fellow saved the lives of three women.

The number of victims of the Baldwin Hotel fire is yet unknown. The Examiner yesterday gave the following list: Dead—J. L. White, capitalist, residing in the hotel; Louis Meyers, secretary La Tuyaca Bay Gold Mine; John W. Carter, Associate Judge of California Jockey Club; Tate Prior, sheet writer for J. J. Carroll.

Missing—J. M. Lithead, Purser of the City of Rodney; Mr. Andrews, cashier of the Baldwin Grotto; W. W. Benchley, employe of grill room.

A careful survey of the loss by the Baldwin Hotel fire places the hotel loss at $1,500,000, on which, at the outside there was not over $150,000 insurance. Only $50,000 was carried on the hotel. The two chambermaids and Tate Prior, missing, have been accounted for. Mrs. Andrews and two children, guests at the hotel, have not been seen since the fire.

The death of J. L. White was most dramatic. Three women appeared on the cornice of the fifth floor on the Market street side of the hotel. The firemen could not reach them with ladders and they stood helpless, screaming with terror. Suddenly White came out of a window carrying a small rope. With this he lowered the women into the arms of the firemen who were waiting at the windows of the next floor. Then he started down the rope hand over hand. Half way down the rope parted and the man who had just saved three lives was dashed to the pavement 100 feet below.

"FOUND THE PURSE."

Hugh Brown, a Trenton Carter, Arrested on Charge of Robbing the Body of Mr. Lunness of Toronto.

Trenton, Nov. 25.—Hugh Brown, a carter of Trenton, has been arrested by Chief Coleman of Trenton and Detective Day of Toronto on a charge of robbing the dead body of Mr. Lunness of Toronto, the well-known cattle exporter, who was killed in the railway smash-up at Murray Hill, on the G.T.R., on Nov. 15. He was taken to Belleville jail to await his trial. Nine hundred and thirty-six dollars and twenty-five cents were found on his person, but it is supposed that $1,100 was the amount stolen. Brown is supposed to have spent the balance or divided it up amongst his friends

Brown Remanded.

Belleville, Nov. 25.—Hugh Brown was remanded in the Police Court here yesterday until Wednesday next. Brown acknowledged having found the pocket-book and hid its contents.

ANGLO-AMERICANISM.

A Glorification of Anglo-American Friendship—Thanksgiving Day Banquet in London—Sir Edwin Arnold.

London, Nov. 25.—Lord Farrer, presiding at the annual meeting of the Cobden Club last evening, in the course of his address said that America, having wisely or unwisely, embarked upon a policy of expansion, would, from the virtual force of circumstances, be impelled to extend her empire. No nation, he asserted, had committed more economical follies than the United States, and if she attempted to surround her new territories with a ring fence of protection he will be inclined to think the era of good feeling now existing between America and Great Britain would very speedily be dissolved.

Anglo-Saxon Glorification.

The Thanksgiving banquet of the American Society in London, which was held at the Hotel Cecil in London last night, was a glorification of Anglo-American friendship. Three hundred Americans and their English guests sat at tables under the entwined flags of the two nations. Two notable speeches were made, one by Sir. Henry White, the American Charge d'Affaires, and the other by Sir Edwin Arnold, who was supposed to be nearly at the point of death from paralysis, but who dragged himself into the banquet hall against the orders of his physicians, leaning on the arm of his Japanese wife, and supported by a cane.

Spain Will Likely Accept.

Paris, Nov. 25.—The Spanish Peace Commissioners at noon yesterday had not fixed upon the day to submit their final answer to the American propositions. But it is deemed most likely that Saturday will be the day appointed, and the opinion gains ground that the Spaniards will accept the proposals of the United States. The secretary of the Spanish Commission, Senor Ojedo, said yesterday that the instructions from Madrid were not sufficiently matured to enable them to appoint the next meeting.

Spaniards Are Squirming.

Madrid, Nov. 25.—In the decree accepting the resignation of Marshal Blanco as Capt-General of Cuba, the Queen Regent eulogizes the "zeal, intelligence and loyalty" with which he has fulfilled his functions. The newspapers here comment bitterly upon the peace conditions of the United States and upon the landing of American reinforcements in the Philippines.

The Imparcial expresses the belief that "the American exactions are becoming harder and harder," and adds that this question appears to be a European plot in favor of might against right.

THE CROWN'S WITNESS

Pare on the Stand All Thanksgiving Day.

HE CONTRADICTS HIMSELF.

Mr. Osler Announces That Pare Will Go Free, and Then the "Approver" Gives His Evidence Over Again—Holden Is Also to Testify—Conductor Fred Russell Gives Evidence.

Napanee, Nov. 25.—The Dominion Bank robbery case was reached on Wednesday morning at 9.10 o'clock. The bar was represented by B. B. Osler, Q.C., C. J. Holman, W. S. Harrington, W. R. Northrup, Q.C., W. G. Wilson, Morley Wilson, W. H. Madden and E. Porter.

Prisoner Mackie, looking in good shape, was brought into the room and entered the box. W. H. Ponton, who sat free in the court room, on a nod from his counsel went into the box and sat down beside Mackie.

The charge of the Queen v. Mackie and Ponton was read, and the two prisoners pleaded not guilty in a firm voice.

Then the clerk of the court read off the names of a panel of 60 jurors. There were 73 called, but the Crown allowed a panel of 60, of whom 48 could be objected to.

The selection of a jury and Mr. Osler's opening address took up all the forenoon. The jury finally selected is: H. E. Smith, Fredericksburg; Thomas Shane, Camden; Barney Bongard, Adolphustown; William Wilson, Camden; John Hopkins, Sheffield; Anthony McCaugherty, Bath; John Hanton, Adolphustown; Charles Palmater, Sheffield; Edward Kaylor, Ernestown; Neil Milsap, Camden; James Bluto, Richmond; Thomas Hamilton, Camden.

The Crown's Chief Witness.

The most important feature in Mr. Osler's address was the announcement that Pare, as a witness for the Crown, would go free, while Holden, if he told the whole truth, might look for mercy from the judge. It is said on good authority that Holden might get a remission of at least seven years of the 14 due him. This statement has given rise to much comment upon the equity of such a course, but in the eyes of the Crown it is justifiable on the ground that it is a recompense for the proper placing of the crime.

The court reassembled at 9.10 and at once got to business. Egerton Baines was called for three times, but did not respond. In the absence of Mr. Baines Mr. F. F. Miller, the architect, was called, and testified to the accuracy of the plan of the bank buildings and environs.

Mr. Porter drew from the witness that he had indicated on the map five different ways of reaching Ponton's rooms. Mr. Holman also asked the witness a variety of questions.

In the meantime ex-Manager E. Baines had come into the court room and was busily engaged with a mass of figures. When called he related his story as told at the preliminary investigations, which has been already published.

Prisoner Pare went on the stand at 5.15. He then began the story he told at the second preliminary examination, and had reached the point about the combination locks and what he could do with them when the court adjourned.

THURSDAY'S EVIDENCE.

The court was crowded yesterday, many of the people in court being from outside points spending their holiday listening to the story Pare began to tell the day before. Witness recognized "Willis," "the man in the bank," as prisoner W. H. Ponton. Then he told practically the same story as he did at the preliminary examination, skipping very many details as immaterial. The story of the combination, the keys, Mr. Baines' fishing excursion, how he first entered the bank the night Ponton was first left in charge, were topped off with his explanation of how he opened the model look placed in his hands. The arrest-as-a-vagrant story, the hiding of the keys in his mouth in a chew of tobacco, was followed by the tin biscuit box and G.T.R. fence relation. This led up to the finish of the burglary.

"Who came in from Belleville for the final job?"

"Holden, Mackie and me."

On Friday night, 26th August, 1897, Pare said, Ponton told that he had issued about $1,000 of the new notes, that there was about $24,000 or $25,000 in the bank, and besides $10,000 of Government bonds. Ponton told him he thought the bonds were in Baines' compartment.

The old story of how the bank was robbed was then told graphically, with a religious regard for details.

Witness then identified the tools produced as those used, and then the thread of the story was again picked up. Mackie, with a string in his hand, stood on telegraphic guard, while Pare, followed by Holden, treading stealthily as cats, tip-toed into the bank, and to the vault. The vault door was opened, the out-fire doors swung ajar; the combination of the safe worked; and the treasure lay before the burglars. The swag was swiped. The combination on the last number was changed.

The exit from the bank was minutely described, and the burglars brought up in Ponton's room.

"Ponton was lying down. I was the last one in and I locked the door. Someone said, 'Get up, Billy.' Everything was prepared in bundles, especially his $5,000, tied with a string. Ponton said that was his bundle. He took it and threw it back on his bed and the rest of the money was divided."

The division of the money and the barring out of Roach were gone into as of yore.

"'What will I do for spending money for myself?' said Ponton. 'You take some out of our share,' we said."

This was the witness' story of how $60 or $100 came into the possession of Ponton.

Then he told of the escape, and the return of himself and Holden to pay Ponton his share in the spring of 1898. In answer to a question from the Crown prosecutor, he said he could open the combination with the numbers, and that there was no way to his knowledge of opening it without the numbers.

MR. WHEATON'S CANADIAN DAIRY NOTES.

Winter Dairying in Canada—Milking Competition at Canadian Fairs—Change in Methods of Testing—Cheese and Butter Markets.

The appended letter from Mr. J. W. Wheaton, of Toronto, appears in a recent issue of "Hoard's Dairyman."

DEAR SIR,—The winter dairying movement in Canada has, perhaps, made more rapid advancement than any other branch of dairying since 1891, when the first winter creamery was operated by the Dominion Government, under the supervision of Prof. Robertson. The interest aroused then has developed into enthusiasm, and all doubts as to the practicability of the scheme have been dispelled by the testimony of hundreds of dairymen, who have tried it and found it a valuable adjunct to the cheese factory and summer creamery. In 1871 there were 353 cheese factories in the Dominion, but no creameries. In 1881 there were 709 cheese factories and 46 creameries, but none of them winter dairies. In 1897 there were 2,556 cheese factories, 559 creameries and 203 factories, making both butter and cheese. The factories making both cheese and butter may be put down as winter creameries, while a large number of those which are classed as creameries, make butter during the winter months also, so that we have in addition to the 203 cheese factories which made butter last winter, a hundred or two more from among the creameries, making a total of between three and four hundred winter butter factories in operation last year. No small number, considering that only six winters have elapsed since the first winter creamery was organized in Canada.

It is likely that the number of winter creameries will be largely increased the coming winter. Reports from several sources indicate a widespread movement in this regard. Dairymen are beginning to realize the advantage of keeping their cows going the greater portion of the year, and of having them bringing in a good income during the winter, instead of as formerly, only working during the summer months. Where dairymen have thoroughly adapted themselves to the conditions necessary to successfully carry on winter dairying, the winter branch of the business, instead of being secondary to the summer one is, in many instances, taking first place. At one point, in Western Ontario, where a cheese factory made butter last winter for the first time, the patrons have caught the silo fever in dead earnest. Five silos went up this summer on one concession line within a distance of 1½ miles. This is in a part of the province where we have our heaviest snowfalls, and where sometimes the roads are often so blocked that teaming has to be done through the fields. When winter dairying can be carried on successfully under such conditions, there should be no "doubting Thomases" around, fearful lest the whole arrangement shall prove a failure.

The outlook at present for winter dairying is very good indeed. Though our summer creameries have made more butter this season than ever before, there is likely to be a good market for it all at remunerative prices. In addition to the local demand, the export demand for Canadian butter is growing every day, and it is obtaining a name and place for itself in the markets of Great Britain. Last winter, during February and March more particularly, our winter dairies could make more by exporting their butter on commission than by selling it on the local markets, a condition of affairs that had not existed since the movement began. The outlook then is hopeful, and dairymen will not go amiss by making an effort along the line of winter dairying.

A WANING CRAZE.

The craze excited by the giving of trading stamps, to be redeemed in the shape of premiums of more or less value, appears to have died out in the greater portion of the country. At any rate, we have heard or seen nothing on the subject in the local press of places whose merchants, but a short time ago, were clamoring for legislation to protect them from the loss of trade which they claimed to have experienced as the result of the giving away of trading stamps by their competitors. Since the discontinuance of the agitation in the early spring the matter has not been brought to the Economist's attention, except by means of an inquiry from a large firm in Utah as to what had been done in the way of legislation against the trading stamp and by a similar inquiry on the part of a shoe dealer in Texas.

As careful readers of the Economist are aware, none of the efforts to obtain legislation against the trading stamp proved successful, but it would seem that the vanilation which the trading stamp received by the agitation thus commenced has scared the companies into seeking fresh fields and pastures new. It is interesting to note in this connection that a trading-stamp company, evidently of American origin, has started up in England under the name of the Liverpool Free Stamp Company and has threatened a reputable dry goods paper, the Drapers' Record, with a suit for slander because that journal published, for the benefit of its retail subscribers, the true inwardness of the trading-stamp system. The Drapers' Record comes to the conclusions reached by the Economist in the early days of the trading-stamp movement in this country, which are stated by our English contemporary as follows:

(1) That the stamp system costs the trader employing it from 5 to 8 per cent. on a considerable portion, if not the major portion, of his turnover, and (2) that the result is no appreciable increase of business nor influx of new customers, and, finally, that the system enriches nobody, or very few, besides its ingenious inventors or exploiters.

The career of the trading stamp in England is likely to be very much shorter than it was in this country and to end with equal suddenness.—Economist.

ONTARIO AGRICULTURAL AND EXPERIMENTAL UNION.

The Annual Meeting at Guelph—The Programme to be Presented.

We have received the programme of the next annual meeting of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union, which is to be held at the Agricultural College at Guelph. The "Union" will commence with a public meeting in the large Convocation Hall on the College grounds on the evening of December 7th. There will be six sessions in all and the meeting will close on Friday afternoon, the 9th of December.

The summary results of the field experiments conducted this year on over three thousand farms will be presented and discussed at the meeting. This, along with the reports on co operative work in Horticulture, Dairying, Beekeeping, Soil Physics and the Weeds of Ontario, should make the meeting interesting and profitable to all.

A PECULIAR REMEDY.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. I. Ball, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga Co., N. Y., in a recent letter, writes as follows:—"There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I have suffered for ten years except the new remedy called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long years can sleep well. Rev. F. I. Ball, Weedsport, N. Y., formerly, Idalia, Colo.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of indigestion or biliousness. A person has dyspepsia simply because the stomach is overworked, all it wants is a harmless, vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it much needed rest.

This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or how much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the F. A. Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package. Send for book on stomach diseases, free.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

THE CROWN'S WITNESS.

The witness was then turned over to Mr. Porter.

"You've been a bad man the greater part of your life?"

The witness fidgetted about and said in a hesitating way, "I don't think so."

"How long have you been a thief?" was the next question.

"Twenty years. I was convicted twenty years ago."

The witness admitted that he had also been guilty of burglary, forgery, breaking jail, false testimony and procuring an affidavit signed by a man who could never be found.

"You do admit that in courts of justice you have lied?"

"Yes."

He admitted that he didn't use his name Pare always. Howard, Belanger, Hardi, "Old George," were among the names he had used.

He had been a soldier, a printer, grocer's clerk, hotelkeeper, saloonkeeper, baker and burglar.

He had been in jail in Quebec, in Montreal, in St. Vincent de Paul and Concord State Prison, N.H.

"Have you been found guilty of every robbery you have committed?"

"Yes; all but one. That one I escaped from by running away."

"Have you been arrested for all your criminal offences?"

"I believe I have."

He said he had been sentenced to 15 years and 3 months in prison.

In the Afternoon.

The court room was crowded in the afternoon and hundreds were turned away. Court opened at 2.15. At once Mr. Porter continued his cross-examination of the witnesses and prisoner Pare. He drew from Pare that he knew his uncle was innocent.

This is not your first occasion of accusing a man in the bank is it? asked the lawyer.

"I gave information to Detective Cullen in this direction against Mr. Weir. Nothing came of it."

The witness admitted that he was swearing, hoping to benefit by his evidence. He acknowledged that before his testimony before Magistrate Daly was taken up. Before the magistrate he had said his sister had made the appointment with John Roach. To-day he had sworn he himself made the appointment. Mr. Porter was content when Pare said his former evidence was not true.

Referring to the event of Aug. 5, which Pare acknowledged was the most important date before the bank was robbed, witness had two stories to tell:

"Which one do you stick to?" was the pertinent question.

An answer that may have important bearing on the case was "that 40, 60, 80, 39 and 43, and 53, 72, 53 to 55 alone could open the safe."

"Could 39, 66, 80, 43 open the safe?" was asked.

"No," was the answer.

"But Mr. Baines said the last time the combination of the safe was set on these; can you explain this to the jury?"

The witness had no explanation.

The judge confessed he thought a man who got inside of the safe would get the right numbers.

Mr. Porter replied that that was the point he was making, yet Pare had got the wrong numbers and opened the safe.

Pare claimed that the bit used to bore the hole in the partition between the bank and the Blewett shed was new, yet he said the holes in the board exhibited were rough, jagged and must be made by an old bit.

The witness made an admission when he said that before he had any connection with Ponton he had knowledge of the Government bonds.

"I did not get my first information of the bonds from Ponton. I spoke about them myself."

In speaking of the combination on the vault door Pare said that 5, 20, 25, were other numbers, and were commonly used.

Before the money was stolen Pare said that there was no groaning or noise in Ponton's room. "He wanted to keep quiet." The gang were in the room [illegible]. There wasn't any noise. The witness said it was after 11 o'clock when Ponton was sent for the pitcher of water on the night of the robbery. The night before that he had been sent for a pitcher of water also. Ponton got back about 20 or 25 minutes after 11.

In Pare's evidence formerly he swore Ponton was in his room when the gang came there the night of the robbery. This afternoon he swore Ponton was not there. With the permission of Mr. Porter Pare was allowed to stand down.

Frederick A. Russell was called. He is a conductor on the G.T.R. running out north near Lindsay. On April 25 he ran a train arriving at Belleville at 11.05 and leaves at 5.45. Russell said that Pare was a passenger on his train, though "I did not see his bald head." Holden's photo was identified as Pare's companion. The two were in the smoker. These two handed him two Deseronto tickets. The train was stopped and the two men put off. This was the only day the conductor ran the train.

Cross-examined by Mr. Porter, the conductor said he could not swear by the photo of Holden; he had one ticket in his hand.

Cross-examined by Mr. Holman Mr. Russell said that a month ago Detective Greer saw him in Belleville. He could not recall even the countenance of any other passenger he had that day. He had talked to the ticket agent at Belleville. The latter said that no tickets had been sold on April 25. He said they were not pasteboard ones. The court adjourned at 6.10.

RATE WAR ENDED.

The Long-Drawn Out Railway War, During Which the Public Traveled Cheaply, Is Over.

Montreal, Nov. 25.—The end of the rate war is in sight, as the following official statement will show:

The Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Companies, having come to an understanding on the present rate controversy, all rates will be restored on Monday, Nov. 28. Negotiations are under way with regard to the use of the North Bay line of the Grand Trunk for Ontario business to and from the Northwest, and the service will likely become effective shortly.

The news was confirmed by Mr. R. B. Reeves of the Grand Trunk, Mr. Shaughnessy and Mr. Hays having nothing to say.

TORONTO FALLS.

uson City Captured by the Enemy on Thanksgiving Day, But No Blood Was Split.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving Day, 1898, will long be remembered in military annals in this city, for on this day a attacking party, consisting of the queen's Own Regiment, with a total force of 551 men; the Highlanders, 316 strong; two squadrons of the Field Battery, numbering 95, and the Royal Canadian Dragoons to the number of 24, captured the city from its defenders, the loyal Grenadiers, the 13th Regiment of Hamilton, and the G.G.B.G. The vale of the Humber was the scene of the greatest mimic fighting, and the manoeuvres were witnessed from various points of antage by 15,000 people. Some 1,800 men altogether participated.

In the evening a banquet was tendered t the Armories to Major-General Hutton, chief umpire of the day. In response o the toast of the evening, "The Commander-in-Chief," Major-General Hutton allvered a speech full of military pointers.

The General's Speech.

The speech opened with a declaration that although he knew the assembled guests to be keen and excellent soldiers, he intended o play the schoolmaster.

With regard to the eastern force, General Hutton believed:

1. That, instead of allotting one-eighth of his force to the bridge outpost, there should have been one-sixth there.
2. The Bloor-street bridge, a very strong position, was unnecessarily surrendered.
3. The supporting troops were pushed to the bridge too late.
4. The cavalry would have been better placed on the flanks of the defending army. One troop was told off as an escort of the artillery, when none was needed.
5. That no intimation was given the officers where the second position should be taken in case of defeat.

As to the western force:

1. Would have done better to concentrate troops more.
2. The regimental units were too much broken up.
3. The regimental officers should have had the plan of campaign explained to them over night, instead of having it sprung upon them half an hour before the battle.

The General concluded his speech by declaring his utter surprise at the statement made in the press about his strained relations with Hon. Dr. Borden, and called for three cheers and a tiger for Col. Evans, the leader of the Yukon expedition.

Following the General came Commandant Kitson of the Royal Military College, Kingston. He counselled Canadian officers to keep their men together and not waste their ammunition.

I tried several remedies until I was recommended by my fireman, Mr. Dave Conley, to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Two boxes have completely cured me and I feel to-day a better man than ever. Shot by a Policeman.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Shortly before yesterday midnight, George Smith, a lad of 18 years having no home or place to sleep, entered the hay loft of George Sanderson, 708 Queen street west, in company with another. People who saw them enter the barn notified Policeman McCarron who, after the men had come down from the loft, gave chase. When opposite Cosgrave's brewery the policeman fired two shots, which entered Smith's legs, one in the right leg below the knee, and the other in the left ankle. During the time before the physician arrived the injured lad lost nearly two quarts of blood, but at an early hour this morning the General Hospital reports his condition critical but with some hope.

RACE FIGHT IN THE SOUTH.

U. S. Third Alabama Negro Regiment Causes Excitement at Anniston.

Anniston, Ala., Nov. 25.—Members of the Third Alabama negro regiment caused great excitement here last night. Shortly after dark Private Gildhart of the Second Arkansas, while going towards camp from town was shot in the head by a negro soldier, who also stabbed him in the back. Gildhart was taken to the regimental hospital. A little later a member of the Fourth Kentucky was shot by negro soldiers who lay in a gully shooting at the white men who passed.

Firing was heard in the negro quarter of the city and a squad of provost guards went to investigate. As it turned the corner of 15th and Pine-streets, a large crowd of negro soldiers opened fire upon the guard. The guard returned the fire, but had few cartridges and soon had to retreat. In the engagement Sergeant Dobson, Third Tennessee, was shot in the arm and Private Graham, Third Tennessee, in the stomach. Two others of the provost guard are missing.

When news of the trouble became known the white soldiers who were in the city gathered around the provost guards headquarters, and begged for guns and ammunition, crying because their requests were not granted. Mayor High at once ordered all saloons closed. Armories of two local militia companies were broken into and every gun and cartridge appropriated by unknown parties. General Frank, who is in command of the troops here, came out and was on the streets until a late hour. Two companies each of the Third Tennessee and Second Arkansas were ordered out. They scoured the city and carried all soldiers not on duty back to camp. It is not known how many negroes have been killed or wounded. A negro soldier was dangerously beaten by white soldiers yesterday afternoon, and this incident is supposed to have caused the riotous actions on the part of the negroes last night.

Her recovery is doubtful. She had made a jocular remark about the party.

THE PINNACLE OF SUCCESS.

ATTAINED BY THE CHARLOTTE STREET LADIES LAST NIGHT.

Their Overflowing Thanksgiving Festivity—Feeding the Multitudes—An Excellent Musical and Elocutionary Programme—An All-round Splendid Success.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Charlotte street Methodist church are noted for the elaborate perfection and unvarying success of their annual Thanksgiving entertainments, but last night's occasion relegated all previous affairs of the kind into the background. Everything ran as smoothly as observatory clockwork.

The epicurean end of entertainment was the beginning of the enterprise. The banquet provided, in the excellence and variety of the viands, in the appointments of the tables and the prompt service would have provoked the approval of a Lucullus. There were six long tables laid out in the school-room and every table was a vision of beauty; mingled with the glitter of china and silver and cut glass were exquisite trophies of cut flowers, and banquet lamps. Each table enjoyed the presence of two presiding priestesses, a circumstance that insured the perfect performance of the service of waiting by their assistants. Those who presided at the respective tables were as follows: No. 1, Mrs. J. R. Stratton and Mrs. T. Barrie. No. 2, Mrs. Adamson and Mrs. Crossley. No. 3, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Clegg. No. 4, Mrs. Goard and Mrs. Brisbin. No. 5, Mrs. Pearce and Mrs. Lane. No. 6, Mrs. Lyle and Mrs. Batten. From five-thirty to eight o'clock these tables were thronged. Relay after relay of feasters cleared the groaning tables which were speedily replenished and it was shown that between 600 and 700 were bountifully fed. If thanksgiving consists in practical appreciation of the good things provided then in the gastronomic way the thanksgiving was earnest and ample. The viands provided were not only to be remarked for their abundance but were conspicuous for their dainty and tasteful quality and serving.

THE INTELLECTUAL ENTERTAINMENT.

Of course the body of the church was thronged with a gathering which had reason to testify that the more intellectual portion of the entertainment provided was equal in merit to the more material and substantial feast they had enjoyed.

Mr. J. Stratton, M.P.P., presided as chairman, and with him on the platform, which was brightly beautified with flowers, were Messrs. James Kendry, M.P., and Rev. Mr. Crossley, while Mayor Davis in the choir, represented the civic interest on the occasion. After a few words of greeting and welcome from the pastor, the chairman gave a brief address setting forth a few of the many reasons for thanksgiving that existed, and pointed out that with the success of the present thanksgiving occasion the best of the series, it was difficult to forecast to what height of excellence the Ladies' Aid Society would reach in time. During the evening Mr. Kendry also made a few congratulatory remarks.

Mr. Stratton then introduced the musical and elocutionary programme, which opened with a most appropriate and energetically given anthem "Praise the Lord" by the choir, Mr. Davis taking the solo in fine voice. During the evening the choir also presented another selection, the ever popular and ever excellent composition of Shelly—"Hark! Hark! My Soul," in which the solo passages were well taken by Mrs. Pearce, contralto, and Miss Clara Bellegham, soprano. This was followed by a beautiful violin solo, performed by Miss Ruby Aikin, of Cornwall, accompanied on the piano by Miss Cannon, of Kentucky. The theme was simple, but it was played with much taste and purity. Her encore number, which she was compelled to give—the sweet intermezzo from Mascagni's Cavallero Rusticano—was sweeter and even better performed. Radyard Kipling's majestic recessional hymn to Reginald DeKoven's musical setting, was splendidly sung by a quintette composed of Mrs. A. G. Parker, Mrs. Bert Brown, Rev. E. V. Stevenson, and Messrs. A. G. Parker and G. W. Mulligan, the latter taking the solos in his usual excellent manner. It was somewhat of a disappointment as well as detraction from the tone balance of the selection that Mrs. Parker did not take, as on other occasions when the recessional was sung by the quintette, the soprano solo. So well was the grand theme sung that a repeat had to be given. During the evening little Miss Carrie White gave two of the excellently rendered recitations which have given her local fame. It is needless to say that she was not only greeted with enthusiastic applause but with irresistible encores. Miss Clara Bellegham delighted the audience with a soprano solo, with guitar accompaniment furnished by herself and Miss Winnifred Dobbin. An innovation was the rendering of the next number, a selection by the Banjo and Guitar Club, and later in the evening Mr. Lelean gave as a guitar solo a tuneful waltz. The vocal solo by Mrs. T. W. Martin was sung in a finished and effective style, that did full justice to both its sentiment and its musical qualities, and well merited the hearty applause it received. Mr. Fred Skitch sang his bass solo with excellent effect, giving it a pleasing interpretation. His low notes were pure and rich, though taken with less rallentando than a prolonged enjoyment of a good thing would suggest.

The programme of a most pleasing entertainment was concluded by the singing of God Save the Queen.

It is to be explained that Mrs. McAllister was unexpectedly called to Ottawa and therefore the audience were deprived of the pleasure of hearing her recitation. Master Alf. Cox met with an accident to his hand and the mandolin and guitar duets set down on the programme to him and Miss Dobbin were withdrawn. The Ladies' Aid wish the public to know that any disappointment in these respects was unavoidable.

Henry & Co.—"Right in the Swim."

The progressive merchant of to-day has to spend money to be up-to-date. Better live on a crust of bread and plain water and be as lean as a grey hound than not be "in the swim." But the man who can "bide a wee" has the battle. Messrs. Henry & Co. have said nothing as yet about their cleaned raisins and currants; but we're giving "good measure and running o'r" all the same—and our customers find our fruits as good as the best in Peterborough. Not only that, but we've just fitted up our cellar with electric light—eight lamps going all the time. We carry four car loads of ale—the bottles being taken out of their cases and placed on shelves exposed to a regular temperature of 65°. Keeps our ale in a thoroughly matured condition all the time. We are the largest importers of teas, wines and liquors, and keep qualities right to a fraction. We bestow equally as much attention on our department of family groceries, and the public run no risks in leaving their orders for the finest, cleanest groceries that can be placed upon the table. Your money back if anything turns out unsatisfactory, and a five per cent. coupon goes with all goods—which saves you just five per cent. on all your purchases. "While we live we'll crow."

THE FORESTERS' CONCERT.

The Hall was Filled to Overflowing by Eight O'clock and Hundreds Were Turned Away.

The long list of successful concerts given by the Canadian Foresters has won for that Order a name second to no organization in town along this line. Last evening it was anticipated that the annual Thanksgiving event would be a success, but the attendance surpassed all expectations. The large court hall was crowded before eight o'clock and it is estimated that several hundred had to be turned away from the door, being unable to gain admittance.

The chair was occupied by Mr. F. J. Jameson, of the High Court Executive, who, in a few brief remarks, introduced the programme, which was opened by a brilliantly executed piano duet by the Misses Doris.

Mr. F. J. Perrin, of Toronto, who is an old favourite in Peterborough, renewed his popularity in town by giving a number of his funniest selections. He fully deserved the warm reception which was accorded him. In facial expression Mr. Perrin is certainly an artist of the first degree. His songs are all typical of refined fun, without the faintest suggestion of coarseness. A new feature in his work are the stereopticon illustrations, which add a great deal to the interest of the selections.

Miss Falconer's Scottish vocal selections were fully appreciated by the audience as evidenced by the liberal applause which greeted her every appearance. In this particular line Miss Falconer has few equals in the Province. "The Bonnie Banks O' Loch Lomond" and "Scottish Blue Bells" received full justice at her hands last evening. A very popular number was the duet "O, that we two were Maying" by Miss Falconer and Mr. James Browne. Mr. S. Pigeon's mandolin solo "Intermezzo of Cavalleria Rusticano" was played with a great deal of taste and his Shylock impersonation later on in the evening was very clever. The vocal selection "Ye Shepherd's tell me" was rendered in beautiful harmony by Rev. W. L. Armitage and Messrs. King-cote and Gordon. Mr. Walter Stocker's singing of "Soldiers of the Queen" proved very popular with the audience.

Court Peterborough is very grateful to Mr. W. H. Foord, superintendent of the cemetery, for a magnificent sheaf of magnificent chrysanthemums.

BROKE HIS LEG.

A Workman got Hurt Whilst Digging in the Canal.

Matthew McCauley, of Ashburnham, met with a bad accident yesterday, whilst at work on the Nassau-Little Lake section of the canal.

It seems that McCauley, together with a number of his companions, was working at the foot of the steep embankment when a stone became loosened from the top and, falling, struck the unfortunate man on the leg, just below the knee, badly fracturing it.

He was carried in to St. Joseph's Hospital by his mates and the fracture was reduced.

THE GUESSING CONTEST.

The Spot Cash Grocery Company's Prize Competition—The Squash Squashed—426 Seeds—The Nearest Guessers.

The judges were present sharp on time Wednesday evening to watch the carving and dissection of the big 200 lb squash in the Spot Cash Grocery store. During the past six weeks this monster has been on exhibition in the window of that popular establishment, and considerable interest has been taken in the contest for the valuable prize to the one who would guess the nearest to the number of seeds the squash contained.

Mr. Sidney Bennett was called in to assist Mr. Martin, the proprietor, in opening the squash, both gentlemen using their knives with skillful and careful cunning. The judges, Messrs. W. H. Robertson, of the Times, W. A. Buchanan, of the Review, and W. Menzies, of the EXAMINER, superintended the counting of the seeds, assisted by Mr. Gus. Sawers, Sidney Bennett and Richard Ringer.

The actual number of seeds in the squash was found to be 426—a very much smaller number than the great majority of the guessers thought. There were 2708 guesses which ranged all the way from 25 to 6,000,500. On counting the ballots the judges found that the lucky number, 426, had not been guessed. The nearest numbers were 425 and 427, as follows: Miss E. Martin, 425; Miss Dorothy Darke, 427. It was decided to let the two ladies arrange between themselves as to which was to get the dishes. In the event of their not doing so the judges will cast lots and award the prize.

Those who came close were: B. Howson, 430; Geo. McIndo, 430; H. Pigeon, 433; Mrs. Chas. Martin, 432; Ethel McFee, 433; H. Crossley, 430; Mrs. Frank Sanderson, Smith, 430; Mrs. J. C. Steers, 430.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S FIRE.

Casing Destroyed in Ormond & Walsh's Drug Store.

Fire broke out in Ormond & Walsh's drug store Wednesday evening at about half past eleven o'clock.

The flames broke out in the lower portion of a case in the rear of the store, and are thought to have originated from spontaneous combustion. The case, which was a very valuable one, was ruined as were the contents.

Mr. R. J. Fife closed up the store at twenty minutes to eleven o'clock, and Mr. Crossley was in again about half an hour later. There was then no sign of fire.

The loss is estimated at about three hundred dollars. The contents of the store are insured for $3,000 in the Royal Insurance Co., through Messrs. Cox & Davis.

AN ADDRESS ON HOMELY PEOPLE.

Delivered by Mr. Thos. McGillicuddy Last Evening.

A VERY LARGE ATTENDANCE.

The Speaker Proved to be Most Interesting and Amusing—Regret for the Departure of the Homely Times of 35 Years Ago.

"Homely People" was the rather odd subject upon which Mr. Thos. McGillicuddy, of Toronto, based the remarks of his lecture last evening in the Murray street Baptist church.

Mr. M. Gillicuddy is the recently elected President of the Ontario Sabbath School Association, which held its annual meeting in Peterborough last month, and his address last evening was delivered under the auspices of the Mission Band of the Murray street church.

As stated the subject of the lecture was "Homely People," and the speaker handled it in a manner which made it very interesting to the large audience which was present.

To be homely, the speaker stated, was to be fond of home, but by this it must not be understood that every dwelling was a home. Home is a place in which we not merely exist but where we rest in love, and love has been known to shun or forsake some of the greatest mansions, while the torch is kept burning brightly in some of

THE POOREST COTTAGES.

A nation's greatness is not in its armies or its navies, its commerce or its colonies, its art or its learning, but rather in the piety and purity, the quietness, gentleness and order of its homes. Woman is the queen of the home—sometimes a despotic one. An Irishman who was twice a widower, in speaking of his first wife, described her as a Tartar, and when asked about the second described her as a cream of Tartar. More home loving people were wanted, especially among the men. In these days the lodges, the social and business relations and even the churches are taking the men away from their homes too much, and the good old family circle has been destroyed to a more or less extent. One reason why are so few home-loving people is that there are so many who do not really live in homes. In the great cities there are many who live in boarding house and hotels and these know very little about the comforts and attractiveness of a home.

Many husbands, and wives, too, let the candle of their love burn out in their homes. Comradeship and love should be kept up in the home all through life.

NO OTHER INSTITUTION

can take the place of the home. The church, the school and the Sabbath school are all well enough in their way, but all should be subordinate to the home interests.

The speaker then went on to refer to homeliness in dress. Nowadays no one had the courage to dress as it suited them. They must follow the fashion or else become the subject of comment. It is true that no one likes a dowdy woman, but there is one fact in her favour—her store bill is not large. If a woman is simple, homely and plain in her dress because of self-sacrifice, that woman deserves praise. Often a homely dress covers a noble heart.

Speech was becoming almost too refined in the present day. A preacher was afraid to refer to the world, the flesh and the devil, but expressed his thoughts in reference to this subject as "environments, heredity and circumstance."

THE GOOD OLD HOMELY NAMES

of Mary, Sarah and Jane had been changed into Mae, Sadie and Genevieve. There were few streets now, the thoroughfares being known as avenues.

The homely hospitable dinners of a few years ago have given way before the fashionable five o'clock tea.

Homely people, as plain-looking people were now called, were often the subject of comment, but it should be remembered that some of the greatest men of their day were noticeably homely—John A. Macdonald, Oliver Mowat, Abraham Lincoln and Oliver Cromwell were all plain looking men. True beauty could be found in the soul and not the face. Close observers always looked for this soul beauty and could easily distinguish it in the countenance. It was a beauty which never died, but which grew with age. Character and expression count far more than mere regularity of features. Expression lights up the countenance and gives it true beauty.

During the evening the member of the Mission Band sang several choruses in a very pleasing manner.

His Life was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the word for all Throat and Lung Trouble. 50 cents and $1.00, at any Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed.

THE CATTLE YARDS.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—As a citizen of Peterborough and a resident of the vicinity of the South Ward where it is proposed to establish the new stock yard, I crave the privilege through your columns of recording my solemn protest against any such nudum pactum by our council on the ground that it would undoubtedly be both a source of annoyance and a nuisance to the people who are obliged to reside in the locality.

I have had the opportunity of inspecting stock yards in Toronto, Montreal and other places, and have no hesitation in pronouncing them veritable pest holes wherever they exist. And if the cattle yards in cities like Montreal and Toronto, which are provided with a good system of sewers, are found by people who live in their vicinity to be nothing short of a pest, we can imagine what the result would be if such establishments were constructed in Peterborough, especially in the place which Mr. Kennedy covets. It is pointed out by the advocates of this so-called enterprise that the town would be greatly benefitted by the great amount of revenue that would flow into our coffers as a result therefrom. While I fail to see in what way the establishment of such a concern would materially increase our revenue, I can discern clearly enough how we who live and own property in this part of the town, are going to be subjected to a combination of annoyances and pollutions which it would be grossly unfair and unjust for the community to ask, let alone compel us to endure, for the sake of gaining the few paltry dollars of revenue which is expected to accrue therefrom.

I am perfectly satisfied that neither Mr. Kennedy nor any of our councillors are endowed with sufficient patriotism to endure being pested with flies, bawling of cattle and inhaling the pestilential odour which must necessarily arise from such a place, for the purpose of helping to build up the town's revenue. We have already existing in our midst one establishment which is a pollution, in the proper sense of the term, and which our councillors in their wisdom generously exempted from taxation very recently, and if they saddle us with another they will find themselves in the midst of a tempest in January next, that will drive them shattered and dismasted on the lee shore of indelible oblivion.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your indulgence, I beg to subscribe myself,

SANITARIUS.

Peterborough, Nov. 25th, 1898.

SNOWPLOUGHING TENDERS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—If it is a fair question, I would like to ask what kind of a town council we have in the Town of Peterborough? Or do many of them expect to sit there another year? Especially those on the committee of Streets and Bridges; those gentlemen who look after the snowploughing, etc., etc., those gentlemen who have the handling of the ratepayer's money and who use it after the style of the Tammany of New York. They ask for tenders for snowploughing. For what reason? Is it for fun, or just to make the poor innocent ratepayer think that they are business men—and not a lot of hoodoo's? The lowest tenderer for one of the wards asked $49.00, the next $64.00, the next $65.00 and the next $68.50, and they give it to the lowest, but raise his price to $80.00. Poor fellow, he did not know his own business (although he ploughed the same ward before and did the job in an elegant manner; if you want to know how he did it ask the residents of No. 1 Ward,) and yet the council take pity on him, and give him more than he asks. If this has not signs of Tammany Hall in it it seems very funny. What an easy way of having your tender accepted! just stand in with the great big chairman, get a tip, be sure you tender away down low and you get it SURE, and wont lose much either for our noble fathers will take pity on you and give you within a dollar or two of the next tenderer, and it wont matter how the job is done either. What is our town council thinking of? Do they take us ratepayers for a lot of fools? Wait till January and we will see. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for so much space.

Yours truly,

Peterborough, Nov. 25. SOUTH WARD.

THE UNION SERVICE.

The Sermon was Delivered by Rev. S. J. Shorey Yesterday Morning.

The Union Thanksgiving service, which was held in St. Paul's church yesterday morning was very largely attended.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. S. J. Shorey of the George street Methodist church, who while dilating to some extent on the bountiful harvest being a cause for thank offering, yet expressed the opinion that the chief cause for thanksgiving was the spiritual blessings enjoyed by mankind.

Mr. Torrance Lang presided at the organ very acceptably, and during the service Miss Clara Belleghem sang "The Man of Galilee," in a most pleasing manner.

The collection, which is to be divided between the Children's Aid Society and the Peterborough Protestant Home, amounted to forty dollars.

Energy Easily Earned.

DR. WARD'S BLOOD & NERVE PILLS

Wasted energy must be made up or the body will weaken and perhaps perish.

For a long time prior to taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills my nerve system was greatly deranged and I was terribly nervous, so much so that in my business (Lineeman of the Kingston Electric Light Co.,) my extreme nervousness naturally made the following of my business extremely hazardous. Before taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills my kidneys had been affected for some time. I had constant soreness and stiffnese across my loins and the small of my back. My appetite was variable and very poor. I also suffered greatly with constant headaches. I am glad to be able to inform you that Dr. Ward's Pills completely cured me of all the above ailments and made me a well man. I have found no medicine like Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, although I have tried many different kinds. They acted quickly and effectually on my nerve system, making my nerves strong and removing all indications of nervousness. These valuable pills also removed all kidney and back trouble and restored to me a healthy vigorous appetite. I have had no headache since five months ago and feel justified in saying that they are a wonderful remedy. They not only removed nervousness, but gave me healthy kidneys, removed all soreness and stiffness from my back and loins, cured me of headache and gave me a good appetite, consequently I am highly pleased. I know of no medicine that equals Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills for nervousness, chronic headache, sore kidneys and back and loss of appetite. Yours truly, John McCutcheon, 522 Princess St., Kingston, Ont.

Shirred and twisted bows and gathered ribbon bent by wires into all sorts of odd ornaments are favorite millinery decorations. Plumes of all sorts, curled, frizzled and stiff, are also employed. Flowers are less seen, but are nevertheless not abandoned. Plaid velvet, which has appeared in force for dress trimming and for fabrics, has also invaded the millinery kingdom, and many walking hats of the alpine shape are trimmed with folds and a flat bow of this goods.

Felt hats are of all colors and shapes and are plain or braided with chenille or other strands intermixed. Soft velvet hats and hats smoothly covered with velvet are also seen, but satin covered frames are seldom shown. Alpine hats of black and all shades of beige, brown and gray felt, as well as of cloth and tweed, are in great demand and are usually very plain in their decoration. The taller shapes in abeyance, having been superseded by a higher crowned form with a curving brim.

In bonnets the Mary Stuart point upon the forehead appears in small, brimless shapes, chiefly of jet, steel or gold spangles or embroidery. These shapes require careful trimming, but are very effective when properly treated.

As for jackets and coats they do not at all recall the forms of those of last year. They are not made on one model only, but all the models are new and may be roughly divided into two classes—the long jackets, double or single breasted, made something like a man's coat, and the short jackets, worn open or closed, among which variety is obtained by differing styles of basque.

The bodice illustrated is composed back and front of three tabs of flax blue cloth separated by panels of black and white striped silk, the stripes being arranged obliquely. The bodice is tight and has a small yoke of ecru guipure. The plain sleeves are of blue cloth, and small buttons adorn the tabs. JUDIC CHOLLET.

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov. 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Gerrard street, east, who has been restored to vigourous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so-called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn, Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

NON-UNION MAN ASSAULTED.

London Car Conductor Struck Down While on Duty—Recovery Doubtful.

London, Nov. 23.—Austen Addison, a non-union conductor on the Street Railway, while on duty about 11.30 o'clock last night, was dragged from his car on Adelaide street near Elias street, and brutally assaulted. The victim of the dastardly outrage was very seriously injured, and his recovery is doubtful. When Motorman Braithwaite went to the rear of the car to learn what was wrong, he found his conductor bleeding and unconscious. Addison was in a frightful condition. Both eyes were badly blackened and swollen, and his head was one mass of cuts and bruises an inch or more in length. The wounds were full of sand and required very careful treatment.

A Bridge Goes Down.

Portage du Fort, Que., Nov. 23.—About noon yesterday the entire long span between the piers at the Ontario end of the bridge across the Ottawa at this place suddenly gave way and fell into the river. Several teams and rigs were on their way to cross the bridge, but fortunately had not reached the span when it gave way. Its quick and complete demolition was probably caused by the high winds prevailing.

Belleville Wants Factories.

Belleville, Ont., Nov. 23.—The Mitchell-Abbott Iron & Steel Company's bylaw, and the Belleville Brussels Carpet Company's bylaw were voted on yesterday. The former was carried by a vote of 1,002 to 70, and the latter by 1,019 to 4.

Cheap Steerage Fares.

London, Nov. 23.—The new Canadian steamship line to run between Milford Haven and Paspebiac, Quebec, announces a reduction in the steerage rate to $21. This may bring about a rate war. The new company expects to run steamers to Paspebiac throughout the winter, but the venture is problematical. The first sailing will be on Dec. 3.

The Pope in Good Health.

Rome, Nov. 23.—Mr. Amasat Thornton, a lawyer of New York city, had a private audience with the Pope yesterday. Mr. Thornton said the Prelate was in excellent health and spirits, and discussed with the keenest interest the current political questions.

Mad Fakir Has Returned.

Simla, Nov. 23.—The Mad Fakir of Swathas has retired from the frontier. Gen. Lockhart has gone to the front.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant nervous strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

An Unsentimental Novelist.

Mr. W. L. Alden tells a story of Marie Corelli that stamps her as an enterprising sort of a novelist. In one of her books Miss Corelli introduces an ancient sexton whom she had met somewhere. The sexton afterward died, and the vicar of the parish wrote to Miss Corelli suggesting that she might like to contribute to a tombstone for the deceased. The fair novelist replied that she would do so on the condition that the following inscription should be placed on the stone: "Sacred to the memory of Reuben Dale, who was immortalized by Marie Corelli in her great novel, 'The Mighty Atom.'" The story goes on to say that the vicar replied to Miss Corelli that, inasmuch as the parish graveyard was not designed for advertising purposes, he would be compelled to decline the contribution.

Base Ingratitude.

"Some men are ungrateful wretches."

"Why?"

"When I was passing old Rockingham's packing house, last night, I saw that it was on fire, so I broke into the office, called him up by telephone and told him about it."

"Yes?"

"Well, he called me all kinds of hard names for not ringing in a fire alarm instead of wasting time talking to him."—Chicago News.

Comparison.

"Just think of having to live on hard tack and quinine!" exclaimed the private who is disposed to sympathize with himself.

"Well," answered the man who was attached to the medical corps, "I dunno's that bill of fare is so much worse than some of the food for reflection we are getting now."—Washington Star.

THE MODE.

New Ideas For Evening Costumes and Fashions In Bridal Gowns.

Tulles embroidered or covered with applications of lace, mousseline de sole, plain, embroidered, spangled, interwoven with fibers of ostrich feather plumage, liberty silk and broche silks of the Louis Quinze, Louis Seize and empire order are the chosen materials for evening and ball gowns this season.. As for Louis Quinze bow-knots, they appear in vast numbers both in embroidery and application, and not only so, but as actual separate bows, worn as ornaments. They are wired and bent into form, so that they are quite substantial.

Although the princess form is that usually chosen for the most elegant wedding gowns, other styles also are employed, the way of making being determined upon according to the figure and general carriage of the bride, the degree of formality of the wedding and the material selected for the dress. A train is the invariable rule, but aside from that detail there is no rigid law. As white always makes the wearer appear larger, it is wise to adopt a pattern which is not too voluminous, especially about the waist, where extra fullness would produce a clumsy effect. A very slender woman who would not look well in a princess gown may wear a draped bodice which has a little point back and front.

The white satin skirt of the bridal gown illustrated has a round train edged by a flounce of mousseline de sole, which is headed by applications of embroidered silk leaves. The bodice is of accordion plaited mousseline de sole over white satin and has satin sleeves covered with silk leaves in application. The soft satin belt fastens under a spray of orange blossoms and another spray is worn at the right shoulder. JUDIC CHOLLET.

TO TURN IN BED CAUSED AGONY!

Bad Case of Backache and Urinary Trouble Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

The kidneys cannot talk, and the only way they have of letting us know they are sick is by making our backs ache. If it is only a little ache, the kidneys are only a little sick. If it is a big, peace-destroying, nerve-racking ache, the kidneys are more than a little sick. In every case it must be attended to at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys, make them strong and healthy, and stop aching backs in every case. Here is a sample case: Mr. B. H. DeGroat, 76 Alfred Street, Brantford, Ont., says: "For more than a year I have had severe pains across my back and between my shoulders. The pain and soreness was so great that even the act of turning in bed caused me great agony.

"The urine was very dark-col red, I could not sleep well and had a disagreeable headache almost all the time. I felt weak, run-down and spiritless, and was daily getting worse. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills, and am thankful to say that the result has been most surprising. The first two doses seemed to increase the pain in my back, but thereafter improvement was steady and rapid. Now I have no pain in the back or neuralgic trouble. The urine is clear and natural. I sleep well, am stronger, and the tired, worn-out feeling is all gone. To-day I am a well man, thanks to taking this most effectual remedy. They did me so much good that I got a box of pills for a dear friend of mine who was troubled in the same manner that I was before taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and I have every faith they will do the same in this case as in mine—make a complete cure!

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, or three for $1.25, or sent by mail on receipt of price. The Doan Kidney Pill Company, Toronto, Ont.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 86
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

In olden times a leper was stoned out of town; in modern times a sick man is stoned out of all his chances in life by the crowd of busy, hustling men who have no place and no use for him. A man who has bilious turns and tired feelings and frequent "off-days" might as well go out of business.

These things are bad enough in the self-disgust and wretchedness they involve if they do not go any further. But you never know what is going to develop in a half-nourished, bile-poisoned constitution. If a man as soon as he feels that he is not getting the forceful strength and energy out of his food that he ought to, will begin taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, he will soon put himself in the position where he can do a man's work easily and cheerfully.

His appetite will be sharpened; his liver invigorated; his digestion strengthened; an edge put on his whole nutritive organism. Those subtle poisons which debilitate the entire organism and invite consumption and a host of other diseases, will be driven out of the system; and he will gain plenty of pure nourishing red blood, muscle-power and nerve-force. In short he will be a man among men.

There are hundreds of delusive temporary stimulants, "malt extracts," sarsaparillas and compounds, which are more or less "boomed" by merely profit-seeking druggists; but an honest druggist will give you the "Golden Medical Discovery" when you ask for it. If well-informed, he knows that its sales have steadily increased for thirty years and that it is the invention of an educated, authorized physician who has devoted a life-time of active practice and profound study to chronic diseases.

THE ZOUAVE.

On the evening of my story George Lory, the first blacksmith of Sainte-Marie-aux-Mines, was in an unhappy frame of mind.

It had always been his habit as soon as the forge fire was extinct and the sun had set to seat himself on a bench before his door, and, while enjoying that lassitude which hard work on a warm day leaves behind it, drink several pots of beer with his apprentices before sending them away.

But on this particular evening the good man remained at the forge until it was time to go to the supper table, and then went reluctantly into the house.

"What can be the matter with him?" thought his wife. "Perhaps he has received some bad news from the regiment that he does not wish to tell me. Perhaps our son is ill."

But as she dared not ask she occupied herself in trying to quiet her three flaxen headed youngsters, whose laughing faces appeared around the board, where they were munching a salad of black radishes and cream.

At last the blacksmith pushed away his plate, exclaiming angrily:

"Oh, the cowards! Oh, the scoundrels!"

"What is the matter, Lory?" asked his wife.

Then the root of the whole matter came to light.

"I am speaking of those five or six scoundrels whom any one could have seen this morning rambling round the village in the uniforms of French soldiers arm in arm with the Bavarians. Yes, it is such as these—what shall I call them—who have chosen to become Prussians! And to think we will have to see these false Alsatians coming back every day from Africa! What magic potion have they drunk to make them change this way?"

His wife, motherlike, immediately attempted the defense of the abused.

"What would you have otherwise, my poor husband?" said she. "This return is hardly the fault of these children. Algiers, where they were sent, is so far away that they were homesick, and it must have been such a temptation for them to come back, such a temptation not to have to be soldiers any longer!"

Lory struck the table with his fist fiercely.

"Hush, mother! You women never understand anything. Living for your children and with your children makes you lower your mind to the level of the intellect of the youngsters. As for me, I say to you again that these men are beggars, scoundrels, the worst kind of cowards, and, if ill luck should make our Christian capable of such infamy as theirs, as true as my name's George Lory and that I have served seven years as a French soldier I would run him through with my sword." And with a terrible look, half rising, the blacksmith pointed to his long saber hanging on the wall beneath his son's picture—a portrait taken in Africa of a soldier in zouave uniform, but with such an honest Alsatian face, tanned by the sun, that the sight suddenly calmed the father, and he said laughingly:

"It was well I looked at the picture. As if our Christian could become a Prussian!"

Put into a better humor by this idea, the good man gayly finished his dinner, and soon followed it up with a couple of pints of beer at the Ville de Strasbourg inn.

At last his wife was alone!

After putting the little flaxen heads to bed and listening to their prattle in the next room, which sounded like a nestful of birds going to sleep, she took her work and sat down to knit before the door at the garden side of the house. From time to time she sighed as she thought, "Yes, I know it well, they are cowards and renegades; but what does it matter. Their mothers will be glad to see them back once more all the same."

And she thought of the times before her son had gone with the army, how at this hour of the day he used to devote himself to the care of the garden. In her mind she could see him, clad in blouse, his hair long, his beautiful hair which they had cut off when he became a zouave, filling his watering can at the well near by her.

Suddenly she started. The little gate at the end of the garden which opened on the fields was ajar. The dogs had not barked, notwithstanding the fact that some one had come over the wall like a robber and was gliding in and out among the beehives.

"Mother!"

Her Christian stood before her, ashamed and troubled, his tongue thick from drink, his uniform disheveled. The miserable lad had returned from Africa with the others, but for an hour had been rambling outside the house waiting for his father's departure. His mother felt it her duty to scold him, but she had not the heart to do it. It had been such a long time since she had seen him. So she embraced him instead.

Then he gave her such good reasons for his return. He hated the country where he had been. It grieved him to be so far away from home, and his comrades called him a Prussian because of his Alsatian accent. He told her all this, and she believed it. She only had to look at him to believe anything.

Talking incessantly, they entered the house.

The youngsters awoke and ran in in their nightgowns, barefooted, to embrace their big brother. They wanted him to eat something, but he was not hungry, only thirsty—oh, so thirsty! So he drank pints of water in place of the wine and beer to which he had been treating himself all day at the inn.

A step was heard in the court. Alas, it was the blacksmith returning!

"Christian, there is your father. Hide yourself quickly until I have time to speak to him to explain all!" cried the mother, pushing her son behind the great earthenware stove, while she started to sewing once more with trembling fingers. Unfortunately the zouave's cap rested on a chair, and it was the first thing Lory saw when he entered. This, then, explained his wife's pallor, her embarrassment. He understood it all.

"Christian is here!" he cried furiously, and, taking down his saber, with a gesture of rage rushed behind the stove, where the zouave, pale and sobered, was crouching, leaning against the wall for fear of falling.

The mother threw herself between them.

"Lory, Lory, do not kill him!" she cried. "It was I who wrote him to return—that you needed him at the forge."

She clung to her husband's arm, and, sobbing, dragged him back, and in their room the weeping children could hear their parents' voices—one full of tears, the other of anger, so changed that they could hardly recognize them.

The blacksmith stood still a moment and looked at his wife.

"Ah, it was you, was it, that made him return? Very well. He may go to bed. I shall see what I will do in the morning."

The next day Christian awoke after sleep full of nightmare and terror to find himself in the room where he had slept when a child. Across the little lead framed panes grew a hop vine in flower, and the sun was already high in the heavens. Below the hammers sounded on the anvil.

His mother was at his bedside. She had not left him during the night because she feared her husband's rage might return. Her husband also had not sought his couch, for until it was dawn he had walked about the house, weeping, sighing, opening and shutting the drawers of the presses, and now that it was day had quietly entered his son's room, dressed as for a journey, with high gaiters, a large hat and carrying an iron ferruled mountaineer's staff. He came up to the bed, saying only, "Get up!"

The boy, a trifle confused, started to put on his zouave uniform.

"Not that," said his father sternly.

"But he has no others," his mother interposed.

"Give him mine, then. I shall not need them any more."

While his son was dressing, Lory carefully folded the uniform, and, making a package of it, hung it by its strap over the end of his stick.

"Now come down stairs," he said at last, and the three went down to the forge without speaking. The bellows roared, the men were at work. The sight of the open shed door reminded the zouave of his childhood, how he had played there so long between the warm road and the door where the sparks of the forge shone in the black coal dust. A feeling of tenderness came over him, a desire to have his father's pardon, but when he lifted his eyes he encountered an inexorable glance. At last the blacksmith spoke:

"My son," said he, "here are the anvil and the tools; all are yours. And all this, too," added he, pointing to the little garden, full of the sunlight, and the humming of bees, framed in the be-smoked doorway. "The hives, the vines, the house, all belong to you. As you have sacrificed your honor for these things it is only right that you should take care of them. You are master over all here. As for me, I am going away. You owe five years to France,—and I am going to pay them for you."

"Lory, Lory, where are you going?" cried his poor wife.

"Father!" wept his son.

But the blacksmith had gone, walking away with great strides without turning once.

At Siddi-bel-Abbes, at the garrison of the Third zouaves, not many days later there was enrolled among those who had enlisted as volunteers one whose age had passed half a century by five years.—From the French of Alphonse Daudet For Short Stories.

Birds' Warnings.

Birds have separate notes of warning to indicate whether danger is in the form of a hawk of a cat or of a man. If a hawk, cat or owl is on the move, the birds, especially blackbirds, always utter a clattering note, constantly repeated, and chickens have a special sound to indicate the presence of a hawk. But when disturbed by man the blackbirds have quite a different sound of alarm, and the chickens also. Animals on the march are usually silent, but the hamadryad baboons use several words of command, and the cries of cranes and geese when flying in ordered flocks are very possibly signals or orders.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS PAIN.

Ended Effectually and Permanently by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Central Waterville, N B., Nov. 14—These dull and damp days of November are terribly hard on the Kidneys. Not one person in a hundred escapes. Backache, pains in the loins, Lumbago, and similar Kidney troubles are as plentiful as fallen leaves.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only sure and certain cure for kidney complaints. They never fail to cure.

In proof of this read what Mr. F. W. Harris, of this place says: 'After having suffered for eighteen months with kidney disease, being unable to work, most of the time, and having grown worse while taking other medicines, I used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which effected a complete and permanent cure."

To Bring Back the French.

Montreal, Nov. 23.—The Quebec Government appears to be favoring a big repatriation scheme, as Hon. Mr. Turgeon said yesterday that there was no future for the French-Canadians in the New England States, except for those who assimilated with the English-speaking people of the Republic. He says also that some of the new districts in this province have doubled in population during the past year.

Prince Henry of Prussia unveiled at Shanghai on Monday the monument to the officers and sailors of the German third-class cruiser Iltis, which was lost in a typhoon on July 23, 1896, north of the Shan Tung promontory. The ceremony was very impressive.

KIDNEYS

They are the Great Feeders of our Bodies

The Purity of the Blood is Dependent on their Cleansing Powers

There's a time to all, old and young, man or woman, when poor health brings trouble, anxiety, and burdens hard to stand up under, and one's efforts to rid himself or herself seem only to be baffled at every turn, and we are prone to grow discouraged.

That is not the time to give up—but the time for action, the time to seek out the seat of the trouble, and act as your best judgment and the experience of others will help you, guarding against mistakes in the treatment adopted for your particular ailment.

MR. GEORGE BENNER,

WIARTON, ONTARIO, says:—

As a life saver to mankind, I hereby state what Dr. A. W. Chase's K.-L. Pills did for me. For nearly four years I was greatly troubled with Constipation and general weakness in the Kidneys, and in my perilous position was strongly advised to use Chase's Pills, and to-day I can safely and truthfully state that they have saved my life.

WOMAN'S WIT.

Mrs. Darley Was Wise and Used Her Wisdom Well.

"Frank, dear," said Mrs. Darley, "Mrs. Fosdick was talking about you the other day, and she said she thought you didn't look well. Do you know, I'm getting to be quite anxious about you?"

"What are you anxious about, I'd like to know? Don't I eat and sleep well?"

"Well, you sleep fairly well, and your appetite is not so bad, but"—

"But what? Am I bent and stoop shouldered and bald, or what is it you mean?"

"Why, dear, I thought that possibly you ought to get your life insured. You know we have very little saved up, and if you were to go off and die it would leave me in very poor circumstances financially. If, for instance, you went into a rapid decline"—

"Mary Jane, what on earth are you talking about? To listen to you one might think that I come from a consumptive family and I was in the last stages of a galloping consumption, with my death warrant written all over my face, and that you were getting ready to be an interesting widow and go off and have a good time on the returns from my life insurance policy. I'm not going to take out a policy, and I am as healthy and strong as I ever was in my life, and I don't want you to intimate that there is any sort of hard work which I cannot do!"

"Oh, I'm so glad to hear that, Frank!"

And Mrs. Darley gave a little gasp of joy and threw her arms around her husband's neck. "I'm so glad to hear you say you are well and strong, because the lawn needs mowing so badly, and I was dreadfully afraid that you were too ill to run the lawn mower."

Whereupon Mr. Darley went out and shaved the grass in front of the house.—Up to Date.

MANUFACTURING AT HOME has given a power to the matter of putting the prices as low as they can be pushed.

We claim no miracles of merchandising. Fur is Fur, but our prices are fair and reasonable and they are LOWER than other figures we have found on equal goods.

We have made special efforts in the line of SMALLER FURS and in the good and handsome, but not high-priced Furs. A few quotations would not be out of place, but style and the "put together" should be considered with prices :—

GREY LAMB RUFFS, $2.50 to $5.00; Gauntlets, $3.50 to $6.00; Muffs, $2.50 to $6.00. An assortment of cheaper Fur Ruffs, $1.00 up; extra choice Opossum at $4.00.

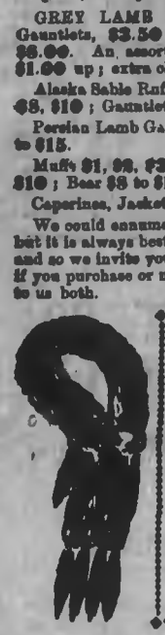
We could enumerate among many other prices, but it is always best to see the Quality and Make and so we invite you in to take a look, no matter if you purchase or not, it will be pleasing we trust to us both.



In Persian Lamb and Alaska Seal Jackets and Fur-lined Cloaks we are offering very close prices and are turning out especially Nice-fitting and Stylish Garments.

"GREATER CANADA."

A Suggestion for the New Hampshire Senator—Improvements on His Idea of a "Greater America"—Letter From Sir James Edgar Speaker of Parliament.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Senator Chandler, from New Hampshire, contributed an article to the November number of a popular New York monthly magazine on the subject of "Greater America." In it he uses these words: "Shall we now fix the future fate of the Philippines without hearing England's suggestions? If we are unwilling, in the jargon of the peace-at-any-price advocates, to make ourselves responsible for the government of remote savage peoples, England will take the islands and give us Canada, if the latter wants to come, as she soon will."

The suggestion of the Senator is no doubt intended to be eminently flattering to Canadians. It also evinces a far-sighted patriotic desire to utilise the present good feeling between England and the United States in order to make a most advantageous bargain for the latter. To acquire Canada's half continent with her 5,000,000 of people for the somewhat problematical ownership by the United States of the remote and tropical Philippines, with their dusky populace, would be a grand stroke of statesmanship.

Still there are difficulties in the way, and I may be permitted to point out another "deal" between England and the United States which may be consummated much more easily than the one proposed by Senator Chandler.

England just now has her own troubles with Jamaica, and might out of a friendly disposition be induced to exchange it for a satisfactory portion of United States territory. The island is contiguous to the recent acquisitions of the United States in the West Indies, is very fertile, and has a population of 700,000 souls. The State of New Hampshire is contiguous to Canada, and though possessed of many advantages and beauties, its area is small and its population is only about one-half of Jamaica's. Why not, then, exchange New Hampshire for Jamaica? On her admission to the Dominion I think I can promise that New Hampshire would be given the full status of a Province of Canada.

I feel satisfied that the New Hampshire Senator will accept my suggestion as full of advantage to his country and as a distinct compliment to his own State.

It will be observed that I feel justified in assuming without argument the same willingness of New Hampshire to accept this arrangement that Senator Chandler assumes on the part of Canada as to his plan.

BRITISH EXPORTS DECREASED.

Chiefly Through the Alteration of the United States Tariff.

London, Nov. 25.—Right Hon. Charles T. Ritchie, President of the Board of Trade, discussing the subject of British trade before the Croydon Chamber of Commerce last evening, said he regretted to have to confess that the exports for the year ending with October had decreased £3,000,000, chiefly through the alteration in the United States tariff.

"Although," said Mr. Ritchie, "we are gradually making up the leeway, it is impossible to help a feeling of anxiety, although we ought not to be surprised that we are being so rapidly overhauled in exports by other nations, especially by the United States and Germany, it is a regrettable fact that, while, since 1891, the exports of the United States have increased 18 per cent., Great Britain's exports have decreased 5 per cent."

MISS RUDKINS' STORE NEWS.

"Inflammation Of Values."

This is a disease that is spreading among down-town dry goods merchants. The cause is careless handling of the truth; which sooner or later recoils—boomerang-like—upon the too imaginative merchants.

The remedy, if taken in time, is to do a little more harping on the truth in quoting values of goods.

You'll never catch this little store advertising $1 Dress Goods for 29c, or $1.50 Walking Hats for 49c. The average woman is too well posted on values to impose on her good sense in that manner, and she also knows to give a wide berth to the store troubled with "Inflammation of Values

What we do advertise is that we have—

The best 50c Dress Goods for 50c
The best 25c Hats for 25c.
The best 20c Hats for 20c.
The best 75c Kid Gloves for 75c.
The best 10c Plaid Tartan for 10c.
The best 40c Evening Dress Silks for 40c.
The best $3.75 Mantles for $3.75.

We know our Prices are right and stick to them every day of the week. Remnants don't worry us, old stock don't need pushing out, because we have none to push.

AN OPINION OF PARE.

Holden Says He Would Not Believe Him on Oath.

END OF THE CROWN'S EVIDENCE.

All the Important Evidence Heard and the Defence May Begin To-Day—The Motive French—Two Important Witnesses Against Mackie Examined—Jury Taken for Two Walks on Sunday.

Napanee, Ont., Nov. 28.—There was no half-holiday on Saturday. At 9 o'clock the jurors answered to their names and the case went on with Mr. Porter's cross-examination of Holden.

The witness said he carried a revolver. On Wednesday, the 23rd of April, Ponton got his money at 9.30 in Belleville. "When Pare said Ponton got his money at 5 o'clock he was not telling the truth. He did not tell the truth," said witness. Pare had said that the gang was in Ponton's room at 10.30 o'clock the night of the robbery, and that they left for the bank shortly after 11. "Pare is wrong again," said Holden. The witness further said that on the night of Aug. 18 he watched from Ponton's room, and "Pare was wrong when he said I sat outside. When Pare swore he was in the bank only three times, he did not tell the truth," said the witness. "Pare was in the bank five times, if he told the truth. It's dead wrong that Pare got out of the bank at 5 o'clock on Aug. 6. He was out at 3. I am telling the truth. Roach quit the job two weeks before the night the bank was robbed." Pare said it was a month before, on the 20th of July. "That can't possibly be true," said Holden. Holden said that he carried all the money from the bank, but he was suspicious of Pare. He thought Pare had a bundle sneaked into his pockets. "If Pare said he carried one of the bundles of money, he lies."

Holden reiterated his statement that Pare spent two or three days in Montreal in July. "If Pare said he was not there, he lied," said the witness. "This was the time of the death of Pare's mother, an event not easily forgotten. At that time Jim Jones was keeping Madame Saucier's store. Well, Pare might, but ought not to forget that time, for Pare brought up a silver watch and some shirt studs to give to Ponton, and I brought up a bike lantern. A man stole the lamp and offered it to me. I gave him $1.50 for it."

Pare had said that Ponton caused the abandonment of the scheme of getting into the bank in the daytime. Holden said that was not true, but that Pare was the man who weakened.

At this point Mr. Holman took Holden in hand. The witness told of how he and Pare returned to Canada. He was suspicious of Pare. "If Ponton does not get the money, I will hold you responsible," said the witness, speaking to Pare. Pare's communication to Holden from Manchester before the trip to Canada was: "Come on; there is a machinist wanted." The two crooks spoke about Ponton's trial. They agreed to put up some money for Ponton's suit against the bank.

"I went back to Boston, dug up the money I had planted. A chum of mine gave me a knockout drop and swiped $3,000."

Again, on April 15, Holden was in Manchester, but Pare had a swelled leg. So Holden went back to Boston. Then followed the story of the return trip to Canada, Mr. Holman getting a detailed story from the witness. The witness said that when Pare said he wrote no post card to him he lied.

"Would you believe Pare on his oath?"

"No, I would not," said Holden.

"Nor would I," said Mr. Holman, as he sat down.

Mr. Hunter, proprietor of the Royal Hotel, Napanee, was called. He testified to marks of a cutter in his yard and that two robes had been taken from the barn in January, 1897.

Levi Brant, an Indian, was then put on the stand. He found two robes in Tom Martin's barn in February, 1897, and took them to Mr. Hunter, Napanee. He told about the runaway. He got up one Sunday morning and saw two horses in his barnyard. One was white, the other was black.

Harry McCulloch next appeared, and spoke about the grey and the black horse. One Lafferty of Belleville got the horses from him.

Mr. Lafferty then appeared. He was from Belleville. In February, 1897, he was running a livery and was still doing so. He corroborated the previous witness' evidence. James Mackie hired the team for a couple of travellers of the Dominion House to go to Frankford, northwest of Belleville; Napanee is east of Belleville. A police court case was the result of the smash-up. He summoned James Mackie and Robert Mackie. James pleaded guilty. The witness—I sued Robert because I heard he was with James. The suit was for damaging property and hiring a team under false pretences.

Arthur Meeks had seen Pare and Holden at his place at different times in the summer of 1897. Robert Mackie used to be with them. Mackie was called the "dude." This was in July. One night he saw three of these men talking to a tall man in a light suit of clothes. He saw a bicycle standing on the roadway. "I thought these men were tramps." He thought the man in the light suit was about five feet tall. The judge held he could not say the man in light clothes was a tall man.

Sydney Scott was the next. He was the man who owned the sugar bush. He found Holden, Pare and Mackie in his sap shanty. He talked to Mackie about sugar-making. The time was July 1st. To Mr. Holman he said he would not swear to Roach by his picture. He told the judge the man Mackie was in the sap house.

Thomas B. Lund had seen strangers near his home. "I think Mackie is one of them. I would not be sure."

E. B. Perry, the watchman, remembered one night in January or February seeing a man going across the street. The man asked about a rig. He corroborated the story of Holden about the team in Napanee. The man he spoke to was "Whale" Mackie. That's what he said. Complaint was made of stolen robes to him. The witness could not fix a date.

David Clum gave his evidence about the robes, blankets, one rubber and a halter found on the road in the winter of 1897.

Mr. Osler called Mr. Baines and he took the box. Mr. Baines testified concerning a proposition on the part of a telephone company about the pussing in of an electric bell. This was in June, 1897.

"Who would know of it?"

"All the staff of the Merchants' Bank and the Dominion Bank." July 20 he left the bank to be locked. Ponton was in charge. He had the key to Mr. Baines' compartment. Ponton was also in charge on August 5th.

"Eight or ten days after the robbery I discovered the hole in the side of the safe and I had never noticed it before. It seemed clear then."

Ponton's cheques were produced and identified as seen before. Mr. Osler went over the list of the bank books and ascertained how much money Ponton had for months prior to the robbery and at the time of the robbery. The examination of Mr. Baines was long and tedious and nothing new was developed.

Willie Meeks testified to having seen the tramps in the harvest of 1897. He recognized Mackie as one of them. He would not be sure of the man. This boy's mother was called, Mrs. Perinda Meeks. She told the same story as three months ago. She saw the tramps; she said she could not identify Mackie in the jail.

Police Magistrate Daly told of the arrest and bringing up of Holden and Pare before him on the 21st of August, 1897. He told what was found upon the vagrants as recounted before.

Joseph Hill told about Mackie and Holden being at his father's wigwam in February, 1897.

Miss French told of her acquaintance with Robert Mackie as formerly and repeated the details of finding the tools. She spoke about the letter she wrote for Robert Mackie. The letter was addressed to "W. Durand, Dominion Bank, Napanee," and went on as if a girl and her friend had been there and wanted Durand to see that there was not company; they wanted to go in by the side door the next night at half-past 8 or 9. She said there was a time when Robert Mackie had his feet frozen. Mackie had not any particular occupation. He went to Montreal some time in the winter of 1897.

Miss Sarah French was ushered in by Mr. Sills, Q.C. I live in Toronto; am sister of Margaret. My mother is a widow. I am a cousin of Robert. When Ponton was first arrested Robert was at our place. He stayed about two weeks. He went away for about a week. Then he came back and remained about three weeks at our place. He came about the 7th of September at first. Robert Mackie was at our place for a while before I knew it. I met Robert Mackie and talked to him. I found him in a room in the third storey. I asked him why he was keeping so quiet. He said it was something the same as Mr. Ponton was accused of. I went to Belleville on the 6th of June, this year. I went to his house. I stayed there six or seven weeks. I was there the night he was arrested.

"Did you see Mrs. Mackie doing anything on the premises?"

"Several days after the arrest I came suddenly upon Mrs. Mackie in the woodshed. She was digging. She found a bottle. There was paper money in it. The night of Mackie's arrest he told me he expected a friend to call and if I heard a rap to tell him. I heard the rap. I got up and went to his bedroom door and told him. He said to his wife: "I fear there is something wrong; the house is surrounded."

To Mr. Holman the witness said she had no quarrel with Robert Mackie's family. She had a little tiff with Robert Mackie, but it was nothing.

Chief of Police Adams took the stand. He told of finding the keys spoken of by Pare.

HOLDEN'S CAREER.

Warden Waldie of the Montreal Prison Adds a Sequel to Holden's Story —Probabilities.

Holden said his career of crime began in 1876, but the defence has a document signed by Warden Waldie of the Montreal Prison that shows that Holden was convicted five times of larceny before that date, and further that he went under the name of William Gordon. This is a departure from Holden's story.

The jury spent yesterday inactive. They were twice taken out for exercise and fresh air and walked around the town two and two, with solemn, funeral tread. On both occasions they were accompanied by a posse of guards. The confinement, unusual to all of the jurors, is telling on them. They are getting sick of their duty and are anxious to quit. But it is not likely that the case will be handed to them before Friday morning.

The Crown's case will be closed by this afternoon.

The defence expects to call about 25 witnesses and will consume two days. Then there will be four addresses, C. J. Holman, E. Gus Porter, B. B. Osler, Q.C., and Judge Ferguson. If Mr. Porter takes six hours as he did at the first investigation, it will be Friday morning before the jury gets the case.

Mr. D. R. Myles St. Paul, Minn., is registered at the Paisley House. He does not propose to open the safe. What he says is in accord with Mr. Gravelle's statement. He says that the ordinary man who owns a safe sets it on an easy combination, and the chances of guessing it are good. The combination on which the bank's safe was set was an easy one. In this way an effort will be made to show that Pare could have guessed that particular combination.

BOYS WENT GUNNING.

Fred. McLean Was Fatally Shot by George Mallett's Gun.

Oshawa, Ont., Nov. 28.—A fatal shooting accident occurred at Guy's Point, just west of the harbor, on Saturday morning, resulting in the death of Fred. McLean. It seems that George Mallett and McLean went rabbit shooting. One asked the other to turn round, when their guns struck and Mallett's gun discharged and the charge struck McLean on the left thigh. M'Lean was removed to a farm house owned by Mr. Schemith and Dr. Coburn was summoned, but could do no good. McLean died a few hours later. An inquest is deemed unnecessary.

A QUINTETTE KILLED.

Disastrous Boiler Explosion on a River Steamer in California—Many Persons Dangerously Injured.

Stockton, Cal., Nov. 28.—The most disastrous river accident in the history of Stockton occurred yesterday near Fourteen Mile Slough, when a part of one of the boilers of the river steamer T. G. Walker, which left San Francisco about 6 o'clock last night, was blown out, killing five and dangerously wounding 11 persons, while probably 15 or 20 more were more or less badly hurt. The T. C. Walker is owned by the California Navigation & Improvement Company, and ran between San Francisco and Steckton.

NOTES ON POLITICS.

Mr. S. T. Bastedo, secretary of the Fisheries Department, has gone on a trip of inspection to the north.

Col. Kerns has accepted the nomination of Halton Conservatives. Mr. John R. Barber is his opponent.

Mr. Justice Falconbridge and Mr. Justice Street presided at the election case of Centre Simcoe in Osgoode Hall on Saturday. It took them exactly 58 seconds to settle it, with the result that Mr. A. B. Thompson, the Conservative member, retains his seat in the House. The petition was dismissed without costs. Mr. Justice Falconbridge followed the lead of Mr. Justice Osler in scoring petitioners who do not come to the scratch.

F. S. Rathbun Dead.

Deseronto, Nov. 28.—Mr. Frederick S. Rathbun, general accountant of the Rathbun Company here, died suddenly while taking his usual morning bath at his residence on Saturday from heart failure. The deceased gentleman was about 45 years of age. Mr. Rathbun married a daughter of the late Hon. John McMurrich, who survives him. He leaves two daughters and one son. One daughter is in Leipsic, Germany, and the other is at home, while the son is a student at Trinity College School, Port Hope. Mr. E. W. Rathbun is now the only surviving son of the late H. B. Rathbun, founder of the Rathbun Co. at Deseronto.

J. Terrance, Brakeman, Killed.

Brighton, Ont., Nov. 28—Another fatal accident happened in this vicinity yesterday, by which John Terrance, a brakeman of York, lost his life. While making a coupling he stood on the north side of the track, next to the platform in front of the fruit houses, and in some unaccountable way was squeezed between a large refrigerator car and the platform. When found, a minute or so afterwards, life was extinct, the ribs having been broken and forced in against the heart. He leaves a wife and four children.

McGowan Was Jailed.

Erie, Pa., Nov. 28.—When ex-Mayor Magowan of Trenton heard that Governor Hastings had granted a requisition returning him to Ohio he attempted to jump his bail and escape to Canada. He was arrested and taken before Judge Walling, who sent him to jail.

Magowan, Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Winn's bail has been continued until next Friday. Mrs. Winn is in Toronto. The Edith Beryl Barnes kidnapping case will now be tried in Cleveland.

Havoc Among the Dories.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 28.—The principal feature of the blizzard here yesterday was the tremendous tide, which, blown by the heavy northeast gale, reached a point that has not been attained since 1851. The sea wall at Humphrey street, built of granite, was almost completely demolished, and 15 or 20 dories were blown ashore and smashed to pieces.

May Mean a Big Strike.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 28.—The coal miners of the Pittsburg district held a convention on Saturday and passed resolutions that a general advance in wages and an eight hour day be established at the general convention to be held in January. Colonel Reed's imported negroes have promised to join the union.

He Writes About His Condition—Wife and Children Helped.

WALLACEBURG, ONT.—The following letter will prove of interest to working men and others who may be in a condition similar to that of the writer:

"For three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I have been working at the barber trade for about 20 years and for the last four years I have been very closely confined and have had my meals very irregularly. I was taken with a

and the doctors said it was caused by my stomach troubles. I lost flesh and became so weak I was hardly able to stand up to the chair to work. One day I happened to be looking over some testimonial letters and I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before I had taken two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt finely and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I have taken nearly five bottles and now I feel like a man again. I am than I have ever been in my life. My wife and children have also taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for a blood medicine and realized much benefit from it. As for myself I cannot say too much for it. EDITORIAL NOTES.

PARLIAMENT has been formally prorogued till January 9th, 1899.

THE writ for the East Northumberland bye-election was issued on Friday. The nomination will take place on December 7th, and the election on the 14th.

A MAN in St. Louis has a grave trouble; he has forgotten his name. Some candidates in the next municipal elections will have a worse trouble than that—their names will be forgotten by the electors and their new name will be "Dennis."

THE Montreal Gazette says that the Government of Ontario is making the province the laughing stock of the federation. The Government has anyway had the last laugh for some quarter of a century, and the indications are that it will continue to have it for an indefinite time to come.

DURING October the balance to the credit of the depositors in the Post Office Savings Banks was reduced from $34,324,780 to $34,235,180. Deposits amounted to $691,001, and withdrawals to $793,747. In good times people have profitable use for money.

THE new young Queen of Holland has a mind of her own. Since she set up her royal household she has had many illustrious suitors for her hand. Instead of acting as an ordinary girl would do and selecting the flower of her suitors, she has chosen the weed. Prince William of Wied, an old flame, is the lucky man. The royal Wied will burst into full bloom in the spring.

THERE is one weak spot in the political intelligence of our American cousins, that is, paradoxical as it may seem, a strong impediment to the negotiation of commercial treaties. They cling to the idea that Canadians are always ready to swap their birthright for a mess of commercial pottage. The chief objection of our Yankee cousins to a reciprocity treaty is that such a treaty will delay the annexation of Canada, which is about as probable as the discovery of perpetual motion. Canada doesn't want annexation, and won't have it any price. We have everything to lose and nothing to gain by amalgamating our national housekeeping with Uncle Sam. Senator Carter, of Montana, has been talking at Washington about the relations of Canada to the United States. He proposes to swap the Philippines for Canada, under the vain delusion that 8,000,000 Malays are equal in value to 5,000,000 Canadians. The Malays might be handed over like so many chattels, but the Canuck is not an article of merchandise—"Daughter I am in my Mother's house but mistress in my own." For all practical purposes Canada is as independent as possible. The tie between us and the Mother Land is one of sentiment rather than anything else, and that tie is growing closer every day. Canadian national individuality, Canadian national spirit, are becoming stronger as the days go by. We don't want annexation, and we won't even discuss it. We are Canadians, and Canadians we shall remain. Great Britain is big enough to do almost anything she chooses, but she is neither big enough, nor small enough, to hand us over to the United States.

DANGEROUS TRADES.

While workingmen's organization busy themselves with wages and hours, and who may or may not work, the demand for safe and sanitary conditions of labour comes rather from other quarters, and in some cases the workmen themselves are the chief obstacle to the enforcement of regulations to these ends. This has always been notoriously the case with the Davy safety lamp, and it was soon found that the only means of securing safety by that method was so to lock the lamp that the miner could not open it. Locking this, some workman was sure to blow up the mine, including himself and all his comrades. The Imperial Government has recently issued a report on dangerous trades, which recommends a similar precaution in the manufacture of Bessemer steel. At present the moving and tilting of the converter is regulated by a workman, and to use automatic machinery for the same purpose would throw one man out of work. Three years ago at the Dowlais works the man in charge checked the descent of the converter with a jerk which sent a ton and a half of molten metal into the pit below, where a number of men were at work preparing the ingot moulds. Several of the men were severely burned and four of them died. A worse event took place some years ago at one of the large works on the Tees, when ten tons of molten metal fell into the pit and fifteen men were severely burned and ten killed.

The worst death-rate with which the committee which presented the report referred to met was among file-cutters. Each individual tooth in a file is formed by the stroke of a hammer weighing seven and a half to nine pounds on a chisel, the file being laid on a bed of lead. The man has to lift a hundred and ninety tons in the day's work. Among the hurtful conditions under which the industry is pursued, mention is made of bad ventilation, overcrowding, dirtiness, want of light in workshops, the inhalation of dust impregnated with lead, and the lack of proper sanitary arrangements. It is stated that attention has been constantly drawn during the last thirty years to the dangers attending the trade. The committee significantly expresses its belief that 'some thing more than ordinary trade conservatism' has led to the rejection of the substitutes for lead as a bed for the file, which have been experimented upon. Accidents in the use of grindstones are shown to be connected with the manufacture as well as the use of these articles. The inquiries into this industry therefore began at the quarries where the grindstones are prepared, and it is plainly stated that upon the action of the quarrymen depends the safety of life and limb of many workmen. It is alleged, with every show of reason, that numerous grindstone accidents might be averted by the exercise of care or foresight on the part of the quarry owners or their managers in discovering and condemning defective stones. Concussion has a peculiarly bad effect upon grindstones, and it is considered that explosives should not be used in quarries where grindstones to be run at high velocities are made. It is stated that in the class of work pursued in many cases at Redditch and Sheffield 1,500 revolutions per minute for a stone thirty inches in diameter is a common speed, giving a surface velocity of 11,700 feet per minute. Other dangerous trades treated of in the present report, which is the third now published, are such as galvanized iron work, sole stitching by American machinery, and glass-polishing. The committee remarks that the report shows that several of the existing evils by which they have been confronted can only be dealt with by legislation, and it is understood that such legislation is in immediate contemplation.

THE PULP INDUSTRY.

Mr. Ernest A. Bremner, of London, Eng., Returned Friday From the Old Country With Glowing Accounts.

Mr. Ernest A. Bremner, the representative of the Occidental syndicate which controls the Sturgeon Falls Pulp Company, Limited, arrived in Toronto on Friday after a most successful business trip to the Old Country. The Sturgeon Falls Pulp Company obtained from the Government on October 6th, last, a grant of 75 square miles of spruce lands along the Sturgeon river and have already begun operations on an extended scale to manufacture pulp. The company will in the end have expended $1,000,000 in the erection of buildings and plant for the purposes of their manufacturing, and have already one mill under operation. They will employ in all about 400 hands and calculate to turn out 300,000 tons of pulp a year, or 120 tons per working day. The Americans, shipping from Canada, spend from $6 to $7 a ton in placing the lumber at their mills, and the cost to the Canadian firm is only $2, which will give them an immense advantage in competing in the English market. Last week a sample shipment of pulp was sent to England and the prospects are now assured for an enormous demand in the British market. The firm also intends to ship to the markets of Australia and Japan. Several carloads also have been shipped to the United States and to points in Canada, and the demand is expected to be very large.

PECULIAR POISONS

GENERATED IN THE HUMAN BODY.

The Result of Imperfect Digestion of Food.

Every living thing, plant or animal, contains within itself the germs of certain decay and death.

In the human body these germs of disease and death (called by scientists Ptomaines), are usually the result of imperfect digestion of food; the result of indigestion or dyspepsia.

The stomach, from abuse, weakness, does not promptly and thoroughly digest the food. The result is a heavy, sodden mass which ferments (the first process of decay) poisoning the blood, making it thin, weak and lacking in red corpuscles; poisoning the brain, causing headaches and pain in the eyes.

Bad digestion irritates the heart, causing palpitation and finally bringing on disease of this very important organ.

Poor digestion poisons the kidneys, causing Bright's disease and diabetes.

And this is so because every organ, every nerve depends upon the stomach alone for nourishment and renewal, and weak digestion shows itself not only in loss of appetite and flesh, but in weak nerves and muddy complexion.

The great English scientist, Huxley, said the best start in life is a sound stomach. Weak stomachs fail to digest food properly, because they lack the proper quantity of digestive acids (lactic and hydrochloric) and peptogenic products; the most sensible remedy in all cases of indigestion is to take, after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply in a pleasant, harmless form all the elements that weak stomachs lack.

The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure every form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

They increase flesh, insure pure blood, strong nerves, a bright eye and clear complexion, because all these result only from wholesome food well digested.

Nearly all druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents full sized package or by mail by enclosing price to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., but ask your druggist first.

CONFLICT IMMINENT.

Military and Civil Authorities in France Certain to Join Issues.

CHUSAN TAKEN BY THE BRITISH.

Why the Island Is Valuable—The Report, However, Is Discredited—The Despair of Dreyfus and the Prostration of His Faithful Wife—Cream of the News by Cable.

Paris, Nov. 28.—France, after all, is not to escape the crisis which has been impending for many months, namely, a decisive conflict between the civil authorities and the military power. The action of Gen. Zurlinden, the Military Governor of Paris, in ordering Col. Picquart before a court-martial, is nothing less than a monstrous plot to defeat justice and establish the supremacy of the army above the Republican institutions in France.

The apprehensions which were aroused in the middle of October by the discovery of a military plot for a coup d'etat are now revived with greater force, and the Dreyfus affair is dwarfed in the face of this new infamy and national danger. It has been said that the men who are fighting Picquart are fighting with ropes around their necks, and they will not stick at trifles. Therein lies the peril of the situation, for Gens. Mercier, Gonse, Boisdeffre and Zurlinden, controlling as they do all of the military forces of Paris, have power to, at any moment, seize the Government and establish a dictatorship which will be only overthrown after great bloodshed.

BRITISH FLAG OVER TING HAI.

Island of Chusan Seized by Admiral Seymour of Chinese Squadron.

London, Nov. 28.—Admiral Seymour, commanding the British squadron in Chinese waters, has hoisted the British flag over Ting Hai, capital of the Island of Chusan, and has stationed a formidable fleet of warships in that vicinity to defend his action.

The Chusan group forms one of the most strategic positions on the Chinese coast. Britain's new possession commands the mouth of the Yang Tse Kiang River, the great artery of Central China, and the most densely populated region of its size in the world. The various mouths of the river are just north of Chusan.

The entire Yang Tse Kiang Valley, by a recent treaty between Great Britain and China, has been placed within the British sphere of influence, China agreeing not to alienate it to any other power.

Near the mouth of the river is Shanghai, the greatest commercial city of China, and within a couple of hundred miles are Suchay and half a dozen other cities, having an average population of little less than a million.

The coast provinces of Kiang Si and Che Kiang, opposite Chusan, have a combined population of probably more than 60,000,000.

The Report Not Credited.

Shanghai, Nov. 28.—The report received here on Saturday that the British admiral had hoisted the Union Jack over Ting Hai, capital of the Island of Chusan, and over several other islands in the Chusan archipelago, is not credited. The British consulate has received no confirmation of the rumor, which probably originated in mistaking the survey marks of the survey ship Water Witch for the Union Jack.

DREYFUS' DESPAIR.

Touching Letter to His Wife, Who Is Thereby Prostrated.

Paris, Nov. 28.—Mme. Dreyfus, the wife of the unhappy prisoner of Devil's Island, is in bed, extremely ill, and has been since the receipt of a recent letter from her husband. She has been so prostrated, in fact, that access to her is denied. The following is Dreyfus' letter to his wife:

"Despair is beginning to seize me. Have all my friends forgotten me? None seem to be occupying themselves with me. I recall to you that months and months ago I wrote to the President of the Republic and to General Boisdeffre begging them to introduce a revision of my case. I am without news—nothing, nothing comes to me. I leave as a bequest to the President and Gen. Boisdeffre the task of avenging my memory, of clearing my honor, my name and that of my dear children, whom I shall see no more. I shall no longer communicate with my family, as I have said all there is to be said, and I have nothing more to say."

"Breakers Ahead."

London, Nov. 28.—Dr. Robertson Nicoll writes in the British Weekly of a startling state of affairs in the literary world. He says:

"I have evidence in my possession which shows that organized conspiracies exist to destroy the reputation of certain books and authors—cliques, of which certain journalists are at the head."

Owing to the high standing of Dr. Nicoll's, this statement has produced a great sensation in literary circles in London. The Academy reprints the accusation under the title "Breakers Ahead."

Carlists Will Take the Field.

London, Nov. 28.—An English Carlist positively asserts that Don Carlos' army will take the field in Spain soon after the treaty is signed. He declares that a loan has been fully financed, and that it is divided equally between France and England, and he adds that after the English capitalists were shown the evidence on which Don Carlos' chances of success are based, they offered several times the amount asked.

CANADA'S PEER

Deeds No Less Than $2,500,000 to Three Trustees to Keep His Relatives in Fitting Style.

Montreal, Nov. 28.—It is announced that Lord Mountstephen has handed over to three trustees, James W. Stirling of New York, John Turnbull and Robert Meighen of Montreal, the sum of $2,500,000 for the benefit of his lordship's relatives.

The following kindred reside in Montreal: Mr. Frank Stephen and his four daughters, Mrs. Robert Meighen and her three children, Mr. Frank Meighen, Miss Margaret Smith Meighen, Mrs. R. W. Redford, Mrs. James A. Cantile and her children, Mr. George S. Cantile, Mr. James A. Cantile, jr., Lieut. W. Northcote Cantile, Mr. Francis P. Cantile, Mrs. Adams, Mr. William Stephen, Mr. George Stephen and his four sisters, being the children of the late James Stephen; Mrs. G. S. Polton and six children, Mr. J. C. Covington and five children, Mrs. Stephenson, besides other relatives in England. His lordship's desire is apparently to give his relatives that assistance which is often required by worthy heirs before a testator's death.

Big Seotsmo Not Touched.

In this handsome gift to relatives Lord Mountstephen did not touch his splendid fortune, which his acquaintances here place all the way from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. They state that Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal and Lord Mountstephen have been very heavy speculators of late in the London stock market, and these noble lords have come out of their fortunate deals with profits amounting to between five and six millions. This, therefore, is how these relatives of Lord Mountstephen have so suddenly come into possession of the sum of $2,500,000.

The three trustees have the power to say who shall get their share in a lump sum and who shall enjoy the interest only, his lordship taking it for granted that some of his relatives might be less prudent than others.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is the ladies' friend for all skin diseases. Address Dr. A. W. Chase Co., Toronto.

Lockroy Modifies His Program.

Paris, Nov. 28.—M. Lockroy's naval program for the year 1899 has been modified at the last moment, and all of the proposed new battleships have been eliminated. Altogether 48 ships have been added to the navy for 1899 and 21 for 1900. France will then have more torpedoes and torpedo destroyers than Great Britain.

A Train Wrecker's Doom.

Three Vessels Ashore.

Belfast, Me., Nov. 28.—Three vessels are reported ashore at Fort Point, on the Penobscot River, 15 miles from Belfast.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another hale and hearty at 90? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant nervous strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

Bolls Banished.

Mr. O. J. Murray, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "About six months ago I was troubled with painful boils and got one bottle of B. B. B. which completely cured me."

EIGHTEEN MONTHS' PAIN.

Ended Effectually and Permanently by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Central Waterville, N.B., Nov. 14—These dull and damp days of November are terribly hard on the Kidneys. Not one person in a hundred escapes. Backache, pains in the loins, Lumbago, and similar Kidney troubles are as plentiful as fallen leaves.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only sure and certain cure for kidney complaints. They never fail to cure.

In proof of this read what Mr. F. W. Harris, of this place says: "After having suffered for eighteen months with kidney disease, being unable to work, most of the time, and having grown worse while taking other medicines, I used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which affected a complete and permanent cure."

Mrs. David Labee, Waterford, Ont., says: "I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil for pains of any kind. It cured me of a distressing pain that the doctor could not cure."

To-morrow Night's Concert.

Among those who will take part at to-morrow night's concert in St. Andrew's Sunday school, under the auspices of the Young Men's Guild, are the following: Miss Clara Bellegham, Miss Aggie Patterson, Miss Falconer, Miss Grant, Mrs. Martin, Mr. Chas. J. Rogers, Master Holden Blackwell, Mr. Jas. Brown, Mr. John Peace, the Banjo Club, Rev. Mr. Potter. From the above will be seen what an excellent programme has been arranged and the young men hope for a large turnout of strangers as well as members of the church. Silver collection at the door.

Laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late Athena Mercier took place on Sunday and was very largely attended. It was conducted under the auspices of the C.M.B.A. and the E.B.A. of which associations deceased was a most respected member; the Catholic Order of Forester, also joined in on the occasion. The turnout of the brethren was large and respectable. The funeral service was conducted at the Cathedral Ven. Archdeacon Casey who on this occasion departing from the usual custom of the church, preached a brief but eloquent sermon, in which the uprightness of the deceased and the advantages of membership in the societies represented were referred to. After the funeral the members of the C.M.B.A. met in their hall and passed the usual resolution of condolence to the widow and orphans, and also a resolution thanking the Catholic Order of Foresters for paying in the last tribute of respect to a deceased brother.

As Sure as Taxes.

A good article has many imitators. This is the way with Crescent Brand of currants and raisins. All consumers and competent judges say they are the best they ever used, but some competitors with a great lack of business principle and honour tell you the Crescent brand is inferior to their own, in order to pawn off what they have. The Crescent Brand of raisins and currants stands on its own merits, and we compare it with none, as the fruit is the finest to be procured, and when cleaned by E. F. Mason's new process are unsurpassed. Crescent Brand same price as uncleaned fruit.

Retiring From Business.

The announcement is made to-day by the firm of R. H. Kells & Co. of their intention to retire from the dry goods business. This well-known store has, for many years, enjoyed a lucrative business, having attracted a large patronage from both town and country shoppers. It will be with anything but pleasurable feelings that the patrons of this store will learn of the withdrawal of the firm from business. The head of the firm, Mr. R. H. Kells, has not only given close and careful attention for many years past to a yearly increasing business, but he has devoted much valuable time in actively promoting the material interests of Peterborough. While his retirement from the dry goods business will cause regret by many of his customers, the public will be pleased to learn that it is not Mr. Kell's intention to leave Peterborough, as he contemplates engaging in a new undertaking here. The firm announces in another column that their entire stock is to be closed out as rapidly as possible at greatly reduced prices. The sale is a bona fide one and will afford an exceptionally good opportunity at this time of the year to procure special good values.

OUR KLONDYKE PARTY.

Mr. Sam. Munro Writes That all are Well and Wintering About Forty Miles From Dawson.

Mrs. Samuel Munro has received word from her husband, stating that the majority of the Peterborough Klondyke party are wintering about forty miles from Dawson City, the greater part of their outfit being stored in camp with them. members of the party are all in good health.

A reserve supply of provisions is kept in Dawson City, but as the cabin is on the outskirts of the northern metropolis it is not thought that the recent fire inflicted any loss on the Peterborough party, the conflagration taking place in the more thickly populated portion of the city, along the water front.

Mr. Wm. Eyres is also in receipt of a recent letter from his sons, who are now with the Peterborough party in the Yukon district. They state that there are three more members of the party, which now numbers eleven. The additional members are practical miners. Quite a number of claims have been staked out all the way from Sulphur Creek (60 miles) and Gold Bottom Creek (40 miles) to Dawson City. Everything has been prepared for the winter, when the ground will freeze up and the mines can be worked without the water coming in. Shanties have been erected at the different claims and amply provisioned, the idea being to concentrate the work on the particular claim which may turn out richer than the others. The work of building the cabins was arduous, the trees having to be hewn in the forest, dragged to the shanty site and then sawn into boards.

CARD OF THANKS.

The Collingwood Bulletin of Nov. 17th makes the following well-deserved complimentary reference to Mr. A. S. Laing, son of Mr. R. Laing, Water street: "At a special meeting of the trustees held on Thursday afternoon, it was decided to advertise for a commercial master in case Mr. Laing did not accept. Mr. Laing has since received an appointment in St. Catharines at a salary of $900, and will enter on his duties at the beginning of the new year. Since coming to town Mr. Laing has made many friends, who will regret his departure. He has also shown himself to be a superior teacher and his withdrawal will be a loss to the school.

To-morrow morning the plan will be opened to the public. The ensemble work of the club in both this and the latter number was excellent. The Mozart Symphony Club had been heard by many in the audience before, so their remarkably fine playing was no surprise, both to ensemble and individual work, since each of the members are artists of assured reputation. CHILD KILLED BY A MOTOR CAR.

Death of John Kennealey's Little Child.

SHE IS CAUGHT IN THE WHEELS.

The Nerve Tissues in the Lower Part of the Abdomen Were Crushed—The Thigh Torn.

The little six-year-old daughter of Mr. John Kennealey, No. 71 Lock street, was struck by a passing electric car shortly before noon to-day and almost instantly killed.

It appears that the little one was playing in the street just north of her father's residence, with a couple of her companions, when the car came along. In her play she did not notice its proximity and attempted to cross the track in front of it. One of her companions shouted a warning and the little girl stopped and hesitated for a fatal second. A moment more and the car was on top of her grinding out the young life under its wheels.

The child was picked up and carried to her home, dying almost instantly.

Only a single scar was made. It was a horrible jagged tear across the front of the left thigh, and extending around to the back, where the wheels had apparently passed over the body. The shock to the important nerve tissues in the lower part of the abdomen was sufficient to cause death, and Dr. Brown on viewing the body, granted a burial certificate.

Thos. Henry was the motor man on the car, which was in charge of Conductor Everett.

Coroner Bell, on being made acquainted with the circumstances of the case, deemed an inquest unnecessary.

St. Andrew's Night.

As the calendar runs on towards the thirtieth of November the Scotchman begins to feel his oatmeal—a glowing sensation in the neighbourhood of the cockles of his heart—and when St. Andrew's night comes the glow pervades his whole being. The occasion will be celebrated in the Sons of England hall on Wednesday night, and the programme prepared gives promise of a splendid evening of enjoyment. The best feature of the affair will perhaps be the presence of ladies. The programme embraces a fine array of seasonable toasts, songs and recitations.

To Cure a Cold in One Day.

THE KENNEL CLUB.

A Meeting is Called For This Evening in the Council Chamber.

An adjourned meeting of the Kennel Club will be held in the Council Chamber this evening, when a report will be received from the Membership Committee, which, if satisfactory, will result in a Bench Show being held early in the year. It is hoped that the attendance will be large. All interested are invited to be present.

Dog fanciers in Canada are most anxious to see the Peterborough show made an annual fixture. Montreal holds out the promise of no less than sixty entries for this year, and the Belleville and Port Hope fanciers are most enthusiastic, the best known breeders promising large entries.

A Wedding Present.

Of practical importance would be a bottle of the only sure-pop corn cure—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—which can be had at any drug store. A continuation of the honeymoon and the removal of the corns both assured by its use. Beware of imitations.

THE CATTLE YARDS MATTER

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Kindly insert the following in the columns of your paper, and you will thereby express the feelings of many residents of this town.

Peterborough is ever on the alert to acquire that which to its citizens is an honour, but more especially a valuable component of comfort and contentment, at least to the residents of certain localities. Some years ago the town felt the want of a place of public resort. This want was very generously supplied by donations from the late lamented Mrs. Nicholls, the result of which is that the town of Peterborough (no, part of the town) now enjoys the possession of six parks. They are, all of them, a credit to Peterborough, but, might I say, rather prejudicially distributed. The satisfying of one want opened our eyes to another. Most of us will remember with pleasure no doubt, the reign of terror of the frog band, whose music hall was located in the centre compartment of the Spaulding's Bay perfumery. But the occasional visit to the south end of the town by a few of the northern "four hundred" led to a petition being addressed to the Government praying for the grant to the town of the property covered by said bay, and other property around, in consideration thereof this "stink hole" was to be filled in as a "veritable nuisance." The grant was made and the property after being used as a dumping ground for several years was sold. But we are not to be deprived of our "prescriptive right" to sweet, delicious and rich odours, for from over the way were wafted periodically odoriferous fumes possessing a stench of sufficient strength to oblige the resident within a radius of half a mile either to close every door, and every window, "and every gate" around their homes or to call in medical aid for relief, usually in the morning. But by recent improvements this "pleasantness" has to our "extreme sorrow" been somewhat mitigated. Yet again, O People, we were blessed with monotonous "music" and "sweet" smells from the cow and pig yard on Perry street. But this year has brought the climax to its greatest strength. Some of our narrow-minded, liberal-hearted town fathers have by their propitiousness (for great indeed is the muchness thereof) proposed allowing a resident of Otonabee to open a beautiful large park and erect therein an excellent Zoological Gardee. The sole object of our humble ambition is at last to be supplied by this magnanimous gentleman, this good Samaritan.

Now, sir, I think that No. 1 Ward has long enough been an object of our town council's unkindness and lack of ordinary human consideration. Since our representatives are too childish to raise their voices in protest of the erection, continuance and exemption from taxation of those contemptible pestilences in the vicinity of our homes it devolves upon others of us to do so. Are not our noses constituted as those of our friends in other wards? Have we not the same love for comfort, for good, fresh, unpolluted air as they? Have we not the same right to consideration towards which the residents in No. 1 Ward contribute more than any other? Common sense alone will tell it is the least we have a right to demand. Such a cattle yard can never be of any profit, in any way, to anyone but Mr. Kennedy, while its erection will result in severe detriment to the property-holders in this vicinity and annoyance to the public in general. Let our councillors prove themselves non-subservient to the influence of outsiders, and instruct Mr. Kennedy to erect his cattleyard at the door of his own residence and every citizen of the town will wish him and his every success.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain, dear sir,

Yours, etc.,
SOUTH ENDER.

Peterborough, Nov. 28th, 1898.

THE STOCKYARDS.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In the columns of Friday's papers I notice a communication signed Sanitarius, regarding the stock yard scheme proposed by Mr. H. P. Kennedy, the text of the letter being that were the stock yards established they would be an annoyance, a nuisance and a pest.

In reply I should like first to ask where in a city, or out of it, can we find a place where there is no annoyance? Would he banish our railways, because, peradventure, an engine whistles on passing his door? Would he prevent the establishment of a factory because the noise annoys him? Personally, I would find it much more comfortable on our streets of a Saturday evening if all but myself had remained at home, but shall I propose the closing of the places of business I am jostled by others doing business. Annoyances are an essential accompaniment of progress.

Again our second edition of Diogenes says the yards, established on the proposed site, will be a nuisance, and he mentions stock yards he has "inspected." I might also express an opinion about those stock yards and others, but the town has gone to the expense of sending a deputation to Toronto to investigate the matter and perhaps it would be well to hear what they say. Quoting from the EXAMINER of Nov. 23, "the Mayor stated that the deputation had visited the Toronto stock yards and could not tell by any smell that they were in the vicinity." Mr. White "found no bad smell in the Toronto stock yards," and "thought the cattle yards proposed to be established by Mr. Kennedy would be less of a nuisance than in Toronto, where the yards were on low grounds," and Mr. Deane expressed it very forcibly when he said he got more filth on his boots on King street than in the cattle yards.

Now we come to where Sanitarius shows a most lamentable ignorance of the subject he discusses, viz, in "pronouncing them (steak yards) veritable pest-holes wherever they exist," and again in saying that they are "found by people in their vicinity to be nothing short of a pest." So far from this being the case I think I can safely challenge him to cite one instance where odor from live cattle has produced a plague. On the other hand where can he find a healthier class of men those actually engaged in the cattle business. Again, would people be very willing to RENT houses opposite a "veritable pest hole?" Yet we find the houses opposite the Toronto pest hole all occupied, and they being tenement houses the people are not obliged to live there, but do so of their own free will, and even more, have petitioned the Toronto council against the stock yards being removed. Further we have evidence on record, where cities have been visitied by cholera, small pox or other plagues, that the tanneries, where they handle hides—a much greater nuisance by the way than live cattle—were almost exempt from such plague. Not resting content with all this evidence, this morning in a conversation with the Medical Health Officer, I asked him his opinion as to the hygienic effect of the establishment of the stock yards, and in reply he stated as his opinion that were they properly kept he could see no objection whatever.

Sanitarius also states that he does not believe that this new and growing enterprise (as all fair-minded citizens are willing to admit it is) will be of any material benefit to the town, and also infers that the flourishing industry already established in the south ward is not worthy of the consideration given to it by the council when they recently granted them exemption from taxes, although they plainly showed the town that their expenditure for the coming year would likely be double that of the past; and from the appearance of their present magnificent factory, which would be credit to any town, they intend carrying out their proposition.

Now, I hope the council will continue to favour the establishment of the stock yards and depend on their own judgment of such places in other cities, and grant Mr. Kennedy his most reasonable request, and there will be no danger but that with the new election system the right men will be put in the right place on January 1st.

Thanking you for your space, I am, Mr. Editor,

Sincerely yours,
PROPERTY OWNER.

CHURCH CHIMES.

"Praise the Lord O my Soul"—Smallwood, was the title of the anthem in St. Paul's church.

Mr. G. K. Martin sang "The Better Land" in good voice as a solo in the Murray street Baptist church, last evening.

Simper's beautiful anthem, "Now the Day is over," was well rendered yesterday morning in St. Paul's church by the choir.

The Charlotte street church choir sang "It is Well," as an offertory anthem, yesterday morning. The phrasing was particularly noticeable.

"Praise the Lord O Jerusalem" was rendered as the evening anthem in the Charlotte street Methodist church last night, Mr. A. L. Davis taking the solo parts in good voice.

A male quartette composed of Messrs. Morphet, Squires, Harvey and Skitch gave a fine rendering of "Now the Day is Over," in the Charlotte street church last evening.

The morning anthem in the Charlotte street church was entitled "Come unto Me." Miss Florence Hall took the solo and also took the duet with Miss Martha Stephens.

—Rev. J. Bastow, of New York, occupied the pulpit of the Murray street Baptist church at both services yesterday and delivered two sermons which greatly pleased the congregation. The morning sermon was based on the subject "Pray without ceasing." In the evening Mr. Bastow spoke on "Love," taking for his text John III. ch, 16th ver, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

LECTURES TO MEN.

The following is the summary of the address given in the Sunday afternoon course at St. John's, by Rev. E. V. Stevenson yesterday afternoon. There was a good attendance.

David Israel's poet king, formed the basis of the address to men. All periods of David's life are instructive. We view him as peasant, poet and king, and in all three he is probably unsurpassed in history. The modest shepherd boy is advanced to the position of king, the highest tribute a people have to pay to his worth. This son of Jesse watched his father's flocks on the moorlands of Bethlehem, on the Judean plateau, and it was amidst the strong bold features of nature that his character was born and developed. David may have owed something of character and education to the schools of the Prophets established by Samuel. On the rejection of Saul, David is chosen and annointed king by Samuel. Yet he had to abide in patience the approaching day of his reign. During this period he is brought into the household of Saul and enjoys and endures the jealousy and displeasure of that irate monarch, but all is borne with patience and much magnanimity. During this period the enduring friendship with Johnathan, one of the brightest pictures of his life, is formed. On the death of Saul and Jonathan, David laments and writes the funeral dirge originally known as "The Song of the Bow." Not till the men of Judah came to offer him the crown, does David entertain that purpose. Even then he abides at Hebron, till Abner abandons the cause of the puppet king, and quite apart from David, makes the final negotiations with Israel and Benjamin, and offers the crown of the united kingdom to the son of Jesse.

Jerusalem is chosen the capital of the kingdom, taken from the Jebusites, and made the centre of government and religion in the land. To ther is removed the ark of the Lord. Preparations are made for the future building of a house for God.

It was during a period of peace and inactivity that the sin of his life fell upon David. But like the great man that he was he rose superior to the trammels of that sin. A weaker man would have been submerged—not so with David.

The closing scenes of his life are in keeping with so great and noble a life. He charges his son Solomon with the duties of his office. He stands before his people to extort and to bless them. And soon upon this storm-swept life the calm and peace of sunset falls. To the life so full of tumult, storm and passion, upon which so many a revolt had dashed its foam, rest came at last, as it will come to all—"He slept with his fathers."

The next lecture in the course will be given by Rev. H. Symonds next Sunday. Subject, "Recent Religious Movements in the Church of England."

COAL MAY ADVANCE.

Dealers Talk of Putting the Price Up Half a Dollar a Ton—Scarcity is Claimed—The Advance in the States.

There is some likelihood of an advance in the price of coal in the near future, and any advance will probably be 50 cents per ton. A despatch came over the brokers' wires Friday morning that the American coal mining companies had decided to make an advance of 25 cents per ton, the advance to go into effect on December 1. A prominent dealer, when spoken to, said that he had received no notification of any advance, but if it were true then prices would be put up here too. The price of coal at the mines has advanced twice without the advance being followed in Ontario, so that if a third advance is made dealers here must raise prices 50 cents, which would make the quoted price here $6.25 per ton. Coal dealers claim that there is a scarcity of coal in Ontario at the present time, as the railway companies have been unable to supply the cars required.

Many people burn the candle of life at both ends. Some men who never go into vicious dissipation use up their energies just as much by overwork or late hours; and nearly all women are compelled by circumstances to use up their vital powers beyond all reason: It may be in housework; or social demands; or the bearing and rearing of children: At any rate the candle of life is too rapidly consumed.

Some people need to have their natural vigor constantly reinforced in the same proportion that it is used up. They need the fortifying help of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a powerful alterative and invigorant of the digestive functions and lives; it cleanses the blood, and makes fresh blood and healthy flesh. Nervous, debilitated women should take it in conjunction with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription which is specially designed for female weakness and nervous troubles.

Mrs. Sallie Kauffman, of Virgil City, Cedar Co., Mo., writes: "I had suffered from displacement of internal organs and female weakness for one year. Had a bearing down sensation and very disagreeable feeling after my second child was born; I could be on my feet only a few minutes until he was six weeks old, then I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription.' I took seven bottles in all. After taking the first bottle I felt much better. I think I am entirely cured of all my troubles. I can do all my work and am on my feet all day. I am in much better health now than I have been in four years; am fleshy and gaining strength very fast."

By writing to Dr. Pierce who is chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., careful professional advice will be obtained free of cost and specially adapted to the individual case. Dr. Pierce's great 1000-page Medical Adviser will be sent free for 21 cents; the cost of customs and postage.

Frank Caton reports that the 5-year-old horse Passe Rose, by Patron, trotted two successive miles in Russia, both in 2:14¾. This beats the Russian record.

The brown pacing gelding Ginter, by Quartermaster, dam Winnie D, by Hannis, lowered his record at Belmont park recently from 2:24¼ to 2:15¾.

Dick Wilkes, 2:27¼, by Wilkes Bird, owned by Mr. F. Earl du Wesse, Chillicothe, O., won 19 moneys in 18 starts this season. He is a 4-year-old trotter.

Poison Parts of Snakes.

All poisonous serpents have movable fangs, which are found in the upper jaw, and when not in use close up like the blade of a penknife.

At the base of every poison fang there are numerous germs of others, and the fang, if broken or lost, is replaced in a few weeks by the growth of another.

Permanent Cure of Chronic Headache.

It's hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

In nine cases out of ten persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood.

And the blood has been rendered impure in most instances through derangement of the liver, stomach and bowels.

The reason Burdock Blood Bitters makes permanent cures in all cases of headache is because it starts the organs of elimination acting freely. The poisons and impurities are carried off from the system.

Purified blood circulates in the brain cells and instead of pains and aches there is renewed mental and bodily vigor.

And the cure is permanent, such a cure as every chronic headache sufferer desires.

For proof we give you the statement of Mrs. F. D. Duffy of Lime Bank, Ont.

"For six months I suffered from severe headache, and not finding anything to cure me, resolved to try B.B.B., which I had heard highly recommended. I found it a perfect cure, and really believe it to be the best remedy for headache in existence. I only used two bottles and the cure has been perfect and permanent. I feel now like a new woman."

Apples for Europe.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Great quantities of apples are being exported to London from Halifax. This is far in excess of last year's shipment.

"Be it so," haughtily spoke Harold Higgamore. "Lucretia McGinnis, you have rejected me with contempt and scorn. I meet your rejection with equal contempt and scorn and am ashamed of myself for having stooped to beg for your hand. "That's all right, Harold," said the young woman, yawning slightly. "But please don't 'turn on your heel' as you stride indignantly away. It's hard on the carpet."—Chicago Tribune.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 96
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low ing rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

Early Accidents

Cause Lifelong Suffering.

A Case that is Causing Talk.

When a lad about eight years of age I fell into a cellar a distance of ten feet, striking on my head, and causing concussion of the brain. I was taken to a London, Eng., Hospital, the first seven days not recovering consciousness. I am now 35 years old and from the time of my accident until I began taking Dr. Ward's Pills five months ago I had been subject to fainting spells, never being more than two weeks without an attack of fainting. As I grew older these spells became more frequent, lasted longer, and left me with less vitality. I was weak, had no strength or stamina, always very low-spirited and down-hearted; imagined that every thing and every person was going against me, and life only had a dark side for me. My appetite was poor most of the time, but I am now happy to say that, since taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, I have only had one fainting spell, shortly after I began taking them, so I have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Ward's Pills cured me. Before taking these pills I always looked for a fainting spell not more than two weeks apart; now, I would be greatly surprised at a recurrence of these spells. Life is now bright—the constant, morbid, down-hearted feeling is gone, being replaced by a contented, hopeful feeling. I feel like working. My appetite is good, and in every respect I have experienced the health and strength restoring properties of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. They certainly have proved a great blessing to me. Yours truly, (Signed), Thomas Stanton, Brighton, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 5 boxes for $2.00 at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Doctor Ward Co., Limited, Toronto.

STORM-SWEPT ISLES.

WEST INDIAN CYCLONES THAT ARE NOTED IN HISTORY.

Interesting Facts Concerning the Recent Calamitous Visitation in Tropical America—General Points of the Great Storm—Barbados and St. Vincent Suffer Devastation—Fate of Kingston.

[Special Kingston (Jamaica) Letter.]

The Caribbean archipelago is notoriously the cradle of tropical American cyclones. No other part of the world has been so frequently—one might say periodically—laid waste by the storm fiend. Indeed, the experience of four centuries has taught West Indians to look forward to these terrible visitations just as much as a matter of course as the dwellers in northern latitudes expect snowstorms and frosts in their season. But, fortunately, it is not very frequently that the destruction wrought is of such a nature as to command the sympathetic attention of the world at large. Recently occurred the second most destructive, if not the most fatal, in the long series. The general facts to hand, through the always conservative channel of official despatches, clearly indicate the magnitude of the disaster approximates that of the overwhelming visitation of 1780.

This cyclone, originating in the neighborhood of Trinidad, swept northward and struck the islands of St. Vincent and Barbados, literally demolishing everything in its path, obliterating cultivation, ruining towns, villages and all buildings and burying hundreds of the inhabitants in the debris. Thence it passed to the next island of St. Lucia, where it also wrought much damage; and, proceeding northward, it skirted Martinique and Dominica, fell on Guadeloupe with great severity and reached a point south of St. Kitts, where it exhausted itself at sea. For these general points I am indebted to the United States weather service, which has recently established stations at various islands with headquarters at Jamaica. It should be added that the head station located the cyclone fully 24 hours ahead and sent out the necessary warnings. Taken in connection with commercial interests in the West Indies, this fact is of valuable significance.

Before going into details of the present visitation, it may be well to briefly review the hurricane history of the West Indies. Taking them one with another. It is no exaggeration to say that hurricanes of one sort or another sweep the Caribbean Sea every year between July and October. At least 900 have been mentioned in history since colonization on a permanent and systematic basis was commenced. Of these, however, not above a score have been found worthy of the general historian's special attention. They occurred in the following years: 1674, '75, '89 and '96; 1712, '22, '26, '30, '31 and '86; and during the present century in 1812, '13, '19, '21 and '67.

Each one of these, and some half a dozen others that took place previously or since, was marked by some special feature, but was more or less circumscribed in area. Thus in that of 1782 the awful phenomenon of the tidal wave was first noted. At Kingston, Jamaica, it outdid the storm, sweeping clear above the palisades and inundating Port Royal. Again in 1812 the accompaniment of the earthquake was experienced, and whilst the storm was busy leveling the elastic structures specially prepared as refuges in times of visitations from that other West Indian scourge a series of earthquakes rent and shattered the massive stone hurricane refuges and buried the terrified occupants in the ruins. Fortunately (in a certain sense) this disaster was confined to Jamaica. Within a month a series of earthquakes completed the destruction, and owing to the American war timely aid was not forthcoming, which contributed to making this one of the greatest disasters from which the island has ever suffered.

But far and away the most terrible, both in actual effects and in area affected, of all the elemental disturbances that have made havoc in the sunny isles of the Caribbean, was the seven days' long cyclone—or, properly, a series of them—that raged with unprecedented fury from the western end of Jamaica eastward to Barbados, between October 8 and 10, 1780. In Jamaica an entire town (Savla-Mar) was ruined by the storm and the ruins swept away by a tidal wave. Earthquakes accompanied the cyclones in their track, and in most of the islands conflagrations broke out amid the ruined towns. In Martinique and Barbados the loss of life was most appalling, the figures being respectively 7,000 and 4,326. In both these islands and Jamaica a fearful pestilence followed that swept away thousands. In St. Vincent the settlements were entirely wiped out and the colonists had to commence de novo.

Whilst this year's storm covered at least half the area of that of 1780, St. Vincent and Barbados are the greatest sufferers. So far as known the loss of life is not nearly so considerable, being possibly less than one-tenth. On the other hand, the material destruction is greatly in excess. St. Vincent seems to have suffered just as complete a "wipe out," whilst not nearly so able to recuperate as she was a century ago. Barbados has experienced no less extensive a disaster, with which the estimated losses in 1780, amounting to over $6,500,000, can scarcely be compared.

The cyclone made its "landfall during the night between the 10th and 11th of September. Although one of the most mountainous of the islands, St. Vincent is—or, alas, was—highly cultivated and pretty generally settled, having a population of 42,000, of whom about 9,000 resided in the capital, Kingstown. According to the official report the hurricane made a complete breach of the island. The remnants of forests that were old when Columbus came, and that survived three centuries of colonization, previous storms and even volcanic eruption (1812), were swept away like stubble. Massive buildings, like sugar estate works, churches, forts and fortifications, went into wreck and ruin like so many card houses.

This is a general view of the disaster. Details from the country districts are lacking, but the fate of Kingstown gives some idea of what happened. The city stood on the slopes of a background of separated mountains, divided and seamed by ghauts (ravines,) and whilst the cyclone tore and rent and prostrated the buildings the encircling heights collected the cloudbursts and poured the waters in whelming torrents over the ruins, sweeping them into the bay.

These facts cannot fail to convey a vivid idea of the details, and a good comprehension of the infinite force of the cyclone may be gathered from the fact that Fort Charlotte, a massive castle on a promontory protecting the city and port, was thrown into ruins.

The story from Barbados is even more terrible. That island, which has an area of but 160 square miles, is practically flat. Its so-called "hills" are little more than gentle undulations, and are in no way calculated to impose any shelter from winds. The daily trade-wind searches out every nook and cranny; and the whole island is equally exposed to the cyclone's blighting blast. Fortunately it is out of the normal area of these phenomena.

It is another story that has to be told to-day. Unlike any other historic storm, this appears to have advanced on Barbados, in the usual way, done some slight damage and then desolated St. Vincent, 100 miles to the westward; then to have doubled on its tracks, returned to and completely swept Barbados, and then proceeded on its regular route from St. Lucia northward.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

This Is Not Hearsay. It is Borne Out by Carefully Compiled Statistics of Diseases Most Prevalent. Its Development is Watched Carefully Because it is as Sure a forerunner of Consumption if Neglected. Most Catarrh Cures Contain Cocaine, which is a Dangerous Narcotic, and Prof. Hays, of the Ontario School of Chemistry and Pharmacy, says:—

"After an examination made from samples procured on the open market, I declare that there is no COCAINE contained in the preparation of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure." Most astonishing results are daily coming into Dr. Chase's office of the cures made. Here are a few in condensed form. We ask you to call or write to the following parties if at all sceptical:

FEATHERED BAROMETERS.

Sailors Warned by Them of a Coming Storm.

While a British brig was gliding smoothly along before a good breeze in the south Pacific a flock of small birds about the size, shape and color of parrakeets settled down in the rigging and passed an hour or more of resting. The second mate was so anxious to find out the species to which the visiting strangers belonged that he tried to entrap a specimen, but the birds were too shy to be thus caught and too spry to be seized by the quick hands of the sailors. At the end of about an hour the birds took the brig's course and disappeared, but toward nightfall they came back and passed the night in the maintop.

The next morning the birds flew off again, and when they returned at noon the sailors scattered some food about the decks. By this time the birds had become so tame that they hopped about the decks, picking up the crumbs. That afternoon an astonishing thing happened. The flock came flying swiftly toward the brig. Every bird seemed to be piping as if pursued by some little invisible enemy on wings, and they at once huddled down behind the deckhouse. The superstitious sailors at once called the captain of the brig, who rubbed his eyes and looked at the barometer. A glance showed that something was wrong with the elements, and the brig was put in shape to outride a storm.

The storm came about 20 minutes after the birds had reached the vessel. For a few minutes the sky was like the waterless bottom of a lake—a vast arch of yellowish mud—and torrents of rain fell. Why it did not blow very hard no one knows, but on reaching port two days later the captain learned that a great tornado had swept across that part of the sea. The birds left the vessel on the morning after the storm and were not seen again.

Reports from Missouri, Kansas, Minnesota and Nebraska announce that a blizzard is raging in the west and southwest, and a decided drop in temperature has been experienced. At Beatrice, Nebraska, the mercury dropped 60 degrees in 24 hours.

PROGRESSIVE PETERBOROUGH

A TRIBUTE TO HER INDUSTRIAL PROSPERITY.

How our Manufacturing Establishments are Booming—Enlargement of Manufacturing Facilities Demanded by Increase of Orders.

The Globe is publishing a series of articles respecting the industrial prosperity of the Dominion. In its issue of Thursday the following respecting this town is printed under the heading, "Progressive Peterborough."

Peterborough, Nov. 21—The industrial establishments of Peterborough have enjoyed for the past two years especially and are still enjoying at present a very gratifying prosperity. This might be almost called a boom were it not for the steadily progressive character of the business carried on. Not to mention the minor manufacturers which share the good times with other establishments, the larger concerns are doing a remarkably large trade.

The Canadian General Electric Company, which employs, including the carbon department, an average of about 450 hands, has since the beginning to the present year been running two-thirds time—till 10 o'clock every night, which would mean, at the usual day hours' rate, the employment of over 500 hands. No extension of the buildings has been necessary (the original buildings being of ample proportions), except a new power house for the automatic electrical fire extinguishing apparatus that has been installed.

Last year was the biggest year in the history of the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company (agricultural implements, etc.) In 1896 the number of hands employed averaged 75. This year the average staff is 106, with, of course, proportionate addition to the pay roll.

The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company has enjoyed a very substantial increase in business that demanded the placing of additional machinery, which took the place of additional hands.

The three canoe companies in the town have had a very busy year. The demand for the Klondyke trade has kept them humming. The Peterborough Canoe Company last year was compelled to increase the capacity of its buildings by about one-third, and doubled its staff of hands.

The business of the George Matthews Company, exporting pork packers, has grown very rapidly, especially the past two or three years, so much so that work is now going on to increase the capacity of their buildings to treble their present size by the addition of another story to the entire building. An artificial refrigerating plant, using compressed liquid ammonia, will add 25 per cent. to the speed of chilling meats. Three years ago the company employed 60 hands. Under the new conditions the output will be trebled, and the staff of employees increased to 120 hands.

The William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, mining and sawmill machinery, marine and stationary engines, with branch offices in Vancouver, have been compelled by the expansion of their business to enlarge their premises, the bulky character of modern machinery requiring increased floor space. The company has had plans prepared for new buildings 100 x 300 feet in area, to be equipped with a large quantity of new machinery. So brisk has been the demand for their products the past year that overtime, day and night shifts, was the rule. Even then the company was compelled to employ other establishments to assist in turning out their orders. Last year was one of the best in their history. Two years ago they employed 125 hands, which was increased last year to 200, and it is expected that the new building will employ 300 hands, or even, perhaps, 400, the full capacity of the new buildings, as the company has the past two years had all it could do. Their territory extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and the high quality of their work creates a strong demand.

Ackerman's harness factory is another establishment that has outgrown its clothes. In 1896 this factory employed 35 hands; there are now 55 hands on the pay sheet, which number will be increased when the new buildings now nearly completed, 45x100, four storeys in height, with electric power, permit of meeting the demand of the trade. More hands could have been employed this year if space had permitted. The general expansion of trade has been much contributed to by Manitoba and the Northwest Territories.

The Auburn Power Company began operations about two years ago, and while not a large employer of labour, contribute to stimulating minor manufactures, which in the aggregate employ a great number of hands. The works now have a capacity for 500 horsepower, of which the electric company takes 230 horsepower, and the power capacity can be increased easily to 1,000. When the Hamilton Company, Matthews Company and Ackerman's harness shop have completed their extensions they will it is expected employ electric power.

The Dickson Co. is expending $70,000 in improving the Dickson raceway for manufacturing purposes and in enlarging and improving the equipment of the power house of the Peterborough Light and Power Co.

Mr. G. Walter Green, pumps, windmills, etc., has during the past summer taken over the Whyte foundry and established the business there, considerably enlarged it, and employs a larger number of workmen.

The Auburn Woollen Mills Co. has since January last run day and night to keep even with its orders, and during the past year it has doubled its machinery and output.

Mr. Alfred Macdonald, Point St. Charles, town, has rebuilt and enlarged his sawmills, and is adding a box manufactory to meet the shipping demands of local industries.

THE STRANGER WITHIN OUR GATES.

FORTY YEARS OF PROTESTANT MISSION WORK IN JAPAN.

Rev. D. R. McKenzie's Interesting Address Delivered Yesterday in the Mark Street Church.

Yesterday was missionary Sunday at the Mark street church, and the pastor, Rev. J. E. Moore, Ph. B., who is wide-awake to the interests of his congregation, secured the valuable services of a returned missionary in the person of Rev. D. R. McKenzie, B. A., a graduate of Victoria University, who has spent ten years in "the Land of the Rising Sun," and speaks the language fluently.

The pastor in reading portions of the 74th annual report stated that the income of the society during the past year was $343,051.99. Of this Mark street charge raised last year $131.97. Mark street church has also a W. M. S. doing good work. The church choir rendered excellent and appropriate music during the morning and evening. Mr. H.S. and Miss R. Armstrong sang with splendid effect a duet, bearing upon missionary work. The morning subject was "The love of Christ constraineth us." In the evening he spoke on Japan, stating that as a result of the conclusion of treaties of commerce between Japan on the one hand and United States, Great Britain, France, etc., on the other, certain ports of Japan were opened for trade with other countries in the year 1859, not quite forty years ago. As the subjects of the treaty powers were allowed to reside in these ports, some of the missionary societies which had work established in China took thus opened, and sent missionaries at once to the three principal ports of Yokohama, Kobe and Nagasaki.

The opposition to Christianity and Christian missionaries was at first very strong. To find the reason of this opposition it is necessary to go back somewhat into the history of the country. About the middle of the 16th century the Jesuit Father, Francis Xavier, had come to Japan with a view to christianizing the people. At first his work met with great success—so much so that it is said there were at one time as many as a million converts to Roman Catholic christianity. But toward the end of the sixteenth and in the beginning of the seventeenth century, the foreign priests were suspected and accused of intriguing in politics, and steps were taken by the government to expel the priests and stamp out the Christian religion. In the prosecutions of those times many thousands of Christians were put to death. Thenceforth it was a crime for any subject of Japan to profess the Christian religion—the "evil doctrine," as it was called in the government edict, and no intercourse with the outside world was permitted, except with Dutch and Chinese traders. It is little wonder then, that when 200 years later Japan was again open to foreign nations, there was on the part of the people, high and low, a feeling of intense antagonism to Christian teaching and teachers. The first years of missionary work in Japan were consequently years of great danger and difficulty for the missionaries.

The first Protestant convert was baptised in 1864, after five years of hard work in the country by many missionaries. In 1866 two more were baptized, their first knowledge of and inclination towards Christianity resulting from the finding of a New Testament, which from one of Commodore Perry's ships, when he visited Japan in 1854. As a result of the first ten years of mission work in Japan, there was barely ten converts. Meantime the missionaries were studying the language and gathering about them small groups of young men desirous of learning the English language, and to whom they also taught the Scriptures.

But from about the year 1873 a change came. A commission which the Japanese Government had despatched abroad to investigate the conditions existing in civilized countries, reported on their return that if Japan wished to stand well with the civilized nations she must take a more liberal attitude toward Christianity. This recommendation had its effect, and the boards at all the principal crossings of the roads throughout the country on which was published the edict against Christianity were taken down and have never since appeared. And in the year 1889 when Japan received from the Emperor a constitution, it was found that in it there was a provision permitting every one to worship according to his own conscience. In the year 1872 the first Protestant church was organized in Japan, the result of a revival which occurred in Yokohama in the opening weeks of that year. This church still exists and is one of the strongest in Japan to-day. From this time on greater liberty was allowed to the missionaries, and a number of them went into the interior of the country as teachers in government schools, and by Christian work among the students and others laid the foundations of what are now some of our best churches. In the year 1873 Methodist Mission work in Japan was begun by the Canada Methodist church and the M. E. church of the United States. From this time up to about 1890 the work was gradually extended, though no marked progress was made. But from 1890 to 1890 a great change was seen. During that period everything foreign became fashionable, and leading men openly advocated the adoption of Christianity as the state religion in the place of

THE DISESTABLISHED BUDDHISM.

This, however, was not to be. But the progress of mission work was so rapid at this time that some prophesied that Japan would be Christianized by the end of the century. From 1885 to 1888 as many as 5,000 converts a year were added to the church. But from 1889-90 there was a reaction. So far as we can see the following were the chief causes. First, the more conservative of the people whose voices had been drowned during the previous years began to make themselves heard, and urged the people to stop in their mad rush for everything foreign and consider whether there was nothing worth keeping in the civilization which had been growing up in Japan through more than 2,000 years. This had no little effect.

Then, too, in the year 1889 the Emperor granted the people a constitutional form of government, and in 1890 the first election of representatives took place. These things so filled the minds of the people that they had, apparently, little time to give to the subject of Christianity. Another thing which operated to the prejudice of Christian work was the failure of the Christian nations to keep their promise to revise the original treaties they had made with Japan—treaties which the Japanese felt were in many respects unjust to them. All these factors combined to make the prosecution of missionary work in Japan difficult. But though so many things have militated against the progress of the work, statistics show that even during this period of trial there has been an average net increase of about 1,000 a year in the number of Protestant Christian converts.

The present indications are hopeful. What is now needed is that the various missionary societies keep their work up to the highest point of efficiency for some time to come, until they have placed the native church on such a solid foundation that they can leave it with safety in the hands of the native ministry and people.

Japan has a population of about 40,000,000. In area it is somewhat larger than Great Britain. There are over 40,000 Protestant Christians in Japan, and 700 missionaries, including the wives of the male missionaries and the ladies of the W. M. Societies. There are about 1,100 paid native agents, including ordained ministers, Bible men and Bible women.

There are 20 different organizations labouring in Japan, but these may be reduced to 12 different groups; for example the Methodist group, in which are included the Canada Methodist, the Episcopal, the M. E South, the M. Protestant and the Evangelical Association, or German Methodists. By far the greater number of converts belong to five of these groups. The following will show approximately how they are divided: Presbyterians, 11,000; Congregationalists, 10 000; Methodists, 8,000; Episcopalians, 6,000; Baptists, 2,000. The members of the Canadian Methodist church number something over 2,000.

Henry & Co.—"Right in the Swim."

The progressive merchant of to-day has to spend money to be up-to-date. Better live on a crust of bread and plain water and be as lean as a grey hound than not be "in the swim." But the man who can "bide a wee" has the battle. Messrs. Henry & Co. have said nothing as yet about their cleaned raisins and currants; but we're giving "good measure and running o'r" all the same—and our customers find our fruits as good as the best in Peterborough. Not only that, but we've just fitted up our cellar with electric light—eight lamps going all the time. We carry four car loads of ale—the bottles being taken out of their cases and placed on shelves exposed to a regular temperature of 65°. Keeps our ale in a thoroughly matured condition all the time. We are the largest importers of ales, wines and liquors, and keep qualities right to a fraction. We bestow equally as much attention on our department of family groceries, and the public run no risks in leaving their orders for the finest, cleanest groceries that can be placed upon the table. Your money back if anything turns out unsatisfactory, and a five per cent. coupon goes with all goods—which saves you just five per cent. on all your purchases. "While we live we'll grow."

PONTON AND MACKIE

Will Both Testify in Their Own Behalf at Napanee.

STATE OF PONTON'S FINANCES.

Case for the Crown Is Nearly All In—Some Interesting Facts Sworn to on Monday—Noises at Night—Sounds at Night From Ponton's Room—Evidence of Detectives.

Napanee, Ont., Nov. 29.—The Crown's case is practically closed. There are three or four witnesses to be called to-day, chief among whom will be Detective Dougherty. Nothing startling is expected to be developed. Speculation is rife as to the defence. An air of confidence pervades that side, and it is thought nothing of a damaging nature was elicited yesterday. Mrs. McGregor's evidence was along the line of her previous testimony, though, perhaps, not as full. The defence put her through a severe cross-examination, and seemed content. May Baldwin is expected to offset this witness' story.

Mackie's Defence an Alibi.

Mackie's defence will be an alibi, and is considered strong. About 25 witnesses in all will be examined, and the defence case finished by Wednesday night. Then follows the Crown in rebuttal, and the jury will get the case by Friday morning.

Mrs. Robert Mackie will be put in the box in her husband's defence. She and her children were in court yesterday.

Mrs. Ponton, mother of the prisoner, is a regular attendant in the court room, and spent her time in taking notes of the evidence.

Everyone is anxious to hear the testimony of the expert safe crackers, Gravelle and Myles.

Will Go Into the Box.

The defence will lead off to-day with the unexpected. Robert Mackie will go into the box in his own defence and, following him, W. H. Ponton will be examined by the defence.

It is promised that the witness from Belleville will pay the chief accused glowing tributes.

James Mackie, brother of Robert, and known as "The Whale," will also give evidence. He came to town last night.

The defence may be described as jubilant.

The Evidence.

There were but few in the court room yesterday morning at 9 o'clock when Crier Black began his duty. After the jurors had answered to their names, Dr. Ward was called, but could not be found.

William Young, safemaker, in the employ of Messrs. J & J. Taylor, Toronto, swore that he had been a safemaker for 21 years, and believed that he understood combination locks. The vault lock was an old style, one of three numbers, made by Sargent & Greenleaf of Rochester, N.Y. The safe lock was a modern four-wheel affair, also made by Sargent & Greenleaf, who formerly made all the locks for the Canadian trade. "If a combination won't work, you're the doctor, I believe!" said Mr. Osler. The witness assented, and explained that he had been called in, in this case, as to his modus operandi where a lock would not open. Mr. Young stated that he first tried the lock on its numbers, and if he could discover no clue to them he drilled through the face of the lock. "Unless I have a clue to the combination I consider it impossible to open the lock without a drill," he said.

In cross-examination by Mr. Porter, it was developed that Mr. Young observed circumstances in connection with the forcing of the manager's compartment in the safe which did not agree with Pare's description of what he did.

Samuel Cox, general foreman for the past 15 years of the J. & J. Taylor Safe Works, followed Mr. Young. He swore that it was impossible to open the lock without the combination on their safes, for the simple reason that until the combination was set the drop lever had no connection with the wheels of the lock. Some people had alleged that the sense of hearing could be applied to the discovery of the combination, but this, he declared, was nonsense. The number of combinations possible on a four-wheel lock was upwards of forty millions.

One of the Pinkerton detectives, George Wilkes, swore that the members of his agency worked for a fixed remuneration, and had been paid by the Dominion Bank. He arrived in Napanee on September 5, 1897. He told of the search of Ponton's rooms, and identified the paper imprint of Mr. Baines' key, which also fitted the key found under Pare's bunk in the police station. These were discovered under the newspaper lining of the bureau drawer.

Dr. George Ward testified that the Indian Hill would be injured in health by travelling, and after preliminaries the evidence taken before Magistrate Daly was read and admitted. Hill had entertained Holden and Mackie one Sunday morning in February, 1897.

Mr. W. H. Gordon was called. I am of the George Ritchie & Co., Belleville. A bill of Sept. 18, 1896, and paid on Sept. 29, 1897, for a $14 suit was presented and recognized.

Mrs. McGregor Objects.

Mrs. McGregor objected to taking the stand, and held a whispered conversation with Mr. Osler, when the Crown said: "Well, you must take the stand."

She said she lived a mile and a half from Napanee. When in Napanee she occupied a room over Ponton's first room and partly over the second. On the night of Aug. 27 she was there. Josie Haycock and her son were present. There was a register through the floor of her room and the ceiling of Ponton's. It was the size of two stovepipes. There was a barred grate over this hole, and it was covered with a home-made wool carpet. "On the night of the robbery I went to bed at 9.30 and slept till after 10, when I was awakened by a loud noise, followed by a crash. I did not get to sleep again for quite a while. After I was awakened there were footsteps in the room underneath. These followed the noise. There were sighs, a long-drawn breath and "Oh, dear me," was said several times. Then all was quiet for ten minutes. Then the footsteps went out on the landing and the noise died away. All was quiet for about five minutes. Then I heard steps again and they went into the first room, and on into the other room. There was a moving, a stirring, a walking in a hurried and quiet manner; steps go out again. I heard them on the verandah and the noise died away again. Then it might have been a quarter of an hour when I heard the steps again, and they walked through into the further room; then in two or three minutes another footstep comes; then I heard low voices; then footsteps retreat; then on the landing, and the noise dies away; there was more than one went out that time. Then the footsteps came back again in about half an hour, and there may have been two or three. They walked right through into the farther room. Moving, stirring, walking and low voices. This was kept up for half an hour. This went on till 3 o'clock in the morning. I slept after 3. After about the second time I got up. I felt the window, but found it was not broken. I know the noises were in the rooms I have indicated, because I heard the click of the lock in the door whenever the rooms were entered."

To Mr. Porter she said she had been examined before. The click of the lock was not before mentioned. The "Oh, dear me," sounded like a man's voice. Mr. Porter exposed discrepancies between Mrs. McGregor's story and that of Pare and Holden. The witness said she looked out on John street when she stood by the window.

"Mr. Joseph Haycock, jr.," testified that he was in the Grange Block the night of the robbery. Joseph had the toothache that night. He also heard noises, and "I should judge in Ponton's bedroom."

To Mr. Holman the witness said it was a common occurrence for persons to come up the passageway by Ponton's room.

Ponton's Accounts.

Clarence Bogart was called. He described his connection with the Napanee Bank after the robbery. He found on Aug. 30 that Ponton was holding his own cheque for $90 in the bank. On the night of the robbery it was $35. "On Sept. 11 I found, even after he had his salary, the cheque was still in the cash." This incident was a breach of the rules of the bank. The cheques found in Ponton's rooms were identified. They had not been put in the books of the bank. He pointed out that there was some $80 that Mr. Ponton had not accounted for. Ponton's total resources were $68.50. He paid his mother $15, A. E. Douglas $16, W. J. Normiles $30, Dalton & McKay $11, T. G. Davis $5, G. E. Mitchell & Co. $14, J. L. Boyes $9.80. Besides paying these accounts, he had $90 more. This showed that he had paid $80 more than he had really received. He gave no explanation. "If he made the payments he must have had the money," was the excuse the inspector said Ponton gave him.

To Mr. Porter the witness said Mr. Ponton was speaking from memory when he spoke about his accounts. Ponton had told the witness that he had received an injury to his eye, but had not told him he had been paid $87.20 about a year and a half before the robbery. He found no discrepancy in any of Ponton's accounts. The witness would not say he could tell all the accounts he had paid in the last month, yet he would not be surprised if a young man on a small salary would not know it.

To Mr. Holman the witness answered a number of questions, but the judge thought it was not necessary to go largely into the secrets of the bank, as the defence desired, and the cross-examination ceased.

High Constable Sills.

Edward H. Sills was the next witness. He reiterated his testimony given on a former occasion.

Detective Greer was the next. He was put in charge of the bank case by the Provincial Government. He went over much the same ground as the other detective witnesses. Nothing startling was developed.

To Mr. Porter Mr. Greer said Mr. Ponton had always told him the truth.

There was a desire on the part of the defence to recall Sidney Scott, but the Crown objected. The Crown will not close its case till to-day, when Detective Dougherty will be on the stand.

Hon. Robert Watson at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—Hon. Robert Watson, Minister of Public Works in the Manitoba Government, arrived from the west yesterday on business connected with his department. He met Mr. Tarte and Mr. Sifton. To-day he will leave for Toronto. He will also visit London before returning to Winnipeg.

FLEET WAS WIPED OUT

A Terrible Tale of the Sea Near Boston Harbor.

A VAST NUMBER OF WRECKS.

Entire Crews Lost—Vessels Totally Wrecked—Fears for the Portland—Over 70 Lives Known to Be Lost—Terrific Force of the Wind on the Ocean—Cable News.

Boston, Nov. 29.—Not until this morning when daylight offered a safe opportunity for investigation and exploration did the awful havoc wrought by the storm in Boston harbor and vicinity become apparent. The waters also prevented any attempt to recover bodies known to be in some of the wrecks, and it is probable that it will be several days before a complete list of those lost can be obtained.

Entire Crews Lost.

From schooner Abel C. Babcock, wrecked on Hull Beach, the entire crew, supposed to number nine men, were lost; names unknown. None saved from this vessel.

From schooner Samuel W. Tilton, wrecked near the Babcock, all hands lost. It is supposed that there were four men on this vessel; names unknown.

From schooner Virginia, ashore on Thompson's Island, Boston harbor, two lost, Capt. Stanley and Seaman Farmer Freeman, Jr., both of Mount Desert, Me. William B. Stanley, son of the captain, saved from the wreck.

From barge No. 4, Consolidated Coal Company, ashore at Hull Beach, entire crew supposed to number five men, lost.

From an unknown schooner, ashore at Nantasket Beach, entire crew lost. It is supposed that there were five men on this ship.

From schooner Governor Ames, in Boston harbor, Seaman Edward Proffet, washed overboard and drowned.

Vessels Totally Wrecked.

The vessels totally wrecked are as follows: Schooner Calvin F. Baker, from Philadelphia to Boston, with coal, Capt. Megathlin; schooner Abel C. Babcock, Philadelphia, for Boston, with coal, Capt. Babcock; schooner Samuel W. Tilton, laden with hard pine, and bound from a southern port for Boston; schooner Virginia, from an eastern port with wax, bound for Boston, Captain Stanley; schooners Watchman of Calais; Seraphine (British) of Parrsboro, N.S., and Fred M. Emerson of Booth Bay, Maine, all with miscellaneous cargoes, from eastern ports.

Other Wrecks and Lost Lives.

Schooner G. H. Hopkins of Boston, unloading stone at Fort Warren, sunk at the wharf. Three two-masted schooners, names unknown, ashore at Peddock's Island. Schooner Albert H. Warding of Boston, wrecked at South Boston. Three small schooners, names unknown, ashore on Moon Island. Schooner James Webster, cargo and destination unknown, ashore off South Boston. Schooner P. R. Woodside, Captain McLennan, from Norfolk for Boston, cargo of piling, ashore off Hull. Schooner Lucy Belle, from Sullivan, Maine, for Dorchester, ashore in South Cove, Boston harbor. Steamer John J. Hill of Hillsboro, N.S., from New York, ashore at Alantic. A Reading coal barge, the tow of tug Tamaqua, was ashore on Rainsford Island, but floated at high tide. Two unknown schooners, off Commonwealth docks, Boston harbor. Two unknown coal barges are ashore at the same place. A partially dismasted schooner, name unknown, ashore at Weymouth. A two-masted schooner, name unknown, ashore at Harrison-square. Wilson Line steamer Ohio, from Hull, England, for Boston, with a small miscellaneous cargo, ashore at Spectacle Island, Boston harbor. Ocean tug Tamaqua, towing coal barge from Philadelphia to Boston, ashore on Rainsford Island.

Fears for the Portland.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 29.—The management of the Portland Steamship Company announced at noon yesterday that they had no information as to the whereabouts of the steamer Portland, which left this city Saturday night for Portland. The Portland Steamship people think that possibly the Portland is among the number. The Portland had a fair-sized freight and about 25 or 30 passengers.

Have These Men Perished?

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Nov. 29.—It is believed that Captain Nelson of the schooner Island City of Rockland, Me., and his entire crew have perished. The Island City was bound from Port Liberty, N.S., for Cohasset, with a cargo of coal.

Over 70 Lives Lost.

Boston, Nov., 29.—It was definitely known last night that over 70 lives have been lost in the wrecks of tugs, schooners and coal barges in New England, and, if the steamer Portland has also gone down, as now seems possible, the work of the storm will carry the casualties up to 140, with over 100 vessels of all description ashore, two score of them total wrecks and an unknown number probably beneath the waves of Massachusetts Bay.

ON CANADIAN SHORES.

Wrecks on Nova Scotia Coast and Loss of Life Feared.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 28.—Wrecks occurred on the coast of Nova Scotia during yesterday's hurricane, and it is feared that some of them were abandoned with loss of life.

At West Point, near Digby, no less than a dozen schooners met disaster in the violent tempest. Nine of these were cast ashore, one was sunk, and the other dismantled.

The two top-mast schooner Sapphire, from Boston, lies ashore and full of water, on Bear Island, in Digby Basin.

The schooner Silver Cloud is ashore at Digby with the loss of her rudder.

The schooner Renfrew, from Louisburg, C.B., for Wine Harbor, N.S., laden with coal, ran for Canso Harbor in the storm, and struck on Hart's Island, near the lighthouse, becoming a total wreck. Her crew escaped.

At White Head a number of fishing smacks foundered at their moorings. Four large ocean steamers, unable to make Halifax harbor last night, got into port to-day.

The Halifax, from Boston, was damaged slightly, and some of her cargo was destroyed by becoming loose.

Conservative Up in Beauharnois.

Valleyfield, Que., Nov. 29.—Arthur Plante, advocate of Montreal, was chosen yesterday to contest the County of Beauharnois in the Conservative interest. Mr. J. G. Bergeron M.P., was also present.

Hon. G. E. Foster, ex-Finance Minister, spoke at a Conservative meeting in Toronto on Monday night. He gave them re-organization advice.

Almost Distracted

Dreadful Suffering by a Newmarket Woman.

The Bones in the Nose Affected—Face Would Swell Until Her Eyes Were Closed—How Relieved.

NEWMARKET, ONT.—"I have had a good opportunity of noting the great medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years, and the disease had gone so far that the bones of the nose had become affected and particles had come away through an opening in the left side. Her eyesight was also affected to the extent that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered and at times was almost distracted. She was treated by four different doctors, one of whom was a specialist. They all said they could not do anything for her, as the disease had gone too far. Her nose would swell about every three days until her eyes would almost be closed. Then it would break through and the swelling would subside for a day or two. About Christmas she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has not been troubled with any swelling since, and the sore on the side of the nose has all healed. She is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering with catarrh." W. H. FURSDEN.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any substitute. Be sure to get Hood's.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; easy to take, easy to operate. 25c.

Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1898.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Ottawa, November 26th.—Last week I sent you some interesting figures regarding the cattle export trade with the United States, showing the marvellous revival of that branch of trade which followed the removal of the quarantine regulations against Canadian cattle in February of 1897. The following, covering the six years from 1893 to 1898 inclusive, the period immediately preceding those given in my previous paragraph, will still further emphasize the effect that hostile legislation has upon trade:

Number and value of cattle exported to the United States during the years ending June 30th, 1893, to 1898. (Canadian cattle imposed in 1879 and continued until February, 1897.)

Year.	Number.	Value.
1893	40,047	$948,178
1894	37,260	466,905
1895	7,640	104,633	(1)
1896	2,763	36,975
1897	551	21,897	(2)
1898	402	11,052	(3)

(1)—United States passed McKinley Act, June 10th, 1890.
(2)—Great Britain scheduled Canadian cattle Nov. 21st, 1892.
(3)—United States quarantine against Canadian cattle, February 3rd, 1893.

The returns for the first three months of the present fiscal year show a continuance of the present increase of the past year, referred to last week, 23,136 head valued at $309,360, having been exported to the United States during July, August and September last.

THE SHIPPING TRADE BOOMING.

Already the encouragement which is being offered to the Canadian shipping trade by the improvements now in progress in Montreal harbour is bearing fruit. The Elder-Dempster Company announces the addition to its Montreal fleet of six vessels now in course of construction. These vessels will have a total tonnage of 56,000; two of them being of 12,000 tons each and four 8,000 ton each. Of the former, the Mount Royal is already off the stocks, and will be in commission when next season opens; the other five are in course of construction.

Another new steamship line, "The Canadian Steamship Company (Limited)" will commence operations next month running between Milford Haven in Wales and Paspebiac, Baie des Chaleurs. The first boat, the "Paspebiac," leaves Milford Haven December 7th, and is scheduled to arrive at Paspebiac December 15th. Other first-class vessels will follow every week and there are excellent indications of plenty of business for the new line, right from the start.

THE RAILWAYS SHOW IT TOO.

The latest traffic returns of the two great Canadian railways show that the earnings of both roads have substantially increased since the beginning of the year. From the first of January to November 14th, the C.P.R. earned $23,062,333 this year as against $21,054,341, an increase of $1,617,992. During the same period this year the G.T.R. earned $20,276,604 and last year $19,712,941, an increase of $563,753. Both railways are handling a vast amount of American grain from the West to the seaboard, the business having so increased that the G.T.R. will have sufficient to fill thirty large steamers during the last month of the year, which is a greater volume of trade in the one month than came to them during the entire season three years ago. Most of this will be American grain through the Canadian crop is now beginning to move towards the seaboard. Already over a million bushels have arrived at Owen Sound, and the Canadian Pacific Railway is running six or more loads daily from that point to Montreal. The freight business of the Grand Trunk also is exceptionally heavy and at the present time an average of twenty trains of twenty-five cars each are being despatched eastward from the central yards in Toronto daily.

IMPROVE THE SERVICE.

It is to be hoped that the remarks made by the late Governor General in speaking of the desirability of a permanent civil service will have weight in the legislative halls of the Dominion. No administration in any part of the world, in this or any other age, can claim greater administrative efficiency, purity and freedom from intrigue, than the British Government, and nothing has conduced as much towards this most desirable condition than the fact that the civil service is administered without regard to any political consideration. Public servants are appointed entirely upon their merits after a thorough examination as to their qualification for the work; and just as soon as that system is in operation in Canada, so soon will the service lose the undesirable reputation which it has to day of being a sort dumping ground for party hacks and political placemen. The reform is one which cannot be accomplished all at once, but it cannot be commenced too soon.

THE MISSIONARY'S OPINION.

The leading Baptist pulpit of Ottawa was occupied last Sunday by Rev. A. J. Vining, superintendent of Baptist missions in Manitoba, Northwest Territories and British Columbia. In the course of an address upon the home mission work of the Baptist church, he stated that the progress of the Galician immigrants in the various settlements of his jurisdiction would surprise Canada, adding that these people were rapidly acquiring the spirit of the West.

The testimony is fully borne out by the latest advices from the West, which indicate that these much maligned settlers have shown the greatest aptitude for adaptation to their new surroundings and an equal anxiety to educate their children and generally to become good citizens.

THIS IS WHAT THEY THINK.

The Regina Standard asks:—"What do people think of an immigration policy by which 2 200 Doukobortsi are imported to be fed, clothed and housed all winter at the country's expense?"

When such a policy has been adopted and put into force by the Government it will be time enough to express an opinion thereon. In the meantime people down here, in the effete East, think that the paper that would lead its readers to believe that such is the policy of the Government is marvellously reckless of its reputation, if it has one, while in its own constituency in the wild and woolly West, people think it is an excellent specimen of a wholesouled uncompromising liar.

BLUFFING THE GAME LAWS.

A Young Lawyer Trying to Jump on a Game Warden for Doing his Duty.

Deputy Game Warden Welch, of Minden, recently seized a number of deer carcases which, contrary to the game laws, were being taken through the village without the necessary coupons attached. The owners afterwards recovered the deer by forwarding the coupons. One of the hunters was quite indignant over the affair and wrote as follows to Mr. Welsh:—

STOUFFVILLE, Ont., Nov. 23rd, 1898.

John Welsh, Esq., Minden, Ont.:

DEAR SIR,—Since my return from Minden, a week ago Saturday, I have been investigating your right to seize and detain the deer belonging to my party as you did. I would now refer you to the Game Laws and to the section which distinctly states that coupons must be detached from the licenses in the presence of the shipping agent. The deer at the time of seizure were in our possession, even though we were a little in advance of our wagon, and in any case the deer were not in the care of a common carrier such as a railway or an express company, as provided for by statute. Had we broken the technical reading of the law there might have been some excuse for your action, although even then it would have been a very small piece of business when you knew perfectly well that coupons were in our possession and would have to be attached before the deer could have been shipped. If you had mentioned the matter when we were in Minden you knew the licenses would be forthcoming, but you did not do this, and in fact at least one party was at Minden, to your knowledge, without coupons attached to their deer and you did not even ask for them.

You are credited with saying you were going to make considerable money out of the Game Laws this fall, but in the present case you have struck the wrong party, and as you have exceeded your authority, if you ever had any in the matter of the Game Laws, I am instructed to see that proper compensation is made to those who were put to expense and delay through your action. Possibly our better way would be to lay the matter before Chief Game Warden Tinsley, who will not countenance any exercise of authority beyond the law, but if the expense the party was put to, about $5, is paid to either myself or Mr. Jas. Ratcliffe, reeve of Stouffville within one week from this date, we will allow the matter to drop.

Yours truly,
C. RUSSELL FITCH.

Mr. Welch replied to the communication as appended:

MINDEN, Nov. 25th, 1898.

C. R. Fitch, Esq.,

DEAR SIR,—Yours of the 23rd inst. to hand re my action in detaining deer. In reply I may say that since the occurrence Game Inspector Smith has been here to whom I referred the matter. He states that the only mistake I made was in not confiscating the deer. You were shipping the deer in passing through Minden the same as passing through any other place, and might have continued to Stouffville without going to Gelert or any other railway station. I have never made any remark about making money out of trying to have the Game Laws enforced. And I have never been mean enough to try and bluff $5 out of anyone who was trying to do his duty.

Yours truly,
JOHN WELCH.

Paine's Celery Compound

Works an Astonishing Cure in Goderich, Ont.

Mr. Beck's Doctor Was of Opinion That He Was Incurable.

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.,

Gentlemen.—I wish to offer my testimony voluntarily in praise of Paine's Celery Compound. I am a tanner by trade, and about thirteen years ago had an attack of rheumatic fever. While recovering I took cold and had a relapse which ended in inflammatory rheumatism, and was laid up for two years. My doctor said I would not live to see my thirtieth year. I was afflicted with sleeplessness, and while almost giving up in despair your Paine's Celery Compound was recommended to me for insomnia. I bought a bottle and used it, and to my surprise it gave me natural rest and sleep, and after using six bottles I was entirely cured of inflammatory rheumatism.

My wife also used your medicine for insomnia, and before using one whole bottle was entirely cured. We have been using Paine's Celery Compound for years, and would not be without it now.

CHARLES E. BECK, Goderich, Ont.

I know Mr. C. E. Beck intimately, and can vouch for what he says about Paine's Celery Compound.

A FIREMAN'S FIGHT

Against a Fierce and Subtle Foe—The Fireman Wins.

Capt. Mangan Suffered From Lumbago in Spite of Medical Treatment—Doctor Recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills—They Cured Him.

POINT ST. CHARLES, P.Q., Nov. 23—We owe a great deal to our gallant firemen.

Their work obliges them to risk and often to sacrifice their lives in the most unselfish way.

And the hardships to which they are continually subjected soon tell on them.

The frequent drenchings they undergo at big fires, bring on Rheumatism, Lumbago and other kidney troubles.

Lumbago is a common enemy of the firemen.

That is why so many gallant fire laddies are compelled to retire while still young men.

Lumbago cripples them, weakens them and unfits them for hard work.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a specific for the positive and absolute cure of Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills drive Lumbago out of the system entirely, by strengthening and stimulating the kidneys. Then the kidneys provide pure, rich blood for the nourishment of the body.

Dodd's Kidney Pills make the Kidneys filter Lumbago out of the blood. That is how and why they cure the disease so completely.

Capt. T. Mangan, of No. 9 Fire Station, this town, says:—"I suffered horrible torture from Lumbago and Kidney Troubles, till my doctor advised me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have been a member of the fire brigade for 28 years and never could get relief from these diseases till Dodd's Kidney Pills gave me it. Three boxes cured me totally."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or sent on receipt of price, by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

POINTERS ON ADVERTISING.

Almost every advertiser has his theory about the proper season for advertising. Some say that there is no use of trying to force trade when it is dull; others say that trade is good enough at certain seasons, and they only want more trade in such and such months, hence they advertise at that time only. Some regard must be paid to season without doubt, and advertising should be worded to be seasonable; but people read the papers about as much at one time as another, and if at certain periods an advertisement is not likely to be quite as productive that fact keeps competing advertisements out of the newspapers, and consequently gives the whole field to the man who does advertise at that time, thus making the dull season in truth a season of plenty. We would not recommend a druggist to advertise ice cold soda in January, nor should Arctic overshoes for the retail trade be pushed with much enterprise in June, but outside of a few articles which have their seasons, it is admitted by the most successful advertisers that the best time to advertise is all the time.—Printer's Ink.

THE GUINEA'S JINGLE

Helps the Hurt Which Spanish Honor Feels.

THE U. S. OFFER IS ACCEPTED.

A Brief Reply to the American Note, Declaring That Spain, Though in the Right, Yields to Force—Gives Up Cuba, Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines for $20,000,000.

Paris, Nov. 29.—The two commissions met in joint session at 2 o'clock yesterday, and the Spanish commission immediately announced the acceptance of the American demands.

When the members of the two commissions were seated, Senor Montero Rios, the President of the Spanish commission, immediately handed the Spanish reply to Mr. Arthur Ferguson, the Spanish interpreter attached to the United States peace commission. The answer of the Spaniards was so short that less than ten minutes were consumed in rendering it into English for the Americans. Spain's reply was as already cabled, and added that Spain had throughout the controversy had the strongest argument, and that, as between positions so diametrically opposed, the American offer of $20,000,000 was not a fair sum. Nevertheless, the reply continued, Spain desired to avoid any further effusion of blood, and further disorder, and had concluded to accept the American offer unconditionally, and thus bow to the superior power of the victor.

The secretaries were then empowered to prepare the treaty articles embodying the cession of Cuba, Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines, and the payment by the United States of $20,000,000 for submission to the meeting, which will be held on Wednesday next.

The Americans' demands include the acquisition of the whole of the Philippine and Sulu groups for $20,000,000, and it is also understood the United States will purchase the Caroline group. The question of the debt of Cuba was left unsettled. The next meeting will take place on Wednesday.

A great deal of interest was taken in the meeting. The two commissions arrived at the French Foreign Office in carriages, in the rain, almost simultaneously, and, repairing to the conference room, immediately transacted the only business before them.

ALL AGAINST IT.

The Whole European Continent Opposed to the American Gobble.

Paris, Nov. 29.—There is no denying the fact that the whole European continent will bitterly resent American acquisition of the Philippines. A high official of the French Foreign Office said yesterday: "The appearance of the Americans in eastern waters is a disturbing factor to the whole of Europe. Americans, as is well known, lack diplomatic manners, and will surely bring constant trouble to all of us."

As to the general sentiment, Mr. William Stead, who has just returned here from his tour of France, Belgium, Germany, Russia, Austria, Turkey and Italy, and who has seen the highest politicians in each country, and in some cases their rulers, said yesterday that "Outside of England, I have not met a single non-American who was not opposed to the expansion of America. Now through my whole tour of Europe have I met a European who did not receive the protestations of the genuine sincerity with which the American people entered on the war with more or less moaking incredulity."

Mr. Stead reports that the bitterest hostility of all was found at the Vatican.

Of Course They Are Pleased.

Paris, Nov. 29.—The American commissioners are naturally well pleased at the successful conclusion of their mission as to its chief point. The questions that remain are comparatively unimportant and admit of speedy settlement.

The American commissioners will hasten matters with a view to having the treaty signed within ten days or so, and of sailing for New York by Dec. 1.

A Sad Day for Spain.

Colon, Colombia, Nov. 29.—The whole Isthmus of Panama is celebrating the 87th anniversary of the declaration of its independence of Spain, made in 1811, which was followed by an incessant war against the Spanish forces until 1849, when Bolivar was named dictator, and brought about the alliance between Colombia and Guatemala that led to the former's independence in 1825. The festivities, which are on a large scale, will continue until Wednesday night.

Madrid Is Quiet.

Madrid, Nov. 29.—The city is calm. There have been no disturbances resulting from the announcement of Spain's acceptance of the American conditions. The papers, however, publish gloomy articles, sadly reminding the country that the day is one long to be remembered as marking "the closing scene of a glorious colonial history"

A Protest From Spain.

London, Nov. 29.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"The Spanish ambassador has protested to the Italian Government that the residence of Don Carlos in Venice has become a seat of revolutionary machinations against Spain. He has also protested against the sale of 20,000 rifles from the Government arsenal at Brecia to Don Carlos."

Serious Condition of the Pope.

Rome, Nov. 29.—It is rumored that the Pope yesterday had a prolonged fainting fit. Despite all denials it is known that this is not the first of these attacks, and His Holiness' physician is said to be correspondingly apprehensive.

Armenian Massacre Again.

London, Nov. 29.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Times says:

"Vague reports are in circulation here of a massacre at Van, capital of the Vilayet of the same name, in Turkish Armenia. The embassies are reticent on the subject, and the Turkish papers publish an official denial from the Vali of Van."

Tidal Wave and Earthquake.

London, Nov. 29.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"Yesterday Trieste and the district around about were flooded by a tremendous tidal wave, which did much damage to property and ships and caused the loss of many lives. There was a violent earthquake throughout the southern provinces of Austria. From various causes no fewer than 28 lives were lost."

PICQUART'S TREATMENT

Caused a Heated Discussion in the French Chamber—Guilty Parties Enjoying "Scandalous Impunity."

Paris, Nov. 29.—The Picquart case came up in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday and there were some uproarious scenes. M. Bos said that, while there had been some honesty in the Dreyfus prosecution, there had been nothing but dishonesty in the Picquart affair. An uproar followed, and when the same Deputy accused General Zurlinden of having broken his word there was more uproar.

M. Poincare, Republican, then made an impassioned speech, during the course of which he said it was not necessary to confound the army with a few imprudent men.

Col. Picquart's secret imprisonment, M. Poincare further remarked, was beyond all precedent, and there were guilty parties, he claimed, who were enjoying scandalous immunity. [Applause.]

M. Poincare, who was Minister of Public Instruction in 1893-95, created a sensation by adding: "We were attacked for the Dreyfus prosecution in 1894, but I learned of the Dreyfus affair through the newspapers."

M. Barthou, who was Minister of Public Works in 1894, here interjected: "I am ready to endorse the words of M. Poincare, which are true."

The Premier Speaks.

After another appeal from M. Millerand for a postponement of the Picquart court-martial, M. Dupuy, the Premier, declared that the Dreyfus affair "must remain purely judicial, as the only means of reaching the truth which may now be attained."

Referring to the statements of M. Poincare, M. Dupuy asked why that deputy had waited so long "before astonishing the Chamber with his revelations."

"We decline to order a postponement of the court-martial," said the Premier. "To give such an order, even if we had the right, would be to strike a blow at the principle of separation of the public powers.

"It is not within the province of Parliament or the Government to adjust the connection which may exist between the Dreyfus and Picquart cases. Our intervention would be calculated to hamper the work of the Court of Cassation. We will respect the decisions of the law. We are a Government of law, and refuse to be a Government of arbitrary measures." [Prolonged cheers.]

The order of the day, approving the statements of the Government respecting the principle of the separation of the judicial and executive powers, was then adopted by a vote of 437 to 73.

THE MAD MULLAH AGAIN.

He Has Been Successful in His First Fight Against Tribesmen.

London, Nov. 29.—Special despatches from Simla, the summer capital of British India, say the Mad Mullah has been successful in his first fight, defeating the Dir tribesmen and killing a number of them. The Nawab of Dir has sent an army against the Mullah, and the British native frontier troops are moving towards the Swat Valley, where the outbreak has occurred. The Mullah is trying to arouse a fanatical outbreak against the British.

Duke of York May Visit Canada.

London, Nov. 29.—(Toronto Globe Special.)—The London correspondent of the Birmingham Post, who has frequently shown himself possessed of excellent information, writes in connection with the talk about the extending of an invitation to the Prince of Wales to visit the United States, that the Prince is not likely to go so far afield. He adds, however, that the Duke of York is understood to have given a half promise to visit Canada next year, and that he may also cross the border.

THE HIGH COMMISSION.

Behring Sea Question Reaches an Advanced Stage of Deliberation—Deep Waterways Project.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The Behring Sea question has reached such an advanced stage in the considerations of the Anglo-American commission that a special meeting was held yesterday to hear the report of the committee which for the last ten days has been examining Canadian and American experts relative to the value of the Canadian fleet of sealers engaged in Behring Sea. The expert testimony had enabled the committee to make considerable advance toward an adjustment, although it was understood that there were some points yet to be determined by the commission. After two hours devoted to considering the report and the views of the respective sides, a recess was taken, and the members of the commission, accompanied by the ladies of the party, took the Government vessel Hist from the navy yard to Mount Vernon.

An effort will be made by persons interested in lake transportation to have the Anglo-American commission take up the project for a canal joining the Great Lakes and the Atlantic. This project has been favorably reported upon by a deep waterway commission authorized by Congress and appointed by the President. While this established the practicability of the canal, the present movement contemplates the devising by the Anglo-American commission of a plan of joint action, by which work will actually be begun.

To Deal With Newfoundland.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 29.—The American members of the joint high commission for the settlement of disputes between the United States and Canada desire, it is reported here, to arrange a fisheries treaty with Newfoundland, independent of Canada, upon the basis of the Bond-Blaine convention. Canada strongly objects to this proposal, and the fisheries difficulty bids fair to neutralize the efforts of the commission. It is believed here that Lord Herschell will urge the Imperial authorities to hearken to the case of Newfoundland should the subject of a separate convention come before the British Cabinet for decision.

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

A WEAK FEELING.

Wheat at Liverpool Was Unchanged, But at Chicago Experienced a Weak Feeling—The Latest Prices.

Monday Evening, Nov. 28.

Liverpool wheat futures were about unchanged to-day, and Paris was inclined to be easier.

Liquidation of December wheat caused a weak feeling on the Chicago Board this morning, but the market recovered on the falling off in Western and Russian shipments and the good takings for export. The close in all deliveries was about ½c per bushel above Saturday's.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 1,977,000 bushels; that of corn has decreased 973,000 bushels, and that of oats has decreased 170,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 47,120,000 bushels, against 45,292,000 bushels a week ago and 65,896,000 bushels a year ago.

Leading Wheat Markets.

Following are the closing prices to-day at important centres:

Barley unchanged, 1000 bushels selling at 49c to 51c.

Oats easier; 700 bushels sold at 32c.

Peas firm, 100 bushels selling at 67½c to 68½c.

Hay firmer, timothy selling at $8.50 to $10 per ton, and clover at $6 to $7.50.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 28.—Cattle—The offerings were 175 loads, including 20 loads of Canada stockers. There was an active demand for choice export grades and fat butcher cattle of general good quality and handy weights. Outside of the stocker and feeder trade the market was 15c higher and strong throughout the day. Although the supply of stockers was not proportionately large or even up to the offerings of previous weeks, they were dull and lower. The fact is that the demand for them on the feeding grounds is about over and in the opinion of the best-informed observers there will be more pressure to sell than desire to buy at the prices that have ruled so steadily for some time past. The prospects on stocker prices for the future are lower. Good to best smooth, fat export cattle, $5.35 to $5.50; good to best, $5 to $5.25; good to choice butcher steers, $4.75 to $5; common to good butcher bulls, $3 to $3.40; good to best fat heifers, $4 to $4.25; fair to good heifers, $3.60 to $4.10; mixed fat cows and heifers, good to choice, $3.90 to $4.10; fat cows, good to choice, $3.75 to $4; stockers, choice to extra quality, $3.90 to $4.10; common to good do., $3.25 to $3.60; feeders, good to extra, $3.80 to $4.10; common to good, $3.65 to $3.75; springers, good to extra, $35 to $45; calves, choice to extra, $7.50 to $8; good to choice, $7 to $7.50; heavy fed steer calves, good color, $4.50 to $5; common, $3 to $3.50.

Sheep and Lambs—The offerings were liberal, 82 loads. There was a good attendance of buyers and the volume of orders large enough to give considerable tone to the prices and higher basis all around. There were about 18 loads of Canada lambs, which sold from $5.35 to $5.50. There were a few sales of extra selected native lambs that exceeded the general basis of sales as quoted. Choice to extra native lambs, $5.50 to $5.65; good to choice, $5.25 to $5.50; fair to good, $5 to $5.25; sheep, choice to extra, $4.25 to $4.40; good to choice, $4 to $4.25; fair to good, $3.50 to $3.75. At the close lambs were steady, but sheep very dull and lower.

Montreal Cattle Market.

Montreal, Nov. 28.—There were about 700 head of butchers' cattle, 20 calves and 1100 sheep and lambs offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. The weather was beautiful and the butchers turned out strong, but pretty good cattle were much more plentiful than on Thursday, and brought lower prices than on that day. A number of prime Northwest cattle were sold at a little under 4¼c per lb.; prime Ontario beeves sold at about 4¼c lb.; pretty good beasts sold at from 3½c to nearly 4c per lb., and the common stock at from 2½c to 3c per lb. Calves sold at from $3 to $8 each. Shippers were paying 3¾c per lb. for good large sheep. Lambs usually sold in lots at from 4c to 4¼c per lb. Choice lambs brought 4¼c per lb. Fat hogs sold to-day at from $4.40 to $4.45 per 100 lbs., off the cars.

British Markets.

Liverpool, Nov. 28.—(12.30.)—No. 1 Cal., 6s 10d to 6s 10½d; red winter, 6s; No. 1 Northern, spring, 6s 2½d; corn, 3s 11½d; peas, 5s 9½d; pork, 50s; lard, 25s; tallow, 20s 3d; bacon, heavy, l.c., 28s 6d; light, 27s 6d; short cut, 28s 6d; cheese, white, 44s 6d; colored, 45s 6d.

Liverpool—Close—Spot wheat dull, with No. 1 Northern at 6s 2¼d; red winter futures, 6s 0⅝d for Dec. and 5s 10⅝d for March. Spot maize quiet at 3s 11¼d; futures quiet at 3s 9⅛d for Dec., 3s 7¼d for March and 3s 7⅛d for May. Flour, 19s 3d.

He had the pleasure of dining with the mess at Stanley Barracks, an experience which pleasantly reminded him of the happy days spent at the Royal Military School of Cavalry a year ago.

OBITUARY.

Demise of Matthew C. Cooper Yesterday—Funeral To-morrow at Eleven O'clock in the Morning.

The death of Matthew C. Cooper, aged 44, occurred yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital, after an illness from typhoid fever of five weeks' duration.

The deceased has lived in Peterborough for a little over four years, being in charge of the Lamp Department at the Canadian General Electric Company Works. In him the Company loses an efficient and most conscientious servant. Previous to coming to Peterborough Mr. Cooper was with the Edison Co. in Hamilton, to which point he was sent from Philadelphia by them. Altogether he was in the employ of the Edison Co'y for nineteen years.

The deceased leaves a wife and family of six children. A singular incident occurs in the fact that Mrs. Hooper had just recovered from an attack of typhoid fever when her husband was struck down by the same disease.

The funeral takes place at eleven o'clock to-morrow morning from the family residence, No. 267 Simcoe street, to St. Peter's cathedral and from there to the C. P. R. station. Interment will take place in Hamilton.

The Late Catharine Pope.

The many friends of Mr. William Pope will extend him their special sympathy on the sad recurrence of severe family affliction, represented by the death of his third daughter, Catharine, who passed away to-day, Nov. 29th, at the early age of 20 years. The deceased young lady has been ill about four months with a pulmonary affection, which progressed very rapidly towards the last. Miss Pope was born in Emilsmore, and subsequently resided with the family at Young's Point, removing to Peterborough about 7 years ago. She was a young lady of very amiable disposition and was therefore a great favourite in her late home and among her circle of associates. The circumstances are particularly sad for the afflicted father. Within the past seven years death has deprived him of a wife and four daughters, Miss Catharine the last. He will be accorded especial sympathy in his truly severe bereavement.

Funeral from the late residence, 475 Rubidge street, to St. Peter's Cathedral at 9.30 o'clock on Thursday, December 1st, and from thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

The Musical Event of the Season.

Read what an exchange says:—The Viola d'Amour solo by Herr Richard Stoelzer, was novel and charming. He is a perfect master of an instrument seldom heard in this country. Underneath the seven strings which are bowed, are seven fine metallic strings, each vibrating in unison with its mate that is sounded by the bow. The music was delightful, the effect at times being like several violas or violins playing together. Herr Stoelzer is, we believe, the only artist in this country who has mastered this difficult, but charming instrument. The Mozart Symphony Club, of New York, will appear at the Opera House Thursday evening, Dec. 1st. Seats are now on sale. Prices 50 and 75c.

THE CATTLE YARDS MATTER IS SETTLED.

MR. KENNEDY'S PROPOSITION NOT ENTERTAINED.

Messrs. McGrath's and Evan's Report Unfavourable—The Town Solicitor's Opinion—The Town as Well as the Lessee Liable in Case the Proposed Yards Should Prove a Nuisance.

At a meeting of the Committee of the whole Council last night there were present Mayor Davis, in the chair, and Messrs. Best, Robertson, White, W. H. Cobb, Hamilton, Allen, Dawson, and Langford.

Messrs. Evans and McGrath, who were present, reported the result of their visit to the stock yards in Toronto.

Mr. McGrath said that he and Mr. Evans made an endeavour to get at the bottom and went to the City Hall and met an assessor, who was not informed of the object of their visit. He stated that he invariably decreased his assessment as he approached the stockyards from all points and that there was a great depreciation of value in the vicinity of the stockyards. They visited the stockyards and found them anything but clean, but they were, so an employee told them, better than they were at other times. This employee said something forcible as to the presence of flies and unsavoury smells. A tax collector stated that they had some difficulty with the tenants in the vicinity, who were generally of a poor class. The same person stated that business men were in favour of the stock yards, and he added, "if you have a flour and feed merchant on your council board, he will be sure to be in favour of the stock yards." A real estate agent was seen and advised against purchasing property in the vicinity of the stock yards. From all that he had seen, he came home from Toronto more than ever convinced that stock yards were a nuisance.

The Mayor presented the opinion of Mr. Edwards, town solicitor, as to the position of the town in regard to liability in case the stock yards proved to be a nuisance. He stated that in case the property owners in the vicinity could show that the stock yards were a nuisance, the town, if it leased the lots for such a purpose, would be liable. The owner would be liable as well as the tenant.

Mr. Best said that in the face of the petition of 240 ratepayers against the stock yards, and in face of the opinion of the town solicitor, it was impossible to accede to Mr. Kennedy's request. We should retain these lots for the site of some manufactory.

After considerable conversational discussion, Mr. Dawson moved, seconded by Mr. W. H. White, that the council take no action in the matter of Mr. Kennedy's application for a lease of town lots for the purpose of stock yards.

The motion was carried unanimously.

AN IMPORTANT PURCHASE.

Mr. Councillor Deane Buys a Site for Elevator Buildings.

Mr. Councillor Deane finds that the great expansion of his business demands increased accommodation. With the idea of providing for this, Mr. Deane yesterday completed the purchase of the T. Beavis property on Bethune street, corner of Simcoe. This property, which extends on Simcoe street from Dr. Greer's property to Bethune street, on Simcoe, and from Simcoe to Mr. T. Bradburn's property on Bethune, contains half an acre. Part of it is occupied by a row of brick tenements, but there is ample building space left for a large elevator building, which Mr. Deane intends erecting in the spring.

The property abutting upon the Grand Trunk track on the west affords first-class shipping facilities. It is a pleasure to note the progress of our business citizens, which cannot avoid reflecting beneficially upon the town as a whole.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

GOLF.

The putting green is not in good shape for play at present, on account of the recent bad weather, but the golfers expect to be able to utilize it again in the course of a few days.

HOCKEY.

The rink for some reason was not open last night for the Hockey Club practice, and a number of players were turned away disappointed.

The members of the hockey club have already began practice and this season will in all probability see Peterborough with two very fast teams on the ice. At present the practices consist in running and in limbering up the wrist muscles by lifting the puck at the rink. The management promises ice as soon as the clerk of the weather permits. As "condition" means a great deal in any athletic sport the boys should be able to "stay with the best of them" this season.

Mr. James McCabe has been engaged as trainer and if the players only live up to his instructions he will have them as "fit as a fiddle" by the time the matches begin.

Local lovers of hockey will be delighted to learn that Lionel King is seriously considering remaining with his old love and not playing with one of the Toronto teams this winter, as was announced sometime ago. A strong effort is being made to persuade him to again figure in the forward line of the Peterboroughs.

There will be quite a competition amongst a number of players for the position of point on the senior team, Montgomery not being here this season.

Belleville will put a team in the Intermediate series of the O. H. A. this year.

The Lindsay Post says:—Mr. A. H. Beaton, hon.-secretary of the Ontario Hockey Association, has written Mr. A. L. Campbell, secretary of the Lindsay club, suggesting the formation of a district league to comprise Lindsay, Norwood, Peterborough, Millbrook, Lakefield and perhaps Port Hope, Cobourg and other clubs. The matter will be discussed by the local clubs and their decisions will be announced at the annual meeting in Toronto on Dec. 3rd. The idea is an excellent one, and would greatly aid in promoting interest and a hearty spirit of competition much to be desired.

The Campbellford Hockey Club met last Friday and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

Patron—Mr. C. L. Owen.
Patroness—Mrs. Owen.
Hon. Pres.—Chas. Jmith.
Pres.—W. S. Tyrell.
Vice-Pres.—F. J. Smith.
Sec.-Treas.—J. P. Archer.
Capt.—W. D. Rockwell.
Committee of Management—W. E. Carnahan, J. P. Archer and W. D. Rockwell.

The Cobourg Company of Canadian Garrison Artillery have organized a hockey club, to be known as the Cobourg Battery Hockey Club. The following officers have been elected:—Hon. President, Major N. F. Macnachtan; Hon. Vice-Presidents, Lieut. E. Pratt; President, Capt. E. A. Macnachtan; Vice-President, Lieut. C. Campbell; Manager, Capt. E. A. Macnachtan; Secretary, Bomb. A. McIntosh; Treasurer, Major N. F. Macnachtan; Committee of Management, Sergt. A. McCaughey, J. Davidson and D. McCallum. The club intend joining the Midland League.

An Orillia despatch says:—If nothing unforseen crops up between now and the opening of the hockey season, there is good reason for presuming that this season's Orillia hockey team will be above past averages for speed and all round general proficiency. The personnel of the team is likely to be very much changed, but in such a way as to strengthen the parts that hitherto were conspicuously weak. Orville Tait will play in his old position at point. Douglas Pace will also be on the defence. Barn, for merly of Lindsay, and last year a member of the Dominion Bank seven, in Toronto Bank League, will be another candidate for the defence division. Churchill, of lacrosse fame, is a probability, as he is now out of Barrie, living at North Bay. Dan O'Connor will again be on the ice, while it is rumoured that the Orillias will have "Bunty" Armstrong out. "Mary" Curran, a source of great strength in previous years, will be back in old his place on the forward line. Curran has quite recovered from the injury sustained in the right kneecap while in the Klondyke, and should prove a wonder again this year. Robinson, employed here in the Tudhope Carriage Company, comes here with a good reputation. "Jack" Miller, a cracking good man, will also try for a place on the Orillias. Cooke, Hoy and "Bob" Cunningham are other decidedly promising young players. Mr. C. B. James will manage the packsters this year. Prospects never appeared brighter for a successful career on the ice of Orillia hockeyists.

LACROSSE.

The Orillia lacrosse players, champions of the Canadian Lacrosse Association in both the intermediate and senior series of the season of 1898, were banquetted last night at the Daly House by the citizens of that town. Mayor Shepherd occupied the chair, and Reeve C. J. Miller the vice-chair. Among the visitors were President T. Herbert Lennox, of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, W. J. Stuart of Stouffville, Duncan and Peter McMillan and J. Burchard of Beaverton, D. A. Rose, J. D. Bailey, Fred W. Thompson, and Francis Nelson of Toronto, W. H. Bennett, M. P., of Midland, and many others interested in the National Game. The champions were presented with beautiful gold lockets by the citizens of Orillia, and with the championship banners by President Lennox. The gathering was a large one and successful in every way.

The Orillias are to be congratulated on the manner in which they surmounted every difficulty and finished the season in the best of condition, although the snow was on the ground. Unfortunately the local lacrosse players who received invitations found it impossible to attend the banquet.

Xmas Must be Coming.

The pedestrians along the west side of George street to-day could not help but wonder at the number of ale cases being slid into Henry's cellars. It really was nothing extraordinary, simply another carload of ale and porter—110 cases of Copland's ale, 90 cases of Copland's porter, and 50 kegs of Copland's ale and porter. Evidently Henry & Co. sell some ale and porter and are ready for the Xmas trade. They also to-day received 3 crates containing 400 stone jars, in which they will in future deliver all their wines and whiskeys. These jars are made of stone and VITRIFIED, and are as hard as glass. They will not absorb or waste any liquid put in them, and Henry & Co. will never take any other jars in exchange for them. Henry & Co. are in business to make money, and to please their customers, and want everything they do done in the very best and latest way known to the trade. Their fruit cleaner will be in before Dec. 1st.

CATHOLIC LITERARY ASSOCIATION ENTERTAINMENT.

A Large Attendance and an Excellent Programme Presented.

The Catholic Literary Association held its first entertainment of the fortnightly series in the Association hall Monday evening, and was greeted with a good audience.

Mr. T. J. Begley, president of the society, occupied the chair, and in a brief address referred to the work of the society during the past year and the good it had accomplished.

The programme opened with an instrumental duet, faultlessly rendered by the Misses Doris. They received an encore, but did not respond.

Mr. James Browne appeared in excellent voice in two numbers, which he rendered in admirable manner.

Miss Lottie Bell, who is at all times a favourite with Peterborough audiences, contributed two violin selections which were beautifully rendered.

Miss Jennie Riley, in her two vocal numbers, greatly pleased the audience and well deserved the reception she received.

Miss Bell, a talented young elocutionist, surprised her many friends by her excellent rendition of two humourous recitations.

Master Theobald, a rising young pianist, performed two selections in a creditable manner. The youngster has a bright future before him as a pianist.

The programme closed with a laughable sketch entitled "Fun in a Doctor's Office." Those taking part were Messrs. R. Simons, O O'Shea, B. Halpin and L. Doris.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey, who was present, was called on for an address, but on account of suffering from a severe cold he limited his remarks to congratulating the society on the success achieved during the past year. He was confident that the association would prosper the coming year, and wished the directors every success.

Miss M. McCabe and Miss N. Lewis were the accompanistes of the evening.

The next entertainment will be held on Monday, Dec. 12th.

A BIG THRESHING.

4,400 Bushels of Wheat Threshed at the Rate of six to Seven Bushels a Minute.

Mr. Wm. Eyres dropped into the EXAMINER Monday morning to give his idea of what a really big threshing consisted.

Last fall when out looking after his real estate interests in Dakota he conducted a threshing on one of his farms, when 4,400 bushels of wheat were threshed at the rate of from six to seven bushels per minute. Forty-six teams of horses and thirty men were kept busy. Three four horse teams carted the wheat away to an elevator in wagons holding 140 bushels each. The sheaves were forked from two wagons at once on to feeders running into the thresher from both sides.

A Tongue Twister.

Probably all have seen at some time or other sentences which were regular tongue twisters. Combinations of words beginning with "s" are generally the chief offenders. A few nights ago a clerical gentleman of this town, while presiding at a church entertainment, accidentally in the course of a few remarks he was making, came across an innocent-looking sentence that floored him. One of the numbers on the programme was a "Sunshine Song," which, however, the vocalist desired to change to another selection. The minister began to explain that "She shall not sing the Sunshine Song," when he immediately became hopelessly entangled with the alliteration of s's. He made a second attempt with no better success, but with a perseverance that deserved to succeed, he attacked with great deliberation the offending sentence, and informed the now audibly-smiling audience that "She will not sing the Sunshine Song," but another selection instead.

WINTER BODICES.

A Wide Range of Choice Permissible In Cut and Style.

Coat bodices, which are seen in so many of the new models of costumes and which promise to be very largely worn during the entire winter, are nevertheless by no means the only style of corsage approved by fashion. The blouse bodice, open or closed, and the little short bolero are still in high favor. Separate boleros to be worn over an ordinary bodice are often seen and are usually made of a different material, but in a harmonizing color, embroidered satin and velvet being much employed for them. By their means a simple costume may be converted into one which appears much more elaborate.

TAFFETA COSTUME.

Horizontal or bayadere stripes of all varieties are characteristic of this season's fancy woven materials. Chevron stripes of this sort are an attractive novelty and are seen in self colored and variegated goods.

Almost all blouse bodices have a blouse in front only and open over a plastron, yoke or vest of embroidered silk or other decorative fabric.

Double Marcury wings of gauze and spangles continue to be a favorite millinery decoration.

Today's illustration shows a costume of lilac taffeta, the skirt of which has a rather deep plaiting headed by a flat puff of the same goods. The bodice has a blouse front, which is fastened at the left side and opens over a guimpe of richelieu embroidery in white on lilac silk. A flat puff of lilac taffeta frames the guimpe and passes down the opening of the bodice, which is secured by a pearl buckle. The white satin belt is also closed by a pearl buckle. The hat of lilac felt is trimmed with black ostrich plumes and a bow of lilac ribbon with a pearl ornament.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at any Drug Store.

LATE DR. COCHRANE.

Brantford's "Little Minister"—Characteristics of a Good Man.

The Rev. William Cochrane, D.D., for 34 years pastor of Zion Presbyterian

LATE REV. WM. COCHRANE, D.D.

Church, Brantford, Ont., died on Monday, October 17th, after 48 hours' illness of neuralgia of the heart. Dr. Cochrane was, admittedly, the most distinguished minister of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and had been honored by his fellow clergymen with the moderatorship of the General Assembly and in being chosen to represent the Canadian church at the Pan-Presbyterian Assembly in Belfast and London, the highest gifts of the church. He was of small stature; the scales tipped for him at less than 100 pounds; but mentally, he was a giant, and his capacity for work was marvelous for so frail a body. Besides the pastoral duties demanded of him and never neglected, Dr. Cochrane was for fourteen years clerk of Paris Presbytery, for 20 years clerk of the Synod of Hamilton and London, and for a similar period convener of the Home Mission committee; was president for the last quarter of a century of the Brantford Mechanics' Institute and Public Library Board; president and chief pillar of the Brantford Young Ladies' College; a prominent figure in all local public movements for the betterment of society, and a frequent speaker at public banquets. He was one of the people, modest, dignified, serious; an orthodox Presbyterian whose broad catholicism and personal interest in the welfare of all the people of his adopted place endeared him to those of all classes and creeds. The death of no other citizen of that beautiful city would have left a vacancy so impossible to fill. Notwithstanding all these duties, he found time to write, and published the following religious works:

"The Heavenly Vision" (1873), "Christ and Christian Life" (1875), "The Church and the Commonwealth" and "Memoirs and Remains of the Rev. Peter Inglis" (1887), "Future Punishment" (1888). In 1875 Hanover College conferred the degree of doctor of divinity upon him.

Dr. Cochrane was born in Paisley, Scotland, in 1831, and from his youth as a poor clerk in a book-seller's shop in his native city, fought his way up, spending all his spare time in fitting himself for the university. While still engaged in selling books, he entered Glasgow University, going from Paisley to attend lectures at 5 a.m., and in 1855 was assisted by two admiring friends in Cincinnati, O., to enter Hanover College, Ind., from which he was graduated with the highest honors in 1857, receiving his M.A. degree. After a theological course at Princeton he was ordained in 1859 in Jersey City. In 1868 he accepted the call to Brantford. Our portrait of him is from his latest photograph.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Mr. R. Morrow Cured of Lumbago by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, Nov. 28—The vast majority of Torontonians know and esteem Mr. R. Morrow, the able and popular general agent for the Toronto Auer Light Co.

For this reason the following statement made in writing by Mr. Morrow, possesses unusual significance.

"Two years ago I was attacked by Lumbago and Urinary trouble which caused me intense suffering. I took several different remedies without any benefit. Then I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and was completely cured by them."

Lumbago is unusually prevalent this fall. All sufferers should know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for it. They never fail.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

To whiten the kitchen table spread it all over with a thin paste made of chloride of lime and hot water. Leave on all night and in the morning wash off.

Every one who ever came in contact with tar realizes how much harder it is to get it off than it was to get it on. Sturgeon oil, liberally applied, removes the sticky blackness almost immediately.

Teacups, even though carefully washed and dried, sometimes have dark stains on the bottom caused by the action of the tannin of the tea. Salt, slightly moistened, will remove this. So also will powdered whiting.

Do not load the top of your piano with books or music, or even too many photographs, as the tone is thereby deadened and a jar produces a disagreeable whizzing sound, which is injurious to the instruments and unpleasant to the musician and the listener.

Knew Their Ways.

"Ha!" exclaimed the chief of police, with proper dramatic emphasis. "A burglary! I'll send three or four policemen up at once."

"Not on your life!" returned the householder excitedly. "Don't you send more than one. That's all I am strong enough to handle."—Chicago Post.

MOURNING COSTUMES.

it is far more serviceable for gowns and wraps. No sort of figured or striped weave is allowable, but any plain woolen goods of a lusterless surface may be worn—cashmere, serge, veiling and woolen grenadine.

The style of mourning costumes is extremely simple, bands or folds being the only appropriate trimming. The hat or bonnet is also very plain, and the veil for the first period of mourning is as long as the gown and is neither plaited nor gathered.

For lighter mourning taffeta, heavy net, silk grenadines (plain) and moires which are not too definitely watered are worn, with plain silk and poplin. Velvet and cloth are not considered mourning materials. The wrap, even in winter, should properly match the gown, and mourning cloakings are made to correspond with lighter weight mourning dress goods. White house gowns may be worn during any period of mourning, but only in private.

Faille with heavy round or flat ribs, plain grosgrain or that having satin stripes, other varieties of striped silks and heavy silk or wool poplins are among the chief fashionable fabrics. Wool, cloth and poplin Scotch plaids will be much worn.

Tight skirts fitted without a fold and mounted on the waistband with no gathers are having a special success for these costumes. They are fastened by horn, silver or steel buttons, sometimes in one row and sometimes in two at the back.

A new coiffure is illustrated. The hair is waved throughout and curled in front, the mass being drawn lightly to the crown of the head, where the ends are curled and the knot is held in place by an enormous renaissance shell comb.

DEEP SEA WATER.

At One Thousand Fathoms Its Pressure Is a Ton to the Square Inch.

When marine life began to command notice, the question of the depth to which life could extend divided scientific thought into warring camps. About 1840, it was generally believed that the bathymetrica limit was about 300 fathoms, and some strange ideas were current as to the physical condition of water when under a pressure such as a depth of two miles would produce. It was thought that skeletons of drowned men, or even heavy cannon and the "wedges of gold" that popular imagination places in the sea, floated at certain levels, beneath which is water so compressed as to be impenetrable. In fact, water is almost incompressible, and the weight of a cubic inch of it at the depth of a mile is very little more than at the surface, but it was assumed that no living being could survive a pressure which at 1,000 fathoms is about a ton to the square inch.

We ourselves live under a pressure of about 15 pounds per inch, and are unaware of it. Indeed we sometimes waken on a morning when the barometer has risen, say, half an inch during the night, and consequently find ourselves sustaining an increased pressure of several tons not only without suffering, but with a positive feeling of buoyancy and good spirits. On the other hand, if the tremendous pressure under which we live be relieved as by a surgical "cup," severe injury may follow. Aeronauts suffer from this cause, and marine animals dredged from great depth often reach the surface in a most lamentable condition, with eyes protruding and viscera distended.—Dr. C. M. Blackford, Jr., in North American Review.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 96
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,500 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low ing rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

The bud is more easily blighted than the full-blown rose. A young girl is more susceptible to weakness and disease that will wreck her in a womanly way than she is after she has attained to healthy womanhood. Thousands of women have their lives wrecked by troubles of this delicate description because of their own ignorance and the prudery of their mothers.

Whenever the wandering demon of ill-health finds a ship adrift upon the sea of ignorance, he steps on board, takes the helm, and steers straight for the maelstrom of death. The young woman who has not been taught the necessity of taking care of her health in a womanly way is a ship adrift upon the sea of ignorance. Diseases that will wreck her future happiness will soon assume command. Young women who suffer from weakness and disease peculiar to their sex live under a terrible nervous tension, and if they escape death are always threatened with insanity. The whole nervous system is affected by the constant drag and drain upon the delicate and feminine organs. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the one perfect and unfailing specific for every derangement and disorder of this description. It fits a woman for wifehood and motherhood. It is the best of all known nerve tonics. It is the discovery of one of the most eminent and skillful specialists in disease of women.

"I was troubled three years with female weakness," writes Miss Ellen Otey, of Bedford City, Bedford Co., Va. "I had two physicians, but neither did me any good. I was troubled with pains in my left side all the time. When it was time for my monthly periods I thought I would die with pains in my back and stomach. I also had chills. I could not get up without fainting. Finally I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two of his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I do not have any pains at all and am in better health now than I ever was in my life."

How to preserve health and beauty are told in Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover customs and mailing only; cloth binding, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A DIPLOMATIC TRICK.

AN INCIDENT THAT PROVED THE CUNNING OF BISMARCK.

The Roundabout Manner In Which He Secured the Safe Transmission of His Official Correspondence to the Foreign Office.

Stepping to the counter, Herr von Bismarck asked a grinning young shopboy in shirt sleeves, a blue linen apron, not of maiden freshness, and blessed with a pair of large, red, greasy paws, engaged in weighing some Dutch cheese, to oblige him with a sheet of writing paper, some sealing wax and a pen to direct a letter.

On the boy producing the needful with the traditional "What else, sir?" Bismarck said: "My hands are rather cold. You had better do it for me." And he handed the boy a couple of letters wrapped in the sheet of bluish paper forming an envelope, for in those days made up envelopes were still unknown in Germany. Evidently flattered by the request of such an imposing looking client, for Herr von Bismarck's tall hat was almost touching the ceiling of the squalid little shop, the greasy handed youth took the parcel, and, having closed it skillfully with some brown sealing wax and indorsed it with the initials of the firm, he returned it to its owner to write the address.

"Sorry, my friend, to give you more trouble," said the future chancellor in his jovial way, "but I can't manage to write with my gloves on, so just address it for me." And he handed him a penciled slip with the name of Herr Fritz Piepenbrink or some such name, oil and colonial warehouseman, No. 000 Friedrichs strasse, Berlin.

"Thank you, young man; that'll do capitally," and paying for the paper, etc., with a small tip to the oily boy with the stereotyped grin, he pocketed his letter, and we left the place to continue our walk.

"I dare say you are wondering why I treat my correspondents to such greasy, evil smelling missives?" And he showed me the cheesy finger marks of the boy on both sides of the improvised envelope. "I'll tell you a secret, and teach you a useful lesson for future times. You may some day thank me for the hint," exclaimed Herr von Bismarck, laughing heartily.

"You know we are blessed here in Frankfort, as throughout all south Germany, with the Thurn and Taxis postal administration, a mine of wealth to that fortunate family, but the most wretchedly managed concern under the sun. As you may imagine, it is under the thumb of Austria, hence slow and the triumph of red tape, with a pronounced weakness for diving into other people's business and skimming, of course, the correspondence of all German and foreign envoys, accredited to the diet, with a preference for mine, the ever suspected Prussian culprit and traitor.

"They have established a regular black cabinet in the princely postoffice, where specially trained imperial and royal wiseacres peruse our prose with critical eye, transmitting copies of extracts of all 'treasonable' matter, or particularly interesting reports, to the august Ballplatz, where Gentand and after him Klindworth have established a lynx eyed system of political espionage (politisches schnuffeln) extending all over Europe, and comprising so ipso all German courts and chancelleries.

"Not being particularly anxious to gratify the morbid curiosity of our Austrian ally, I have thought it advisable to send important reports to the Berlin foreign office, as well as all my letters to the king, to Herr von Manteufel, and to my sister and some particular friends, under cover to some mercantile firm in Berlin, changing frequently and usually asking a counter jumper in a cheesemonger's or oilman's shop to address them for me—and you can easily understand that the imperial and royal sniffers (schnuffler) don't manage to guess the correspondent of the Prussian representative under a greasy, ill smelling cover, such as you have seen.

"It stands to reason that the smell of cheese or herring and the scribbling of a shopboy must deceive sharper men than the Thurn and Taxis post officials and the specially delegated Austrian postoffice clerks. The only precaution I have to take is to go to different shops in quarters of the town where I am not known and to vary the Berlin address from time to time. Thus I'm perfectly safe.

"Le tour est joue, and I snap my fingers at the Ballplatz. It is simple enough, as you have seen, yet it wouldn't do to send everything through that channel, as they would otherwise get suspicious, so I treat my Austrian friends at least once a week to some of my diplomatic prose — unimportant stuff, and occasionally something I want them to know—or to believe," and he indulged in a boisterous laugh.—Baron de Malortie in Cornhill Magazine.

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov. 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Gerrard street, east, who has been restored to vigourous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so-called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

AN EYE TO THE FUTURE.

The Widower Made Plans For His Fourth Honeymoon.

Included in the wide membership of the Pacific Union club is a middle aged man whom everybody knows simply as the Widower. He has been so fortunate as to outlive three consorts without getting tired of any of them. His many bereavements have given him a sort of professional standing in the world of sorrow, and he is rather proud of his reputation for constant mourning.

The Widower, whose grief is interesting to ladies, is never ostentatious in his sighings. On the contrary, he cultivates an air of patient resignation, beautiful to behold. A peculiarity about his case is his habit of associating the memory of each dear, departed spouse with some spot or resort about the city or the suburban towns.

He was recently showing San Francisco and its environs to a friend from New York. Over in Berkeley, he remarked, sighingly:

"Here I once walked on flowers, for my Elizabeth was with me then."

Out in the park he was careful to indicate the exact spot where poor Katharine had sketched the landscape with her right hand, while her left was clasped in his. At Sutro Heights he dropped a single tear, developed with great difficulty, as he gazed on the beach, where, not so very long ago, he sat with his arm around his sainted Caroline.

"If I ever marry again," he remarked musingly, "I think I shall bring her here."

Irish Pronunciation.

An amusing example of the Irishman's pronunciation occurs in a story told of the late Dr. Todd, the Irish archæologist, who, although a great scholar, was not above perpetrating a practical joke. The London Spectator tells the story and says:

A very learned Englishman went to Dublin to examine some manuscripts in the library of Trinity college and was of course introduced to Dr. Todd, who one day in conversation told him that there was in Trinity college a curious instance of the survival of a habit dating from the time of the Danes; that at a certain hour of the afternoon—I think 6 o'clock—a porter went the round of the college ringing a bell and calling out in a loud voice, "The Dane's in the hall," when all the students rushed from their rooms to repel the invaders. So the learned but somewhat incredulous Englishman repaired to the college at 6 o'clock, and, sure enough, what Dr. Todd had told him came to pass, which he gravely related on his return to England. The summons of course referred to the dean.

His Feelings Were Hurt.

"I used to think these mother-in-law jokes were fiction," said a young man with a fancy vest and a receding chin, "but I guess they're justifiable."

"Has yours been cruel to you?"

"Yes. I told two or three of these stories about a man's being glad to be rid of his wife's mother, and she said that if I kept on talking in that manner she'd stop paying the house rent and the coal bill and the taxes, and that she'd take her furniture to fix up a home of her own. The idea of threatening a man in that way, in cold blood!"—Washington Star.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pituul death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

Women's Worst Enemy

Some hesitate before giving an answer, but those who know best will immediately say HEADACHE.

Thousands of women live in misery day after day, and week after week, suffering untold agony from these dreadful headaches. Husbands are disheartened, children neglected, and happy homes ruined. Most women strive to bear in patience the suffering which they consider part of life without looking into the cause or searching for relief. Food cannot digest without the bile which the liver supplies and hence the necessity of keeping the liver in good working order. To cure the headaches you must cure the liver and thus remove the cause of disease.

Dr. Chase spent years of his life in perfecting a medicine which acts directly on the kidneys and liver. Thousands of grateful women have testified during the past ten years to the effectiveness of this remedy for sick headaches. Many a home has been restored to happiness as a result.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the greatest discovery of this great scientist, are put up to sell 25 doses for 25c. All dealers.

A CLEVER RUSSIAN.

He Found a Method of Beating His Persian Creditor.

In Persia, when a creditor fails to get his money in any other way, he appears in the debtor's house and sits down. Then he does not move away till the delinquent pays up. He enters the debtor's sleeping apartments, if possible, and has his meals brought in. A few years ago a Persian held an unsatisfied claim against the British government, and he presented himself before the British minister one day and camped out in his private office. The minister did not see the joke, and sent for a policeman. That made a lot of noise and trouble, and the Russian representative in Teheran evidently learned a lesson from it, for he managed a case of the same kind much differently.

The Persian who demanded money from the Russian (Count Kolomeisow) was a holy man, a dervish, and when he sat down in the Russian's anteroom to wait till the latter paid his disputed claim Count Kolomeisow knew that he could not get rid of him without much fuss and explanation. It is against the laws, or at least the custom, which is just as firm, to touch a creditor who takes this means of collecting money, so the count could not throw him out. He thought over the matter, and one morning he sent for a lot of masons. Then he ordered them to build a wall around the dervish, who was sitting in the middle of the room. The dervish watched them placidly at first, but when the wall grew and it became apparent that it would be completed soon he jumped over it, ran away and has not been seen since. They say that the count is the first man in Teheran who has beaten a creditor of this kind without recourse to the police.—New York Press.

He Could Get Them.

When he was a Harvard student, the late Sherman Hoar became famous as a maker of epigrams. One evening he had been indulging in his usual style of conversation in the rooms of Professor D., a man after his own heart, but too apt to interlard his lectures with apparently original witticisms taken, after the manner of Moliere, wherever he found them. When Hoar and a fellow student had left the academic presence, the latter enthusiastically cried: "By Jove, Sherman, how do you manage it? I wish I could remember all the bright things you said just now."

"Go to D.'s lecture tomorrow and take notes," said Hoar. "You'll get them then."—Exchange.

A Close Shave.

A circus paid a flying visit to a small country town, and the price of admission was sixpence, children under 10 years of age half price. It was Edith's tenth birthday, and her brother Tom, aged 13, took her in the afternoon to see the show. Arrived at the door, he put down ninepence and asked for two front seats.

"How old is the little girl?" asked the money taker doubtfully.

"Well," replied Master Tom, "this is her tenth birthday, but she was not born until rather late in the afternoon."

The money taker accepted the statement and handed him the tickets. But it was a close shave.—London Tit-Bits.

HEALTHY, HAPPY WOMEN.

Pain and Weakness Banished through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

It's sad to think that so many women are dragging out a miserable existence—suffering from pain, Weak Spells, Heart Palpitation, Sinking Sensations, Nervousness, Sleeplessness—who could be restored to the full enjoyment of perfect health by a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

There can be no question about the efficacy of this remedy. Thousands of Canadian women, have tested it, found it do all that is claimed for it. Here is the testimony of Mrs. Gillen, Wesley Street, Moncton, N.B., who says:

"Before taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I used to suffer untold agony from violent throbbing headaches, irregular action of the heart, together with pains or spasms in various parts of my body.

"Sometimes I felt so weak that I was unable to look after my domestic duties. However, I had to endure this worry and trouble, because all the remedies I tried failed to give me relief, until happily I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I had only been taking them a short time when I felt greatly benefited. This encouraged me to continue their use until a complete cure was effected.

"I have not been troubled with a headache since taking these pills. They increased my appetite, invigorated my entire system, and gave me back my old time strength and vigor."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills never fail to cure Palpitation, Skip Beats, Smothering Sensation, Dizzy and Faint Spells, Weakness, Nervousness, Female Troubles, etc. Sold by all druggists at 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25. T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

Take a Laxa-Liver Pill before retiring. They'll work while you sleep without a grip or gripe, and make you feel better in the morning. Sold by all druggists.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundreth doctor can unless before he prescribes for it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N.Y.

CONCERNING FURS FOR THANKSGIVING DAY.

It's the first holiday of the season with the touch of colder weather that makes Fur so necessary. Furs like horses and diamonds must be bought either with knowledge or with trust. It is well then to buy where you can buy in confidence. In this store you are surrounded with all the precautions that years of training can suggest and have a perfect guarantee in addition.

A larger assortment of the kind of Furs you want has seldom been shown—Styles are Styles of to-day.

MANUFACTURING AT HOME has given a power to the matter of putting the prices as low as they can be pushed.

We claim no miracles of merchandising. Fur is Fur, but our prices are fair and reasonable and they are LOWER than other figures we have found on equal goods.

We have made special efforts in the line of SMALLER FURS and in the good and handsome, but not high-priced Furs. A few quotations would not be out of place, but style and the "put together" should be considered with prices:—

GREY LAMB RUFFS, $2.50 to $5.00; Gauntlets, $3.50 to $6.00; Muffs, $2.50 to $8.00. An assortment of cheaper Fur Ruffs, $1.00 up; extra choice Opposum at $4.00.

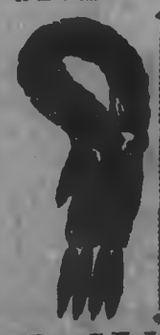
Alaska Sable Ruffs, good quality, $5, $6, $7, $8, $10; Gauntlets stand as low as $1.

Persian Lamb Gauntlets $7, $8 to $10; Seal $5 to $15.

Muffs $1, $2, $3; Sable Muffs $6, $7, $8 and $10; Bear $8 to $15.

Caperines, Jackets, Caps, etc.

We could enumerate among many other prices, but it is always best to see the Quality and Make and so we invite you in to take a look, no matter if you purchase or not, it will be pleasing we trust to us both.



In Persian Lamb and Alaska Seal Jackets and Fur-lined Cloaks we are offering very close prices and are turning out especially Nice-fitting and Stylish Garments.

THE DEFENCE OPENED

Evidence Adduced For Mackie Is to Establish an Alibi.

THEY CLAIM SUCCESSFULLY.

Mrs. Robert Mackie Says Miss French Told Untruths—A Certain Horse Deal—If Mackie Was in Hungerford Township He Could Not Have Been in Napanee —Ponton's Defence.

Napanee, Nov. 30.—The feature of yesterday was that defence case began immediately on the opening of court. Following this was the incisive cross-examination of B. B. Osler, Q.C. The alibi for Mackie is considered established by the defence, who point particularly to the evidence of Horsedealer Fanning. A pathetic scene was afforded by the evidence of Mrs. Robert Mackie and her little daughter Maud.

The Defence Begun.

When court came to order at 9 o'clock yesterday Mr. Osler said that the Crown had no further evidence to offer.

Robert Mackie's defence was then proceeded with. George M. Parrott said that during the summer of 1897 he resided on a farm east of the G.T.R. yards at Belleville. There is a log cabin on the farm, and one day in June, 1897, he saw five men in the building and held a conversation with them. He took them to be tramps, but had since recognized two of the men as Pare and Holden. The other three were much younger men. Mackie was not one of the parties.

Raymond Harmer, a young Napanee boy who resides on Centre street, east of the car tracks, had seen Pare and two other men, whom he thought were Holden and Roach, during the summer of 1897. He met Pare at Mix's well on one occasion. The witness was cutting hay along the railway track during that summer and saw the men frequently in the woods east of the track. He had never seen the prisoner Mackie until he saw him in court. He had seen two women in the woods with the men on several occasions.

Q.—Do you know Willie Mix? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you have any conversation with him after he gave evidence at the magistrate's enquiry? A.—Yes; at the Campbell House.

Q.—Who were there? A.—Ed. Jones, Fred. Frizzell, Richard Vanalstine and Fred. Wilson.

Q.—What was that conversation?

Mr. Osler objected to this, as he claimed the defence had not made a foundation.

His lordship said that the law says the witness shall not have his evidence contradicted unless his attention is called to the particular occasion.

The defence proposed to call these witnesses: Ed. Jones, F. Frizzell, Richard Vanalstine and Fred. Wilson, to show that the witness Willie Mix had made statements inconsistent with his evidence given at the magistrate's enquiry.

The evidence was treated as tendered.

Bryce Allen, sectionman on the Bay of Quinte Railroad, testified to having seen Pare and Holden and a dudish, good-looking fellow, who resembled the photo of Roach, only the picture did not do him justice, frequently during the summer of 1897. He had never seen Robert Mackie with these men.

George Seals of Richmond remembered meeting four men at different points on the Belleville road during the summer of 1897. Two of the men, Pare and Holden, he knew. Of the other two, one was a heavy, thick-set man, while the other was a clean-shaven man and lighter. He had never seen Robert Mackie until he saw him in the prisoner's dock. On one occasion he met all four men together at the Belleville crossing.

George Hall was living with Robert Caskey at Tweed last summer and remembered having seen Walter Fanning at Mr. Caskey's some time in August. Robert Mackie was with him on this occasion. Fanning purchased a horse from Mr. Caskey.

To Mr. Osler he said that he told his story to no one until he told it now in the witness box—not even to the lawyers for the defence, and he did not know how he came to be subpoenaed.

Robert Caskey, a Hungerford farmer and an ex-reeve of the township, testified to selling a house to Walter Fanning of Belleville in August, 1897. Robert Mackie was present at his place when the sale was effected.

"The Whale" in the Box.

"What is your name?" asked Mr. Wilson. "James W. Mackie, and I'm sometimes called 'the whale,'" said the witness.

James bulks up well and tips the scale in the vicinity of the 300-pound mark. He remembered taking a drive to Napanee in the winter of 1896-7. He had been out having a time with a couple of fellows whom he had met in the Dominion Hotel, Belleville, and around about evening they wanted to go to their homes in Kingston. He was ripe for anything and went and hired a rig. They drove to Napanee, stopping at Shannonville and Desoronto en route. When they got to Napanee they put the rig in the Royal Hotel shed and went around to the various hotels endeavoring to get a drink, but were unsuccessful. "The two fellows who were with me I did not know, and I have never seen them since." While he was around with Nightwatchman Perry the strangers drove out with the rig. He called after them, but they paid no attention and he returned to Belleville on the morning train.

He didn't intend going to Kingston with them anyway, as it was too cold. He had received a letter from Kingston afterwards; it was not signed and he did not possess that letter now. He had been hauled up by the liveryman for securing the rig under false pretences and his brother Bobbie was pulled up at the same time. It cost him about "$30 to settle." He didn't know anything about the robbery and had never received $11. To Mr. Porter he said that he had never seen "Billy" Ponton in the Dominion Hotel.

Mr. Osler—Could you give me the names of these two men? "No."

"You never saw them before or since?" "No."

"Then for these strangers who wished to go home to Kingston you hired a rig to go to Frankford, fourteen miles northwest of Belleville? "Yes."

"And you let these strangers who wanted to go to Kingston take off a rig for which you were responsible, without taking their names or addresses?" "Yes."

He said, further, that his brother was a sport and a speculator.

Nathaniel Easton, a hotel waiter, Belleville, testified that on the 28th of August, 1897, between the hours of 1 and 2 p.m., he had a message off the train for Robert Mackie, and that he went up to his house and delivered the message to Mackie in person.

Fred. Cero, Belleville, confirmed the former witness' story.

Dr. Dolan of Belleville administered chloroform to Robert Mackie's little girl in Dr. Dulmage's dental room on Aug. 26, 1897. He never treated Robert Mackie's frozen toes.

Knolton Sanford of Belleville again testified that he used to come up to Napanee on a freight to play cards with Holden and Pare during July, 1897. He met them in the woods west of the G. T. R. track. On several occasions there was another man in the party. He had never been in a sap house with these men.

Court adjourned for lunch.

The Afternoon Crowd.

A record jam filled the court house in the afternoon. More than half present were women.

James Davidson was called. He is a hotelkeeper at Shannonville. He knew "The Whale," who was at his place one night in January, 1897. There were two others; they were there between half-past 8 and 9. It was on Saturday. They came to have a drink. They had two or three. They said they were going to Kingston. About noon next day he thought he saw the two men come back and go to the Shannonville Station. "Robert Mackie was not one of that party."

Walter Fanning of Belleville took the stand. He dealt in horses and grain. He bought a horse from James Caskey, Aug. 27, 1897. Robert Mackie went with him to Caskey's. He called at the Dominion House at 1 o'clock and went to Caskey's and got back to Belleville at about half-past 11. Opposite the city hall, while Mackie and the witness were going home, the clock struck 12. The witness saw him go into his own house.

Mr. Osler took the witness over a large number of dates and asked him what he was doing upon them. The witness answered promptly.

To Mr. Wilson, he said that Aug. 26, 1897, he had a settlement about the syndicate.

Little Maud Mackie was then called. She spoke about having her teeth fixed by a dentist. "Mamma took me to the doctor's some time in the afternoon. Papa and mamma took me home. We got home very near tea time."

James Mackie, sr., was next. He was once proprietor of the Dominion House. His son John was proprietor in 1897, but the witness lived with him. He never saw Pare at the hotel. He thought he had seen Holden once in the hotel. He played billiards with his son Robert almost daily in the summer of 1897.

To Mr. Porter, the witness said that he knew Billy Ponton whenever he saw him. He never saw him in the Dominion Hotel.

To Mr. Osler, the witness said he was in New York in April, 1898. Holden inquired for a letter at the hotel. His son was a sport.

John A. Mackie, when sworn, said he was proprietor of the Dominion House, Belleville. He had seen Pare and Holden in the court, but did not recognize them.

"Did you have an account against Holden and Roach?"

"No. I never got $200 from them. Holden never asked me for Bobbie Mackie. He and Holden were never secreted in the hotel. It would be impossible for Robert to be away day after day without my knowing it." The witness had a bicycle, which Robert used to borrow. Robert used to relieve his brother in the bar.

To Mr. Porter, the witness said he knew Billy Ponton since he was a boy. He denied the story of Billy being pushed out of a room in which Holden, Pare and the witness were.

To Mr. Osler, the witness agreed with his former evidence. The witness said that when Pare saw him he said: "How do you do, John?"

"Oh! he knew you all right," laughed the lawyer and everyone did the same.

Wife of Prisoner Mackie.

Mrs. Robert Mackie, the wife of Prisoner Mackie, was the next witness. The question of the teeth of her daughter Maud was spoken of. Her husband was home that afternoon and night. The next day he went away with Mr. Fanning and got home late at night. She knew Margaret and Sarah French. The latter's evidence about Mrs. Mackie digging up money in the woodshed was declared to be "a positive down-right lie; she perjured herself on that."

The witness denied the story of Miss Sarah about the house being surrounded. Robert and Sarah had a quarrel. The witness did not know the cause of the quarrel. She, witness, denied the frozen toes and the cut cheek. There was always a revolver in the house. The household tools were kept in the tray of the trunk. She knew a man named Tack, who frequently called for her husband. One day Margaret French went to the door when Tack came and told Robert Mackie he was wanted. The coming and the going of the two French girls was enlarged upon.

To Mr. Osler, the witness said she could remember no occasion upon which he went to Montreal or to Rochester. Her husband very seldom told her where he was going.

"When the tools were found did you say to Margaret French that you were worried about something, that you would like to tell her, but you were afraid, that you were worried about Robbie going into a bank?"

"No; I never said that."

"Did you tell Miss French that Ponton had told your husband that any man in Belleville would be glad of the same chance he had, that Ponton had tried to learn to unlock Durrand's combination, that the plan at gagging had failed, that Bobbie and two men had tried to rob the bank by boring?"

The witness denied any such conversations.

"The stories were told in spite," said Mrs. Mackie. The witness went up to see Margaret French the day of the preliminary investigation. She interviewed her.

"'James Mackie will give you money to go away and not give evidence.' Did you say that?" asked the lawyer.

"No. I did not."

"Did you say: 'Won't it be nice to see Bobbie come home and lay all the money out on the bed?'"

"No, I never did."

The late hours her husband kept were gone into. She could not place Sept. 1 or any other night.

To Mr. Wilson, she said she went to see Miss French, to find out what Bobbie had done to her that she should tell such stories. Before standing down Mrs. Mackie said Miss French had written to her demanding money.

"Produce the letter," said Mr. Osler.

"I destroyed the letter at once," said the witness.

Mr. Porter's Witnesses.

Mr. Holman was not prepared to produce any further witnesses, and Mr. Porter called James Rooney, John A. Osborne and Casey Denison, who all testified that they had not seen Ponton pass the track, although they were there every night.

T. G. Carscallen, ex-Mayor of Napanee, swore that on the night of July 27, 1897, he was called to the Paisley House. He left at half-past 1 o'clock on the morning of the 28th. "When I left the Paisley House I crossed over to the bank, and I saw a man in the bank. He stood behind the counter pretty close to the vault door. I am positive of the date. I knew Billy Ponton. I never heard anything against him."

Willie Mullich, the engineer of the compound engine, was called. She is now No. 17. In August, 1897, there was but one compound engine on the road. She did not run on the morning of Aug. 28. "The engine was in the shop for repairs from July 26 to Sept. 3."

A. Stevens Brown was called. He lived at Galt. He recalled the night of Aug. 27, 1897. He was in Napanee at the Paisley House. He left early on the 28th. "I met Billy Ponton that night in the hotel. There were four present in the barroom. Eleven o'clock had arrived. I was about the length of a drink there with Billy Ponton. I was in the bar about 25 minutes. When I came out I saw Billy Ponton in the office. He had a pitcher in his hand. Someone was with him, whom I did not see. I did not see Ponton go out of the hotel. That was about 20 minutes to 12. I am superintendent of agencies of the London & Lancashire Life."

To Mr. Osler, the witness presented a passbook, showing that he had noted his presence in Napanee on Aug. 27, 1897.

James Harmer was another one of the townsfolk who spent their summer evenings out on their own doorsteps. He never saw Ponton or Robert Mackie pass, although he had seen two tramps, and two or three times three, on the track and in the bush. One day he saw two women with them.

Fred. M. Smith was living in Napanee. He is a clerk in the Merchants' Bank. He knew Billy Ponton since his arrival in town. He met Billy the night of the robbery in front of the Merchants' Bank. They went up to the Market square at 20 minutes to 8. There was a band concert. He saw him there. He remained there till 8.30. "I was sitting on the Merchants' Bank steps when Billy came along. I stayed there till a quarter to 9. Coates and Ponton went down the street, toward the overhead bridge."

Samuel McCoy, printer, accounted for Ponton until a quarter to 10 on the night of the robbery, and said: "It would not be possible for Mr. Ponton to have been in his room between 9.30 and 10 o'clock."

E. A. Douglas, proprietor of the Paisley House, was put in the box. He told how Mr. Ponton had taken rooms in the Grange Block. He saw Billy Ponton in the hotel the night of the robbery. He corroborated Mr. Brown's testimony. "Ponton was in the hotel between 11 and 20 minutes after. It was not unusual for Billy to take a pitcher of water."

James Davis was called at 6.07. He always spent his evenings at home, inside and outside of the house. He often walked up to the track.

'TWAS A PERILOUS TRIP.

THE NIVEN SURVEYING PARTY RETURNED MONDAY.

Their Canoe was Swamped in Lake Abitibi and a Half-Breed was Drowned—The Party Wandered Along the Shore for Three Days Without Food.

For some time past a feeling of uneasiness has prevailed at the Crown Lands Department, Toronto, owing to the non-arrival of the Niven exploring party, which should have returned from James' Bay some weeks ago. A good deal of speculation was being indulged in as to what could be delaying the party, and the officials at last began to be apprehensive that some disaster must have overtaken the explorers. All anxiety on the subject was, however, allayed by the arrival in Toronto yesterday of Surveyor Niven, who reports that the white members of the expedition have returned safe and sound to civilization.

ONE LIFE LOST.

Mr. Niven brought with him the intelligence of a disaster which occurred about half way down Lake Abitibi on the night of Saturday, 5th of November, in which a half breed lost his life. The accident was the result of the canoe colliding with a huge piece of ice, which caused the boat to fill and sink. In the canoe were Mr. Biggar, of Toronto, Mr. Neelands, of Lindsay, assistant to Mr. Niven; three Haliburton farmers, and the half breed referred to. The unfortunate halfbreed disappeared in the darkness, and was not seen again. The other members of the party swam through the icy water to the shore, which they reached in a half frozen condition. Huddling around the remains of a previous camp fire, they strove to dry themselves and restore circulation to their bodies. They had no supplies, as their food had gone down with the canoe, and so were in an almost famished state. On Monday night the unfortunate voyagers managed to reach the but of an Indian, where they obtained food and shelter. After a good rest, they proceeded on their journey, and the lake having in the meantime frozen over, were able, by occasional short cuts through the bush, to reach the Hudson Bay post at the head of the great water stretch. Mr. Niven, who had gone ahead of the others, had reached this point on Nov. 6th, but the non-arrival of his companions caused him great alarm. Fortunately on the 16th they turned up, and the homeward journey resumed.

AWAY ALL SUMMER.

The Niven survey party left Haileybury, on Temiscamingue, on 23rd of May last, to complete the survey of the boundary between Nipissing and Algoma. In 1896 the line was run north, from the north east angle of the township of Lumsden, for a distance of 120 miles. During the past summer the boundary was further surveyed for a distance of 180 miles, from the point where operations ceased two years ago to a point four miles north of Moose River, on James' Bay. Having successfully accomplished the work allotted to them, the party started on the 10th of October on the return journey by way of the Abitibi river and Abitibi lake and Lake Temiscamingue. Had the weather proved favourable the journey, which is about 425 miles, would have been accomplished in four weeks. But severe weather set in earlier than was anticipated, and the water stretches began to freeze, rendering canoeing a difficult matter at first and afterwards impossible. The consequence was that the explorers did not reach Bay de Pierre on Lake Temiscamingue, which was practically the end of their journey, until the 25th inst., or a month and fourteen days after leaving Moose Factory.

A PERILOUS JOURNEY.

The journey across Lake Abitibi was, as it turned out, a very perilous one for the second party, which included Mr. Neelands, and it was a remarkable thing that only one life was lost through the sinking of the canoe. The foot of Lake Abitibi was reached on 27th October, when it was found that the lake had frozen over, but the ice had broken up again. In consequence it was a difficult matter to navigate between the frozen masses, and as described, the attempt ended in failure. It was not until the 10th of November that Mr. Neelands and his companions were able to join Mr. Niven at the Hudson Bay post at the head of the lake. The reunited party left the post on the 15th November, and, travelling partly on the ice and partly on land, reached the head of Lake Temiscamingue on the 24th inst. From there a wagon road brought them within twenty-four hours to Bay de Pierre, where their troubles were virtually over.

ASTHMA PERMANENTLY CURED.

A Well-Known Canadian Notary Public Suffered for 26 Years—Permanently Cured by Clarke's Kola Compound.

R. D. Pitt, Esq., Kamloops, writes: "I had suffered for at least 26 years from the great oppressiveness of asthma and shortness of breath. I had during these years consulted many physicians and tried all the remedies until the doctor told me I might get temporary relief, but would always be troubled. I tried Dr. Clarke's Kola Compound, and after taking the first bottle I became greatly relieved, and three bottles have completely cured me, I can now breathe as natural as ever, and Asthma does not trouble me in the least. I would urge all suffering from this disease to try Clarke's Kola Compound, as only those who have suffered all these years as I have can appreciate what a blessing this remedy must prove to sufferers from Asthma." Three bottles of Clarke's Kola Compound are guaranteed to cure any case of Asthma. Sold by Ormond & Welsh. Price two dollars; three bottles (which may be required, for five dollars. LINES OF DEFENCE.

What Fenton's and Mackie's Friends will Attempt to Prove.

The Belleville Intelligencer, in reference to the Napanee case, says that the Crown will make a big attempt to prove that Ponton had a large amount of money which he cannot account for. They will put in evidence to the effect that within a short time after the robbery he paid the following amounts :

Instalments on I O U	$ 25 00
Toulton and Mackie, Galt	11 00
Geo Ritchie & Co. Belleville	11 07
J L Boyes, Napanee	9 50
W J Normile, Napanee	20 00
Tom Davis, Napanee	5 00
Paisley House, board bill	21 09
Sent to his mother	15 00
Cash in his pocket	24 00
	$138 39

The lines of defence will be :

1. That Holden and Pare committed the robbery, and are perjuring themselves to gain their freedom.
2. That it was possible for them to rob the bank without inside assistance, to be supported by experts.
3. An alibi for Mackie on the night of the robbery.
4. An alibi for Ponton on the occasion he is alleged to have met Pare and Holden in Belleville last spring.
5. An explanation of the noises heard by Mrs. McGregor as being caused by an alleged vagrant named May Baldwin, who swears she was in the hallway with a commercial traveller.
6. Absolute denial of the statements of direct evidence as to the guilt of the prisoners.
8. Declaration that the prisoner Ponton had funds to meet the money payments made by him.

The allegation of a conspiracy of detectives will be used only in argument, there being no evidence to support it.

R. D. Miles, of St. Paul, the mechanic and locksmith whom the defence say can open the safe in 15 minutes arrived there yesterday. Mr. Ouimet, ex warden St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, was in Napanee Saturday and will return. He will testify to the bad character of both Pare and Holden.

For this reason the following statement made in writing by Mr. Morrow, possesses unusual significance.

HAVELOCK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dodd have gone to visit friends in Windsor, Hamilton and Owen Sound, and will be absent two weeks. Mr. Lacey is relieving Mr. Dodd while on his holidays.

There was service in all the churches on the morning of Thanksgiving Day. In the evening a dinner was held in the basement of St. John's church. This was a financial success. We congratulate the ladies of that church on the excellent dinner served. The lecture at the close was highly appreciated.

The shooting match at the park and pleasure grounds, under the management of A. J. Copp & Co., on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day proved quite interesting. A large number were present and the competition was keen among the old-timers. A large number of turkeys was disposed of.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Alf. McGuire, C.P.R. brakeman ot this place, and who is now in the General Hospital in Toronto, is much improved and hope he will soon be able to resume his duties.

The services in the Methodist church last Sunday at 10.30 a.m. and 7 p.m. were conducted by Rev. J. S. Bell and were largely attended.

We are pleased to learn that Master Wilmar Code is out of danger.

THE HALTON CAMPAIGN.

Hon. John Dryden and Mr. Barber Address a Meeting at Campbellford—The Election Trials.

Campbellford, Nov. 30.—The reception which Mr. John R. Barber, the Liberal candidate for Halton, received here last night at the public meeting held in his interest was a most gratifying one in point of attendance and enthusiasm, and was an assurance on the part of the voters of this constituency of their determination to send him again to Toronto as their representative in the Local Legislature. Mr. Barber arrived here at 7 o'clock in company with Hon. John Dryden, the Minister of Agriculture, and Mr. J. D. McGregor, at one time a leading Patron and a candidate of that party in 1898. Both Mr. Dryden and Mr. McGregor made telling addresses during the evening. The meeting was held in the Town Hall, which was crowded to the doors. A number of ladies graced the occasion with their presence.

The Political Protestants.

Toronto, Nov. 30.—Thomas Ryan of Mount Forest, on behalf of the Conservatives of East Wellington, yesterday filed at Osgoode Hall the threatened petition against the return of Hon. J. M. Gibson.

The East Elgin case at St. Thomas was resumed yesterday by continuing the investigation of charge 26, which said William Luton was an agent of Mr. Brower, the Conservative candidate, who was elected. It was claimed Luton had bribed William Follick to vote for Brower. Luton gave evidence denying all charges. After arguments by counsel decision was reserved, and the court adjourned.

STILL ON THE SEALS.

Progress of the Commission at Washington on Tuesday.

M'KINLEY FOR RECIPROCITY.

After the Commission Is Through With the Sealing Industry It Will Tackle the Reciprocity Problem—Sir James Winter Makes Denial—The Commission Dined by Mr. Kasson.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The Anglo-American commission had expected to resume the consideration of the reciprocity discussion yesterday, but, as the Behring Sea question had not been disposed of, the consideration of that branch of the work was continued. While considerable progress has been made, a final agreement on the sealing question is not yet assured. Besides the present valuation of the Canadian sealing fleet, it is said that the relinquishment of the right of sealing is another factor which the Canadians consider quite as important as the value of the present fleet. Questions relating to the Great Lakes were taken up by a special committee during the afternoon. These include controversies over the number of warships which are to be maintained or built on the lakes, fishing rights, navigation and wrecking privileges, and various questions arising out of the treaty of 1817. This branch of the work was partially considered at Quebec, and was taken up yesterday for the first time since the commission met here.

McKinley Is for Reciprocity.

Not a little difficulty is being experienced by the President and his friends in securing the adhesion of prominent Republican Senators to a reasonable reciprocity schedule, but the belief is confidently expressed by those behind the scenes that success will finally crown the President's efforts. It is by no means an easy task to induce legislators who 18 months ago erected a high tariff wall against Canadian products to take part in a movement to pull it down again, but President McKinley can accomplish it if any man in the United States can. To foreign powers the failure of the present negotiations would look like an abandonment of the Anglo-American entente, and the Republican Senators who take an attitude such as must inevitably lead to a break-down need not look for much favor at the hands of President McKinley.

Sir James Winter's Denial.

Sir James Winter, Premier of Newfoundland, who is here as a member of the commission, says that all reports to the effect that Newfoundland is acting directly with the United States and independent of Canada on the fisheries question are unwarranted. This statement was brought on by published despatches from St. John's, Nfld., stating that Newfoundland was about to make her own treaty with the United States, and that this met with such protest from the Canadian members of the commission that the success of the entire work was endangered. Both the Canadian and Newfoundland members declare that no such condition has arisen, and that there is the fullest co-operation between them in the work now going on.

Dined by Mr. Kasson.

Hon. John A. Kasson, special reciprocity commissioner of the United States, last night entertained at dinner the British-American joint high commission, now in session here. The affair took place in the banquet room of the Metropolitan Club, where covers were laid for 26. Toasts to the President, the Queen and the Emperor of Russia were drunk standing. The response to the toasts to the Queen was made by the British ambassador, and that to the Emperor of Russia by the Russian ambassador. Other toasts were responded to as follows: "The Dominion of Canada," Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Premier; "International Justice—The Best Guaranty of International Peace," by Lord Herschell; "The Army—The Instrument of Justice," by General Miles; "The Navy—The Instrument of Civilization," by Rear-Admiral Schley.

UNCLE SAM IS STILL HUNGRY.

The Americans Want to Buy Strong Island of the Caroline Group.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 30.—The Government has been officially advised of the successful termination of the peace negotiations with Spain. Before returning to the United States the American commissioners will secure from the Spanish representatives, if possible, a proposition for the sale to the United States of Strong Island, one of the Caroline group, some distance east and south of Luzon, for a cable station. Should Spain, however, decline to sell the island for a reasonable sum, no pressure will be brought to bear to induce Spain to part with it.

A large part of the time at yesterday's Cabinet meeting was consumed in the discussion of new customs tariff, which is to be put into operation in all parts of Cuba as soon as the United States has formal possession.

Trouble in the Philippines.

Manila, Nov. 30.—It is reported that a section of the insurgents, called the guards of honor, who are opposed to Aguinaldo, have captured San Ignacio, in the Province of Pangasinan, Island of Luzon, at the instance of the Spanish priests.

INSOMNIA.

SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE RESTORES REST AND HEALTH.

If the digestive organs refuse to do their work, indigestion and dyspepsia follow like lightning's flash—the nerves are shattered and then insomnia runs riot, and the patient is on the road to the mad-house or insane asylum. A well known Toronto newspaper man was a victim of nervous prostration and insomnia through overwork—retiring at night was more of a dread than a welcome to rest—prejudiced against medicines and remedies, he spurned the thought of resorting to what he called nostrums—he became almost incapacitated for work—he was recommended to try South American Nervine, procured a bottle and when half of it had been taken, he found himself improving—sleep was induced, the nerves grew quieter, the appetite returned—he continued to take the remedy until he had used six bottles, and at the end of that time the twenty pounds he had lost in worry and for want of rest was put on again—to-day he says, "I feel strong enough to do two days' work in one."

South American Nervine is without a peer in the cure of nervousness, indigestion and insomnia. A few doses will convince the most sceptical. It gives immediate relief and effects a cure in every case. Strong as this statement may seem it is absolutely true.

South American Rheumatic Cure is never baffled—relieves in six hours and cures after years of agony have been suffered.

South American Kidney Cure cures Bright's disease, diabetes and bladder troubles. A few doses will convince. 11

As Sure as Taxes.

A good article has many imitators. This is the way with Crescent Brand of currants and raisins. All consumers and competent judges say they are the best they ever used, but some competitors with a great lack of business principle and honour tell you the Crescent brand is inferior to their own, in order to pawn off what they have. The Crescent Brand of raisins and currants stands on its own merits, and we compare it with none, as the fruit is the finest to be procured, and when cleaned by E. F. Mason's new process are unsurpassed. Crescent Brand same price as uncleaned fruit.

Now comes the test, who will judge of the cleanest and finest fruit offered in town, and the most for your money:
No. 1 cleaned raisins—8c. per pound, or 3½ pounds for 25c.
No. 2 cleaned raisins—7c. per pound, or 4 pounds for 25c.

CONCLUSION OF THE McWILLIAMS—DAVIDSON CASE.

Charges Withdrawn and Charges Referred—The Last Case on the List Now Being Heard—The Judgments Given.

Dover vs. Kennedy.—In this case the late John Burnham was acting as agent, etc., for Stephen Wood, now deceased, and on a sum of money being loaned Dawson Kennedy on certain lots by the said Wood. Burnham, as agent, is alleged by Kennedy to have received certain payments at different times until the mortgage was paid off and the title deeds returned. The plaintiffs in this case are Annette Dover, Henry Deane and Thos. Carruthers. They claim that the mortgage is still in force as a formal discharge of the same was never registered.

The circumstance that gave rise to this and the following case aroused considerable interest on the part of the public and of parties more or less directly concerned. In this case Mr. Dawson Kennedy testified that the late Stephen Wood had informed him (the witness) that the late John Burnham had been appointed one of his executors and would manage his estate after his death. He also told Mr. Kennedy to make all payments in connection with the mortgage to Mr. Burnham in the future as he had done in the past. Dawson Kennedy conveyed the land subject to the mortgage to his son, Mr. H. P. Kennedy, and told him that Mr. Wood had instructed him to make payments to John Burnham. H. P. Kennedy in his evidence stated that he went to John Burnham because he knew he was one of the executors of the Stephen Wood estate and because his father had told him that he was instructed to make all payments to Mr. Burnham. H. P. Kennedy paid the late John Burnham $3,000, together with interest due upon the mortgage, and got a receipt in full, endorsed upon the mortgage. The defendant also produced evidence to show that John Burnham and Henry Deane were in the habit of signing their names as executors of the Stephen Wood Estate down to the time of the death of John Burnham.

The evidence presented for the Wood Estate was purely formal. It was shown in evidence that the debts of the late Stephen Wood were paid in 1892, shortly after his death, and that the executors had passed their accounts in the Surrogate Court and ceased to hold the property as executors, and it was argued that a payment, if made to an executor during the time that he was acting in that capacity was sufficient to bind the estate; but that when the estate had become vested in trustees the payment must be made to the whole body of the trust in order to bind the estate.

The Chancellor gave judgment at the conclusion of the evidence to the effect that the executors, John Burnham, Henry Deane and Thomas Carruthers were acting in that capacity when Kennedy's payment was made, and that the money having come into the hands of one of the executors, the payment was valid and binding as against the estate. He dismissed the action against the defendant with costs, and directed that a discharge of the mortgage should be procured.

Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson, and Geo. Watson, Q.C., for plaintiffs; Roger & Bennett, and G. F. Shepley, Q.C., for defendant.

GRAYSTOCK VS. BARNHART.

The plaintiff in this case seeks to recover $600, the amount loaned on mortgage on the foreclosure of said mortgage. The defendant claims that the mortgage has been paid off through the late John Burnham, who held the title deeds and duly delivered them to defendant, when receiving the last payment.

This case turned upon the point as to the time when a certain change in the mortgage, which appeared on its face, was made. The mortgage in the first instance was made by Norman and Caroline Barnhart to John Burnham. Subsequently the name "John Burnham" was struck out and the name "Mark Graystock" was substituted therefor. This alteration was properly initialled by John Barnham, who also signed, as one of the witnesses, the mortgage, but it was not initialled by Florence Davidson, who was the first witness, and who in her evidence swore that John Burnham had not signed as witness while she was present. The mortgage in its altered condition was registered and delivered to Mark Graystock. Owing to the death of John Burnham the plaintiffs were unable to prove when the alteration was made, and judgment was given dismissing the case with costs, the judge holding that the character and circumstances of the alteration were of a sufficiently suspicious nature to throw the onus upon the plaintiff of proving that it had been made before signing, which he held their evidence failed to do.

Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson, and G. F. Shepley, Q.C., for plaintiff; Roger & Bennett, and Geo. Watson, Q.C., for defendant.

Hall vs. Hall—The plaintiffs in this case are Robt. Hall, J. J. Lundy and F. L. Robinson, and they seek to set aside a transfer of property made by Robt. Hall to Adam Hall.

The defendant claims that the plaintiff, Robt. Hall, is indebted to him to the amount of $20,717.40, and that the transfer was legal.

Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson for plaintiff; Stratton & Hall for defendant.

Reference for judgment.

M'WILLIAMS VS. DAVIDSON.

The next case called was that of McWilliams vs. Davidson, J. B. McWilliams the plaintiff in this case seeks to recover the amount of $985.08 from Hugh Davidson, being amount due plaintiff from the estate of the late Hugh Davidson, father of the defendant, for board at the rate of $4 per week for five months in each year from the year 1890. Plaintiff in his statement of claim states that he holds an agreement drawn up with the late Hugh Davidson, whereby the latter agreed to pay board at this rate, provided a sufficient amount was not left plaintiff's wife by his will to cover the said sum. On the will being probated, it was found that plaintiff's wife was not bequeathed any amount, hence the action. The defendant claims that the said agreement was secured through the great influence possessed by the plaintiff over the deceased, and that it was signed by the deceased without knowing what it was. Defendant asks for the agreement to be set aside.

A. P. Poussette, Q.C., and Geo. Watson, Q.C., for plaintiff; Stratton & Hall and E. F. B. Johnston, Q.C., for defendant.

J. B. McWilliams, Crown Timber agent, deposed that his wife was a daughter of the late Hugh Davidson, of Smith, who died about two years ago, and a half sister of defendant, who was sole acting executor of the late Hugh Davidson. The witness had been appointed an executor, but did not act. The second wife of Mr. Davidson died in 1879, and he was practically left alone at home. After that the late Mr. Davidson resided with witness at times each year. A statement was filed setting forth the number of weeks the late Mr. Davidson had been maintained by witness. The total amount for maintenance was $2,395.08, which was offset by a note of $1,000, with interest of $410, making a total offset of $1,410, leaving a balance of $985.08. An agreement between witness and the late Hugh Davidson made Jan. 2nd, 1891, was produced. The agreement was discussed some two weeks before it was executed. The witness needed money to complete a timber limit transaction. Mr. Davidson spoke of his intention to provide for witness' wife in his will to the extent of $3,000. Witness had replied that it might be a similar case to that of his brother William John, who had been influenced in the disposition of his property. Witness suggested an agreement by which the late Hugh Davidson was to pay for his board with witness in case the will should not be in accord with his promise. The agreement was drawn by witness on Christmas day. He went to his solicitor, Mr. W. A. Stratton, and as he was not in, witness himself drew the agreement, and submitted it to his solicitor, who suggested two changes, which were made made in the draft copy, and carried out in the engrossed copy, which was made by witness before the close of the year. Mr. Hugh Davidson, on Jan. 2nd, brought the $1,000 to witness' office. There were present in Mr. Ludgate's office, Mr. Ludgate, two gentlemen named Crowe and witness. Mr. Davidson was taken into witness' private office, when he read the agreement to Mr. Davidson. He had previously read the draft to Mr. Davidson at witness' own house some time before New Year's day. Mr. Davidson said the draft was according to the previous conversation on the subject. This was after the draft had been submitted to Mr. Stratton. Mr. Davidson was 77 years of age at the time. Miss Etta Davidson agreed to copy the agreement with the typewriter, but she did not do it on the date mentioned, but came to the office from the train on June 2nd. Mr. Ludgate came into the private office, and offered to read the agreement to Mr. Davidson who said it was not necessary as "John had read it." Mr. Davidson signed the agreement first. When Miss Harper came in witness asked her to make a copy, but Mr. Davidson said it was not necessary. The agreement had since been in the possession of witness. It had got damp before he removed into his new office and was somewhat injured. Witness had cut off the top of the document in order to give it a new fold to prevent further injury. The next time Mr. Davidson referred to the agreement was when the first payment of interest was made, and Mr. Davidson asked if it was necessary to endorse the payment on the agreement. The will of the late Hugh Davidson as probated, made no provision for witness' wife. The will was made Sept. 9th, 1896, and he died on the 9th of October. Mr. Davidson was with witness only seven weeks in 1896. Mr. Davidson never spoke to witness about his will after the agreement, though witness saw him shortly before his death. Witness gave notice of his claim on October 25th, 1897.

To Mr. Johnston—Witness was familiar with accounts, and had drawn documents. Had books of private accounts in his office. Made entries of the dates of the number of weeks of board in the case of Hugh Davidson. The entries were made on a slip of pasted in front of the book, and at the end of the year the entries were transferred to another book. The slip was destroyed in 1894 or '95, and also the book, because the drawers of a new desk were too short for the book, and a new one was put into use. He destroyed the old book for this reason—and because it contained outlawed accounts that annoyed him. He had not the draft copy of the agreement; he could not find it; he may have had it in 1897. He identified Mr. Davidson's signature to the agreement. There was no agreement regarding board prior to '91. There were no other changes in the draft agreement than those mentioned. Witness got his stationery and printing in 1891 from the EXAMINER Office. He also got some from the Crown Lands Department. Previous to that he got stationery from a Mr. Thompson. Mr. Ludgate got $3 a day when in the office and $5 when employed on special work. Diaries were kept in the Crown Timber office—which had been sent to the Department. Mr. Davidson was a close man in money matters. He lived with witness eleven years without anything being said about payment for board till the agreement. Mr. Davidson came to witness' house generally on Thanksgiving Day. The entry on the slip would be made when Mr. Davidson would leave to return to the farm in the spring. The entries were made every year in the first book as well as the second. Witness' got stationery from the Peterborough Bookstore, A. L. Davis and Lee & Thompson. The accounts for these were in the Crown Lands Department. The agreement was signed in Mr. Ludgate's presence. Had only seen Mr. Davidson's signature in 1875 and that to the agreement.

Signatures of Mr. Davidson produced. Witness admitted that there was a difference between the signature to the agreement and a signature made sixteen years ago. It would not be true if it were stated that Mr. Davidson had attended his own church, nine miles distant, regularly. Witness did not go to the son's residence to bring Mr. Davidson to witness' place for Christmas, 1896. The agreement was signed in the forenoon. Mr. Davidson brought the money to his office because witness did not wish any of his family to witness the agreement.

The court adjourned an hour for luncheon.

Re-examined by Mr. Watson, Mr. McWilliams explained the cutting off of the margin of the document. The seals on the agreement were put on by witness. The witness explained that deceased Hugh Davidson was sometimes driven by his son to Lakefield to attend church. This was not a frequent occurrence. Miss Harper left $80 with witness on Jan. 2nd, though it was not entered till Jan. 3rd. The cash got from Mr. Davidson was deposited in the bank in June 2nd, 1891. The deposit slip produced by Mr. McHarrie, manager of the Bank of Commerce, was identified by witness as being in his handwriting.

Theodore Ludgate, sworn, deposed that he was in the Crown Timber office in 1891, and was for several years previous. He left his employment about four years ago, and was now managing a lumbering business on the Pacific Coast, and was present for this trial. Had seen Mr. Hugh Davidson in the office and at Mr. McWilliam's house. In 1890 he would be in the office about four months of the year. Shown the agreement Mr. Ludgate admitted his signature as witness. He saw the principals sign the paper in Mr. McWilliams' private office. Mr. McWilliams called him. He did not recollect any other persons being present in the outer office, Mr. Davidson and Mr. McWilliams were in the office a little time before he was called in. Mr. McWilliams handed witness a paper to read, but Mr. Davidson said it was not necessary. Both Mr. McWilliams and Mr. Davidson signed the document, and he swore to seeing both parties sign the document—was sure because his signature was there as witness. Did not see the seals attached. It was about the noon hour. Don't recollect seeing Miss Harper or the Messrs. Crowe there at the time. The affidavit of execution was made in the view of the postponement of this trial. Witness was then in Michigan. Heard reading or speaking in the private office, but could not tell what was said. Had no recollection of seeing Mr. Davidson write before. Mr. Davidson took a good deal of time to write his signature. He appeared to be a man competent to understand and transact business. Mr. Davidson's hearing was good for a man of his years. Pens produced and witness identified them as used by Mr. McWilliams for years. Those large holders were used by Mr. McWilliams on account of the sinews of his hand having been cut. If the diary spoken of said that witness was elsewhere than stated in the affidavit he would adhere to the affidavit and could give reasons. His diary was not entered very regularly. He could not fix the date of the loss of his diary. He had not seen it since. He had to make up his diary for the Department largely from recollection.

To Mr. Johnston—The entry in the diary showed that he went to Tweed on the 1st of Jan., 1892, and Flinton on the 2nd of Jan. He had witnessed Mr. McWilliams' signature but had no distinct recollection It was quite possible to go to Tweed or Flinton and be in Peterborough the same day.

Mr. Wm. Irwin was called as a witness, but before he was sworn, Mr. E. F. B. Johnston for the defence had a short conference with the Judge and the opposing counsel and solicitors, with the result that proceedings were stayed on the following conditions:

The defendant withdraws all charges of wrong doing by Mr. McWilliams in respect of obtaining the agreement in question. The only question left being to determine the amount due to Mr. McWilliams for the maintenance of the late Hugh Davidson, and for that purpose the accounts in the case are referred to the Master in Chancery.

YOUNG MEN'S GUILD CONCERT.

Held in St. Andrew's Church Last Evening—A Pleasing Programme Presented.

St. Andrew's church hall was well filled with a delighted audience last night.

The piano selections rendered by Mr. Charles J. Rogers and Miss Grant were excellent. Miss Falconer in her Scotch selections pleased everybody. Miss Clara Belleghem sang very sweetly "Adieu, Marie," which was warmly encored. Mrs. Martin's expression in "Good Bye, Sweet Day," and "Thy Will be Done," was of a very high order and was much appreciated, while Mr. James Browne in an effective manner rendered "'Neath thy Lattice,' and was never heard to better advantage than in the masterly way in which he sang "In the Shadow of the Pines."

The literary part of the programme was choice and very enjoyable.

Master Holden Blackwell in "A Boy is Not Afraid," was good, but in the recital of the "Taking of Khartoum," aroused a spirit of interest and patriotism throughout the house and showed much care had been taken in its preparation and revealed the fact that Master Holden Blackwell is possessed of more than ordinary ability as a young elocutionist. Miss Aggie Patterson was at home on the platform, and in a very efficient manner told the story of the "Newsboy's Debt," the rendition of which brought tears to many eyes, while her encore, "What is an anthem ?" convulsed the audience with laughter.

Miss Ella Mathieson with a very deliberate and self-possessed style recited a capital number and elicited from those present just recognition. The selection was entitled "Pierres Fortune."

Mr. F. W. Walden and Miss Grant accompanied the singers.

At the conclusion of the programme Dr. R. W. Bell and Mr. A. McFarlane moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Young Men's Guild for the delightful entertainment, and also to all who had so kindly taken part in the programme. This was carried by the audience rising en masse.

A second motion was enthusiastically applauded, expressing the good will to the chairman, the pastor of St. Andrew's, who has just returned from a few weeks' rest.

The meeting closed with singing Auld Lang Syne, God Save the Queen and the benediction.

MORE PILLOW SHAMS.

Another lot of Swiss Embroidered Pillow Shams just received, suitable for Xmas Presents, at MISS MELVILLE'S, Hunter Street.

A PLEASANT EVENING

Spent With the Members of All Saints Girls' Guild.

The members of the Girls' Guild, of All Saints, are to be congratulated upon the very great success which attended the sale and entertainment held under their auspices yesterday afternoon and last evening in the basement of the church.

The sale was conducted during the afternoon, when quite a large number of useful and pretty articles of ladies' work were disposed of. The sale was continued in the evening during an intermission in the programme, which had been prepared for the occasion.

Rev. W. L. Armitage took the chair at eight o'clock and after a brief, but very cordial welcome to those present, called upon Miss Bullen and Miss Brown for an instrumental duet—the first number on the programme — which was very brightly rendered. Mr. Herb. Morphet's well-sung solo, "The Pedlar," called for an instantaneous encore, to which he responded by singing that popular ditty "Mamie Riley." An instrumental duet by Miss Pearl Lundy and MissEdna Ackerman, introduced two very clever young pianists to an audience which fully appreciated their really praiseworthy performance. Little Bessie Strong's conversation with her dolly was very nicely done, and evoked much amusement.

A most pleasing number on the programme was the singing of "Speed Away" by a trio composed of Mr. Alf. Kingscote, Rev. W. L. Armitage and Mr. D. H. Barritt. "Bow-Wow," one of Mr. A. E. Mosley's clever compositions, was given as an encore. A very brilliantly executed instrumental duet by Miss Bertha Kennedy and Miss Winnie Dobbin was greatly enjoyed.

Master Holden Blackwell, as usual, captivated the audience. He was down for two numbers on the programme, but this meant four, before he was allowed to go. As an encore he recited "Seein' things at night," which is certainly one of the best numbers in the selections which he chooses from. Miss Dolly Comstock's piano solo evidenced a great deal of taste. She was followed by Mr. Morphet, who gave a fine rendering of the selection, "Because I Love you, Dear." Miss Brown's violin solo was a clever piece of work and showed a great deal of care and precision.

The programme was brought to a close by the rendition of "Stars of Summer Night," by Messrs. Alf. Kingscote, Rev. W. L. Armitage and D. H. Barritt.

Refreshments were served during the evening by the ladies.

Mr. W. A. Shaw kindly loaned the management a Newcombe piano for the occasion.

Xmas Must be Coming.

The pedestrians along the west side of George street to-day could not help but wonder at the number of ale cases being slid into Henry's cellars. It really was nothing extraordinary, simply another carload of ale and porter—110 cases of Copland's ale, 90 cases of Copland's porter, and 50 kegs of Copland's ale and porter. Evidently Henry & Co. sell some ale and porter and are ready for the Xmas trade. They also to-day received 3 crates containing 400 stone jars, in which they will in future deliver all their wines and whiskeys. These jars are made of stone and VITRIFIED, and are as hard as glass. They will not absorb or waste any liquid put in them, and Henry & Co. will never take any other jars in exchange for them. Henry & Co. are in business to make money, and to please their customers, and want everything they do done in the very best and latest way known to the trade. Their fruit cleaner will be in before Dec. 1st.

OUTRAGEOUS VANDALISM.

An Historic Landmark Destroyed—The Oldest House in Ontario Burned to the Ground.

At Hatterick's Point, on the northern shores of Rice Lake, just east of the mouth of the river, was situated an old frame residence, built over one hundred years ago by the late Major Anderson, one of the pioneer settlers of the district. The building had an unusual historic interest, as it was regarded as one of the oldest dwelling houses in the province. The timbers of the house were framed in Kingston, and were of the substantial character that marked the early structures of the country. The door sills and also the window sills and the stones of the fireplace were also hewn in Kingston. The lumber for the building was whipsawed in the vicinity and the saw pit near at hand can be still seen a little north of the picturesque ruin, which was regarded with so much veneration that several gentlemen interested in archæological remains were negotiating for the purchase of the old house from the Hatterick estate with a view to its restoration.

But on Thanksgiving Day two vandals were seen coming from the old house, and embarking in a boat on the lake. Shortly after flames, that must have been maliciously started, broke out, and the venerable and historic building was burned to the ground.

There is no limit to the indignation that is felt over this act of malicious vandalism. It is not known which direction the two wretches who left the building and embarked on the lake took. If they are discovered the most severe and exemplary punishment should be visited upon them for their inexpressibly outrageous act of vandalism.

COLORS AND FABRICS.

Materials and Tints Which Obtain the Fashionable Preference.

Bordeaux red, Spanish tobacco, French blue, emerald green and lavender blue are among the season's colors. Some of the deep, winy reds are particularly attractive when made into costumes where black also appears.

Among fancy weaves in woolen goods white spots embroidered in silk on medium or dark grounds of the fashionable tones are a novelty. There are also broken stripes, in which several colors appear, and there are a vast number of plaids. In silks the plaids are really beautiful, there are such harmonious and well balanced combinations of colors shown. Stripes, both crosswise and lengthwise, are well represented among silks in evening as well as day shades, and a broken surface now seems to be preferred to a plain one, as plain silks have been worn for some time. It is not possible to speak of velvets without referring to plaids again, as plaid velvets are much in evidence for winter bodices and millinery purposes.

Chenille embroidery appears on many new gowns, and mossy effects are also produced by the addition of fibers of ostrich plumage and bits of fur to embroidered designs. The tiny ruches of mousseline de soie used during the summer continue in favor and are combined with other decorations to form elaborate trimming.

Galloons and embroideries in which the separate fronds of ostrich plumage are interwoven are among the new importations and serve to decorate some very elegant gowns and wraps.

Long capes are again worn by little girls, and the picture shows one of the new patterns. The cape is gathered to a round yoke and has a double bertha of embroidered ruffles. A flaring collar protects the neck. This cape may be made of plain or plaid cloth. JUDIC CHOLLET.

No Right to Ugliness.

If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at any Drug Store.

PLOWING FOR CLAMS.

A PECULIAR INDUSTRY OF THE CALIFORNIA BEACHES.

An Old Man's Novel and Practical Method of Getting the Bivalves—His Adventure With a Chinese Junk and Some Celestial Smugglers.

The California beaches consist, as a rule, of long stretches of white sand, backed by dunes, where the curious bright hued ice plant and musical grasses abound. The wind plays strange pranks with the dunes and has carved them into various shapes and chiseled singular figures in bas-relief. For miles these dunes and sands breast the sea and wind, here and there reaching inland in rivers of sand and again broken in by some disappearing river—a river only in the winter time—which has formed a broad lagoon, where tules flourish and wild ducks and geese congregate.

At such places are sometimes found strange characters, perhaps rounding out a decade of degeneracy. Behind the dunes in such a bay floated a curious nondescript craft, half boat, half ark, half aground in the mud and connected to the shore by a shaky, dilapidated bridge that by a series of ropes and blocks could be drawn up, isolating the dweller. Anything might be expected here—an ancient and retired pirate, a Chinese smuggler, a counterfeiter—but it was the home of none of these, only a clam digger's. The ark was a summer resort and used at odd times, and I made the acquaintance of the owner in a neighboring town one hot summer day when the wind had hauled off shore and cumulus clouds were piling high over the sierras.

The old man was driving an ancient horse attached to a dilapidated wagon of antiquated type, upon which was a plow, and I met him passing through a sandy out in the dunes leading to the sea. Wondering what there was to plow down the long stretch of sand, I accosted him and passed the time of day. He reined in his horse and asked if I was going his way, offering me a seat. No, he was not a farmer, and when I looked inquiringly at the plow he laughed softly.

"So you reckoned I was goin down the doons to plow, eh? I'm goin clammin."

"With a plow?" I queried.

"Sartin," replied the old man, peering at me from beneath heavy eyebrows. "I reckon you don't come from a clammin country."

"But I do," I responded, recalling a long muddy tract on the New England coast where the picturesque figures of the clammers could be seen in early mornings digging in the black mud for the elusive quahaung.

"Well, it's queer you never see a man plowin for clams."

I never had and expressed the belief that clam plowing must be peculiar to Alamitos and California, at which the clammer looked but to sea and said, "P'raps it was."

We crept on through the dunes, turned out on to the sand and down the shore until we came to a little inlet that led to an inner beach. Here we stopped, and, taking out the plow, the old man unharnessed the patient steed and transferred him to the plow. He then turned him down to the edge of the water that was in the ebb and began to plow, cutting a deep furrow in the black oozing sand. When 100 feet or so had been plowed, he left the horse sinking gradually in the sand, took a basket from the wagon and went over the furrow, picking up the unfortunate clams that had been tossed so unceremoniously out into the world. That this was a novel and practical method of clamming was at once apparent, and the basket was quickly filled with shells that resembled the Little Neck clams of the east, but were twice as large.

"Works right smart," said the old man as he dumped a bushel basket of clams into the wagon as a result of his picking. "I've always been fond of clams," he added after a pause. "I'm from Rhode Island or was once, and that's the fatherland of clams. I put in my time gettin 'em, and my son-in-law he sells 'em up in the town.

"Once," continued the clam digger, "I branched out and came mighty near gettin into trouble. In winter the demand for clams lets up here—the people leave the seashore and go home—so I thought I'd go to collectin abalones—that's a kind of clam that sticks to the rocks closer than a revenue stamp. The shell is beautiful inside—pearl of all colors, that sells at a fair price to be made into buttons and curiosities; then in the meat, which the Chinese buy, you sometimes find pearls—sometimes black ones that bring a good price in the east. They find these abalones all along shore, but specially at San Clemente, a big island about 40 miles away. So I went over one winter with my tools and camped out there.

"After I'd been there a week a Chinese junk ran in one day and six or seven of the men began to camp in the sand pits and among the dunes. They were after abalones, and as I had a call for all I could get I offered to buy the shells they got. They sometimes brought in three or four bags a day. But there was one curious thing about it, they kept changin men, and the junk would call once in two weeks to take them off. I spoke to the boss Chinaman about it, and he said, 'Chinaman no good; get tired heap soon.' So I thought they came and tried it, then threw up the job in a few days, and he had to get more. But I was gettin a heap of abells and everything went on all right until one day a vessel sailed in and sent a boat ashore, and two of the men came up to me and handed me a paper. I never was so took back in my life. It was an order for arrest, for smugglin Chinamen. They carried me up to the city and come near makin a case against me, for them pesky Chinamen were only catchin abalones as a blind, and the island was headquarters for smugglin They brought the men up from Mexico in the junk, landed 'em on the island, where they fished for a week or so to give 'em citizenship, then the boss would discharge them for some bogus reason, and instead of goin back to Mexico they'd run into the mainland at night. Some one was makin money out of it, but it wasn't me. 'said the old man as he started his clam plow down a new furrow.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

VIM—to work and to win—to keep a sane mind in a sound body—to laugh at worry.

VIGOR—to ward off disease—to conquer obstacles—to transmit health and strength to your posterity.

VITALITY—to resist the fearful strain and tension of modern life—to make up for the constant drains of overwork. Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills confer all these essential qualities on the user.

THIS EVIDENCE IS AMPLE PROOF.

Before using Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills I felt weak, nervous and run down. I had lost weight steadily for some time; my circulation was poor; hands, feet and limbs were cold. I always felt weak and my muscles trembled. Now, after the use of one box of Dr. Ward's Pills, I feel like my old self. I have gained five pounds in weight and 100 per cent. in cheerfulness. I now walk firmly, my muscular system is strong and my blood circulates vigorously. I have more comfort than I have experienced in years. Dr. Ward's Pills have done more for me than any medicine I ever took.

THE TOILET.

How to Reduce Weight and to Take Care of the Complexion.

The reduction of embonpoint is a question mainly of regime, especially with young persons, unless indeed the superfluous flesh is a consequence of disease. To sleep little, drink little of any kind of liquid, avoid farinaceous and sugary foods and take a great deal of exercise, inducing perspiration, is the best and safest method of bringing down weight.

The prejudice which some women entertain against using soap on the face is quite unfounded. Soap is indeed necessary in order to keep the face really clean, and if it is used with hot water at night just before retiring the peculiar gloss which it gives the countenance will have disappeared by morning. A very fine quality of soap must be chosen, as coarse soaps destroy the beauty of the skin on either face or hands. It should be remembered that to bathe the face in hot water is to offer a premium for a rough, red, chapped complexion. A slight application of rosewater and glycerin, followed by a thin dusting of a good quality of rice powder, is an excellent protection for the skin against cold and wind.

CASHMERE GOWN.

The gown illustrated is of old rose cashmere. The skirt is trimmed at the hips with a ruffle of black satin ribbon, which seems a continuation of that on the close bodice. The fronts of the bodice are cut in scallops, edged with the ribbon, and there is a yoke of guipure de venise. The capote of ecru guipure is trimmed with white feathers and a Louis XVI bow of black velvet. JUDIC CHOLLET.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me viz.:

Cash value	$1,504 90
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low ing rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

The Miser.

Many a man with his whole soul immersed in business and money-getting is like the miser whose spring door shut to and locked him in forever. Men work and slave and worry and get sick and broken down, forgetting all the time that health is worth more than gold, and a happy, cheerful home is rather to be chosen than great riches, until the trap-spring to and shut them off from all the bright hopes they labored for.

A sick man cannot be happy; he cannot accomplish the work he has to do in this world; he loses the very money he is striving for; his ambition defeats itself. Any man who discovers that his strength and energy are giving way has an unfailing means of regaining his physical health and stamina in the simple yet all-potent restorative power of that wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery" originated by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the world-famous specialist in diseases of the nutritive organism.

Among the thousands who have consulted him by mail the case of Mr. Newton B. Blake, of Tipplersville, Tippah Co., Miss., as shown in the following letter indicates the remarkable efficacy of his treatment: "In December 1895 my health began to fail. I tried many different kinds of medicines and the more I took the worse the disease grew. Finally in April when I was busy with the farm work my health got so bad that I could not hold out to work one hour. My breath became short and I was weak and nervous, and oftentimes would spit blood. I was unable to work. I tried one of the doctors in the vicinity but failed to obtain relief. I seemed to grow worse. My father received a book from Dr. Pierce in which I read of a case similar to mine, and decided to write to Dr. Pierce. He recommended me to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After taking six bottles of this remedy I can recommend it as one of the best medicines to build up the system. I am now enjoying good health."

Torpid liver and constipation are surely and speedily cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They never gripe. They regulate, tone up and invigorate the liver, stomach and bowels. No substitute urged by mercenary dealers is as good.

THE TOBACCO HABIT.

HAVE YOU GOT IT, AND DO YOU WANT TO LOSE IT?

A Chicago Specialist Says That a Sure Cure For "My Lady Nicotine" Can Be Found In the Plentiful Use of the Humble Peanut.

However fantastic my particular method of dealing with the tobacco habit may seem on paper it will effect a cure if faithfully carried out. In the first place, be sure that your patient really desires to break off the habit of using tobacco. In the second place, remember that your patient will react according to the impression your manner makes upon his mind. If you speak lightly of your method of treating him, he will hold that method in small esteem. Therefore, speak impressively, and if he smiles at your modus operandi frown him into a decent humility.

Suggestion alone is not sufficient to hold the average tobacco user, and you will therefore add a material medicine in the shape of—peanuts! Yes, my friend, ludicrous as the idea seems, there lies in the vulgar peanut a charm to sap the power of "My Lady Nicotine" and free the fettered slave.

In all drug habits there are two conditions to combat—physical and mental, or physiological and psychological. I use peanuts to offset the physical craving and suggestion to calm the mind.

What is the condition of the user of tobacco if the weed is withdrawn? It is important to understand this, because there is but a slight variation in one dozen cases from the average.

The condition is one of mental unrest, some physical sensations and nervousness. The withdrawal of tobacco acts as a withdrawal of a powerful nerve tonic, because this weed, used first as a nerve sedative, becomes by force of usage a nerve stimulant. Let us take the mental condition first under consideration. I do not try to put a tobacco user to sleep, because it is an unnecessary performance, but give him positive suggestions while he is sitting opposite me to the following effect:

That it will be easy to break him of the habit.

That he will not suffer, despite the fact that he has tried to break off previously, but has failed on account of the discomfort ensuing.

That he is not a hero or a being to be pitied or sympathised with, because he will not be called upon to display any heroic qualities of endurance.

That if he follows directions he will not suffer from nervousness or "sinkings" at the pit of the stomach.

That he will begin at once to gain in weight; that his memory will be sharper and more tenacious, and that his digestive organs will regain tone; that his nerves will be as steel, his muscles as iron and his complexion will lose the muddy hue which mars its comeliness.

That the habit is uncleanly—in fact, degrading—and that its gratification entails a gross waste of money. What right has he to literally burn his income when his wife is compelled to wear a gown that is out of date?

Thus, then, do I prepare the patient's mind for the lightness of the task before him, laying special stress upon the fact that he will at no time consider himself an object of compassion or self pity, for if he believe himself to be performing a deed of no small heroism he will suffer agonies, whereas if his abnegation is ignored and taken as a matter of course he will react accordingly.

Now, as to the physical symptoms, they will be but slight if the above preparation of the mind is properly done and will show themselves in occasional pains about the region of the heart, sinking at the pit of the stomach, a lassitude, weak and accelerated pulse and muscular twitchings. Nervousness, jumping at a sudden noise and irritability of temper will be in evidence, but will be greatly modified by suggestion.

Prescribe peanuts, to be eaten slowly, constantly and continually. He must be occupied. Busy him therefore with peanuts. He would, if left alone, think tobacco. He must, on the contrary, think peanuts. Has he a loathing for peanuts? All the better. He will learn to love them for their nutritious qualities and intrinsic flavor. Does his stomach rebel on the second or third day? Has he biliousness or colic? It is still well, because no man when bilious desires tobacco.

Observe that you are supplying him with material for his digestive organs to work upon, and that his jaws are not idle. There is no vacuum, and there will be under this regimen no sinking at the pit of the stomach. A feeling of fullness perhaps, a plethoric condition, a sense of satiety, but this is exactly what we desire to bring about. Keep the system busy and at work; keep the mind at rest.

Ah, my friends, how true it is that the mouse may gnaw the ropes that bind the lion! Even the plebeian peanut may be the means of restoring harmony to an afflicted household. I have known this humble agent, taken according to directions, stretch strong men upon beds of sickness from which they rose in the course of a day or two clean of heart and purged of the craving for tobacco. I have known of others whose stomachs were not upset and who went their way rejoicing and waxed fat speedily.

I have never known of a failure if the above directions were carried out. The tobacco habit is not worthy to be classed as a drug habit.—Sydney Flower, Ll. D.,

PECULIAR POISONS

GENERATED IN THE HUMAN BODY.

The Result of Imperfect Digestion of Food.

Every living thing, plant or animal, contains within itself the germs of certain decay and death.

In the human body these germs of disease and death (called by scientists (Ptomaines), are usually the result of imperfect digestion of food; the result of indigestion or dyspepsia.

The stomach, from abuse, weakness does not promptly and thoroughly digest the food. The result is a heavy, sodden mass which ferments (the first process of decay) poisoning the blood, making it thin, weak and lacking in red corpuscles; poisoning the brain, causing headaches and pain in the eyes.

Bad digestion irritates the heart, causing palpitation and finally bringing on disease of this very important organ.

Poor digestion poisons the kidneys, causing Bright's disease and diabetes.

And this is so because every organ, every nerve depends upon the stomach alone for nourishment and renewal, and weak digestion shows itself not only in loss of appetite and flesh, but in weak nerves and muddy complexion.

The great English scientist, Huxley, said the best start in life is a sound stomach. Weak stomachs fail to digest food properly, because they lack the proper quantity of digestive acids (ine to and hydrochloric) and peptogenic products; the most sensible remedy in all cases of indigestion is to take, after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply in a pleasant, harmless form all the elements that weak stomachs lack.

The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure every form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

They increase flesh, insure pure blood, strong nerves, a bright eye and clear complexion, because all these result only from wholesome food well digested.

Nearly all druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents full sized package or by mail by enclosing price to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., but ask your druggist first.

Had to Tell Some One.

"If you'd been half an hour later," she said, "I don't know what I should have done."

"What's happened?" he asked.

"Why, Mrs. Gadding, next door, has been in here with such an extraordinary tale, which she made me promise I would never breathe to a living soul, that it has seemed as if I positively couldn't wait for you to come home to tell you about it."

Not Reassuring.

That an answer may be cheerful and yet far from reassuring is once more proved out of the mouth of a young Irishman.

He was acting as guide to a party of Americans who, in the course of a day's excursion during their visit to Ireland, were wandering over a picturesque, deserted castle.

"It seems very unsafe," said one of the party, as they groped and stumbled along a dark passage. "These floors are loose, I know."

"Yes," said another timid person, "and I wish I could see the blue sky above me. This seems like a dungeon, not a ruin!"

"Is it the blue sky ye'd be seein, miss?" said the voice of the guide, some feet in advance. "Why, may the saints preserve ye for an innocent! It's the roof, an nowt else, that kapes the walls together, miss!"—Youth's Companion.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment...

Endorsed by Dr. C. M. Harlan of the American Journal of Health

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE....

He says:—Among the proprietary medicines recognized is Dr. Chase's Ointment, compounded by Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, as a remedy for Piles, Eruptions and Ecsematic Skin Diseases, for which it has been used with marked success and has effected remarkable cures. It is not the practice of the Medical Profession indiscriminately to use proprietary medicines, but there are hundreds of physicians throughout this country who are using Dr. Chase's Ointment in their practice. We handed out during the last month 2,700 boxes of free samples of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the thankful results have been something astonishing. Here is what one of the cures says:

Mr. O. P. St. John, 246 Shaw St., Toronto, in his letter states: I suffered for some years from Itching Piles, at times being unable to sleep for the annoyance caused by them. After trying almost every remedy known, I was induced to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and can say one box entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of it, and have recommended it to several of my friends, all whom have been cured by its use.

TRIMMINGS AND COLORS.

Attractive Decorations Employed In the Winter Wardrobe.

Gray is a decidedly fashionable tint, and the old ashes of roses tone is being revived—a pinky gray approaching lilac. Plum color and veronese red are two other colors seen in the new goods which are likely to be much worn. Materials with horizontal stripes are enjoying high favor, as are also horizontal lines of trimming on bodices and skirts of plain goods.

Rich applications are the most important decoration employed at present. They appear on all kinds of fabrics, and some of the new evening tulles and gauzes have elaborate incrustations of silk, satin or lace embroidered upon them most delicately. Butterflies, flowers and especially bow knots are favorite designs.

Dinner gowns are extremely sumptuous, being usually made on the princess model and the most magnificent materials being employed.

The belt of kid worn with tailor made and other simple woolen gowns has now a band of satin or moire ribbon of a light or bright color stitched along the middle. As an improvement on this idea a fawn kid belt is seen in which little crosswise slits are cut at regular intervals. Through these slits the ribbon is interwoven, and it may be changed so that the belt will serve to accompany costumes of different colors.

Fur gives every indication of being as fashionable this year as it was last, blue fox being already employed in considerable quantities.

The cut shows a pretty little capote, which is composed of light gray velvet, entirely shirred. It is trimmed in front with two gray ostrich plumes and a chou composed of loops of black velvet ribbon, secured in the middle by a jeweled ornament. Similar choux are placed at the sides, and a chou fastens the strings.

One Laxa-Liver Pill every night for thirty days makes a complete cure of biliousness and constipation. That is—just 25 cents to be cured.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Potash fertilizers are the best for stone fruits.

Scab is the common black scurfy spots on fruit.

The peach will thrive best if grafted on plum stocks.

It requires a healthy tree to produce good, sound fruit.

Trash in the orchard often offers a hiding place for insect pests.

Land unfit for cultivation may be planted to trees to a good advantage.

In setting out a tree trim all injured or mutilated branches and cut off the superfluous ones.

The best time to make cuttings is in the fall. The best time to plant them out is in the spring.

In planting blackberries use roots or sprouts one year old, cover well and later on mulch well through the winter.

A little well rotted manure applied around the strawberry plants now will help to secure a better crop of fruit next spring.

The nursery price of a fruit tree is but a small part of its actual cost by the time it reaches the bearing age; hence it is not good economy to buy cheap trees.—St. Louis Republic.

Charity Among Ants.

It is certain that ants intentionally sanction the residence of certain insects in their nests. This is the case, for instance, with a curious blind beetle, which is absolutely dependent upon ants and is habitually fed by them, the ants supplying it with nourishment, as they do one another.

The Norway rat, instead of migrating annually, only does so once in every 11 years. Naturalists attribute this movement to some inherited memory of a flight to escape an expected cataclysm, but this seems somewhat farfetched.

Permanent Cure of Boils.

B. B. B. Cured Mrs. Harrison Henley, of Musquodoboit, N.S., in 1895, and the Boils have never come back.

Anyone who has ever suffered from boils, knows how sick and miserable they make you feel.

When you think you're about cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your wretchedness.

Boils are simply the outcropping of impure blood.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils quickly disappear, never to return—the cure is permanent—your misery is at an end, and your health and strength come back again.

Such were the results in the case of Mrs. Henley, of Musquodoboit, N.S., who recently wrote the following letter:

"In the spring of 1895 I was continually troubled with boils, one coming after another for about six months. Some as large as a hen's egg.

"My blood was in a very bad condition and I was very miserable all summer.

"In September I got a bottle of B.B.B. and began taking it, I felt better after I took one bottle. I kept on taking the Bitters until I had taken five bottles and can say I have been well ever since and have never had a boil on me since.

"I can safely say from my own experience that B.B.B. is the very best medicine in existence for any blood disorder."

GOOD ROADS AND HOW TO MAKE THEM.

A GRADER AND A ROLLER ARE ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY.

Timely Advice by Major Sheppard—Also An Instructive Paper on the Raising of Clover.

The first of the winter meetings of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held Tuesday afternoon in the county council chamber.

Mr. Ed. M. Elliott, president of the Institute, occupied the chair and introduced the first speaker, Major Jas. Sheppard, of Queenstown, whose subject was "Country Roads and How to Build Them."

The subject, the speaker stated, was one which should prove of particular interest to farmers. The great difficulty experienced, he thought, in improving roads was the unwillingness of a community to experiment. One of the ideas existing in this regard seemed to be that better roads meant higher taxes. This was not the case. It might mean, however, that some who did not pay taxes would have to do so and those who were not in the habit of working out their statute labour would have to fall in line. Many communities could not afford to pay more for their roads. They would not have to. The trouble lay in the fact that proper value was not received for the money expended. The roads of Ontario were not much improved over those of ten years ago. He did not advocate abolition of

STATUTE LABOUR.

If the farmers did not do their statute labour, who would do it? If help was hired it would probably be the very men who would have done it as statute labour. System was what was required. Money had been frittered away. Every man was not a born roadmaker. Who were the pathmasters of the country? In some localities everyone is expected to have his turn at it. The appointments too often went by axe grinding. The work was not properly carried out by reason of the many changes which were made. A good man who did his duty and insisted on the work being properly done lost his position the following year, whereas the pathmaster who let things take their way became popular.

Hastings county, the roads of which were held up as models, did not work on the assumption that every man was a born roadmaker. Every municipality should have an idea of what is best for their road and adopt some system, seeing that it was carried out. Pathmasters should not be appointed indescriminately.

Roads could be easily improved without the necessity of increasing the taxation. His proposition might not be applicable in all localities, but his idea was that men should be engaged to supervise the county roads just as the cities appointed their engineers for this purpose. At present the councils supervised the work after letting the contract, and when the job was finished it was inspected and generally passed.

ALMOST ANY JOB

would pass a council, but if a capable man was engaged and held responsible, good work would have to be done.

Modern machinery would have to be procured. The day of the plough and the scraper was done. The road grader, however, was not enough. A heavy roller was absolutely necessary. The grader is used over a stretch of road when the sides have been ploughed. The dirt is thrown up in the centre and looks alright at first, but the centre of the road has been made soft by the loose earth from the side and those using the thoroughfare drive along the sides which have been scraped and are harder. They drive there until the wet weather forces them up to the centre, which by this time resembles a summer fallow and the road machine is blamed for it all. If, on the contrary, a roller had followed the grader and packed the loose earth in the centre it would have been used and by the time the wet weather came on the road would have been packed so hard that it could have borne the traffic.

The matter of wide tires then received Major Sheppard's attention. His idea of doing away with the hardships supposed to be involved in the abolition of the narrow tires was to immediately prohibit the manufacture of narrow tires and while not doing away with their use at present, yet procure such legislation as to ensure their abandonment in, say, five years.

THE WEIGHT OF A WAGON

load should then be governed by the width of the tires. This would effectually prevent the cutting up of the roads.

Drainage was another important point in road-making. A tile drain in the centre of a road was a mistake. It drew the water to the road, where it was not wanted. Tile drains, however, could be used to great advantage if one was laid on each side of the roadway. This drew the water off effectively.

The stone crusher was a valuable acquisition to the roadmaker. Crushed stone was far better for roadmaking than stone broken by the hammer. The stone crushed should be graded before being used. Three grades were sufficient. The whole expense of purchasing the crusher need not fall on one township. Three or four could combine and procure one.

To get the best results from crushed stone, it must be rolled in. To throw it down loosely on the road will not do.

The piles of stone decorating the highways and farm fields could be easily transformed from a curse into a blessing if taken to a stone crusher. When laying on the crushed stone the larger stones should be laid in first, then a smaller size, and afterwards a dressing of the finer pieces and dust.

Mr. E. B. Edwards heartily endorsed the remarks of the speaker. He himself had witnessed the folly of scraping from the side of the road to the centre. A system should certainly be adopted by the municipality and then acted upon. This could only be done under a supervisor such as had been mentioned. A suggestion which he offered was that when ditches were being deepened the earth should not be thrown on the road but to the other side where it would create a bank high enough to be dry in wet weather and suitable to be utilized as a footpath. It would also be used by bicyclists who would thus be kept off the roads and the frightening of horses be mitigated.

THE LOOSE EARTH

Messrs. D. W. Dumble, Geo. Stewart, R. Leary and G. W. Bennett also made brief addresses.

Mr. T. G. Raynor, B.S.A., of Rosehall, was then called upon for a paper on "Clover Culture." In the course of his remarks the speaker expressed the opinion that clover was indeed aptly termed "the mortgage lifter" of Ontario farms. Because of its great importance in the agricultural districts especial care should be taken in its culture. The selection of the seed was an important point. Carelessness in this particular often caused new and noxious weeds to appear on the farm. Only reliable seedsmen should be dealt with. It paid better to give ten dollars a bushel for the best than six dollars for a second or third class grade.

ONLY 75 PER CENT of the best seed would germinate. What then would be the result when poor seed was sown. Clover required 40 per cent. of its own weight-moisture to make it grow. The importance of getting the seed in early to reap the advantage of the early rains was apparent. Care should be taken not to plant the seed too deep. The soil should be prepared in the fall. The wheat or oat crop should be a suitable "nurse crop" for clover in this district. A splendid red clover catch was often made by sowing in a corn crop just after the last cultivation. It would get a good start in the fall and winter.

Not less than eight pounds should be sown to the acre. Twelve pounds to the acre would not be too much, if good results were wanted. In connection with sowing with a nurse crop, a new idea, but a good one, was to sow in front of the drills, and then give a light stroke of the harrow afterwards.

The red clover was the best for general use. It made the best hay crop and was splendid for a forage crop, also renewing the soil with its roots.

Lucerne clover was a great thing for hog feeding but it could not take the place of red clover for hay or for general cattle feeding. Mammoth clover had its uses also. It was just the thing to grow upon run down land and plough under as a fertiliser.

Crimson clover was not for this country and while it was good to renovate worn out sandy soil it was not suitable for Ontario conditions.

Clover value as a forage crop was well known. For haying purposes care must be taken in the curing. It should be cut when in as full bloom as possible. If it was left to ripen the stalks become woody as the strength had gone to form seed taking away the plant's value as feed. It should be cut in the morning, raked together in the afternoon and left for 24 or 48 hours, then opened up, aired, and taken to the barn.

In answer to a question Mr. Raynor stated that it was advisable to roll immediately after seeding.

The better way to handle clover for seed purposes was to pasture it at first and then take the cattle off it and let the crop come on. The midge was thus escaped.

A long discussion followed on the merits of Lucerne clover.

To day (Wednesday) meetings are being held in the Lakefield town hall both afternoon and evening.

The Evening Meeting

The evening meeting at North Monaghan was one of the most successful in the history of the institute. The audience was a good sized one, and the speeches excellent.

Major Sheppard of Queenstown, gave a fine address on "Four Reasons why we Till the Soil." These reasons were: 1—To make a good seed bed; 2—To kill weeds; 3—To conserve moisture and likewise heat; 4—To facilitate the chemical processes constituting growth. The speaker gave the essential scientific aspects of the subject, but gave his address in a fine popular way. It was besides well arranged, and methodical, and easily remembered.

Mr. Raynor followed on the subject of "Agricultural Education." He showed the necessity of maintaining the high standard of Canadian farm products and of reducing the cost of production when competition in the London markets was becoming keener all the time. He dealt exhaustively with the way agricultural knowledge might be increased and greater interest secured. He recommended Mr. James' new text book on agriculture. Both speakers were listened to with close attention and their delicate touches of humour made their speeches still more effective.

Mr. Crowe, of Dummer, gave one of his short impromptu speeches, which took well. Local speakers assisted also and the speaking was interspersed with musical numbers by local talent, which were very good indeed. The meeting closed with "God Save the Queen."

A Wedding Present.

Of practical importance would be a bottle of the only sure-pop corn cure—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—which can be had at any drug store. A continuation of the honeymoon and the removal of the corns both assured by its use. Beware of imitations.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundreth doctor can unless he prescribes for it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. BABY'S FACE

And Neck Looked Like Raw Meat. Mother and Child Had No Rest Day or Night from Itching.

Blood Would Flow Down Cheeks. Doctors and Dispensary No Use. Awful Suffering.

Cured by CUTICURA REMEDIES Now Entirely Healed With Lovely Clear Skin.

Our baby, when one month old, had a raw place on her neck which spread slowly over the whole face, the face and neck being all raw meat, sometimes dry and then wet, and something awful to look at. The way the child suffered, mother and child never had any rest day or night as it constantly itched, and the blood used to flow down her cheeks. We had doctors and went to the dispensary without any result. By using part of a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, three boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), and CUTICURA SOAP, the child was entirely healed. Now she is two years old and has a lovely skin, which we can be thankful to CUTICURA REMEDIES and nothing else.

FRIENDS OF PONTON

HEARD GRAVELLE'S SENSATION.

The Newspaper Man, Who Is a Lock Expert, Showed Some Things That Pare Didn't Know — Ex-Clerk Dunn on the Stand—Testimony of Ponton's Good Character—An Alibi.

Napanee, Dec. 1.—By a system of geometry and philosophy of numbers Arthur Gravelle says he can open any combination in the world in 950 hours. The system is all his own, and he has been 25 years perfecting it. When Mr. Gravelle took his stand in the witness box he was armed with two of Sargeant & Greenleaf's combination locks, three and four-wheeled respectively. He is a tall, stoop-shouldered, ascetic-looking gentleman of a studious and retiring disposition. His statement that there were several thousand sets of numbers that would open the bank safe on the combination on which it was set on the night of the robbery created a decided sensation. When he declared that he was prepared to demonstrate this people looked askance at one another, and last evening excited little groups of men could be seen eagerly discussing the problem and endeavoring to get on solid ground. Mr. Gravelle's cross-examination will be proceeded with this morning.

Yesterday Belleville took the place by storm, and the courtroom was gay with the bright dresses of the society folk.

The Day's Opening.

There was a small audience when the court opened at 9.05 a.m.

William Coates was living in Napanee in August, 1897. He testified that the last time he walked with Ponton was on the night of the robbery. At 9.30 the witness and Ponton met in front of the Merchants' Bank, and walked down and stood in front of the Grange block. Then they walked to the bridge, and stood talking for a while. He left Ponton at 10.15. During an hour Ponton was not out of sight of the witness.

To Mr. Osler the witness stood by his story.

Ronald Hawley swore that on the night of Aug. 27, 1897, he met Ponton at a street corner, and went with him to the Paisley House bar. It was after 11 o'clock. They stayed there half an hour. He corroborated Witness Browne's story about the pitcher of water.

To Mr. Osler the witness said that he looked at the clock and saw that it was 11.30.

Charles E. Bartlett, a grain merchant, swore that a short time before the robbery the witness had $1.50 worth of coppers, in three rolls, stolen from his office. Each roll contained 50 cents. He got them from the bank.

To Mr. Osler the witness said he was positive the coppers were stolen not more than two weeks before the bank robbery.

Dr. Wager, sworn, said he occupied rooms in the Grange block. He had seen stubs of cigars and ashes in the passageway adjoining Ponton's rooms. Persons were in the habit of sitting upon the steps at the head of the stairs leading to Ponton's rooms. This was before the time of the robbery.

William Kempleton, editor of the Beaver, swore that Pare's statement that he could see the watchman looking into the bank from the back was not true, because there was an intervening brick wall. "I have made myself positive on that point," said the witness.

The witness said he never heard anything against the accused Ponton.

Alexander Walker, lawyer, Belleville, swore that in April and May, 1897, he was assistant librarian in the Mechanics' Institute. He was aiding Ponton to get the books ready for a new catalogue during the week in which April 27 fell. Every day in the week, except Saturday, from 8 to 6, the work went on "Billy might be out of my sight two or three, or five minutes; he was not out longer from my sight. He could not have been at the Dominion Hotel on April 27 any time between 3 and 5.50."

To Mr. Osler the witness said that the matter did not come to his mind till after Pare's evidence was given in August.

W. H. Durand Is Called.

W. H. Durand, Vancouver, B.C., was in the bank's employ when it was robbed. He was ledger-keeper. In many points he corroborated Mr. Baines' testimony concerning combinations. Mr. Baines and the witness had the combination on the safe at the time of the robbery. The same combination had been in use for 17 or 18 months. When Mr. Baines was away the witness locked the safe when leaving, and opened it in the morning. He remembered Green opening the door on one occasion.

To Mr. Porter the witness said the locking of the safe was a stern duty with him. He said Mr. Baines came into the bank one afternoon when they were playing cards. He made no objection. Mr. Ponton never made a date with him to ride out at night. The witness said he was not questioned regarding his finances by the detectives. Detective Dougherty held out inducements to him.

Mr. Osler objected, and the judge sustained the objection. The witness remembered the numbers of the combination and knew how they had been made. Ponton was called "Billy," not "Willie."

To Mr. Holman the witness said he had never received the letter spoken of by Miss French.

To Mr. Osler the witness said he answered a few questions from lawyers in Vancouver, B.C.

The statement was read. It said that such a letter had been received. The witness said he had not made the statement. Clause by clause, a letter from Lawyer Semkler was read, and the witness declared the statements were untrue. He said, "I did receive one or two anonymous letters." He said he played cards in the bank at different times.

John Hodgins, a detective, was on the case from Aug. 29, 1897, to Sept. 7. He interviewed Ponton in his rooms on one occasion. Wilkes and Greer were present. A search was made of the room. Traces to connect him with the robbery were sought, and none were found. The witness knew Josie Haycock. He had talked with him once. Josie said he didn't hear any noises on the night of the robbery. He said he "heard a sound of something dropping outside, and the band played on."

He had a copy of his report to the bank, but the Crown would not accept it in court. The witness declared that parts of Josie's statement were not true.

To Mr. Osler the witness said he spoke to Josie in the presence of Lawyer Madden, and Joseph Haycock, sr.

George Meagher, a dry goods clerk, was called. In August, 1897, he was in a shoe store. He testified to the band playing on the night of the robbery. He stood with James Roblin leaning up against the bank window. He heard what was supposed to be money rattle in the bank. It sounded like a good-sized coin dropping into a quantity of coins. A remark was made about it at the time by Roblin. This was after 9 and before 9.45. Mr. Ponton was on the square at the time.

To Mr. Osler the witness said the band played on after the noise was heard.

James Roblin, a shoe clerk, followed. He corroborated the testimony of the previous witness.

Sheriff Hawley.

Sheriff Hawley testified that he remembered July 27, 1897, by the death of a man at the Paisley House. There was also a party of young people at his house. Ponton was there. Ponton and Lockridge, about 1 or 2 went out, got a lantern, and returned. It was a rainy, dark night. At about 2.45 they left the house again. All the party went out together. There was another lantern, "I don't think Billy was in the bank that night about 1. His reputation has been all right."

John McKee, a blacksmith, swore that Mr. Wilkes applied to Mr. Pringle for a piece of wire. Mr. Wilkes stood up. The witness was handed the combination that Pare said he made. "It corresponds in size and shape with the piece given, but it is shorter." Mr. Wilkes said he wanted the wire to experiment on the lock, and the witness gave him a piece of steel wire. Tais happened after the robbery.

To Mr. Holman the witness said that he did not sell wire to Pare.

To Mr. Osler the witness would not swear that the wire key was the same. No Yale lock was mentioned.

To Mr. Porter witness said he could not work out a key from an impression on paper.

Dr. Vrooman took the stand. He remembered the death of the man at the Paisley House. It was on July 27, 1897.

An Alibi.

C. D. McCauley of Belleville was sworn. "Billy" Ponton was a visitor at his house frequently. He remembered Sunday, April 24, 1897, Billy being at Mrs. Davey's. There were others present. The witness went to the house before 8 o'clock. Billy was there then; he stayed till about 11. Ponton could not have been in the Dominion House when Pare said he was. "He was with us."

Mrs. C. D. McCauley was called and sworn. She remembered Sunday, April 24, that Billy Ponton was at her house. She remembered it by her diary.

Miss Lulu Davey was sworn. She new Billy Ponton. She testified about the Sunday night, April 24. Ponton came between 7 and 8 o'clock. He went away with Miss Newberry about 11 o'clock. "He could not have been," was the answer, when Mr. Porter remarked that Pare had said Billy Ponton was in the Dominion Hotel between 10 and 11 o'clock.

In the Afternoon.

Court opened with a full house, and "standing room only" hung out on the door. The clock said 2.15.

Miss Fanny Newberry of Belleville was the first witness in the afternoon. The night of April 24, 1898, she remembered. She was at Mrs. Davey's. "The clock struck 11 before we left, and Mr. Ponton went home with me," said the witness, demurely. No one called at the house, and no one called Mr. Ponton out that night. The witness got home at 11.15.

Miss Jessie Maclean recounted the incidents of April 24. She remembered it was after 11 when she got home, "For mother gave me a scolding for staying so late." She fixed the date by "The Gel-

THE BEST HOGS FOR THE EXPORT BACON TRADE.

VALUABLE PAPER BY MR. GEO. MATTHEWS, Sr.,

Read at the Meeting of the West Riding Farmers' Institute Meeting at Lakefield—Practical and Valuable Advice to the Farmers—How to Get and Hold the British Trade.

At the meeting of the West Riding Farmers' Institute held at Lakefield yesterday, a valuable paper on the subject of the best hogs for the export bacon trade by Mr. George Matthews, sr., president of the George Matthews Co., Limited, was read by him. It is of so much importance and contains so much valuable advice that it is submitted in full below:

There is quite a difference of opinion among the hog breeders in this country as to which are the best hogs for the export trade, each breeder of thoroughbred hogs claiming that his particular breed is the best but in order to find out exactly the class of meat that will sell for the highest price in England, we should find out the kind of bacon that the parties consuming it require. They are the men we have to please if we are to make the highest prices for our bacon.

The export trade is much more extensive than most people imagine; the farmer raises the hogs and sells to the packer who cures and ships the product; we both hope to make some profit. The railway and steamship companies and the commission man in England all take their share whether the others make or lose. Then the wholesale and retail provision dealers expect a profit and lastly the consumer who is the man that pays the whole of us, pays the highest price and he is the man that we are interested in trying to please, for if we cannot please him we may as well give up the business. He is the final judge of the quality. He gets no money profit, but we hope he enjoys his rasher of bacon or ham and that it builds him and his family up in good robust health. The English people are great consumers of bacon and there is a market for a large quantity, but it is not an unlimited market by any means, as we find to our cost when the stock of bacon arriving there is larger than the market requires; the price often drops $1.50 to $3 per cwt. In a week and this convinces us that the market is not unlimited.

THE ENGLISH PEOPLE are very keen in discriminating and testing the qualities of their food supplies, especially butter, bacon and cheese and we must remember that the whole world is competing for their trade and sending the choicest of their food products to England because they know that John Bull will pay a better price than anyone else if they can only offer him an article that suits his taste. To illustrate how discriminatory they are, when in England last summer I one day stood by a large provision store, the window of which was filled with about 200 pieces of bacon, weighing from 4 to 10 pounds each. I was admiring the meat and trying to find out if there was any Canadian bacon there. Some of the pieces had tickets on, 4d, 4½d and 5d per pound, and small hams 6d a pound. I knew the bacon marked 4d and 5d could not be Canadian, the salesman offered his customers some Irish bacon at 9d and 10d, Canadian bacon at 7d and 8d, and that marked 4d and 5d was American. Now these pieces of bacon were all nicely smoked, very choice meat, and looked equally good; if they were offered in any shop in Canada would all sell at about the same price. Then why are the English people willing to pay double the price for one piece of bacon that they would have to pay for the other piece when they both look alike.

I am of the opinion that the sharp discrimination of the different qualities is brought about principally by the way they cook the bacon, they cook the rashers of bacon either in the oven or in a dutch oven hung on the bars of the fire-grate. The slices are hung on hooks within a few inches of the fire, the same as we toast bread in front of the stove. When the meat is cooked in that way they get the distinct flavour of it that could never be obtained from meat cooked in a spider on the stove. It not only gives the correct flavour of the meat but they also detect in the cooking if the hogs have been fed on corn or other foods of an oily nature.

The Irish, Danish and Canadian meats have all a similar flavour, but there is a complaint that the lean of the Canadian bacon is harder than the others, and we have to yield that point to them, for up to the present time we have not been able to discover the reason why the lean of our bacon is not as mellow and rich as the lean of the English, Irish or Danish. The packers and professors at the Government Experimental Farms are trying to find out the reason. At the farms they are experimenting on feeding hogs on different foods to ascertain, not only which is the cheapest way to make a given quantity of pork, but also to make the quality equal to the best English or Irish. We kill and cure the hogs fed at the Experimental Farm at Ottawa, and recently shipped a few boxes to London in order to get the opinion of experts in the bacon trade there as to the quality. Professor Robertson and the packers are working together endeavouring to raise the standing of our bacon in England, and if we succeed the farmer will be the party most benefited.

THIS BUSINESS IS THE SAME as any other business. You must use every endeavour to get into the front rank and when you get there you will still have to use all your powers to hold your position or your competitors will get ahead of you. The best illustration that I have seen on this subject was an article in the Grocer, the leading provision paper in London, a few months ago, about a circular distributed in Ireland by the Irish Bacon Curers' Association, informing the farmers that owing to the superior quality of the hogs in Denmark the Danes were sending a better quality of bacon to London than the Irish packers could send with the class of hogs they had in Ireland. The Bacon Curers' Association had bought a large number of Improved Yorkshire boars and were distributing them throughout Ireland. They advised the farmers to use them to improve the breed of their hogs so that the packers could send out as fine a class of bacon as the Danes were sending. It was quite a surprise to me to learn that the Danes had beaten the Irish in raising and feeding hogs. Twenty years ago the bacon going from Denmark was only very ordinary meat, but as they had succeeded in making a first-class butter that brought the highest price in the English market, they then turned their attention to the bacon trade, and by improving the breed of their hogs and the curing of their bacon they soon obtained second place on the London market. They use the Yorkshire hog and feed principally skim milk and chopped grain. The sides of Danish bacon are longer than the Irish, and the retailers in England claim that the long side of bacon cuts to better advantage than the short sides, therefore they prefer the long sides and in preference to the Irish, so now the Irish find that they must improve their hogs or take second place in a market where they have held first place for a great many years.

Now, having taken a glance at the trade on the other side of the water, we come back to Canada. I commenced business in Lindsay forty years ago next January. No doubt the older men present will remember the Razor Backs and Land Pikes, as some of the hogs of that date were called. Well, the fashion will change even in hogs. We wanted hogs at that time that carried more fat and less bone, so the Berkshires, Suffolks, Poland Chinas and other good breeds came to the front. Then six years ago another change was called for, instead of fat meat and small bones the buyers of bacon insisted on having leaner meat and did not object to larger bone if the bacon was well mixed with juicy lean meat. It seems to me that we are returning to the old style, for, as I remember him, the Razor Back hog of forty years ago would fill the bill for the English bacon trade to-day. He had a long thin head, light neck and shoulders, thin back, thick side and belly, with a fair sized ham. In cutting across the side the belly often would cut thicker than the back, but as the Razor Back has disappeared we must look for another hog to fill the requirements of the trade—one with long sides, light shoulders, thinn backs, thick bellies and good hams.

The farmers in Ontario have done well so far in making the change from the thick fat hogs we used to require for the lumber trade to the lean hogs required for the English trade. We buy a good many very choice lot of hogs but there is room for improvement here the same as there is in Ireland. In my opinion the is the ideal hog for the English bacon trade. I do not see a bad point in him. His thin neck and light shoulders especially commend him to me and I would advise farmers in making crosses with the hogs they now have on hand to always bear in mind that one with a long flat side and light shoulder is the hog wanted by the trade. The improved Yorkshire or Tamworth crossed with the Berkshire makes a good hog, the Berkshire is a good hog, but has too much weight in the back and shoulder, and the belly cuts are thinner in proportion to the thick back. The Berkshire was always a favourite with me, the lean meat being so nicely mixed with the fat, but with its heavy shoulders, broad thick back and thin belly it does not make a first class Wiltshire cut side, but if the breeder can get them with lighter shoulders and backs and thicker bellies, they would be all right. Cross them with the Tamworth or Yorkshire and they will fill the bill. The Suffolk and Poland China carried to much fat and not enough lean meat for the requirements of the present time. The Duroc Jersey or red Jersey, that many mistake for the Tamworth, both breeds being red hogs, is a very different hog from the Tamworth, it having one very bad point in a lump or thick piece of fat on the top of the neck between the ears and shoulder. I must explain why I call that a bad point. When shipping the bacon to England we have and measure each side, and if the fat on the back measured more than 1½ inches in the thickest part, that side cannot go in the No. 1 selection. The Jersey side is all right until you come to the neck and that lump of fat condemns it, and we have to ship that side as No. 2 selection, there being a difference in price when sold, of from one to two cents per pound, so that instead of making a little profit, it makes a decided loss.

I have said nothing about feeding hogs in this country, but ask the farmers to use every endeavour to make good, firm pork. I consider that a certain quantity of roots are good feed if mixed with plenty of chop to make the hogs firm, but hogs fed with too much roots and not sufficient chop make miserable, soft pork that would soon ruin our trade in England. Another thing, be sure and let the hogs have exercise. Don't pen them up in small pens and keep them there all the time—they must have a warm place to sleep in—but make them walk to the place where they are fed, as with exercise they grow lengthy, useful hogs; but when kept in small pens they grow short, stumpy hogs. We receive hundreds of hogs every spring that, when they arrive here in cars, are so crippled that they cannot walk a step, and the reason for them being in that is they have not exercise while being fed.

Now, in conclusion, I wish to impress upon you this fact, that the interest of the farmer and packer are identically the same. Each must do his share, having in view the betterment of his trade. The former must raise the right class of hogs, must feed and market them carefully without blemishes of any description. The latter must receive these hogs from the farmer, handle and cure them in such a manner that will enable the retailer in England, or in other countries to obtain as high a price from the consumer as he obtains for Irish or Danish bacon, and when this—the goal of our ambition—is reached the farmer will receive most of the benefit, as there is bound to be keen competition in buying among the packers. We have all spent large sums of money in improving our facilities for handling and curing and as you are aware there have been numerous packing houses erected during the past year in different parts of Ontario.

Trusting these remarks will be of some benefit, I remain

Yours faithfully,
GEO. MATTHEWS,

LECTURE TO TOBACCO USERS.

The Evil Effects of Smoking and Their Cure.

There is Only One Remedy—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—They Digest the Food, Tone the Smoker's Stomach and Brace His Nerves.

Do you smoke?

Thousands will answer "Yes," to this question.

Do you know that smoking—whether you use pipe, cigar or cigarette—causes serious derangement of the digestive system?

Are you aware that smoking causes one of the most serious forms of Dyspepsia—called Tobacco Dyspepsia? It does.

Do you know that, following Tobacco Dyspepsia comes a dangerous disease of the heart?

Have you never felt dizzy, or light headed, after a long smoke? Has smoking ever given you a nauseous feeling? Has it never made you "shaky"—nervous! Has it never taken away your appetite?

Very few smokers can answer "No" to this question.

Do you know that if you have felt any of these effects, you are afflicted with Tobacco Dyspepsia?

Tobacco Dyspepsia very frequently ends in Heart Failure and Death.

There is one cure for Tobacco Dyspepsia, and for the other ill-results of smoking. That cure is Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Excessive smoking dries up the juices that are necessary to digest the food, thus causing Dyspepsia. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets first digest the food, and then stimulate the glands till they are able to supply sufficient fluids for the purpose of digestion.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets act also on the tobacco-shattered nerves, making them strong and steady; they sharpen the dulled appetite by creating a necessity for food; they clear the brain of the fumes of tobacco smoke, by creating plenty of rich blood, and sending it to the brain-cells.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the only hope of the man who smokes too much.

Just try them once—it will cost you only fifty cents (less than the price of a pipe or a dozen cigars) and do you five dollars' worth of good.

FRIENDS OF PONTON.

ston" performance on the 19th and her brother's birthday on the 20th, and the next Sunday she was at Mrs. Davey's.

James Starling of Belleville, an alderman, was next. He knew Billy Ponton since he was a child. He was looked upon as a model young man. On April 24, 1898, the witness was in Goderich on The Skylark, a yacht. It was her only trip.

George Hanwell was next. He is a brother of Mrs. Ponton. He lived in Belleville. In the spring of 1898, Billy Ponton lived with him. He remembered the April 24, Sunday night, because his long-absent daughter was home then. The I.O.O.F. had special services on that Sunday.

"Was there anything unusual in your going to bed that night?"

"Yes; I went to bed before 11." (Laughter.) "It was between 11 and 11.30 when Billy came in."

The witness told of a chat he had with his wife about the time, and repeated a remark of Billy Ponton's that the girls would not let him away until 11.

I. B. A Lucas of Belleville was sworn, a G.T.R. ticket agent. He did not sell two return tickets to Deseronto Junction on April 25 or 26, 1898. It would not be true for anyone to say that two such tickets were sold.

Mr. Osler asked the witness to look at his single tickets, Nos. 3,213 and 3,214, to Deseronto. They were booked as sold on April 26 or April 25.

Rev. M. W. Maclean was called. He had known the prisoner Ponton for 20 years. He bore a thoroughly good reputation.

W. H. Green swore that when the bank was robbed he was a clerk in '13. He locked the vault Aug. 27, 1897.

To Mr. Holman the witness said that he broke a key in the lock of the door entering the bank from the market. He saw Mr. Baines signing unsigned bills. The whole staff was present.

To Mr. Osler he said he had told no one outside the bank about the Government bonds or the combination. He denied that the game of poker was for a ten-cent ante. It usually was a one-cent ante.

R. P. Thompson, treasurer of Belleville, had known Billy Ponton since his birth. He had an excellent reputation.

E. F. Milburn, Belleville, was sworn. He is principal of the High School. He testified to Billy Ponton's good character. His reputation was most excellent. He was truthful, manly, frank, ingenious, open-hearted and free. He was never guilty of a subterfuge.

William C. Smith, a jeweler in Napanee, had made Yale lock keys. A key could be made from a piece of paper, but it would not be capable of unlocking a lock.

To Mr. Osler the witness said a key could be made from a mechanical drawing.

"Can you open a combination without knowing the numbers?" asked Mr. Osler.

"Yes, if set on simple numbers—a three-wheel combination." He had never tried to open a four-wheel combination.

To Mr. Porter the witness said there was a system by which to work out a combination even if the numbers were not known.

To Mr. Osler the witness said that by a system he meant that the combination would not be so on all the numbers.

John Abbott, Napanee, a section foreman on the G.T.R., deposed that his section was four miles long, and he passed over it twice a day. The biscuit-box find was the subject of his story. There were many post-holes along the track. He had seen the biscuit-box before or one just like it. He saw it, he thought, before the robbery in July.

Walter Gordon, a rubbish gatherer, in the summer of 1897, on Aug. 17 or 18, had such a box as the biscuit-box produced. He threw it away.

Mr. Osler Objects.

W. J. Gilkerson of Toronto, solicitor and passenger agent of the G.T.R., was the next to speak. He lived in Trenton in November, 1897, and was in charge of the Canadian Express Co. There was a vault, a three-wheel combination, Taylor make, in his office. The witness and one other had the combination.

"What happened to it?" was asked.

"I object," said Mr. Osler.

The judge upheld the objection. James Savey's evidence was tendered also.

L. R. Trivilligar, manager of the Patterson Biscuit Works, Belleville, was called. His firm had a combination safe. Edwards, maker. The bookkeeper had the combination, was taken sick. Went away and the safe could not be opened. An expert opened it. Hennessy of Hamilton did it. But that man is dead now. The Crown objected to the evidence.

Gravelle Makes a Sensation.

Arthur Gravelle, the first of the expert safe men, was called. He came, laden with locks.

To Mr. Porter the witness said he published a newspaper. "I studied combination locks more or less." He produced a three-wheel and a four-wheel Sargent and Greenleaf combination lock. The only difference between the two was a wheel.

The judge examined the locks.

The witness, continuing, said 23, 35, 49 was the combination set on his three-wheel lock. There were other numbers that would open it. The witness opened the lock. He locked it again. He took 24, 34, 50. The lock was opened. [A sensation.] He locked it again. Then he took another set of numbers, 36, 34, 49. But he was stopped in his demonstration by the judge, who said: "This is not evidence."

"Do you know you can open a three-wheel combination?" asked the judge.—"I do," said the witness.

Can you open a three-wheel Taylor lock without having any knowledge upon which it is locked? repeated the judge.

"I can," modestly replied the expert. The witness said that probably 50 different sets of numbers would open the locks upon the combination, 24, 34, 50. Some combinations would give more sets; some fewer. Sometimes there were 100 sets, but they average 50. The witness said he was prepared to demonstrate what he said on the model lock before, him, which was a perfect lock. He first saw it five or six days ago, when it was brought from the factory. "5, 20, 25 is a very easy combination to find," said the witness. "I could discover such an easy combination in probably ten minutes. A Sargent & Greenleaf lock can be opened on fewer than three numbers. If it is set on 26, 35, 49, it can be opened on two. I am prepared to demonstrate it."

A Little Demonstration.

"First number 35," said the operator. "Forty-nine," and round went the wheel, but the lock was steady. He tried it again, but without success. He tried a third time and the lock flew back. "It requires a little more accuracy," said the operator, and the crowd took another breath. "The lock can be opened by using the blank space instead of numbers," testified the witness. "On some combinations he would just as lief have it set on the blanks as any other. There is a system," said the expert. "There are several. I try both guessing, and my system, the regular system, must get it."

Mr. Porter wanted the witness to enumerate the number of locks he has opened without knowing the combinations. Also to call those who owned the safes. But Mr. Osler objected on the ground that the Crown could not follow the locks. There was a long dissertation upon experts' evidence and the court rested.

Mr. Porter contended the Crown, by its expert witnesses, had opened the door for the evidence. According to Taylor an expert might testify to a fact.

The judge said by study, training and learning the witness was an expert and could not state particular sets he had done, for it would necessitate the following up of each set.

"I have opened several of these Sargent & Greenleaf locks without knowing the combination on which they were set," said the witness. "They were locked at the time, certainly. The longest it took me was about 20 minutes. Three or four minutes was the shortest time. In the latter I went by guesswork. The longer period was by system. All locks of the same make and the same number of wheels are alike in difficulty of opening."

He Creates Consternation.

The four-wheel combination lock model was presented. It was a Sargent & Greenleaf lock. It would take more time to open. "It is more difficult to master." The lock was set on 39, 66, 80, 43, the same as Mr. Baines' combination. "Other sets of numbers will open it," went on the witness. "Several thousand sets will open it. [Consternation.] I am prepared to demonstrate that."

"Will the numbers 40, 60, 80, 40 to 42

"They will not," said the witness. "I am prepared to demonstrate that." The back of the lock was unscrewed and a magnetic lock was exposed. It was explained that the magnet made the lock more difficult to open.

"Have you opened any four-wheel combination locks without any previous knowledge of the combination?"

"I have," said the expert. "A four-wheel lock can be opened without a knowledge of the combination," repeated the witness, in answer to Mr. Porter. Mr. Young took a deep breath. Mr. Porter submitted questions for whom, when, where such locks had been opened. There was no answer, because the Crown objected. "In most cases I try guessing. Then I try my system, and I opened a lock in 20 minutes."

"What is your system?"

"I divide the all possible combinations into five classes; easy numbers into one class. Then I select certain combinations from each class. I find that 75 per cent. of persons set their safes on one class. It would take nine hundred hours to exhaust the whole system. I never met a lock that I had to exhaust my system to find. I would be bound to get the combination if I exhausted my system. Certainly, my first division would be exhausted in about three hours. The other divisions gradually grow into more difficult combinations." The witness declared the filing of the drop lever would make it easier to open. It would be of no advantage to a person having the correct combination. It would not require the same exactness. The witness had seen the vault lock and it was a twin to his own three-wheel lock. He had studied locks for 25 years.

Mr. Osler in cross-examination elicited that the witness attended a college at Ottawa. It was a matter of high science with him. He thought his system was one of his own invention. Geometry entered into his system as well as a study of the meeting of the numbers. These were used in perfecting his system.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Mr. R. Morrow Cured of Lumbago by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, Nov. 28—The vast majority of Torontonians know and esteem Mr. R. Morrow, the able and popular general agent for the Toronto Auer Light Co.

For this reason the following statement made in writing by Mr. Morrow, possesses unusual significance.

"Two years ago I was attacked by Lumbago and Urinary trouble which caused me intense suffering. I took several different remedies without any benefit. Then I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and was completely cured by them."

Lumbago is unusually prevalent this fall. All sufferers should know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for it. They never fail.

IN EAST ELGIN.

A Liberal Voter Who Was Spirited Away —Judgment Reserved in Many Instances—Question of Agency.

St. Thomas, Dec. 1.—The East Elgin election trial will in all likelihood be concluded to-day. Yesterday's evidence was more interesting than Tuesday's, and the counsel for the petitioner was successful in making it clear that influences which are not considered legitimate were used during the campaign.

Jonas Hoover of Springfield, who was the next witness, had been driven from his home to Aylmer by a man named Westover, who had been instructed by Dr. Baker, who is a Liberal, to take Hoover to the Sun printing office, where he would be called for and sent to the polls. Instead of doing this Westover, who is a Conservative, took him into a hotel, where he met two men named James and Frank Trim. After spending some time there Frank Trim brought in a man named Frank Wisebrood, whom he palmed off on Hoover as the "printer" of the Sun. Wisebrood told Hoover that he would take him to the polls after dinner, but instead of doing this they put him in a cutter, and Wisebrood and Trim drove him to St. Thomas, 23 miles from his polling place. Witness could not leave the cutter, because they whipped up their horse whenever he tried to get out, and as he is an aged man he could do nothing. They reached St. Thomas about 2.30 and drove to an hotel, where they left him for an hour, and then drove leisurely back to Aylmer, long after polling had closed.

A charge of furnishing drink and entertainment failed because the witnesses could not remember what occurred.

Several Port Stanley cases were then taken up. Of those which were for furnishing money by agents to be used in betting, two were dismissed, and one reserved.

Then two charges were taken up, in which Williams, the scrutineer at Port Burwell, was said to have offered money for votes. Charles Besaer, on charge 46, swore that Williams canvassed him, and asked him if $2 would be an inducement for him to vote for Brower. The court dismissed this charge on the ground that Williams' agency did not commence until after the offer. Again Williams was charged with offering Azariah Vaughan $2 on the Sunday before election, and raising it to $4 on the night before election.

Charge 53—lending money to be used in betting—dismissed.

Charges 12 and 13 were taken up. Hugh Douglas, who had a rather uncertain place of residence, was sworn, and took the oath at the suggestion of respondent's scrutineer and polled what the petitioner' claims is an illegal vote. Hopkins Heglar, the Liberal scrutineer, and young Douglas both gave evidence. The case was not finished when the court rose.

SCOTTISH KING A WRECK.

Puritan Line Steamer Ashore on Newfoundland's Jagged Rocks.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 1.—The Chamber of Commerce Marine Department has issued the following bulletin:

A private telegram received in this city announces the probable loss of the Puritan Line steamer Scottish King, commanded by Captain James, and bound from Antwerp, Belgium, to this port. The vessel ran ashore at 5.30 o'clock yesterday morning ten miles northeast from Cape Race, Nfld., during a dense fog. The crew, numbering 35 men, were all landed in safety. It was impossible for the officers of the steamer to see their dangerous surroundings until they brought up on the rocks, and that when the steamer struck she began to fill immediately, showing that her bottom had been punctured by the jagged rocks. The vessel will undoubtedly prove a total loss.

How Old She Was.

The youth was waiting in the reception room for the young lady to come down stairs, when the small brother sauntered in with the well known nonchalance and savoir faire which characterize him in conversation to while away the time. After a few minutes of general talk the caller thought he would take advantage of the opportunity and glean a few items of information not otherwise obtainable. So he went at the boy straight.

"I say, Johnnie," he inquired, "how old is your sister?"

Johnnie thought a minute. "Well," he replied after due deliberation, "I don't know edzactly, but maw says she is old enough to know better than to let a chap like you come to see her all the time."—London Tit-Bits.

No Postponement.

The lamented death of Mrs. Weller at a late hour last night caused the promoters of the "Fair" in St. John's school house to-night, to consider the possibility of postponement. But learning of the large amount of effort expended, the completed state of preparations and the difficulty of giving contrary notice, Judge Weller's family have urged that no alteration be made. The entertainment accordingly will take place this evening as announced. A few numbers of the programme were given this afternoon; the remainder will be presented this evening, including the "Sunflower Chorus" and the "Little old Woman from No-where," kindly presented by a band of St. Luke's girls, trained by Miss M. Calcutt.

WILLIAM ROSS IS AGAIN ARRESTED.

Another Charge of Passing Forged Papers.

HE HAS A CRIMINAL RECORD.

Previous Convictions—A Son in the Reformatory and a Brother at the Kingston Penetentiary—The Present Charge.

Wm. Ross is again under arrest on a charge connected with forgery and as this is not the first time he has been in durance vile the Crown proposes to push the case through to its utmost limit.

Ross was arrested last night in Port Hope, Chief Douglas having been requested to keep an eye open for the man, who generally makes that town his headquarters. Chief Roszel is of the opinion that he has worked up a strong case against the prisoner.

The circumstances under which the arrest was made are as follows:—On Wednesday, Nov. 23rd, a stranger, representing himself to be Thos. Armstrong, called upon Mrs. Dunsford and ordered a ton of coal, she being an agent for Wolstenholm. The coal was paid for by a cheque for $14 50 on the Ontario Bank in favour of Thomas Armstrong or order and signed by the firm name of Corry & Laverdure.

Mrs. Dunsford states that she asked the supposed Armstrong if the cheque was endorsed correctly and that he replied that everthing was all right, although there was no endorsation whatever on the cheque. She then accepted it and gave him the change, he ordering the coal to be sent to No. 147 Wolfe street. As the driver could not locate Mr. Armstrong's residence next day and payment of the cheque refused at the Ontario Bank on the ground that the signature of Corry & Laverdure was a forgery, Mrs. Dunsford placed the matter in the hands of the police on Friday night. Two others who were at seven o'clock Wednesday evening when the transaction took place, described the man to Chief Roszel, who at once suspected Ross of being implicated. A complaint then came in from Joseph Gosselin, butcher, that the man Armstrong had also called upon him and purchased a quarter of pork, proffering in payment a cheque for $14 50, made out, as in Mrs. Dunsford's case, to Thos. Armstrong or order, and signed by Corry & Lavedure. Mr. Gosselin asked the man to endorse it, but he stated that he could not write. He made his mark, however, and Mr. Gosselin witnessed it and then gave him the change which was due.

Both cheques were negotiated at about seven o'clock Wednesday evening and directions were given in both instances for the goods purchased to be sent to No. 147 Wolfe street. When the prisoner was a resident of Peterborough some few years ago the last house occupied by him was No. 147 Wolfe street.

As stated, Wm. Ross is suspected of having passed the cheques, and a warrant has been issued charging him with that offence. It is stated that Ross was in Peterborough last week and went to Port Hope on the nine o'clock train on the night of Nov. 23rd. Chief Roszel was made acquainted with the facts of the case on the 25th and placed himself in communication with Chief Douglas of Port Hope. Ross was not in Port Hope then, and it is thought probably Chief Douglas has brought him in from some place

IN THE COUNTRY.

Ross was first known in this locality in November or December, 1896. He was "wanted" when Chief Roszel came to Peterborough first, and a warrant was out for him then on a forgery charge. He was brought here from Port Hope and found not guilty. Chief Roszel then took him up to Hamilton, where Chief McKinnon wanted him on a charge of committing a forgery in connection with the Grand Trunk Ry. He was sentenced to a year in the Central Prison on this charge, and was also wanted in Kingston in connection with similar charges, but this latter matter was allowed to drop. Two years ago he was arrested in Port Hope and again charged with forgery. He was let off on suspended sentence.

In September, 1897, the Peterborough police again had Ross in their hands, through his having forged a cheque on the Hamilton Bridge Works, which Company was erecting the superstructure of the new G.T.R. railway bridge at Auburn during that summer. Ross represented himself to be an employee of the company, and succeeded in cashing a cheque with Mr. J. D. Craig. Mr. Craig gave the cheque to Mr. Buller, and from him it went to Mr. W. B. Bamford, the latter sending it into the head office of the C.P.R. at Montreal. When presented for payment it was refused and was passed back through the various persons who had handled it until Mr. Craig was once more in possession of the cheque. Ross was then arrested and, being tried and convicted, was sentenced to two months in gaol by Judge Weller.

Along in 1896 and 1897 the prisoner resided in Peterborough, living on Lake, Aylmer and Wolfe streets, at different periods, with his family.

The career of Ross has been a chequered one. He is the son of an ex-M.P., has a brother in the bank of Toronto, another in the Penitentiary at Kingston, and his son is now in the Reformatory.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. (Judge) Weller.

Last night Mrs. Weller, wife of Judge Weller, passed away at the family residence, Reid street. It is well known that Mrs. Weller has been in ill health for about two and a half years. About two weeks ago her illness became very seriously aggravated with the result that death came last night, a fact that will be learned with deep regret by the entire community, where Mrs. Weller has passed forty-six years of her life. She was a daughter of the late Matthew Gilchrist, M. D., of Colborne, and a sister of Mrs. R. A. Morrow. She was united in marriage to Mr. Weller forty-six years ago and removed to Peterborough, where she has resided ever since, winning the highest respect for her estimable qualities of character. Two children were born to the union, Mr. Harry B. Weller, deceased, and a daughter, Mrs. Dean. Mrs. Weller was, during her residence in Peterborough, a regular attendant at St. John's church in her days of health. The funeral takes place from the family residence, Reid street, to-morrow (Friday) at 2 o'clock p. m. Service at St. John's church; interment in the Little Lake Cemetery.

Demise of Mr. Jacob Wingester, one of Ashburnham's Oldest Residents.

The death of Jacob Wingester, aged 76 years, took place yesterday at his late residence on Stewart street, Ashburnham.

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at 3.30 p.m. from his late residence in Ashburnham, interment being in the Little Lake Cemetery.

NORTH HASTINGS NOMINATION MADE.

MR. BYRON O. LOTT THE LIBERAL NOMINEE.

Chosen to Contest the Riding in the Bye-Election—A Large and Enthusiastic Convention—Addresses by the Candidate and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P.

A large and most enthusiastic convention of the Liberals of North Hastings was held at Madoc yesterday at two o'clock to nominate a candidate in the Liberal interests at the approaching bye-election.

Mr. Byron O. Lott was tendered the nomination with the utmost enthusiasm, and in a brief speech accepted it in the same hearty spirit in which it was offered.

At the conclusion of the nomination proceedings, the candidate and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., addressed the convention.

In the evening a largely attended meeting was held in the town hall, which was addressed by the same gentlemen, Mr. Lott dealing more with the local aspect of the contest, and Mr. Stratton dealing comprehensively with the general provincial issues now under discussion. The spirit of the meeting was excellent and the addresses were well received. Mr. Lott, the candidate of the Liberal party, is an energetic worker and a splendid campaigner, and he goes into the contest with the greatest prospects of being returned as a supporter of the Hardy Government.

WHERE IS "BOB?"

Mr. R. E. Beaubien is Sadly Needed in Buffalo, Where his Mother is Dying.

The appended paragraph, referring to Mr. "Bob," Beaubien, formerly in the employ of Mr. T. Fitzgerald, appears in the Toronto papers to-day:

The mother of R. E. Beaubien, a bicycle salesman somewhere in Toronto is dying at her home in Buffalo. The Chief of Police of Buffalo and relatives of Mrs. Beaubien have been making frantic efforts to find the son, who left Peterborough four days ago for Toronto. Mr Beaubien's name does not appear on the register of any of the leading hotels.

The statement that Mr. Beaubien left Peterborough on Monday to go to Buffalo is incorrect, as it is almost a month since he went up to Toronto from here, leaving in fact at the end of the bicycling season, he being in charge of that department of Mr. Fitzgerald's livery.

THE DAY AND A' WHA HONOUR IT.

The Sons of Scotland Banquet Last Evening.

A COMPREHENSIVE TOAST LIST.

A Pleasing Innovation Introduced in the Presence of Ladies at the Banquetting Board—An Appetising Menu.

The first annual banquet of Camp Clan Alpine, Sons of Scotland, was held last evening in the Sons of England hall, in celebration of St. Andrew's Day. Several hundred guests were present and the attendance of a large number of ladies lent an additional pleasure to the evening's enjoyment.

The decorations of the hall were the handiwork of Mr. Alf. Kingscote. The entire surface of the extensive ceiling was adorned with different patterns of tartan, crossed and re-crossed, and suspended and entwined in an expressive manner. The tartan plaid was contributed by Miss K. Radkins, who has on former occasions taken a warm interest in Scottish gatherings. Miss Radkins also presented the society with tartan button hole ribbon for the whole company, which was presented to each guest as they entered the hall.

Mr. Alex. Campbell, Chief of the Camp, occupied the chair, Mr. John Mathieson being vice-chairman. After all were seated at the banqueting board a blessing was invoked by Mr. Hamilton, after which Chief Campbell made a few remarks in reference to the Order, stating that although only organized five years the roll showed a membership of over five thousand and the reserve fund amounted to $26,000, which sum had accumulated during the past four years. He cordially invited all Scotchmen to identify themselves with the camp.

Miss Falconer then sang "Scots Wha Hae" with an accent so broad and pronounced and with so much taste and spirit as to greatly delight those present.

At the conclusion of the song the guests were invited to fall to, the appended attractive menu being furnished by Caterer Welsh:

Deep Sea Select Oysters.

Regrets were received and read as appended by the Secretary, Mr. Wm. Menzies:

Wm. Menzies, Esq., Chairman of Committee, Camp Clan Alpine of Sons of Scotland, Town:

DEAR SIR,—I regret exceedingly that a previous appointment prevents my being present at the 1st annual celebration of St. Andrew's Day under the auspices of Camp Clan Alpine, Sons of Scotland, to-morrow evening.

I promised two weeks ago to speak at Madoc on the afternoon and evening of the 30th, consequently my absence is unavoidable.

I trust that you will have an enjoyable evening and that the occasion will bring back to the assembled guests pleasant memories of the Old Land, which is not inconsistent with the sturdy loyalty to this their adopted country, which Scothsmen have done so much to make the best country in the world to live in.

We can be true to the past and still be true to the present and live up to the sentiment of Burns:

Be Britons still to Britain true,
Amang oursel's united,
For never but by British hands,
Maun British wrongs be righted.

Yours sincerely,
J. R. STRATTON.

Toronto, Nov. 29th, 1898.

Wm Menzies, Esq., Peterborough, Ont:

DEAR SIR.—I must thank you very much for your card and very kind invitation to attend the first annual celebration of Clan Alpine Camp S.O.S. in Peterborough, and I am indeed sorry I cannot be with you.

Yours truly,
D. M. ROBERTSON.

Peterborough, Nov. 30th, 1898.

DEAR MR. MENZIES,—I very much regret that previous engagements, over which I have no control, prevent me from being with you to-night.

Kindly convey to your presiding officer my best wishes for a very pleasant evening. I am,
Yours respectfully,
R. MAX DENNISTOUN.

27 Gilmour street,
PETERBOROUGH, Nov. 29th, 1898.

DEAR MR. MENZIES,—Since promising to recite at the St. Andrew's Day concert, my sister has become ill, and four days of nursing have made me very tired, and quite unfit to recite to-morrow evening.

I am sure I shall regret this more than the Sons of Scotland will, for this is the first time I have been unable to fill my engagement, and I dislike breaking my record; however, it is really through no fault of my own, so I think I deserve your sympathy rather than your censure.

Wishing you every success and hoping I shall not be missed.

I remain,
Yours sincerely,
ALMA FRANCES MCCOLLUM.

PETERBOROUGH, Nov. 30th, 1898.

Wm. Menzies, Esq., Town:

DEAR SIR,—I regret that circumstances prevent my being present with you to-night at your patriotic re-union. I trust that you may spend a pleasant evening and that the Sons of Scotland may prosper.

Yours truly,
G. M. ROGER.

THE TOAST LIST

was begun by the Chief proposing the health of the Queen, and the National Anthem was sung. Miss Falconer gave the song, "A Hielan' Man's Toast," after which Vice Chief John Mathison proposed the toast, "The Army, Navy and Volunteers," stating that the mere mention of the toast should stir the blood of all. He named in connection with the toast the names of Rev. J. G. Potter and Mr. Wm. Menzies. Mr. Potter suggested the name of Rev. R. M. Phelan of Nova Scotia, in his place, as he was down later on in the toast list. Mr. Phelan did full justice to the glorious trinity, enlarging especially on the feats of Canada's volunteers, as well as those of the regulars of the Imperial service. Mr. Menzies expressed the opinion that after such a spirited address by the previous speaker he would not attempt to make any remarks.

Mr. Walter Stocker's fine rendition of "Rule Britannia" was well received.

The toast of His Excellency the Governor General of Canada—Earl of Minto; the House of Commons; and the Ontario Legislature was proposed by Mr. Wm. Menzies and responded to by Mr. F. D. Kerr, whose witty preliminary remarks and eloquent reference to the toast were fully appreciated.

Mr. Alex. Smith's comic song brought him a hearty encore.

Mrs. T. W. Martin's very sweet rendition of "I love my love" received the hearty applause which it so richly deserved being sung with great taste and marked expression.

Mr. Charles Cameron proposed the toast of "The Day and A' Wha Honour it," and reminded those present that at the the same hour tens of thousands of Scotchmen were gathered together with the same object in view in honouring the day. He called upon Rev. J. G. Potter to respond to the toast. Mr. Potter referred to the name which the Scotch had earned for and claimed that they were also distinguished for their strong feeling of loyalty and brotherhood. His subsequent remarks on the characteristics of the race were listened to with great interest.

"Scotland Yet" was sung as a solo in a very spirited manner by Miss Weddell, rousing the audience to liberal applause. Mr. J. J. Turner, jr.'s, rendition of "The Dear Old Home" was also well received.

Dr. Carmichael proposed the toast of "The Mayor and Town Council of the town of Peterborough," making at the same time a drive at the city fathers for the present condition of the streets.

In responding the Mayor referred to the harmony which had existed in the council during the past year. Concerning the streets Mr. Davis stated that it would have been of no use to scrape the streets as this would simply have been following out the old policy of building up the streets and then carrying off the material in the way of mud. Next year when the new roller was purchased the streets would be put in good shape and kept in proper repair. Other municipal matters of interest were also touched upon.

Mr. C. N. Bell was then gave one of his inimitable Irish readings, which evoked much merriment.

"Our Guests and Sister Societies" was proposed by Mr. Wm. Menzies, and responded to by Messrs. Thos. Cahill, D. Kennedy, R. Fair, Mr. Cressman and V. Eastwood.

Miss Falconer was then called upon for another selection and sang "Along the auld Scotch songs," with great expression and feeling.

The toast of "The Ladies" was proposed by Mr. Alex. Smith and duly honoured. It was responded to by Mr. Alf. Terrill and Mr. F. D. Kerr.

A Scotch selection was given by Mr. Alf. Kingscotte with spirit and feeling.

Mr. Alex. Miller's concertina solo was most cleverly executed.

The toast of "The Press" was the last on the list and was responded to by the representatives present. Mr. Henry Bowie, of Young's Point, greatly delighted the guests by singing "Allister McAllister."

The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

CONCLUSION OF THE BUSINESS.

The Alimony Case of Sutton vs Sutton —Thirty Days of Grace.

The concluding case on the docket was speedily disposed of.

SUTTON VS. SUTTON.

This was an action in which Martha Sutton seeks to obtain an order on her husband, Edward Sutton of Cavan, for alimony, claiming that she cannot live with the said Edward Sutton, on account of being put to shame by the latter clandestinely meeting Minnie Stewart of Ashburnham and committing adultery with her. Defendant denies statement of plaintiff, and offers her a home with him if she will return. When the case was called the defendant did not appear, and he was granted thirty days in which to furnish an affidavit on production, and in default, judgment for the plaintiff will follow with reference to the local Master to fix the amount to which she is entitled.

Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson for the plaintiff; E B. Edwards for defendant.

This concluded the business of the Assizes, and the Court rose.

Owing to pressure on space yesterday it was impossible to give any extended reference to the case of Hall vs. Hall. The plaintiffs in this case are Robt. Hall, J. J. Lundy and F. L Robinson, and they seek to set aside a transfer of property made by Robt. Hall to Adam Hall and to enforce an agreement signed by Adam Hall, as follows:—

Memorandum of agreement made in duplicate this twenty-ninth day of December, A.D. 1896, between Robert Hall, of the town of Peterborough, in the county of Peterborough, of the first part; and Adam Hall, of the town of Peterborough, in the county of Peterborough, merchant, of the second part: Whereas the said Robert Hall is indebted to J. J. Lundy under a certain promissory note in the sum of $300.22; And whereas the said Robert Hall is indebted to the said J. J. Lundy under a certain promissory note, endorsed by F. L. Robinson, for the sum of $500.00; And whereas the said Robert Hall is unable to pay his debts in full and is about to make an assignment for the general benefit of his creditors. Now this memorandum witnesseth, that the said party of the second part agrees with the said party of the first part that he, the said party of the second part will see truly guaranteed unto the said party of the first part, that the said notes for the sum of $300.22 and $500 respectively shall be well and truly paid in full to the said John J. Lundy at the end of one year from the date thereof, with all interest which may have accrued upon said notes at the rate of seven per centum per annum. The said party of the first part hereby agrees with the said party of the second part that on payment of the said notes by the said party of the second part to the said John J. Lundy, that he, the said party of the first part shall well and truly repay the amount of said notes to the said party of the second part, together with the interest which may have accrued thereon as aforesaid. It is expressly understood and agreed that this agreement is to be of full force and effect, as well in the event of the said party of the first part being unable to pay his debts in full under the said proposed assignment for the general benefit of his creditors as in the event of a composition deed being executed by the said creditors of the said party of the first part.

The defendant claims that Robert Hall was indebted to him in the sum of $20,717 40; that he was entitled to set off this indebtedness against the claims arising from the agreement. The Chancellor gave judgment for plaintiff to the amount of the claim represented by the agreement, with interests and costs, with a set-off in favour of Adam Hall against the plaintiff, Robt. Hall, for the amount of his claim and costs. Reference to the Master to fix the amount of the set-off in case the parties do not agree.

Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson and Geo. Watson, Q.C., for plaintiffs; Stratton & Hall and E. J. B. Johnston, Q.C., for defendant.

BIBLE CLASS SOCIAL.

And Other Items of Interest in Connection with Association Work.

Last evening the members of the two senior departments of the Bible Training Classes of the Y.M.C.A. united in a social hour at the close of the regular class session, some fifteen young men being present, representing both classes, and a most profitable time was spent.

The Y.M.C.A. has recognised the importance of Bible study, and the aim of these classes is to train Christian young men so that they may be instrumental in leading their fellows to accept the gift of eternal life.

Mr. T. H. Martin leads the beginners' class and Mr. Williamson the advanced class. Similar classes are conducted among the boys on Sunday morning led by Messrs. McLeod and McGowan.

The definite results that have already attended the efforts of the members of the training classes are highly gratifying.

GRATIFYING RECOGNITION.

Belts of all sorts of decorative designs are still in fashionable demand. Those made of velvet are embroidered in a fine pattern or have applique motifs of lace secured by a line of waved braid. Plain satin or heavy faille belts are seen, but these are enriched by elaborate clasps and slides. A novelty is the "chatelaine" belt, which does not in this case imply a mass of dangling, chinking ornaments suspended at the side, but merely a waistband composed of fine gold, silver or steel chains which are connected at intervals by jeweled crossbars.

Buckles, buttons and other metallic and begummed ornaments have taken a new lease of life from the revival of the fashion of trimming bodices, skirts and even wraps with little tabs and straps. The buttons and buckles employed to fasten these straps are small by preference, but of fine quality, and will enrich a gown which would otherwise have a plain aspect.

A great diversity is seen in the season's millinery, some being quite stiff and severe in trimming, while some is covered with complicated decoration. Many of the felt alpine hats are almost as plainly finished as a man's hat, but choux, stiff feathers and even drapery are also used.

The cut shows a tailor made gown of noisette cloth. The skirt, which is irregularly cut around the foot, shows a lower skirt of dull red taffeta, which also appears as a panel at the side, the cloth portion being secured at the top by large ornamental buttons. The close plain bodice of cloth has a short basque and buttons over at the right side. There is absolutely no trimming, except the finish of rows of silk stitching. JUDIC CHOLLET.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundreth doctor can unless he prescribes for it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. POKER PLAYED BY A DREAM.

The Player Uncertain if Fate Slipped a Cog or if He Is a Chump.

"Brown always swore he wasn't superstitious," said Brown's friend, "but I've seen him twist his second finger around his first when he met a cross eyed man, and I know he has conscientious scruples against going under a ladder. The fact that he occasionally gets up and circles around his chair three times while playing poker may not prove anything, but any man who will lay down a good hand on account of a dream is open to suspicion, and that's what Brown did.

"It seems that Brown dreamed one night of having a tilt with Smith. Smith opened a jackpot, and Brown just hipped him once for luck. He held the eight, nine, ten and jack of clubs, so he had chances of filling either a straight or a flush. Smith drew one card—in the dream—and Brown of course did likewise. He pulled the queen of clubs. Smith seemed to have bettered, too, and they had a nice little tilt. When Smith called, he showed an ace full to kings, and Brown woke up just as he was raking in the pile.

"Well, it happened that a few evenings after this Brown and Smith were in the same game, and after awhile Brown opened a pot with aces and kings. The rest dropped out, all but Smith, and he raised the limit. Brown made good, and each man drew a card. Brown got a third ace, and Smith seemed to be pretty well satisfied with the draw. Then Brown remembered his dream. He held exactly the hand that Smith had held in the dream, and he broke out in a cold perspiration.

"'Dreams go by contraries,' he thought to himself, 'and it's a cinch that Smith has got my straight flush.' Then he bets a white chip, and Smith came back at him with a limit raise, and the limit was pretty high. That blooming fool Brown hesitated for a minute and then laid down his hand with a sickly smile. 'Your straight flush beats my hand,' he said. 'How did you know I had a straight flush?' asked Smith, surprised. Then Brown told about the dream, and Smith laughed fit to kill himself. 'There's your dream hand,' he said as he laid it out. The eight, nine, ten and jack of clubs were there all right, but the fifth card was the seven of spades.

"Of course Brown swore, but as the matter stands now he doesn't figure out just where he's at. Those two hands came so close to the dream that he can't settle it in his mind whether fate slipped a cog that once or whether he was a chump. But I know what Smith thinks."—New York Sun.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, appraising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000 which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 90
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the lowering rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

The artist who is in search of attitudes descriptive of torture, and poses depicting suffering, need not go to the Christian martyrs of old. If he could only see through the walls into tens of thousands of homes all over this land, he would see women undergoing tortures in silence without complaining, before which the brief ordeals of the martyrs pale into nothingness.

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangement of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. One of the worst effects of troubles of this kind is upon the nervous system. The tortures so bravely endured completely and effectually shatter the nerves. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing cure for all weakness and disease of the feminine organism. It makes it strong and healthy. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It checks exhausting drains and tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Good medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

"Since my last child was born, thirteen years ago, I have suffered from uterine trouble," writes Mrs. Paul Devraine, of Jellico, Campbell Co., Tenn. "I consulted several doctors and took much medicine, but found no relief. I had very bad health for twelve years. Every month I was in bed a week before the monthly period and a week after. I was obliged to keep in bed for four months last summer. I was just like a corpse. I lost twenty-six pounds in four months. I was coughing so much I was considered in consumption. I suffered severely from pains in my back, bearing down pains in the womb, chills and cold sweats. After taking four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery my coughing stopped, and after six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription my periods became regular and were passed without pain. Now I am fleshy, more so than ever before. My neighbors are surprised to see me in such good health after having seen me so low."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is speedily cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

WINTER STYLES.

Materials and Ornamentation Now Most Highly Favored.

An appearance of elaboration is very simply obtained in some of the winter gowns now to be seen. Bodices and skirts are now most frequently of the same material, but the bodice, with the exception of the sleeves, is often smoothly covered with openwork, all over embroidery or heavy guipure, the interstices being large enough to allow the material beneath to be clearly discerned. Woolen gowns are thus treated with excellent effect, the return to tight fitting bodices simplifying the arrangement very much.

The revival of the redingote is an accomplished fact, and now modistes are outdoing each other in attempts to modify and vary the originally simple and elegant model. The new redingotes are cut and slashed in all sorts of curious ways and open in unexpected places to display vests and panels of contrasting materials.

Very rich materials, such as heavy, thick silks with a broche, embroidered or otherwise enriched surface; velvets, both plain and fancy, and silky cloth and other beautiful woolen goods are most in demand this season, as is usually the case when close fitting styles prevail. The princess gown is the gown par excellence for the display of such fabrics, which demand little trimming, but require an unbroken surface for a full exhibition of their beauty.

The cut shows a costume of jacqueminot red taffeta, the plain, slightly trailing skirt being covered with five graduated skirts of black mousseline de soie, bordered with cabochons of jet. The tight taffeta bodice is covered, inversely in a similar way, a slight embroidery of jet surrounding the collar. The taffeta sleeves are plain. The toque of jacqueminot red velvet is trimmed with black and white feathers and a jeweled ornament.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervous ness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

THE MODE.

Corsages, Skirts and Accessories For the Coming Season.

Short, tight jackets and boleros entirely of fur are to be worn when cold weather arrives, and there will also be seen costumes of cloth opening over tablliers, panels and plastrons of fur.

Boas of gray, white or black plumage are still fashionable. They are just long enough to pass around the neck and be fastened at the waist in front.

Ruffled skirts are seen in increasing numbers; nevertheless they are not obligatory as a condition of a fashionable appearance. Many plain skirts are still worn, for women are loath to relinquish them, they are so graceful and comfortable. They are closely fitted about the top, but flare around the foot, forming more or less marked undulations, but are quite without stiffening of any kind.

The toreador cravat accompanies all sorts of costumes and is made quite elaborate by the addition of valuable lace. Plaid velvet or taffeta is the preferred material for these cravats.

The picture given today shows a costume of gray cloth. The skirt is quite plain. Over it is a princess tunic, which fastens down the side with groups of ornamental buttons. The edges of the tunic are cut in narrow tabs, which are laid over a broad bias band of white satin. The single revers is of ruby velvet with applications of ecru guipure, and the valois collar matches it. The close collar and the plastron are of plain ruby velvet, as are the turned back cuffs, which are edged like the tunic. The hat of black felt is trimmed with black plumes and gray taffeta.

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Gerrard street, east, who has been restored to vigourous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of misery from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

THE FRIGATE PELICAN.

It Is a Small Bird With an Enormous Stretch of Wing.

The frigate pelican, or man-of-war bird, is usually found between the tropics. Although when stripped of its feathers it is hardly larger than a pigeon, yet no man can touch at the same time the tips of its extended wings. The long wing bones are exceedingly light, and the whole apparatus of air cells is extremely developed, so that its real weight is very trifling. It flies at a great height above the water, and from that elevation pounces down on fish, especially preferring the poor, persecuted flying fish for its prey.

According to some authors, the name of man-of-war bird was given to it because its appearance was said to foretell the coming of a ship; probably because the frigate pelican and real frigates are equally averse to storms, and both like to come into harbor if the weather threatens. Under the throat of the frigate pelican is a large pouch, of a deep red color, which can be distended with air at the pleasure of the bird. The pouch is larger and of a more brilliant red in the male than in his consort, and the general plumage of the female is not so bright as that of the male.

Although its swiftness of wing and general activity enable it to snatch a fish from the surface of the water or to pounce upon the flying fish before it can again seek the protection of its native element, yet it too often uses its powers in robbing other birds of their lawful prey. It is enabled, in some mysterious way, to find its way home by night, even though it may be 400 or 500 miles from land. The length of the male bird is three feet and the expanse of wing eight feet.

Two Successes.

An honest exchange of compliments is always an agreeable thing. A New England minister recently married had desired one of his neighbors to secure a horse to be driven in the new phaeton which, the clergyman had bought with a view to his bride's pleasure.

The minister's wife made her first appearance at church on the Sunday after the wedding and was approved by the entire congregation for her sweet face and simple manner.

The next afternoon the minister took his bride to drive, and, passing his neighbor on the road, he stopped to say pleasantly:

"You bought us a very good horse, and we thank you for that, Mr. Wilson."

"You're welcome," said the parishioner, with gravity, "and you've chosen an excellent minister's wife, sir, which is about as difficult. The whole parish thanks you for that."—Youth's Companion.

A STARTLED OLD SALT.

The Bloomin Surprise That His Convict Crew Prepared For Him.

Thomas Haydon, in his "Sporting Reminiscences," tells a story of Australia that will bear transplanting. There was an old salt—a semigovernment official—who used to make a considerable sum of money by piloting vessels up the river, and the boat be set off in was manned by a convict crew. His first inquiry of a morning would be, "Any ships in sight?" If the answer was "No, sir," then would come a volley of oaths, and he would call them "lazy landlubbers" and tell them they were too infernally lazy to keep a lookout.

One of the convicts suggested to his mates that if he could sneak the "oleun's" telescope he should see ships right enough. The opportunity offered and the telescope was sneaked sure enough and a ship in full sail was painted on the glass at the end. It was then replaced in the locker. Next day the "ole un's" temper was, if anything, worse than ever.

"No ships, you lazy scoundrels?" was his greeting.

"No, sir."

"Here, No. 4, give me my telescope."

"Ay, ay, sir," and the telescope was duly handed up to him.

Raising it to his eye, he said, in a tone of intense surprise:

"Why, here's a ship," and then, looking to another point of the compass, said, "and there's a ship." And again scanning the horizon, he said, "By heavens, the bloomin ocean's full of ships." Then turning round to see if smoke was coming from his cottage chimney—an indication that his breakfast was being prepared—he exclaimed, as he again raised his telescope, "By the Lord Harry, there's a bloomin ship on the top of my chimney!"—London Sporting Life.

Back of the Moon.

Speaking with strict accuracy, instead of presenting an unchanged face toward us, the moon appears to be never still, but always rocking backward or forward, falling toward us or away from us, and by the amount of these variations—small, it is very true—regions of the hemisphere turned away from us are disclosed. They are placed unhappily in the situation best calculated to defeat curiosity. We are permitted to take just a glimpse of "the other side," but to bring away only the minimum of information as to its condition.

Perhaps it is rash to say we shall never know more of the "other side" of the moon, so marvelous have been the recent advances in astronomy. Some day perhaps new discoveries after the manner of Roentgen rays may enable us to get a photograph through the moon. Short of that, we must needs wait for some stray visitor from outer space to come into collision with the moon and turn it round, in order to enable us to satisfy our curiosity, and patience may well be stimulated by the knowledge that the results of such a collision, should it ever occur, would in all probability be not less disastrous to the earth than to the moon itself.—Windsor Magazine.

ROBERT WEIR

THE CYNIC.

A marriage may sometimes be a failure, but a funeral is always a success.

Every girl ought to have a brother of two to take the conceit out of her.

When a woman marries, she dearly loves to think she has thrown herself away.

Take a picture of a crowd, and the ugliest ones will always show up in front.

When a man is going to ask you for something, the first thing he does is to shake your hand.

Was there ever a woman so good that she was truthful in her warmth in inviting friends to visit her?

Some women do not love children because they have not been thrown in contact with a widower who has several.

If a woman catches cold wearing a thin dress to a reception, her husband escapes public censure, but if she catches it hanging out clothes, all but his dearest friends stop speaking to him.—Atchison Globe.

Deceived By a Song.

On one occasion while Emma Thursby was stopping in Cologne she was invited by Dr. Ferdinand Hiller to come to his house and sing a nightingale song which he had written especially for her voice. The aria was florid and of great compass and filled with exceedingly brilliant cadenzas. Miss Thursby had not sung more than half a dozen bars when she was surprised to hear an almost identical performance in an adjoining room. Hiller clapped his hands delightedly, but the secret of his pleasure was a mystery to Miss Thursby. He then told her that the screened singer was his favorite nightingale, whose song he had tried to imitate in his own composition.—Concert Goer.

"SLEEP LIKE A CHILD."

Sweet Refreshing Sleep Comes to those who use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

It is impossible for those whose nervous system is shattered, and whose heart action is weak, to get undisturbed and refreshing slumber. Their sleep is broken into by terrible dreams, startings, Smothering Spells, Sinking Sensations, and fear of impending death.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, bring back the much-needed night's rest, by improving the tone of the nerves, strengthening the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organization act in harmony—then you sleep peaceful as a child.

Mrs. E. Coburn, of Blenheim, Ont., suffered severely for many years, but Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have cured her. Here is her statement:

"When I commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills my heart troubles were very bad.

"I could get but little sleep because of the terrible smothering sensation, and was also weak and run down. I have taken three boxes of these wonderful pills. They relieved my heart trouble, enabled me to get restful sleep, removed the smothering sensation, and made me feel better than I have for years. I have been treated by a number of well-known and skillful physicians, both in Michigan and Canada, but Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only medicine which has acted well in my case, and I heartily commend their use to any person suffering as I did."

HOCKEY

Chief Rossal to-day received a communication from A. J. Cawdon, of the Department of Justice, Ottawa, stating that the Aberdeen Hockey Club intends making a tour of the province, and asking the names of the principal hotels and their rates. The letter was "franked" from the Department and as the chief did not see any reason why he should be called upon to pay for his letter, in reply he simply addressed it to Mr. Cawdon, and dropped it into the box without a stamp. It would be a poor rule which would not work both ways.

THE OBSEQUIES

Of the Late Miss Catharine Pope—Beautiful Floral Tributes.

The funeral of the late Catharine Pope took place this morning from the residence of her father, Rubidge street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, where a requiem mass was sung by Rev. Father O'Sullivan.

The funeral was largely attended, especially by the many young friends of the deceased. Amongst the beautiful floral tributes laid on the coffin was a particularly handsome cross from the Catholic Literary Association, of which organization the brother of Miss Pope is a member.

The pallbearers were Messrs. F. Young, J. Wyer, A. LeHane, Jos. Kelly, J. Desmaird and J. Donoghue.

Interment took place in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

KENNE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

J. C. Brown, P.S.I., paid our schools an official visit on Monday and Tuesday.

The Thanksgiving social in connection with the Methodist parsonage fund was in every way a success.

Miss Margaret Campbell spent Thanksgiving with her brother in Kingston.

Quite a number of the young folks of Laing were the guests of Mr. Wm. Spiers on Thanksgiving evening, speculating in the doubtful results of a taffy pull.

That certain nuisances exist in the evenings' about our village corners, in the form of unmanly young men, became painfully apparent on Monday evening last, when our quiet and peace-loving village was turned into a wild west cowboy resort on pay day. These young colts, whose bumps of combativeness is so thoroughly developed, should know that they are disturbing the public peace and will be compelled to learn, by caution or punishment, that such conduct will not be tolerated in Christian society. When this uncontrolable impulse comes upon they should all take a walk for the long swamp, about six miles out, and probably when they reach it the feeling will have worn away, and if not, why bury themselves among the bushes and indulge to their hearts' content in their pugilistic manœuvres, where the nuisance will do no harm.

There is beauty and delight in soft, fluffy, cosy Furs and they are the most endering of all earth's wearingapparel as well.

But the beauty is often marred by poor workmanship, style or finish, and the wear is often shortened by using poor qualities of Fur skins, or not having them properly dressed, dyed or sewn.

The Methodists had a tea and entertainment in the town hall on Thanksgiving evening, which was largely attended, the receipts being about $75. Excellent speeches were delivered by Rev. S. J. Shorey, of Peterborough, and Rev. W. Harrison, of Bridgenorth, while the choir rendered several anthems in a very pleasing style. Rev. T. J. Edmison, the pastor, occupied the chair in his usual happy manner.

Dr. Langtry, of Toronto, preached an excellent sermon on "Missions," at St. John's church on Sunday morning.

On Monday evening we had the pleasure of listening to the missionary work being done in India by Rev. R. Bateman, who has lately returned from the Punjaub, India. His address was very interesting and was illustrated by several pathetic tales, which should create a more missionary spirit in those who had the privilege and pleasure of hearing him. The thanks of the parish was tendered him by Rev. Geo. Warren.

A song recital and entertainment was given in the town hall on Monday evening by Mme. Rosa D'Erina, assisted by Mr. G. R. Vontom. The concert was an excellent one and would have been more largely attended had there not been other attractions. We can safely promise Mme. D'Erina that, should she again favour a Lakefield audience, it will be to a crowded house. It has seldom been our privilege to enjoy a greater treat than the programme presented on that occasion.

PONTON AND MACKIE.

The Accused Men Testify in Their Own Behalf.

THE EVIDENCE CONCLUDED.

Expert Safe Men Bowl Over Many of the Theories Held by the Public About Safes and Vaults—Strong Evidence of Ponton's Good Character—Mr. Holman's Address.

Napanee, Dec. 2.—After a siege of eight days, working on the eight-hour day system, the evidence in the famous bank robbery case is all in, and the court labored nine hours yesterday to enable leading counsel for the defence to conclude his address to the jury. In all, 107 witnesses have been examined, 49 for the Crown and 67 for the defence.

To-day will see the finish.

When the court resumed at 9 o'clock yesterday, Mr. Gravelle's cross-examination was proceeded with. Mr. Osler questioned the witness re the demonstrations he had made the evening before, and elicited that one was made on the 15 point of difference between the second and third wheels and the other to the play of the slots.

Q.—In the locks which you have opened, to what extent have you depended on the simplicity of the numbers? A.—Seventy-five per cent.

To Mr. Osler he said that he could open a four-wheeled combination on three numbers. The combination of the bank safe was the simplest in the whole list, and could be opened on three numbers. He used his sense of touch and hearing.

R. D. Miles, the safe expert of St. Paul, Minn., testified that he had opened many combinations without any knowledge of the numbers. The longest time it had ever taken him to work a combination was 58 hours, and he had opened them in 10 minutes. He operated on a system, and was not guided by sound or feel.

E. H. Roberts of the Beaver Lock Works, Toronto, had opened many of the three-wheel combinations in his day. He did not work on any system, but he got there by sheer bullheadedness.

Hope McGuiness of Belleville, while in Rochester on July 5, 1897, purchased a bicycle lamp, which he gave to Ponton on his return.

Herbert Allen, Belleville, testified that he was with the previous witness at Rochester, and remembered the purchase of the bicycle lamp. It was a 20th century lamp.

Ponton in the Box.

W. H. Ponton then took the stand. He said he was 26 years of age. He had heard the witnesses, Pare and Holden, testify, and there was no truth in their statements in regard to him. He declared that he had never seen the key impressions on the slip of paper until he saw them in court, and had never made an impression on paper or any other substance, or impression of the key of Mr. Baines' compartment. He told of the bonds and of the specification slip of cash known as a "borderau," produced at the first preliminary hearing. He specifically denied that he had ever told any outsider about the bonds or divulged the amount of cash in the bank on any particular nights. He had an I.O.U. in the cash, and the reason he increased the due bill from $30 to $35 was due to an error in cash, he thought, as he frequently covered it in that way in the hope that the mistake would be discovered in a day or so. He had never said anything to Durand about his dog, other than to request him to keep the dog and he would take him out in the fall and learn him to hunt. The witness spent his evenings playing baseball or lawn tennis.

On the forenoon of the 27th of August he left the bank first, leaving Baines and Green there. That evening he lighted the gas in the bank after tea, and retired to bed at 11.45. There was nobody in his room when he went in at night, and he did not leave it until 8 o'clock the next morning.

Ponton then detailed his movements on the night the robbery was discovered.

Q.—Where were you first interviewed by the detectives, and when? A.—In Mr. Baines' office on the Monday following the robbery. He gave them all the information they asked for. He was interviewed in his room by Detectives Wilkes and Greer and Mr. Bogart about a week after the burglary. It lasted all the forenoon. From that time forth he was frequently interviewed, about a dozen times in all. On one occasion Detective Dougherty wanted to search him, but he drew the line at that. He was questioned about his finances till the subject became threadbare, and then he offered to make out a statement for Mr. Bogart. The interviews usually took place in either Detective Wilkes' or Dougherty's rooms.

On the 23rd of September he gave up the key to his rooms to Detectives Wilkes and Dougherty, as they said they wanted to experiment with sounds. In the afternoon of Sept. 23rd the witness and Detective Dougherty visited his rooms, and the detective made a search of his stuff. He left the key with Dougherty, and went to Belleville that evening, not returning until the following afternoon.

Q.—When was this piece of paper containing the key impression said to have been found in your room? A.—The following forenoon, when I was absent in Belleville.

Q.—Did they tell you about it? A.—I was never spoken to about the paper.

Q.—When did you first see the prisoners Holden and Pare? A.—I saw Pare in the jailyard and Holden in the corridor.

He was in the habit of sending home money to his mother.

Q.—Had you anything to do with the burglary of the Dominion Bank in Napanee in any way, shape or form? A.—No, sir.

He remembered the 24th of April, and the week of the 27th, and had heard witnesses who testified as to his movements and confirmed their statements.

Mr. Holman asked him questions as to the statements Pare and Holden had made, to all of which he gave a specific denial.

Ponton's Reputation.

Rev. Mr. Farley, a white-haired clergyman, said he knew Billy Ponton when he was a baby. "I always called him a very nice boy, beautifully trained. His character and reputation I have always looked upon as the very best."

The witness, who had charge of the Catholic parish in Belleville for 28 years, said, as he stepped down: "Mr. Ponton's as incapable of robbing a bank as I am myself."

In Mr. Osler's Hands.

To Mr. Osler Witness Ponton detailed the amount of his receipts and disbursements; said he used to attend the races and that he played poker for small amounts; that Jack Jellett had loaned him $25 in 1896 when he left Toronto; he did not let Homer Christie overdraw his account contrary to the manager's instructions; he had Mr. Baines' consent to the due bill in the bank; he could not say what he had used the amount for; he refused to give Mr. Bogart an oral statement of his private cash, because he was being badgered about it; he had not told Mr. Bogart that he had saved up $80 before he left Toronto, but to Mr. Porter before the enquiry; he had it by him when he borrowed the $35.

In the afternoon, to Mr. Osler, Mr. Ponton again went over his finances; then he said he was in the bank on Aug. 27 at 7 o'clock at night, and he was first in the next morning; he was accustomed to enter his rooms from the back window; he then described his rooms, and witness said articles of furniture in Pare's plan were correctly indicated.

To Mr. Porter witness said Pare's description of the room and that of Dougharty were identical; the first thing the detective saw when he entered the room was the hunting knife; he got $50 cash bonus since coming to Napanee; his expenditures were ordinary, not extraordinary; he was not in the habit of drinking to excess; most of his clothing was sent him from relatives in the Old Country; he had tried to save the $80 as a nest egg; he found, however, that he had to break into it, and then it dwindled away; Jellett's loan was finally paid; the poker game he played on 15 cents.

On being asked why he did not put his saved money in the bank, witness said: "I would never get a raise if they knew I had money drawing interest." The reason he would give no more oral statements was because Mr. Bogart differed with him as to the words of a former conversation.

To Mr. Osler the witness said that $25 of the bonus went to mining stock, $30 for a bicycle, and the last of Jellett's loan was paid. And Billy Ponton sat down.

Mackie in the Box.

An added stir was aroused when Robert Mackie took the stand. Mr. W. G. Wilson took charge. The witness said that Pare and Holden's stories about his connection with the bank robbery were false. He first saw Pare in the court room. He saw Holden in the jail corridors. He was not with the two jailbirds in the summer of 1897. All connection with any of the stories of Holden and Pare were denied in toto. The drive in the winter was dismissed with, "Oh! There's nothing in that!" His toes had never been frozen. As to Margaret French's testimony, the witness said the tools he had at home were ordinary household tools. His story on this point was similar to his wife's. The letter to Durand was denied. The witness said that when he was in Toronto in July he told Margaret that Sarah was causing trouble in his home in Belleville. He was treated coldly. The witness spoke of his arrest.

"Were inducements held out to you?" asked Mr. Wilson.

"I object," said Mr Osler, and the question was dropped. He corroborated the testimony given in his behalf by his own witnesses.

To Mr. Osler the witness said he had certain tools in his house. He had no brace and bit. He did not want to say that he was denying everything tending to bring him into the offence, but questioning admitted it. He had $216 when he was arrested. He had also $40 or $50 of race pool tickets. He had had that money but a few days.

His movements were gone over for the past two years. He wanted his note book. He had known a Jack Roach. His picture was shown. It was a strange face.

"Did you ever see the man, advancing before?" asked Mr. Osler, when Mr. Haines of Montreal, a detective, came forward. The witness thought perhaps Mr. Haines was the man who had had a chat with him in April, 1896, about Roach.

To Mr. Wilson the witness said that he was home when Haines called. Haines was drunk, and told the witness Jack Roach, in Kingston, wanted to see him. The witness was arrested that night.

John B. Flint, police magistrate in Belleville, testified to the excellent character of Billy Ponton. He was popular and well liked.

Miss Margaret French was put in the box by the Crown in rebuttal. The witness said she wrote to Mrs. Mackie, asking for money to go away so she could not give testimony against Bobbie. Letters from Mrs. Mackie threatening the witness were produced. They were objected to by Mr. Holman. Half an hour was spent in arguing the matter, and another arising out of it. Mr. Osler agreed not to press it, and Miss French went down.

Joseph Haycock, sr., recalled the time when Detective Hodgins interviewed his son.

"I object," said Mr. Porter, and witness was cut short. Again legal technicalities were on the boards. The judge quoted Latin, Mr. Porter quoted a case and Joseph Haycock, sr., did not continue his evidence.

Detective Greer contradicted the evidence of one Davidson of Tweed given Wednesday.

High Constable Sills corroborated Greer's story.

The last witness for the defence, Mr. Hill, manager of the Dominion Bank, was called to produce certain documents. He produced them, among them being the written combinations of the safe and vault.

Mr. Holman to the Jury.

Mr. Holman at once began his address to the jury. He spoke for Mackie. After recounting the different trials in this now notorious case, adverted to the reward Pare and Holden would get for turning Queen's evidence. He characterized them as moral monstrosities and accomplices in crime. The law said they should pay no attention to the evidence of accomplices unless corroborated. They wanted opportunity to enjoy the $32,000, and so they confessed and attempted to fasten the blame on others that they might enjoy immunity. The whole case was the product of Pare and Holden, Wilkes and Dougherty, and in closing he made a strong appeal for his client.

The court adjourned.

A WOMAN HACKED TO DEATH.

Horrible Crime at New Westminster, British Columbia.

Vancouver, Dec. 2.—A horrible murder took place at New Westminster last night. A young woman recently arrived from Australia, named Jennie Anderson, was to have been married on arriving here, but, through some reason not yet disclosed, her young man declined to wed the girl after her paying her passage out. Yesterday the murdered girl, who had led an abandoned life since she found herself alone and friendless, went over to a well-known sporting house, where a man named Perior, who had paid her a good deal of attention, followed and met her. The inmates heard them quarrelling bitterly, and then heard the woman screaming. When Perior came out, covered with blood, he exclaimed, "I made a sure job." Jennie Anderson was found on the bed literally hacked to pieces and stone dead. Perior, who was arrested, is but 20 years old.

The Murderer in Court.

Don Perior, the New Westminster murderer, was charged with his crime yesterday morning, but was not asked to plead. He rose and wanted to make a statement, but as he had no counsel, Magistrate Gorbould, in the interests of the prisoner, which British justice always safeguards, refused to hear him, and an adjournment was made until Monday next.

Severe Headaches

Resulting from Catarrh Cause Great Suffering

The Great Blood Purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Sufferers from any disease caused by impure blood should never be discouraged about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla because other medicines have failed to give relief. Remember Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. Read this statement:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I think it my duty to let you know what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I was suffering with severe headaches daily and also with catarrh. One day a paper was left at my house and in looking it over I read of your great medicine's value to my fellow sufferers. I reasoned that if it cured them, why would it not cure me, although I must own I had some doubts about it, as I

Had Tried So Many

so-called cures which had failed even to relieve me. At last I procured a bottle and after taking all the medicine the headaches had left me and my catarrh trouble was much better. I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and have derived so much benefit from it that I would advise any one troubled with impure blood to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. I feel better now than I have for years, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. E. Grey, 27 St. Nicholas St., Toronto, Ontario. Remember

HINTS AS TO THE CURING OF CHEESE.

A PRACTICAL AND IMPORTANT LECTURE ON THE SUBJECT.

Mr. J. W. Mitchell of the Dairy Commissioners' Staff Visits the Cheese Factories—Practical Hints on Cheese Curing—How to Properly Arrange a Curing Room.

Mr. J. W. Mitchell of the staff of Prof. Robertson, Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture and Darying, who was in this district last week, inspecting the curing rooms in the cheese factories and giving addresses as to their improvement, writes the following letter to the Examiner on the subject:

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Much has been done towards the educating and training of the patrons of our cheese factories to supply a better quality of milk, also, through lectures by our leading dairymen, the distribution of dairy literature, and the efficient work of the factory inspectors and dairy schools. Our cheese inspectors have been afforded good opportunities and have not been slow to embrace them, to become proficient in their work. As a consequence we are making a finer quality of cheese than formerly and still continue to lead in the British markets.

But notwithstanding these facts we are suffering heavy losses annually on account of much of our cheese not reaching the high standard of excellence that it might; and this is traceable to a large extent to the defective condition of the curing rooms in our cheese factories.

Let us not forget that cheese is not made by the time that it

ENTERS THE CURING ROOM.

It is then only pressed curd, and the curing of cheese is a very critical stage in the manufacturing process, determining largely the final quality and value of the cheese.

Certain conditions are essential to the curing of cheese properly. These are:

1—A proper temperature—about 65 degrees—not below 60 and not above 70 degrees.

2—A [illegible] per degree of humidity or moisture, 80 to 85 per cent.

3—Sufficient light; cheese will not cure properly if kept in darkness all the day.

4—A pure atmosphere, which is got by proper ventilation.

It is essential that cheese be given these conditions constantly when curing.

In order to maintain these conditions, particularly the temperature, it is necessary first to insulate the walls, floor and ceiling, to so construct them that the heat will not pass through them too readily; and, next, to adopt some suitable system of ventilating and cooling the room in warm weather, and of heating it in cold weather. Of course, if the room be not properly insulated no system of heating or cooling will be very effective. The ordinary curing room is so openly constructed that the heat passes into and out of it very readily, and the only system of ventilating and cooling it is by opening the windows. Consequently we often hear the buyers complaining of pasty and bitter cheese in cold weather, and of "heated" and "off flavoured" cheese in warm weather.

INSULATION OF A CURING ROOM.

An old curing room which has just a single ply of matched lumber in the walls and ceiling, or which is lathed and plastered instead, can be insulated sufficiently by putting two plies of paper on the walls and ceiling, and over this a course of matched lumber. The floor should be similarly treated, by putting on two plies of paper and laying a second floor. The windows with the sash closely fitted, and should have shutters on the outside. The shutters may be made of a single thickness of matched lumber, and are better to be hinged at the top. There should be double close fitting doors on the room. The door should be made of two thicknesses of matched lumber with paper between. After being insulated the walls and ceiling of the room should be whitewashed. Lime is a great purifier.

SHOULD BE DOUBLE,

VENTILATION AND COOLING.

A ventilator shaft, with a trap door at the bottom, should extend from the ceiling through the roof.

The cheapest and best way of cooling a curing room is by means of a sub-earth duct, or air drain, which may be described as a large pipe, about 12 inches in diameter, running along under the ground for a distance of 100 feet or more at a depth of 4 to 6 feet in the ground, for the purpose of supplying cool air to the curing room, by connecting with the curing room at one end and with the outside air at the other, and cooling the air as it passes through it to the room. The duct may be made either of tile or of plank, tile being the tile preferable, as it will cool the air to a greater extent. At each end of the duct there should be a cribbing, about two feet square, made of plank—cedar, if obtainable. The one end of the duct is connected with the curing-ro m by means of a pipe or wooden boxing leading to an opening in the floor—it is better to have two openings in the floor than just the one. From the outer end of the duct rises a galvanized iron pipe, about 14 inches in diameter, to a height of 10 to 12 feet above the ground, to form the intake for the air. On the top of the pipe should be placed a hood or elbow, free to turn in the pipe and so arranged with a fan (like a weather-vane) as to turn with its mouth to the wind.

THE SUB-EARTH DUCT

completes the system of ventilation, and where a room is properly insulated it will lower the temperature of the room, in summer weather, fully ten degrees. Another advantage of the sub-earth duct is to render the atmosphere more moist, thus preventing the cheese from cracking and losing unduly in weight by the evaporation of too much moisture from them. Of course it is necessary when putting in a sub-earth duct to put it where it can be drained, and where there is no soakage from the factory to pollute the air as it passes through the duct. The duct may be drained either by a row of small tile running along under it, or by giving it a slight fall to the one end and running a small tile drain from this end.

ICE RACK.

While a good sub-earth duct will cool a room sufficiently during most of the summer, it may be found necessary in some factories to use an ice rack during the extremely warm spells. An ice-rack should be so constructed as to cause a constant circulation of air over the ice and thence to all parts of the room. There is a description and cut of such a rack in a bulletin entitled "Cheese Factories and Creameries," which is supplied free upon application to Professor Robertson, Agricultural and Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa. The bulletin also contains information regarding the fitting up of curing rooms. The ice-rack will be found to be of great service where a factory is so situated—possibly on too low ground—that a sub-earth duct can not be put in. The rack need not cost over about ten dollars.

HEATING.

A system of heating which is adopted in some factories with good success, is the use of steam or hot water pipes. The pipes should be placed near the floor, whether they run along the walls or the tables. If higher up, as is the case in some factories, they throw the heat too directly upon the cheese near them.

GOOD RESULTS

can be got from the use of a stove, by putting a galvanized iron jacket around it at a distance of about a foot from the stove. The jacket should stand about a foot off the floor and extend a foot or more above the stove. It should have a door in it opposite the door in the stove. As the air between the stove and the jacket becomes heated it rises and more air is drawn in from below to take its place. In this way there is a constant circulation of air to and from all parts of the room. With such an arrangement there is no danger of the cheese near the stove becoming heated too much or those farthest away remaining too cold.

COST OF IMPROVEMENTS.

With a room 30 feet square and 10 feet high the cost of insulating the walls, ceiling, and floor and of putting in the duct, and the ice-rack will be in the neighbourhood of $200. Of course this will vary a little with the cost of material, labour, etc., in different localities.

Against this cost we may put the following savings in an ordinary factory in a single year, through the improvements: Such a factory will make, say 300 seventy-five pound cheeses in a month, or 1,050 cheeses during the 3½ critical months of the season. There would likely be a saving of one pound in weight on each cheese, or 1,050 pounds in all, which at 8 cents is worth $84. The value of the cheese would in all probability be enhanced a quarter of a cent per pound, which would mean a gain of about $200 on account of superior quality. This means a gain of at least $275 in a single season, or, in other words, the gain in one year would more than pay for the improvements, while the improvements would continue to be a source of revenue from year to year. To say the very least that can be said, the improvements would pay a tremendously high rate of interest on the money invested.

The question of the improvement of curing rooms in cheese factories is one that should interest, equally, patrons, factory managers and cheesemakers, for all have suffered through defective curing rooms in our factories. Many a cheese maker has had to stand a "cut" on cheese when not he, but the curing room was at fault, while at other times the patrons have had to bear the loss. Moreover we are suffering loss through the average quality of Canadian cheese being below what it might be, but if we could raise the average quality of our cheese, it would mean a higher reputation and an increased demand for Canadian goods, followed, naturally, by relatively higher prices.

J. W. Mitchell,

PECULIAR POISONS

GENERATED IN THE HUMAN BODY.

The Result of Imperfect Digestion of Food.

Every living thing, plant or animal, contains within itself the germs of certain decay and death.

In the human body these germs of disease and death (called by scientists (Ptomaines), are usually the result of imperfect digestion of food; the result of indigestion or dyspepsia.

The stomach, from abuse, weakness, does not promptly and thoroughly digest the food. The result is a heavy, sodden mass which ferments (the first process of decay) poisoning the blood, making it thin, weak and lacking in red corpuscles; poisoning the brain, causing headaches and pain in the eyes.

Bad digestion irritates the heart, causing palpitation and finally bringing on disease of this very important organ.

Poor digestion poisons the kidneys, causing Bright's disease and diabetes.

And this is so because every organ, every nerve depends upon the stomach alone for nourishment and renewal, and weak digestion shows itself not only in loss of appetite and flesh, but in weak nerves and muddy complexion.

The great English scientist, Huxley, said the best start in life is a sound stomach. Weak stomachs fail to digest food properly, because they lack the proper quantity of digestive acids (lactic and hydrochloric) and peptogenic products; the most sensible remedy in all cases of indigestion is to take, after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply in a pleasant, harmless form all the elements that weak stomachs lack.

The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure every form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

They increase flesh, insure pure blood, strong nerves, a bright eye and clear complexion, because all these result only from wholesome food well digested.

Nearly all druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents full sized package or by mail by enclosing price to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., but ask your druggist first.

STOVES AND RANGES

Our stock is now complete in every line of Heaters and Cooking Stoves.

SOUVENIR RANGES, Fuel Savers. Common sense has been displayed in the construction of these Ranges to an extent that leaves nothing for the practical Housekeeper to wish for, they have Ventilated Ovens, not the obsolete cold air ventilation, but ventilation by warm air taken direct from the top and discharged through the flues, thus avoiding the smell of cooking through the house.

HAPPY THOUGHT RANGES Are a household word; over 85,000 sold and always satisfactory. They speak for themselves.

BASE BURNERS. ART SOUVENIR and BUCK'S BRILLIANT, with and without Ovens, are leaders of their kind.

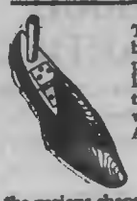
THE SLATER SHOE

"Slater Boot Trees."



The wear and shape retention of a shoe may be doubled if, when taken off the foot, it be put on a tree the exact shape of the shoe. The leather thus regains its elasticity and fiber tension and the shoe its form. Valuable to wearers with a tendency to run over on heels. A good idea is to have two pairs of shoes alternately "treed" and worn. Each pair will thus give double service if allowed a rest-day between wear-days. Trees to fit the various shapes of Slater Shoes, at $1.00 per pair.

Keep Coughing

We know of nothing better to tear the lining of your throat and lungs. It is better than wet feet to cause bronchitis and pneumonia. Only keep it up long enough and you will succeed in reducing your weight, losing your appetite, bringing on a slow fever and making everything exactly right for the germs of consumption.

Stop coughing and you will get well.

ATTITUDE OF THE FILIPINOS.

They Claim Their Independence and Threaten to Make Trouble Over Being Sold Out.

Manila, Dec. 2. — The Independencia party of the Filipinos is not disposed to accept the result of the deliberations of the peace commissioners at Paris, judging from the tone of the native press. The Independencia publishes a particularly bombastic leading article, to the effect that the Filipinos will "decline to permit their homes to be bought and sold like merchandise."

It then repeats the readiness of the Filipinos to fight in defence of their rights, and asserts that the Government and people are unanimous in claiming nothing less than independence. The Filipinos have incontestible claims upon the Island of Luzon, part of the Visayas Islands, and the Island of Mindanao, by right of conquest. It concedes that the Americans helped the insurgents "indirectly by blockading Manila." But the Independencia claims that, even without help, the revolutionists must have ultimately won. Finally, the Independencia holds that Spain cannot cede the Philippine archipelago, "because it was never hers."

Beats the Klondike.

Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption, accompanied by hemorrhages; and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. He declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvelous cure; would have it, even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and lung affections are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Sold at any Drug Store. Regular size 50 cts. and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.

Fortune for Alfonso.

Madrid, Dec. 2.—The Supreme Judicial Tribunal of Spain has decided in favor of King Alfonso the suit brought by the family of one Soler, seeking to annul that person's will, by which he left 2,000,000 pesetas to the young King. Soler was the natural son of Ferdinand VII., and, therefore, the grand-uncle of the King.

In Honor of His Jubilee.

Vienna, Dec. 2.—Emperor Francis Joseph, upon the occasion of his jubilee, the 50th anniversary of his accession to the throne, occurring to-day, has granted full amnesty to all lese majeste prisoners, and has remitted the remainder of the sentences of 40 other prisoners.

SORE THROAT

Most every family has its subjects for sore throat. It's an ailment that comes in a twinkling—developes dangerously in an incredibly short time. The speediest relief and the surest cure is what you look for in the emergency.

Mrs.—"My daughter was troubled with a sore throat which was much swollen. Your Menthol Liniment was applied at night, and the next morning all soreness had disappeared. It is certainly good for sore throats." J. Woodward, 138 Shaw street, Toronto.

AUSTRIAN PRISONERS FREED.

Germany After the Caroline Islands—Spain Expects to Get 10,000,000 Francs for Them—The Private Fortune of Alfonso—Winter Campaign in India—Rising of the Mad Mullah.

Berlin, Dec 2.—In Government circles there is an intense feeling against the Austrian Premier, Count Thun-Hohenstein, because of his recent speech in the Austrian Reichsrath regarding the expulsion of Austrians from Germany, in the course of which he threatened Germany with reprisals if the expulsions were continued.

It is understood that after the jubilee festivities Emperor Francis Joseph will be informed from Berlin that Count Thun-Hohenstein's continuance in office would be detrimental to the intimate relations between the two countries.

Germany After the Carolines.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—A German Government official, in an interview with the correspondent here of the Associated Press, confirms the report that Germany is negotiating with Spain for the purchase of the Caroline Islands. It is understood that Spain expects to get 10,000,000 francs for them, which Germany considers excessive.

Germany also makes the proviso that the negotiations shall be contingent upon no international complications arising, especially with the United States.

THE BLACK PLAGUE

Raging in the Island of Madagascar to an Alarming Extent.

Paris, Dec. 2.—The Colonial Office is taking stringent measures to check the bubonic plague, which has broken out in Madagascar. Particular vigilance will be exercised to prevent importation of the plague into France by traders landing at Marseilles. The disease in Madagascar has broken out badly among the natives, but the white population is as yet unaffected.

The Plague at Suez.

Suez, Dec. 2.—Two cases of bubonic plague have been discovered here.

UNCLE SAM'S LATEST GRAB.

Wants Chiriqui Lagoon, Panama, if Britain Will Not Object.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—The prospective acquisition by the United States of Chiriqui Lagoon, Panama, reported here, is considered in official and political circles as an important and adroit move, inasmuch as it would deliver the Nicaragua Canal over into the political and naval supremacy of the United States. Doubt is expressed, however, as to whether or not Great Britain will permit the acquisition, which would be clearly in violation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty of 1859.

THE SIRDAR'S APPEAL.

The English Press Is Not Very Enthusiastic.

London, Dec. 2.—The Sirdar's appeal to the erection and endowment of a Gordon memorial college at Khartoum is received by the press with varying degrees of approbation, despite the strenuous efforts of Lords Salisbury and Rosebery and others in support of the proposal and the approval of the Queen and the Prince of Wales. While no one denies the absolute necessity of the work proposed and set on foot by Lord Kitchener, who preached the new and acceptable doctrine that the best and only way to extend British influence in Africa is to plant there Englishmen—and above all the English language—yet the opinion is freely expressed in many quarters that this work ought to be undertaken by the Government, and that the Government should not look to the rich men to whom Lord Salisbury appeals to find funds.

Kitchener Has Got $40,000.

London, Dec. 2.—General Lord Kitchener announces that $40,000 has been promised for the purpose of building and endowing the Gordon memorial college at Khartoum.

Turkish Flag in Crete.

Athens, Dec. 2.—The foreign admirals commanding in Cretan waters have selected the little Island of Suda as the place where the Turkish flag shall float in fulfilment of the promise to maintain the emblem of Ottoman suzerainty over Crete.

The population of the islet, which is separated from Crete by a tolerably wide channel, is entirely Mohammedan. The selection is the best possible, and will minimize the irritation of the Christians that will be caused by the hoisting of the Crescent.

The Mad Mullah's Force.

Bombay, Dec. 2.—The Mad Mullah's force is variously reported to number from 3,000 to 6,000 men. The resistance of the forces of the Khan of Dir was only half-hearted. The fanatical movement is general along the right bank of the Swat River, and is spreading on the left bank, owing to the Mad Mullah's success. It is reported that the Mullah intends to attack the Malakand Pass.

Isolating Picquart.

London, Dec. 1.—A despatch to the Central News from Paris says that a visitor who called to see Col. Picquart in the Cherche Midi prison yesterday was told that the Colonel was too much fatigued to see anyone. There are sinister rumors as to the truth of this report. It is alleged that the military authorities are doing their best to keep Picquart from view.

WEST ELGIN VACANT.

One Case of Personation Proved, Making a Tie—New Election Ordered—East Elgin Finished.

St. Thomas, Dec. 2.—Yesterday the East Elgin election trial was adjourned, in order that the West Elgin case might be disposed of. The scrutiny asked for by the Liberal candidate was proceeded with. It was shown that either there are two John Taylors, or someone had personated John Taylor. The latter idea prevailed, and, as the majority for Mr. McDiarmid, the Conservative member, was only one, and the returning officer could not now step in, the judges said nothing could be done but order a new election. The parties arranged to pay their own costs. The new election will probably take place early in the new year.

East Elgin Case Closed.

The East Elgin case came to an end at 3.30 yesterday afternoon. The judges reserved decision on the three Luton charges, on the Taylor charge, on the Douglas and Eaton charges, judgment to be given at Osgoode Hall on Dec. 27. The only notable incident was the evidence of young Dickinson, whom the judges threatened to send to jail for his unsatisfactory manner. The case has been fought out with great vigor by both Mr. Aylesworth, for the petitioner, and Mr. Nesbitt, for the respondent. The critical point is the agency of Luton.

Personal and Political.

B. O. Lott of Rawdon will be the Liberal candidate in North Hastings, and W. J. Allen, the former member, will oppose him.

Dr. Cotton of Cowansville has been chosen as the Liberal candidate for Missisquoi, Quebec, in the coming by-election.

At Milton on Thursday the local nominations for Halton were J. R. Barber, Liberal, and W. Kerns, Conservative.

At Goderich Thursday the local nominations for West Huron were Hon. J. T. Garrow, Liberal, and Major Joseph Beck, Conservative.

Heaton saved himself by clinging to the bottom of the boat for ten hours. Diefenbaugh sank almost immediately.

OUR INDIANS.

A Missionary Address Concerning the Red Men of British Columbia.

Mrs. Redner, who is in charge of the Indian Home in British Columbia, which is conducted by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, spoke to a large audience on Wednesday evening in the George street Methodist church. Her description of the condition and manner of life of the Indians in British Columbia was most interesting, as was her statements concerning the operating of the Home. In giving an illustration of the habits of the people the speaker stated that they were divided into clans, each being designated by a particular mark or seal which was engraved on their totem poles. These tribes were again divided into smaller divisions, know as the dog-eaters, man-eaters, etc.

On one occasion a number of white people had drawn near to witness a celebration, which took place, when a certain chief's daughter became of a marriagable age—13 years. He had summoned the tribesmen together for the event. The little girl was bound and thrown to the ground, and at a given signal the Indians closed around her and simply consumed her alive, going up to her in turns and biting out pieces of her flesh and drinking her blood as she lay there. The sight was a horrible one, but no interference would have been allowed.

The Indians of British Columbia are full of superstition and cruelty, and live under such conditions as to preclude all civilising influences. Sometimes over a hundred of them live in one dwelling—all using a common fire and in some instances a common pot.

Great difficulty is experienced by the missionaries in getting a start amongst those wild tribes. A strong effort is being made to get the girls into the Home in order to bring them under better influences. Success is now beginning to attend the work and in all there are now seventy girls in the Home.

The many illustrations of life amongst the Indians given by Mrs. Redner made the address most interesting. Whilst remaining in town Mrs. Redner is visiting her neice, Mrs. (Dr.) Bradd.

"DEBATES AND DEBATERS."

Sheriff Hall's Interesting Talk at the Y.M.C.A Last Evening.

At a well attended meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Debating Club held last night, Sheriff Hall gave a most interesting talk on "Debates and Debaters." Mr. Fred Ray, 1st Vice-President, occupied the chair in a very acceptable manner.

Mr. Pigeon gave several musical selections which added much life to the programme for the evening. He was warmly applauded.

Sheriff Hall said in his address on the subject that one had said reading made a full man, writing an exact man, debating a ready man. Debate develops one's powers and strengthens the memory; as the muscles were developed by use so, so was the mind. Sir Robert Peel had a wonderful memory and would reply in an extempore speech to a debate which had occupied several days. To be successful debaters we must know the subject, get the main points in the mind and deal with only a few leading points, driving them home to the audience.

Order in arrangement must be observed, and the subject studied from an opponent's point of view. The methods of great speakers should be studied, though one must be original in his own style.

Sarcasm, exaggeration and lack of courtesy were things to be avoided.

Messrs. Collier, Bell, Hartley and Ray took part in the discussion that followed.

The following were elected to compose the Executive Committee: Messrs. Collier, McGowan, S. D. Hall, Dixon and McCallum.

The following programme has been arranged for the next two meetings:

Dec. 8th—Five minute papers on "The Peace Commission," "Dreyfus," "The High Commission," "Prospects for Prohibition," "Platform for the Peterborough Council of 1899," "Egyptian Question."

On Dec. 15th a debate will take place. Subject—"Resolved, that the Americans were justified in making war upon Spain." Affirmative—B. Anderson and S. D. Hall. Negative—G. S. Bell and J. McGowan.

A PARTY OF STUDENTS

From McGill University, Montreal, who are Here in Charge of Their Professors.

A special car on the C.P.R. early morning train brought to Peterborough a party of about thirty students and a number of the professors, including the Dean, from McGill University, Montreal.

The object of the visit is to give the senior students in the Science Department the advantage of witnessing the practical side of electrical engineering, and through the kindness of Mr. Geo. Stephens, superintendent of the Canadian General Eletric Company, the works are being viewed today. The party is in charge of Dean Bovey and Prof. E. Rutherford, of the Physic Department; Prof. Walker, Chemistry; Prof. R. B. Owens, Electrical Engineering; Professors Durley and Jacques, Mechanical Department, and Prof. Bell, of the Mining Department. Mr. F. R. Redpath, of Montreal, also accompanies the party.

On arriving at the Works this morning the students were divided up into five sections and taken through several departments in charge of competent engineers kindly furnished by Mr. Stephens. The afternoon was also spent in the same manner and this evening Mr. Stephens will entertain the party at his residence.

To-morrow a trip will be taken over the Trent Valley Canal Works between Peterborough and Lakefield, accompanied by Mr. R. B. Rogers, Superintending Engineer, the local Parliamentary representatives, the Mayor and a number of the Councillors.

The works of the Royal Electric Company and those at Lachine and other points have been visited by the students earlier in the term.

ROSS REMANDED.

The Chief Brings the Prisoner up from Port Hope.

Chief Rossel returned yesterday afternoon from Port Hope with William Ross, who was immediately brought before the Magistrate on the charge of passing forged paper.

The prisoner was identified by Mrs. Dunsford as the man who passed the forged cheque off on her, and two others who were in her store at the time also recognised him, as did Mr. Jos. Goselin, who was one of the victims.

Ross entered a plea of "not guilty," and asked for a trial by jury. He was remanded until Tuesday for a preliminary hearing.

BE ALIVE, LOOK AHEAD.

How to Pull in the Biggest Amount of Holiday Trade.

A retailer who expects to make a stir during holiday time should do a good deal of thinking and planning beforehand. The leaving of things of this kind to the last moment is fatal to success. There are many ways of creating and sustaining interest that, with a little thought, may be adapted to the particular purposes of the retailer. The most should be made of the occasion. Christmas affords the best opportunity of the year for advertising along every line. The store, the windows, the advertising space should all be made to do their very best work at this time and the most telling results can only be secured by careful study and method. Avoid anything in the form of "fake." The public or at least the intelligent public, is sick of the tin horn business that some business men seem to consider good advertising. If you are going into any scheme that is worth taking up do it right. Make up your mind to give the people something to think or talk about, but do not give them anything that will cause them to laugh at your expense. A good holiday window is appreciated anywhere, and it need not be an exhibition of charlatanism to be good. There is a great variety of taste in this matter and certainly there ought to be latitude enough for a safe choice. Do it now. Sit down while you have time and plan your campaign. Don't leave off your effective advertising till it is too late, or altogether, and then wonder how it is that wideawake competitors have so much bigger pull on the holiday trade than you have.

ABOUT SNOW PLOUGHING.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In your daily issue of last Friday, 25th November, 1898, some person, or persons, has got something to say about snow ploughing tenders, and is very anxious to know what kind of a council our city of Peterborough has got, especially those upon streets and bridges. His language is degrading in the extreme to the writer, by calling our worthy chairman of streets and bridges very uncomplimentary names. He has been in the council for a number of years, and it only shows the high esteem in which he is held by his fellow-councillors by placing this same gentleman at the head of one of the most important committees that is within the gift of the council. And, moreover, objection is made to the person who has been awarded the contract. I had no communication whatsoever with any of the councillors for many a long week before the tenders were awarded at all. Your correspondent classes our aldermen after the style of Tammany Hall ring of New York of years gone by. Oh my, what a pity that you are not one of our city fathers! What a shine you would make as chairman of a committee of the whole council, and sitting in the Mayor's chair with the big wooden gavel in your hand calling order. You would most assuredly make the burden of the ratepayers very light. You talk about giving tips, you surely must have tried to gain an entrance into Tammany Hall, only you must have most miserably failed. I have it all now. Dear fellow you did not know your business. You say in your parable of the 25th November, "Just wait till January." So that it will not be very long, and you shall see the most of the councillors of 1898 if they wish, sent back to the aldermanic board of '99, with all the honours appertaining to that high position, which is all that a greatful people can bestow upon the gentlemen that now sit and so ably perform their exacting and arduous duties around the aldermanic board, to the greatest satisfaction of all their constituents and with honour to themselves.

AS CLEAR AS MUD.

An Unknown Correspondent Makes a Few Plain Statements as to Dancing.

This paper's rule, says an exchange, is to consign communications of unknown authorship to the waste basket, but an exception is made in the case of the following on account of its remarkable explicitness, and the evident desire of the writer to "point a moral and adorn a tale" for the public good:

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

HOCKEY.

The Aberdeen Hockey Club, of Ottawa, wants to play in Peterborough on January 8th.

Secretary Buchanan leaves this evening to attend the annual meeting of the O. H. A. in Toronto.

Mr. A. A. Hollingshead is going up to the annual meeting of the O. H. A. to work up his amendment to the rules governing the age of junior players.

CURLIANA.

The meeting of the Granite skips which was called for this evening to pick their rinks for the season, has been postponed for a week on account of the death of Mrs. (Judge) Weller.

HUNTING.

At a recent game supper in Montreal Dr. Drummond recited the following original poem:

You see I was there on the runway,
Just near where it enters the lake,
Couldn't get better place if I tried it,
For the deer would be certain to take
To the water the moment he saw it,
And then I could pump in the lead
At ten or a dozen yards distance
Till I couldn't help killing him dead,
(O, 'twas great sport.)

(And the excitement!)
There I sat watching and waiting
For may-be an hour or two—
I could hear my poor heart go a-throbbing,
And once when a chip munk drew
Near to my trembling ambush,
I had almost drew trigger when
He ran up a silver birch tree,
And I saw 'twas a chipmunk then.
(But 'twas great.)

I could see the bright leaves of the autumn
Sprinkling the forest floor,
Each leaf all bespattered with crimson,
As if dipped in the blood of more
Than a thousand innocent victims.
But pshaw! 'twas the frost and rain,
So I said to myself, "Old fellow,
Brace up! Be a man again!"
(And I braced.)

Then suddenly over the hill side,
Where the hounds killed a fawn last year
An echo kept ringing, ringing.
T'was the baying of "Chanticleer."
"He's got him at last," I murmur,
"And the old dog will make him jump."
So my hold on the rifle tightened,
While my heart went thumpety-thump.

(Holy Munder!)
Here he comes down the pathway.
Good Lord! how he must have run.
But with "Chanty" let out on the homestretch,
Don't suppose he enjoyed the fun,
Hardly able to bring his legs with him.
Well! don't get excited yet,
Just wait till he reaches the water,
Then "fill" him before he gets wet.

Keep still! why I hear him breathing,
And now he has passed so close
The point of my rifle could touch him
And easily give him a dose.
Just see how he jumped when he smelt me,
And look how he struggles and pants,
But I'll wait till he gets to the water
And give a poor devil a chance.
(That's right, isn't it?)

And now he has entered the water,
And when he's gone ten yards or so
I bang away. Bang! with the Marlin
Till I find that I've killed a doe.
But a nice little doe I can tell you
Is better than nothing at all,
So if Providence only spares me,
I'll try it again next fall.—(D. V.)

NOVEMBER WEATHER NOTES.

The highest temperature during November was 57 degrees, on the 5th; the lowest 9 degrees on the 27th. The average daily temperature was 34 degrees, somewhat higher than November of last year.

The rainfall during the month was much less than usual, being only .95 of an inch, and including the snow that fell, giving a total precipitation of only one inch and 69-100. This is less than half the amount of the corresponding month of 1897. There was snow on 4 days and rain on 9 days. Our first snow storm reached here on the 10th, which gave a few days indifferent sleighing.

November was the fifteenth consecutive month in which the temperature was above average. This applies not to this locality only, but over what is known as the Lower Lake Regions. It has been noticed that nature always restores the equilibrium, if such an expression may be need, and that an excess in one period, whether it be heat or rainfall, &c., is counterbalanced by a deficiency in another. Bearing this in mind it is probable that when a change does occur it will be for lower average monthly temperatures.

BACK FROM THE GRAVE.

A Rumour That Con. Mahoney was Seen in Town This Morning.

The report that the late Cornelius Mahoney had been seen alive on the streets this morning created a good deal of excitement in town. It was rumoured that Mr. Alex Reid, expressman, had not only met but shaken hands with the man who was supposed to have come to his death a few weeks ago by falling into the sewer.

Mr. Reid on being seen stated that he had met the morning train on the Grand Trunk and had been astonished to see Con. Mahony step off. He had shaken hands with him and calling him by name told him that he was supposed to be dead. Mahoney replied he had heard this quite often during the last few weeks, but he was worth a good many dead men yet. A twinkle in his eye, however, made Mr. Reid suspicious that something was wrong and he soon came to the conclusion that it was Teddy Shields that he was talking to. Mr. Shields and the late Con. Mahoney had often been mistaken for one another in town and hence the mistake.

THE POULTRY SHOW.

A Meeting of the Directors Held Last Evening in the Morgan House.

The directors of the Peterborough Poultry Association met in the Morgan House parlours last evening, and by the enthusiasm displayed it is evident that the Board is going to make a success of their undertaking.

Secretary Colline reported having made arrangements for the securing of the market hall for the annual exhibition.

Dr. Poole was present on behalf of the Kennel Club, and made an offer for the benching, which was used last year by the Association when the dog show took place under its auspices. A committee was appointed to confer on the matter.

INCALCULABLE GOOD,

AN EXPRESSION OF FAITH.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have done me an incalculable amount of good. I think they are the best, surest and quickest acting cure for nervousness, unhealthy action of the heart, insomnia or sleeplessness, anemia or impoverished blood, loss of appetite, general debility and ill-health. For nine years, before I commenced taking Dr. Ward's Blood and nerve Pills, my heart was weak and in an unhealthy state. Its action was so much impaired that I could not walk across the street without suffering great distress, my heart fluttering and beating so rapidly that I could scarcely breathe, causing faintness, loss of strength, and leaving my nerves all unstrung. My sleep was very much disturbed, I had no appetite and there was little strength or vitality in my blood; I was always excessively nervous.

I have now taken three boxes of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills and since taking them I have not been away from my business an hour. Before taking these pills it was a frequent occurrence for me to be away from business. As a result of taking Dr. Ward's Pills my heart is perfectly healthy and strong and gives me no distress or trouble whatever. They removed all nerve trouble, made my nerves strong and gave me healthy sleep. These pills also made my blood rich and strong and gave me a healthy appetite. Dr. Ward's Pills have given me perfect health, restoring my lost strength, in place of continual ill-health, weakness, heart trouble and nervousness. In justice I cannot speak too highly of this wonderful medicine. Signed, Miss N. Millward, Walton St., Port Hope, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 5 boxes for $2.00 at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by THE DOCTOR WARD CO. Limited, 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

HE HELD MONEY CHEAP.

How Thieves Were Diverted From Robbing a Man of Thousands.

"The recent series of hold ups makes me think of the time we came near losing quite a sum of money," says a prominent business man. "It was while we were building the town of Pullman, and often the pay roll called for $50,000. We paid the men every two weeks, and as there was no express office there then the money had to be carried in cash to Pullman from this city. One day it would be taken out there, and that night it would be put in envelopes for each man, and in the morning given to them.

"On this particular day the detectives had discovered a plot to waylay the man who was to take out the money and get it. But they did not get the information quick enough, for as they reached the station they saw the train just pulling out. The young man, not knowing that he was being followed, was entirely at ease and threw the valise he carried down on the floor and went across the car to talk to a cousin, who was on the train. Of course the valise was where he could see it, but he took no further notice of it than to see that it was there. The men who had planned to get the money were completely staggered and kept close watch on him.

"At Sixteenth street the young man stepped to the door to assist his cousin to the platform and went back to the car and sat down and put his feet on the valise for a rest. The act of going to the door and leaving the valise had completely finished the doubt that the thieves had entertained, and they came to the conclusion that this was not the man or that they had mistaken their time. So they left the train at the next stop. And the money reached the men all right. My friend has since said that if he had known that some one intended to rob him it would have rendered him nervous, and he would have lost his nerve and betrayed himself and lost the money."—Chicago Chronicle.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundreth doctor can unless he prescribes for it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N.Y.

Taciturn Men.

The late Mr. Parnell was a rather taciturn man. One night in the early eighties, says a writer in The Cornhill Magazine, when he and some of his followers were suspended for persistent obstruction in the house of commons, he went up to the distinguished strangers' gallery with a colleague to watch the subsequent course of events in the house. Noticing that he was very preoccupied and abstracted, his colleague said, "A penny for your thoughts, Mr. Parnell." "Well," replied the Irish leader, "I was thinking how it had never struck me before that there are so many baldheaded members in the house."

General Grant was also a man of remarkably few words. He used to pass hours in company without ever opening his lips. During his visit to this country he dined at Apsley House, the guest of the second duke of Wellington. A very distinguished company was present to meet him. He spoke in monosyllables only during the dinner, but when the ladies had retired he remarked aloud to his host, "My lord, I have heard that your father was a military man!"

NEW TREATY OF PARIS

Thirteen Clauses Presented to the Spaniards for Signature.

RAPID PROGRESS BEING MADE.

The First Three Articles, Namely, Those Relinquishing Cuba, Ceding Porto Rico and Other West Indian Spanish Possessions, Guam in the Ladrones, and Philippines, Already Agreed Upon.

Paris, Dec. 1.—There were 13 articles laid before the two commissions yesterday, covering the following:

First—The relinquishment of sovereignty over and claim of title to Cuba.

Second—The cession of Porto Rico and other Spanish possessions in the West Indies, together with Guam in the Ladrones.

Third—The cession of the Philippines.

Fourth—The terms of the evacuation of the Philippines.

Fifth—The pledge of the United States to preserve order in the Philippines pending the ratification of the treaty.

Sixth—The release of military prisoners mutually.

Seventh—The cession by Spain of the Island of Kusaie, or Strong Island, in the Carolines.

Eighth—The mutual relinquishment of indemnity claims.

Ninth—The religious freedom of the Carolines, assuring the rights of American missionaries there.

Tenth—Cable landing rights at points within the Spanish jurisdiction.

Eleventh—The release by Spain of political prisoners for offences in Cuba and the Philippines.

Twelfth—The pledge of the United States to inaugurate in the Philippines an "open door" policy, and to guarantee the same to Spain for at least 12 years.

Thirteenth—A revival of the treaties broken by the war.

First Three Agreed Upon.

The first three articles were mutually agreed upon yesterday, as was also the article embodying the terms of the evacuation of the Philippines, which will be practically the same as in the evacuation of Cuba or Porto Rico. The mutual release of military prisoners was agreed upon, Spain liberating the rebel prisoners, and the United States liberating the Manila garrison and the Spaniards held by Aguinaldo.

The political prisoners to be released by Spain are such as are now in exile at Ceuta, in Morocco, and other Spanish penal settlements.

Daily sessions will be held hereafter, and it is now believed that the work may possibly be concluded this week, although so early a termination is not probable.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Mr. R. Morrow Cured of Lumbago by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, Nov. 23—The vast majority of Torontonians know and esteem Mr. R. Morrow, the able and popular general agent for the Toronto Auer Light Co.

For this reason the following statement made in writing by Mr. Morrow, possesses unusual significance.

"Two years ago I was attacked by Lumbago and Urinary trouble which caused me intense suffering. I took several different remedies without any benefit. Then I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and was completely cured by them."

Lumbago is unusually prevalent this fall. All sufferers should know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for it. They never fail.

STR. AINSWORTH SWAMPED.

A Kootenay (B.C.) Lake Craft Founders—Nine Lives Were Lost.

Nelson, B.C., Dec. 1.—The Ainsworth, a small steamer plying between Nelson and Bonner's Ferry, was wrecked Tuesday night during a storm on Kootenay Lake, six of her crew and three passengers being drowned. The Ainsworth left Nelson Tuesday evening on her regular trip and when about six miles from shore, during a heavy sea, she was struck by a squall and commenced taking in water. The captain headed her for shore, but she reeled over on her side, filling immediately. The passengers drowned were: Charles Campbell, a merchant of Kuskanook, and two Italians of Kuskanook. Captain Loan, First Engineer Kane and J. Donnolly, a deck hand, reached shore in the lifeboat. The balance of the crew, whose names are as follows, were drowned: Perry, mate; James McNeill, fireman; John Gurn, steward; Joseph Davis, deck hand; C. Hume, cook, and the second engineer, whose name cannot be learned at present. The Ainsworth was owned by Braden Bros. of the Pilot Bay Smelter.

THE LISTENER.

Professor Moses Coit Tyler of Cornell has been made a character in a novel by Justin McCarthy.

Colonel Roosevelt is among the lecturers in the Boston "Lowell Institute" course this winter.

Russia is getting ready for a rousing welcome to Thomas A. Edison, who will shortly visit that country.

Secretary Gage is said to be a passionate sportsman and a remarkably good shot. He spends much of his vacation in hunting and fishing.

Professor Von Esmarch, the Kiel surgeon who is uncle by marriage of the German empress, has just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of receiving his doctor's degree.

Frederick York Wolseley, Lord Wolseley's Australian brother, is visiting in England. He is best known as the inventor of a sheep shearing machine that bears his name.

The trip of the famous Apache, Geronimo, to Omaha will probably be his last. He is back at Fort Sill, I. T., now, but his health is said to be hopelessly broken, and he has a savage hatred of doctors.

When Colonel Waring wanted the appointment for cleaning the New York streets, he was jokingly told by those in authority that heaven itself couldn't clean them in a century. "I can do it in a month," said Waring.

Bernhard Stavenhagen, the pianist, who visited this country a few years ago, recently conducted for the first time at the Royal theater in Munich, where he has been made successor to Richard Strauss. The latter goes to the Royal Opera at Berlin.

Sir Henry Hawkins, England's most famous criminal judge, is the latest of London's notable recruits to Romanism. At the opening of the courts for the fall term he and Lord Russell, the chief justice, heard mass said by Cardinal Vaughan in the church of St. Anselm and St. Cecelia.

J. R. Findlay, the chief proprietor of The Scotsman, of Edinburgh, who recently died, was the founder of the Scottish National Portrait gallery, which he presented to Edinburgh, at a cost of £70,000, and was on friendly terms with De Quincey when that erratic genius lived near Edinburgh.

Edward Flynn, "the lodging house king," who died in New York recently, was only 39 years old, and when he came to this country from Ireland 21 years ago was penniless. He was the owner at the time of his death of six lodging houses in New York and three in Brooklyn, said to be worth $150,000.

E. A. Fitzgerald, the explorer, whose ascent of Mount Aconcagua, in South America, won him so much renown, is now ill from the effects of the trip. Though a member of the famous London Alpine club, he is not an Englishman, but an American, and was educated at St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H.

Riley Grannan, the great plunger and race track sensationalist, surprised his friends in San Francisco, where he now is, by registering himself "and wife" at the Palace hotel. He adds to the mystery by saying he has been married for two years, but declines to tell where or exactly when the marriage took place or what his wife's maiden name was.

Old Man Found Dead.

Montreal, Dec. 1.—Mr. A. Gosselin, assistant city clerk, was on board the ill-fated steamer Portland. He wrote his wife that he was going to take that steamer, and the news has been confirmed.

An old man named MaPhail, aged 78, has been found lifeless near his home in Iberville. It appears that there was a row and arrests are sure to follow.

C.P.R. and the Fast Line.

Montreal, Dec. 1.—Lord Strathcona has gone to Washington. It is understood that the chief object of his mission is to talk over fast line matters with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright. It was stated yesterday in the street that his lordship is the bearer of a definite proposition from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to establish a fast line between Canada and Great Britain.

A Talent For Balancing.

The pleasant coffee room of the old Star and Garter at Richmond—which was burned down in 1869—was patronized by statesmen, politicians and writers. On Saturday evenings it was regularly visited by a middle aged gentleman of rather broad stature, with gray hair and a large shirt collar which formed a conspicuous feature in his attire. He would dine always alone at a particular corner table, and after dinner it was his humor to build up before him a pyramid of tumblers and wineglasses, which he topped with a decanter. Occasionally the whole structure would topple over and litter the table with its ruins. Then the middle aged gentleman would rise, pay his bill, including the charge for broken glass, and depart. The waiters knew him well. He was Thomas Babington, Lord Macaulay. —Cornhill Magazine.

Some English Judges.

It is not a little singular that the judges who have the reputation of inflicting the severest sentences are the mildest looking occupants of the bench. Mr. Justice Day, "the flogging judge" and terror of evildoers, is a man of singularly mild aspect, who looks as if he would not willingly hurt a fly. Mr. Justice Wills, another apostle of the "cat-o'-nine-tails," is bland and compassionate in appearance, and Lord Justice Collins is singularly meek and merciful in outward guise.—London Standard.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 96
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of—	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the lowering rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

A wreck at sea is not the only place where a life line is of importance.

There is a life line for the sick, as well as for the drowning man. It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is not a cure-all, but it is a scientific medicine that goes to the fountain head of a number of serious and fatal diseases. When a man gets seriously sick, he can generally be cured by the right course of treatment. The treatment that cures many obstinate chronic diseases consists of pure air, good food, rational exercise, and the use of a remedy that will strengthen the weak stomach, correct the impaired digestion, invigorate the liver and promote the assimilation of the live-giving elements of the food. The "Golden Medical Discovery" accomplishes all these things.

"A young man lay pale and motionless upon (what neighbors called) his dying bed. Disease of the lungs, liver complaint, kidney trouble, and blurring were fast hastening him to the grave. The doctors had given him up to die. The neighbors said, 'he cannot live.' 'Oh, I would not care to die,' he said, 'were it not for leaving my wife and little child, but I know that I must die.' A brother had presented him with three bottles of medicine, but he had no faith in 'patent medicines'; but, after the doctors had given him up to die and he had banished every hope of recovery, he said to his wife, 'dear wife, I am going to die, there can be no harm now in taking that medicine. I will begin its use at once.' He did begin to use it and at first he grew worse, but soon there came a change. Slowly but surely he got better. To-day that man is strong and healthy and he owes his life to that medicine. What was the medicine? It was Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I, Luther Martin, am the cured man. Dr. Pierce, I thank you from the very depth of my heart, for rescuing me from the grave." The foregoing is from Luther Martin, Esq., a prominent citizen of Lubec, Wood Co., W. Va.

AN UNEQUAL CONTEST

A CUR DOG AGAINST A BADGER IN A GREAT BATTLE.

The Kind of Fun, Imported From Texas, With Which the Conscienceless Inhabitants of New Mexico Amuse Themselves at Times.

"There is something which I have long been wishing to tell you," writes a young gentleman who is now at Eddy, N. M., "but somehow I never succeeded in transporting myself into the right humor to do so. This was a description of one of the principal and most enjoyable pastimes of the Eddy people. The folks here have various ways to beguile the monotony. They have dances, amateur theatricals, hunting parties and badger fights. Badger fights! Oh, what mortal anguish has been caused by these cruel, cruel badger fights! They are of Texan origin, but are now practiced all over the southwest.

"I had been here about a week when I noticed one day all the factory hands grouping together and talking about a magnificent badger that a cow puncher, as cowboys are called here, had brought to town. There was to be a badger fight that night. A dog was to fight him to a finish. Bets were given and taken. Some had seen the badger, and all knew the dog which was to fight him. I do not like bloody spectacles and decided not to go, but heaven willed it otherwise.

"On my way home from work everybody on the streets appeared to be speaking about and betting on the badger fight. People had come in from the country to see it. One man was pointed out to me as having bet as much as $100 on the fight. High bets were transacted in my presence. I decided to see that fight. Two of my friends came to my room after supper and invited me to accompany them to the fight. When we got down stairs, I noticed the whole veranda of the hotel crowded with a boisterous, brawling, betting, disputing, turbulent multitude.

"When we left, this entire multitude filed after us. Shopkeepers left their shops in their shirt sleeves to join the procession. In three blocks the procession behind me had doubled in volume. I began growing excited and believe I should have bet had some one offered to do so with me. When we arrived at the arena, a large crowd was already waiting. Betting now went on with feverish excitement. I had lost track of my friends in the uproar and therefore stood aside to contemplate the scene.

"The crowd had arranged itself in a circle with a large open space in the center. Within this space stood a box all closed up, a rope reaching from the interior extended diametrically across the open space. I was told by some one that the badger was in the box and the rope was tied to him. When the fight would begin, some one would jerk the badger by means of the long rope to about the center of the circle, and the dog would then attack him.

"The dog was now exhibited in the circle. My surprise was unspeakable when I saw that cur. Instead of a large, fierce animal it was a sickly looking puny water spaniel. My sincere sympathy was at once enlisted with the dog.

"Preparations were now made for the bloody event. The badger men insisted upon a careful examination of the dog. Some old sport waltzed up and examined the dog's teeth, legs, nose and fur to see if any pepper had been strewn into it so as to disable the badger. After a careful examination the dog was pronounced O. K.

"A person was now wanted to pull the badger. It was unanimously decided that for this purpose an unbiased person was necessary, a person who had not bet on the fight. The badger men refused to allow a dog man to pull the badger lest he should injure him by a too violent jerk. The dog men were equally vociferous in their refusal to allow a badger man to pull him, lest the badger man pull him into a position unfavorable for a successful attack by the dog. A clamorous haggling now ensued. It appeared to me that instead of a badger fight we might have a free for all fisticuff. Every one who volunteered to do the pulling was for some or another reason vociferously rejected. Finally a man walked through the crowd in quest of a person suitable for the purpose of pulling the badger. He questioned many, but always passed on. Finally he came to me. He asked me if I had bet. No. He asked me other questions, to which apparently I gave satisfactory answers. I was invited to pull. My heart throbbed, as I did not wish the task. 'But by not yielding I would disappoint the entire crowd.' I reluctantly consented.

"Immediately a storm of objections arose. This, however, was finally quieted down, and I took the rope. I got careful instructions how to proceed. I was to pull just so, on the count of 'three.' I trembled at the thought that I might not do just so and have a dozen or so six shooters leveled at my face in case I made a blunder.

"All noise had now subsided. Every one was anticipating. Slowly and distinctly the fellow counted 'One, two, three.' I gave a vicious jerk. Out of the box rolled a nice white and clean porcelain badger, I will say.

"It is needless to say that there was a sudden violent outburst of hilarity. Every one of those wretches exerted his cachinatory powers to the utmost. It took me several seconds to realize that the whole procedure was merely a joke, perpetrated upon poor unoffending me, got up wholely and solely for my benefit.

"I could not lick the whole gang. If I could, I should undoubtedly have done so. I did the next best thing. I put my pipe into my mouth, thrust my hands into my pockets and looked as little sheepish as possible. Occasionally when I succeeded in swallowing a large lump which was troubling my throat I would utter a few guttural sounds. These were meant for a laugh. Since this event I am 'one of the boys.' A badger fight is a sort of 'shibboleth,' an 'open sesame' to the elite of western society.

"Since then I have seen the same joke perpetrated on Mr. ——, a Chicago man. His sheepishness was uncontrollable. He stood for some minutes in the midst of the yelling, frantic crowd, with indescribable agony. He tried to smile, but his mouth assumed the shape of a poorly cut slit in a pumpkin. I had sympathy with him, but nevertheless enjoyed the fun."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov. 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Garrard street, east, who has been restored to vigourous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

Three Years in Bed.

From Kidney Disease—Although a Man of Three-Score and Ten, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills gave him back perfect health.

This is to certify that I was sick in bed the most of the time for three years with kidney disease. I took several boxes of pills—different kinds—and a great many other kinds of patent medicines; besides that I was under treatment by four different doctors during the time and not able to work. I began to take Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and since that time have been working every day, although a man nearly 70 years of age. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure all Kidney troubles. Sold by all dealers, price 25 cents per box.

THE PAIN IN THE BACK WAS SO BAD THAT HE COULDN'T DO IT BEFORE HE TOOK DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Lame, painful, aching backs,—plenty of them all over Canada

But they're getting less and less every day since people have begun to find out that all kinds of bad backs are due to kidney derangement, and that Doan's Kidney Pill is the remedy.

Mr John Macdonald, 120 Patrick Street, St. John, N. B., is one of those who never fail to speak a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills, as they cured his aching back and relieved his urinary troubles when everything else failed.

He worked at the lumber business for years, and the heavy lifting, as well as the exposure to wet and cold, brought on a serious complication of kidney troubles. He suffered greatly with pain in his back just over the kidneys, and a burning, smarting sensation on passing water which amounted to agony.

"I hadn't finished the second box of Doan's Kidney Pill," said Mr. Macdonald, "when the pain all left my back, and I can stoop and straighten up without the slightest difficulty. My urinary troubles disappeared and to-day I am feeling stronger and in better health than I have been for years.

That's the way Doan's Kidney Pills always act. They never fail to cure your kidney trouble, and—more than that—they invigorate and strengthen your system. Sufferers from backache, urinary trouble, bladder weakness, puffiness of the feet or under the eyes, dizziness, headaches, lumbago, soreness of the muscles, etc., should not fail to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. They'll cure when all else fails.

Sold by all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25. The Doan's Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont. Ask for Doan's, and refuse all others.

MOBBED THE JUSTICE.

Bank Robbery Trial at Napanee Closes Disgracefully.

SHERIFF READS THE RIOT ACT.

Non-Residents Blamed for the Lawless Proceedings of Friday Night—Case Given to the Jury Before Five—No Verdict Last Night—Counsel's Addresses and Judge's Charge.

Napanee, Dec. 3.—There was an uneasy feeling existing in Napanee last night. At five minutes past 8 o'clock his lordship adjourned the court until this morning at 9 a.m., when it will reassemble to receive the verdict. The jury retired at 4.40 and at 6.15 his lordship announced an intermission till 8. When court resumed the scene in the Court House beggars description. The building was jammed with a seething, surging mass of humanity. Lawyers, officers and reporters had to fight their way through the crowd that assailed the side entrance and clamored for admittance. The corridors and stairway leading to the main entrance were black with people, and women vied with men for a place of vantage near the door.

It was deemed inadvisable to bring in the prisoners, who were at the jail, so at five minutes after 8 his lordship adjourned the court.

Mobbed the Judge.

An unprecedented incident occurred after adjournment. The town is crowded with outsiders, who, in their enthusiasm, are ripe for any mad freak to show their regard for "Billy" Ponton. It would be unfair to hold the prisoner or his family responsible for the actions of these irresponsible parties, and there is reason to know that their conduct is strongly deprecated by Ponton's relatives and friends. It is not known that the idea of a rescue was seriously contemplated, but the Crown officials were certainly apprehensive, and it was owing to this fact that the court was adjourned without receiving the verdict. Whether the precaution was necessary or not, Mr. Justice Ferguson, Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., County Crown Attorney Herrington and Court Stenographer Crawford, accompanied by the reporters, were escorted to their hotel last evening by a posse of police, headed by Detective Greer and Chief of Police Adams. Insults were freely offered to his lordship and the Crown prosecutor. Napanee is thus given unenviable notoriety by the reprehensible conduct of a number of outsiders. Mr. Justice Ferguson was escorted to Vanalstine's barber shop last evening by the Chief of Police and Sheriff Hawley. While there a large crowd congregated outside the shop, and they conducted themselves in such a disgraceful manner that his lordship instructed the sheriff to read the riot act. In a firm, loud voice Sheriff Hawley read the riot act to the crowd, and they must have realized the serious results that might ensue if they disobeyed the mandate, as the throng immediately dispersed. No open violence was offered to the representatives of the Crown, and perhaps none was intended, but the incident placed a stain on the fair escutcheon of Napanee which it will be difficult to efface.

CASE GIVEN TO THE JURY.

Addresses by Mr. Porter, Mr. Osler, and the Charge of the Judge.

Napanee, Dec. 3.—The jury was locked up with the Ponton-Mackie case at 8.10 last night. During the day the jurors had heard addresses from Mr. E. Gus Porter, Ponton's counsel; Mr. B. B. Osler, Crown counsel, and the judge's charge. With them there was an immense throng—all the Court House would hold—that heard the brilliant, eloquent and sympathetic addresses of Mr. Porter, and the keen, incisive, cold, logical address of Mr. Osler. Mrs. Ponton, mother of the chief prisoner, was an almost painfully interested auditor, with whom the sympathies of all hearts were in unison.

Mr. Porter's Address.

After the roll call at 9 o'clock yesterday, Mr. Porter began his address to the jury. The keynote of the oration was "Billy Ponton is innocent," as witness his opening sentences:

"May it please your lordship," he began, "Billy Ponton is charged with the offence of robbing the bank. Billy Ponton is an innocent man. The law says he is innocent until he is proved guilty. The evidence adduced went so far as to establish his innocence."

Then he passed on to state the forces arraigned against this boy—Ponton is only 26 years of age—who was the partial support of a widowed mother and fatherless sister—the Dominion Bank, with its unlimited capital; the Crown with its great counsel, B. B. Osler; incidentally, for what there was in it—the Pinkerton detectives and Pare and Holden, the men who really robbed the bank and confessed in order to shorten their sentences and enjoy their ill-gotten gains for a period. Throughout he iterated and reiterated with telling effect the words: "Billy Ponton is innocent."

Mr. Osler's Address.

Mr. Osler commenced to speak at 11.45 o'clock. He began in a quiet voice, telling the jury that a crime like the Napanee bank robbery must not go unpunished, and that it was only just and right that no resource should be spared to bring the perpetrators to justice. It was necessary, however, that justice should be firm and even-handed. "I am not here by any words of mine to bring home conviction to any innocent man. I am here to aid you in estimating the evidence. When I have done so my responsibility closes, and yours begins." And then he marshalled the facts sworn in evidence in such array as only he can do. He closed at 3.05.

The Judge's Charge.

His Lordship Judge Ferguson began his charge to the jury at 3.10. He thought both sides had been ably conducted. He considered the prosecution fair, and he directed his attention for the first part of his address to inducing an attitude of calm deliberation on the part of the jurors in approaching the final consideration of the case. He then laid down the points of law which should guide them, and finally he reviewed the evidence in detail, somewhat against the prisoners Ponton and Mackie. His concluding words were "Base your finding on nothing but the evidence."

Jury Retired at 4.45.

The army of constables arranged themselves in front of the jury and away went the 12 honest men and true. The clock said 4.5.

While the jury in their little room went over the weary memories of evidence, the court presented an animated appearance. The youth and beauty of Napanee were out in full force, and attired in variegated costumes that cast a refreshing tinge upon the soberly-decorated arsenal of law. Old friends met and renewed acquaintances. The pretty girls of the town, friends of Ponton, gathered around the docket, laughed and chatted with him. The one the most free from care, apparently, in the whole room, was Billy Ponton himself, who smiled and talked, and smiled and talked again, as the minutes sped by and his fate approached.

"I will see you down town in ten minutes," he said to his friends. That is how he viewed the matter.

The irregular officials of the court—the crier, the constables, the gentlemen of the long black rod—took much exercise in running in and out of the court room every ten minutes to see if the jury was coming. The members of the bar retired to their chambers, and for once in two weeks allowed their minds to take a rest. The judge was on the bench at 6. B. B. Osler, Q.C., was before him. Mrs. Ponton sat in front of her son. His uncle was beside her. The mother was the personification of anxiety, and the object of the whole town's sincerest sympathy. Mrs. Robert Mackie sat beside her husband, and they talked of home and their little ones. The court took recess until 8. There was no verdict at this hour, and at 8.15 the court was adjourned until 9 o'clock to-day. The jury was guarded by a legion of black-rodders. There was no getting the verdict last night.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

Manager of the London Life Ins. Co. at Ottawa Arrested.

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—J. T. Niblock, manager of the Ottawa branch of the London Life Insurance Company, is in custody, charged with forgery. He was arrested by Detective Flanagan and taken to the police station yesterday afternoon. The story is as follows: Niblock, being manager of the branch, received all moneys for the payment of death claims. A number of claims were sent into the head office of a shady nature, and Mr. McBrain, inspector for the company, came down to investigate. He found things to be so suspicious that he placed the matter in the hands of Detective Flanagan. This was about a week ago, and up to this time there had been no suspicion attached to the manager, since suspicion, it is said, pointed very strongly towards another clerk.

The detective, however, started off on his own lines and, taking a forged death claim, succeeded in tracing it directly to Niblock. The claim in question is a certificate of the death of Robert Coghill, aged 16, who is supposed to have died of consumption, at 112 Sparks street, on Feb. 25, 1898. The certificate is signed J. L. Chabot, attending physician, and the signature witnessed by J. T. Niblock. Dr. Chabot pronounces the signature a forgery, and says he never saw the alleged Coghill.

Anti-Catholic Agitator Mobbed.

Halifax, Dec. 3.—Justin Fulton of Boston, the anti-Catholic agitator, held a meeting at Glace Bay last night, which ended in a riot. Fulton was accompanied by James E. McDonald of Sydney. Both were attacked and stoned by several hundred people, and had to run for their lives. The lecturer was badly hurt by the flying missiles before he escaped.

Nervous Prostration

Sick Headache and Dizziness—All Cured.

Little Girl Has Grown Plump and Rosy Since Taking Hood's.

Nervous mothers and sickly children endure a vast proportion of the suffering which is caused by impure and impoverished blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives relief by purifying and enriching the blood. Read this statement:

"I was bothered with sick headaches and dizziness. I also had nervous prostration and weakness in my stomach, which made me feel very ill indeed. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which was highly recommended by many, and by the time I had taken four bottles I was in perfect health. About a year ago my little girl, then six years old, had bronchitis and chicken pox. We were told that her was the careful treatment she might receive at the hospital. We took her there and for eight days they had no hope of her recovery, but later she had a change for the better. Her sickness, however, left her very delicate and weak, and she did not grow any for a year. It was then I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla, inasmuch as I had used it for myself and found it such a good medicine for building up a constitution. She had not taken two bottles before she had improved wonderfully. She has grown rosy and plump and is quite herself again. I have great faith in Hood's." MRS. M. HICKMERSON, 635 Bloor Street, West, Toronto, Ontario.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

BELLEVILLE has a Harmony Club. Sir Mackenzie Bowell is honorary President. If Hon. George Eulas Foster becomes a member it will be a "harmony" club no longer.

EDITOR GREVILLE, of Renfrew, who demonstrated his ability to open safes should, in justice to his confreres, pass the secret round. The average editor has very little familiarity with the inside of bank vaults, through the medium of what they guard so jealously.

To Mr. Nicholas Flood Davin, the hairless hierarch of Mr. Foster's new cult of political purity, has been entrusted the duty of organising the Northwest territoires in the interests of the Opposition. He has not made a very happy start. He begins by advising people to employ only Conservatives for business positions. The country at large has shown no burning desire to employ Conservative statesmen exclusively, and it is not to be expected that private persons will show a different disposition in employing book-keepers, coal-heavers and wood-sawyers. No, Mr. Davin, politics is a bigger game than that.

THE Conservatives of London the Less at an entertainment given under their auspices had the services of Ansbach, the "wonderful wizard," who by the way spent a few days in Peterborough this fall. He did many wonderful things, such as extracting a whiskey flask from a pocket where it was not a moment before. What the Conservatives of London want is somebody who can pull out of the country's pocket a few fat offices for them which they do not now enjoy. If Herr Ansbach can do this trick Hon. Mr. Foster need not look any longer after the job of party leader in succession to Sir Charles Tupper.

THE Chicago Times-Herald complains that the Canadian preferential tariff has entailed great loss upon American manufacturers, the shipment of American cotton cloth to Canada having fallen from $1,775,000 in 1897 to $783,000 in 1898. This is, remarks the London Advertiser, the effect intended by Canada, but our neighbours could have avoided it had they listened to our representations before they passed the Dingley Bill. The Times-Herald further says: "The American commissioners are justified in making almost any concessions to Canadian fishermen if this British preferential tariff can be wiped out." Our contemporary is mistaken if it thinks that free fish will wipe out the British preference. But its remarks are significant as showing that the preferential tariff is a means of impressing Americans with the importance of Canadian trade.

ALL HEADACHES

Stand by the Town.

IN again considering the above subject, we take the position of Carlyle, slightly paraphrased, "that a man protesting against wrong is on the way towards uniting himself with all men who believe in right." Though the subject of stand by the town, treated after the manner of the importunate widow, may be tiresome, yet the evil sought to be combatted is even more than tiresome—it is unfair in principle, unjust in application and injurious in effect. United we stand, divided we fall. This idea, applied to the dealings of citizens with each other, demands the co-operation of all classes. The influence that most stiffened England's backbone in the decided attitude she adopted towards her enemies, was the unanimity with which the statesmen and people of both political parties acted—stood shoulder to shoulder when the common interest was assailed or threatened.

In the upbuilding of Peterborough, we must also stand shoulder to shoulder and battle in our several spheres of action with unanimity of aim. If one citizen does anything to injure the interests of another, or refrains from doing something, that is within his power and duty, to benefit him, he does an injury to the whole town; for the contribution, of each citizen, however small, to the prosperity and progress of the town, combined, makes the whole.

Money is at the bottom of all material comfort and prosperity; therefore in this sense, the importance of our commercial and industrial interests is paramount. It is not, perhaps, necessary to state this so much as a fact as in the way of reminder.

Why should you stand by the home merchant? Because he is the man who helps, and helps in a very large degree, to pay for the streets upon which you walk, for the schools in which your children are being educated, and in which, perhaps, you were educated. He helps to build and maintain the church in which you worship. He is the man who built a home which helped to increase the value of your property in the vicinity. Because you see his name on every subscription paper that is circulated; he contributes to every church and charity bazaar. He is the first man approached to contribute to prizes for sports, etc. He is one who cannot afford to deal unfairly or overreachingly with you, because you meet him every day, and he is dependent upon your good will for continued patronage. He bears his full share of the burden of town government. He is the first to give his help to projects that make for the material benefit of the town. He may be selfish in this, but, all the same, his influence is exerted for yourself, as a member of the community. When you want the wares he can supply he has the first claim upon you, especially if he can furnish them as cheaply and of as good quality as you can get in the city—and he can do so.

We have repeatedly shown that, by reason of being under less expense and by virtue of being as keen a buyer and as enterprising as the city merchant, he can buy goods just as cheap and of just as good quality as the city merchant. He will serve you more faithfully and more willingly because he has an interest in doing the best he can for you. The city merchant may never see you again or may think he will not which serves the same end, and has very little care whether or not he pleases you.

The city merchant uses all his wiles to make you believe that he is giving you a bargain. That he gives you a bargain is a delusion that is worth a good deal of pains to dispel. Instances bearing this out have already been given in these columns, and others will do no harm.

A Peterborough lady bought some dress goods in a Toronto store—"former price $1.00; bargain day price 60 cents." Passing down George street one day shortly after, she saw similar goods ticketed in a window at 25c per yard. She investigated and found the goods were precisely the same quality that she got in Toronto at the tremendous bargain price of 60 cents per yard. This is an actual occurrence and carries its own lesson with it.

Another Peterborough lady fancied she couldn't get a carpet good enough for her in town. She went to the city and bought a "Wilton" carpet, which was sold her as a bargain at $1.65 per yard. She found later and to her sorrow and disgust that it was an old pattern of American velvet that had been in stock several years and which, when it was in style, never sold in Peterborough—same quality—at more than $1.25 yard. An actual occurrence that carries its own lesson with it.

The bargain day gloves that disloyal Peterborough ladies buy in the city—2 dome fasteners—" were $1.25, bargain day price 99," have been sold regularly in all respectable Peterborough stores for 75c.

The same applies to other lines. Jewellers in Montreal and Toronto have circulated catalogues in Peterborough with quoted prices as baits and blank orders ready to fill out. Take one of these catalogues before you order jewelry from the cities, take it to a local jeweller, and he will duplicate nearly every article, in quality and style, at a much smaller price. Then why commit the crime of patronizing outsiders when your own local jeweller can supply identical goods for less money? It is to be noted in these catalogues that staple goods, so to speak, that is goods in common demand or use, are not lower, but in every case higher, than reputable local dealers; but in uncommon goods, where the price is not so well known, a fancy figure is put on. At any rate the local jeweller can order anything desired, if he has not got it in stock, at as low a figure as the city men for both have access to the same manufacturers. It is your duty to patronize the local merchant, whom you have always with you.

The same holds good in regard to boots and shoes. A Toronto departmental store advertised by name a certain line of ladies' boots at $3.25 as special reductions and big bargains. A local merchant had identically the same boots in stock and sold them from day to day, with a fair profit, at $2.75. The same discrepancy of price in favour of the local dealer appeared in all the other lines advertised. Depend upon it, as a rule, with very rare exception, you pay higher prices for no better goods in the city than you do in your own town.

The same applies to grocery goods, in which the element of trust in the dealer enters more largely, and where the purchaser should deal with the man he knows. A few days ago a traveller for a wholesale house offered a job lot of currants and raisins (damaged, of course,) at a ridiculously low price to a local grocer, but they were refused.

"I don't want them," said the local dealer. I couldn't sell them; it would ruin my reputation and custom if I did sell them."

"Why not? I've sold big bills of them in the cities."

"It might work there; but here everybody knows me, and I have got to keep faith with them—they won't stay with me if I don't stay with them."

A Peterborough lady saw some wonderfully cheap raisins and currants advertised in a Toronto departmental store. She bought 16 pounds of each, and had to throw them out—they were not fit to use. This, she contritely told a local grocer, to whom she went to get some fruit fit to use, was a lesson that she would remember.

And so on through the whole line of commercial supplies. You don't except in the most exceptional cases, get anything in the city in the line of merchandise, a cent cheaper, nor as good for the same money, as you get in your own town. Besides being wrong and positively sinful—thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself—it doesn't pay, taking it on a money basis, to go out of town for your goods. And this is especially true since the cut railway rates on the C.P.R. have been advanced to the old figures.

Remember all this when you wish to lay out the money that has been made by the help of your fellow-citizens. You will lose in every way by going out of town to buy. You will lose in the respect of your fellow man, you will lose in your self respect; you will lose in pocket. All the instances quoted above are actual facts ready to be vouched for by reliable and responsible men.

Remember these things especially when you come to do your holiday buying. You wish to send gifts to your friends abroad, who will value them all the more because they come from the place where you live. You have no need to go out of town for any gift that is within the reach of your purse. Our shops are plethoric with as fine goods in as great variety as you will find in any city shop and at lower prices as a rule. Don't go back on the town when buying your Christmas presents. Don't go back on your neighbour, who has perhaps laid awake at nights to devise means to meet the obligation created by patronising you. Do the fair thing, do the honest thing, stand by the town And don't, for heaven's sake, commit the unpardonable sin of sending your ready cash out of town and buying from the local merchant on credit, only what you haven't the money to pay for outside.

INSURE AGAINST BILIOUSNESS.

By Using the Only Sure Cure, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

They Tone and Invigorate the Liver. Giving it Strength to do its Work Thoroughly—Their Effect is Immediate and Permanent.

Biliousness is most prevalent during the fall and winter months.

People eat much more fatty foods during those seasons, than during spring or summer. The Liver is over-worked; it becomes exhausted, and the bile which it secretes overflows and is distributed throughout the system. This is Biliousness.

A bilious person suffers more than tongue or pen can describe. Every feature in the face bears the impression of the disease.

There is one way to cure this complaint. That is to assist the tired out Liver to do its work; to give it strength and energy.

Biliousness cannot be cured in any other way.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have a powerful, though gentle effect on the Liver. They give it strength and vigor, and enable it to receive and dispose of the bile, in the way Nature intended it to do.

So speedy is the effect of this wonderful medicine on the Liver apparent, that in a few hours after the first dose has been taken the sufferer feels the benefit. A few days' use of the Tablets sets the organ in working order again.

It is best to continue the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for a couple of weeks after the organ has been restored to its natural condition. If this is done the Liver is fortified against weakness and will do its duty promptly and regularly.

No other medicine known has such a wonderfully beneficial effect on the Liver as Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have. They and they only are a certain and permanent cure for Biliousness, and all other Liver complaints.

Price fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50; at all druggists or sent by mail, on receipt of price, by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

Russian Courtship.

One of the national eccentricities in the Ukrain Russia is that the maiden is the one that does all the courting. When she falls in love with a man, she goes to his house and tells him the state of her feelings. If he reciprocates, all is well, and a formal marriage is duly arranged. If, however, he is unwilling, she remains there, hoping to coax him into a better mind.

The poor fellow cannot treat her with the least discourtesy or turn her out, for her friends would be sure to avenge the insult. His best chance therefore, if he is really determined that he will not marry her, is to leave his home and stay away as long as she is in it.

This is certainly a peculiar way of turning a man out of house and home.—Ledger Monthly.

PATRIOTISM OF RACE

Will Bind Two Allied Peoples Without a Formal Alliance.

SPEECH BY SIR EDWARD GREY.

Great Britain Really Wants the Simple Friendship, Without an Alliance, of the United States—Lord Kitchener Mobbed by His Admirers in London—The News by Cable.

London, Dec. 3.—Sir Edward Grey, Liberal member of Parliament for Berwick-on-Tweed, who was Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in Lord Rosebery's Cabinet, and who was the spokesman of Lord Rosebery's Government in the memorable declaration as to Great Britain's Egyptian policy, made in the House of Commons in 1895, spoke last night on foreign affairs at Blackburn, in Lancashire.

Referring to the "magnificent effect on the relations between the United States and Great Britain accomplished by the free press of a free people on each side of the Atlantic expressing the generous impulses of each nation," he said: "I would rather have the free play of this national sentiment which is enriching the public life of both countries than a written alliance. We have finally come to realize a double patriotism—the patriotism of country and the patriotism of race. There is a common bond between the two peoples, and we should look in times of peace to see the sentiment growing and in times of disturbance to find in it something upon which we could lean for mutual support." Sir Edward Grey condemned the "attempts of some Conservative speakers to make party capital out of this understanding," and expressed a hope that both Germany and the United States "may incline more and more to our policy of the 'open door,' which will lead to a great improvement in trade throughout the world."

THE AUSTRIAN JUBILEE.

All Sorts and Conditions of People Honor Emperor Francis Joseph.

Vienna, Dec. 3.—Reports from all the provincial towns of Austria show that the Emperor's jubilee has been faithfully observed, which is also the case throughout Hungary, where the day was celebrated as a general holiday, with fetes, processions and illumination in the evening. Emperor Francis Joseph has received congratulatory telegrams from most of the crowned heads and at all the European capitals the jubilee has been celebrated by ambassadorial functions.

The Viennese Illuminations.

Vienna, Dec. 3.—The illuminations last night were superb. They extend into the remotest suburbs of Vienna, every window in every private house being lighted. The effects at the Rathaus and the Commemoration Church are grand.

The Emperor's bust or portrait everywhere figures alone and not as formerly side by side with that of Empress Elizabeth. This gives a note of sadness, which is heightened by the decorum of demonstrations usually noisy.

The Threatened Reprisals.

Berlin, Dec. 3.—At a reception given to the Austrian colony in Berlin, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador in the course of a brief speech alluded indirectly to the anti-Austrian feeling engendered in Berlin by the recent threats in the Austrian Reichsrath of Count Thun-Hohenstein, the Austrian Premier, to make reprisals in case the German policy of expelling Austrians from Germany were continued. The ambassador says he feels special satisfaction at his "cognizance of the treaty with a mighty empire, which benefits Austria and the world and will endure forever."

ASTHMA CURED

—and Permanently. The Dark Continent Yields from its Jungles the Wonderful Kola Plant. Natures Remedy.

Medical science has by the discovery of this wonderful botanical product put a permanent cure within the reach of all humanity for this most distressing and heretofore incurable affliction, and to-day in long universally loved the world over and proud of the welcome balm. Clarke's Kola Compound has proved the unfailing formula and testimony is written every day of the cures it is accomplishing in cases that were considered hopeless. R. D. Pitt of Kamloops, B.C., suffered for 36 years from the great oppressiveness of Asthma. All the consolation he could get from the most skilled physicians was that he could be only temporarily relieved, he would always be troubled. He took one bottle of Clarke's Kola Compound and got great relief. Three bottles cured him, and, to use his own words, "having suffered as I have for years, I can appreciate what a blessing this great remedy must prove to sufferers from asthma." Ormond & Walsh sell it. Two dollars per bottle; three bottles, with cure guaranteed, for five dollars. Griffiths & Macpherson Co., Sole Canadian Agents, 121 Church St., Toronto, or Vancouver, B.C.

HAY FEVER Clarke's Kola Compound is guaranteed to cure any case. Ormond & Walsh sell it.

INLAND LAKE WARSHIPS.

The Question Is Still Under Discussion, and No Agreement Has Been Reached, as Reported.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 3.—In view of a statement published yesterday to the effect that a committee of the Anglo-American commission had accepted the recommendation of a United States naval commission as to the building of warships on the Great Lakes, Lord Herschell and Senator Fairbanks, representing all parties on the commission, have united in the following:

"The statement that an agreement has been arrived at by the sub-committee appointed to consider the question of naval vessels on the Great Lakes is altogether incorrect. The matter is still under discussion."

This is the only information which the commission will authorize on the subject, and the statement is the first official information that the question has been under discussion. It is generally understood that progress has been made in reconciling the several differences which exist between the country and Canada, on the Great Lakes, including some concession relative to the building and maintaining of warships.

The joint commission was in session for a short time, giving way to a meeting of the American members. There will be no meeting to-day, the commission having accepted an invitation to go to Annapolis to inspect the naval academy.

ST. VITUS DANCE.

A TROUBLE THAT CAUSES ITS VICTIMS MUCH INCONVENIENCE.

Winfred Schofield, of Gaspereau, N.B. Tells How He Obtained a Speedy and Permanent Cure:

From the Acadien, Wolfville, N.S.

The many cases brought to his notice of residents in this vicinity being cured from physical disorders through the agency of Dr. Williams' Pills, have created in the mind of the Acadien representative a sincere belief in the healing powers of this remedy. Yet withal he was a little incredulous the other day when told of a young man who had been cured of a very serious and deplorable disease by the use of only some two boxes of these little miracle workers. It seemed impossible that such a remarkable healing could be wrought even by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in such short order. Accordingly he was possessed of a strong desire to investigate. Mr. Winfred Schofield, of Gaspereau, was the address given us by our informant, and were not long in hunting him up. We found Mr. Schofield to be a bright young man of about twenty years of age, and of more than ordinary intelligence. His air of candour and straightforwardness dispelled any doubts we may have had. In a very few words he stated to us his case. "Two years ago," he said, "I was taken with an attack of St. Vitus Dance. Sometimes when at work, I found that my fingers would all at once straighten out and I would be compelled to drop anything I was holding. One day I was using an axe when seized with one of these attacks. The axe slipped from my hands and in falling struck my foot and gave it a nasty cut. After that you can depend upon it I left axes alone, and it was not long before I had to give up using any kind of tool. My complaint rapidly grew worse, and I was soon unfitted for any sort of work. Everything possible was tried by me in order to get relief, but I got no better. At last one day a neighbour of mine, Mr Fred Fielding, who had been cured by the use of Dr. William's Pink Pills advised me to give them a trial, offering to pay for them himself if they did not help me. As it turned out he was safe enough in making the offer. I followed his advice but had hardly began to use them when I began to feel very much better. After using two boxes I was perfectly cured and have never been troubled with the complaint since. I am confident that to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills alone I owe my cure.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines have failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trademark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trademark around the box. If in doubt send direct to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and they will be mailed to you postpaid at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

A Brakeman Burned to Death.

Athol, Mass., Dec. 3.—Two eastbound freight trains running together on the Fitchburg Railroad, collided near here early yesterday, and a brakeman, F. W. Knight of Williamstown, was caught in the wreck by the legs and burned to death in spite of the efforts of his comrades to release him. He was pinned in the wreck, which caught fire from the engine. As the flames advanced, Knight begged piteously for someone to put him out of his misery. When he saw nothing could be done, he drew his coat over his head, said "Good-bye," and died without further struggle.

MOBBED BY HIS ADMIRERS.

Lord Kitchener Had to Flee to Prevent Being Killed by Kindness.

London, Dec. 3.—General Lord Kitchener, at the Mansion House yesterday, addressed a large meeting of bankers and merchants, who are pledged to the support of the scheme of establishing a Gordon memorial college at Khartoum. A great crowd was assembled outside.

When the Sirdar appeared in the street after the meeting was over the crowd broke through the police cordon and swept down upon him. One woman cried "God bless you!" and tried to shake his hand. The Sirdar fled, and, after dodging among omnibuses and other vehicles, finally succeeded in eluding his pursuers and gaining a side street.

Later General Kitchener visited the Stock Exchange and told the members that he had come to get £100,000. He was received with tremendous cheering.

Revival of the Petersen Fast Line.

London, Dec. 3.—(Toronto Globe Special)—Letters have been received from Mr. Petersen regarding the fast line. He still thinks that his project will succeed, and that very soon. Hon. Mr. Dobell arrived in London yesterday. He states that proposals from one company have already been received. He will not consider the revival of the Petersen scheme unless further ample assurances are forthcoming. If he finds the time opportune he will begin fresh negotiations for the service required. He will return within a week.

Urgency Was Voted.

Paris, Dec. 3.—In the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, M. Gauthier, Republican, introduced a measure providing for the election of Senators by universal suffrage, and demanded urgency. The Premier, M. Dupuy, opposed the granting of urgency, and said the Chamber should think twice before deciding upon a proposition changing the whole electoral system. Urgency, however, was adopted by a vote of 243 to 228.

The Rebellion in Arabia.

The Turkish officials here are reticent regarding the outbreak.

The Present Month of the Closing Year

Must End the Lives of Many if they Fail to Banish Disease.

Paine's Celery Compound, Earth's Great Medical Prescription, "Makes Sick People Well"

Another short month and the year 1898 will come to a close. As the year ends many loved and dear ones will pass away, severing ties and associations that will bring untold sorrow, agony and mourning. The victims will come from all classes and conditions of our population.

While it is true that we must all leave this transitory life, it ought to be well understood that our years of life should be three score and ten or four score years.

When young and middle aged men and women fail to reach a good old age the fault is theirs in ninety cases out of a hundred. It is safe to assert that they have violated the laws of nature and have allowed disease to enchain them.

Years ago the attention of that celebrated medical expert, Dr. Phelps, was specially directed to the class referred to who die in middle age. He realized the fact that something far beyond the ordinary remedies and prescriptions of the day was required to meet the varied conditions of suffering humanity. His wonderful life giving prescription, Paine's Celery Compound, was the boon bestowed on the hosts who suffer from the common diseases—penalties of nature for transgressions of its wise laws.

Dr. Phelps found that nervous diseases, blood troubles, liver and kidney complaints, rheumatism, neuralgia and dyspepsia were dragging thousands to the grave every year, notwithstanding all the well directed efforts of conscientious medical men.

The marvellous prescription of Dr. Phelps was a revelation to the world, in that it cured desperate and long standing cases of disease that had baffled the best medical skill.

Since its advent, Paine's Celery Compound has saved tens of thousands and is still conquering disease every day. No other medicine known to man has ever received such flattering notices and testimonials from prominent men and women and from the entire press of the land. It is the one and only life-saver in every case of disease and suffering; it defeats death when the physician is unable to save.

It is to this marvellous banisher of disease—Paine's Celery Compound—that we would direct the attention of all who are run down, tired, sleepless, nervous, debilitated and weak—symptoms of the diseases we have referred to above. It will quickly give to every ailing man and woman that vigour, strength and perfect health that insure and guarantee a happy old age.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The Matter of Payment for the Stone Crusher Discussed.

At a meeting of the Finance Committee last evening, with Chairman Denne presiding, a number of accounts were recommended to the council for payment.

On motion it was decided not to accept the Hamilton crusher until it operated successfully. It was also decided that as the crusher was not delivered until eight days after it was ordered, and as the hire of a motor at $3 per day was running on during this time, that the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co. be charged with the amount of $24.

In reference to two lots on Patterson street and one on Smith street, on which the taxes are in arrears, it was decided to allow the sale of them to proceed.

THE OBSEQUIES

Of Mrs. Weller Yesterday Afternoon—An Impressive Service in St. John's.

The funeral of the late Mrs. (Judge) Weller took place yesterday afternoon at half past two from the family residence, Reid street, and was very largely attended.

The cortege proceeded to St. John's church, where an impressive service took place, conducted by the rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, assisted by Rev. E. V. Stevenson. The pew of the deceased, in which she had worshipped for the past forty-six years, was draped in purple, upon which reposed a beautiful floral cross presented by loving friends in the congregation. Other flowers were laid on the coffin in great profusion.

At the conclusion of the service in the church the funeral proceeded to the Little Lake cemetery, where interment took place. The pallbearers were Messrs. W. H. Roper, W. H. Rackham, Edgecombe Pearce, H. T. Strickland, D. W. Dumble and Sheriff Hall.

TO-DAY'S MARKET.

Produce of Every Kind Was Very Plentiful, the Attendance Being Large.

There was a grand market this morning, all available space on the square being occupied. The repeal of the meat bylaw is evidently having a good effect, as large quantities of beef and pork were on sale to-day. A good deal of wood was also brought in, the wheeling being first class on the country roads.

Snow apples were not any too plentiful and brought 20 cents a peck. Northern Spies sold for $1.50 per bag. Celery remains high, the price asked being ten cents a bunch or three for a quarter. The cabbage this morning looked fresh and nice, bringing 40 cents per dozen. Sage is sold at three bunches for ten cents and summer savoury brings the same price. Vegetables are very plentiful at the following prices:—Parsnips 60 cents per bag, turnips 30 cents, onions $1 00, carrots 50 cents, beets 55 cents and potatoes 60 to 70 cents.

In the building butter is selling at from 15 to 17 cents per pound, being quite plentiful. Fresh eggs are scarce at 18 and 20 cents a dozen. Geese bring from 60 to 65 cents and turkeys from 60 cents up, according to weight. Chickens ran from 30 to 45 cents per pair.

THE DOG SHOW.

Additions Made to the Classification—Special Prize for Russian Wolf Hounds.

At a meeting of the Bench Show Committee held last evening it was decided to add a few more classes to the prize list. The additions are an open class for mastiffs, one for clumber spaniels and one for black cocker puppies. There will be two open classes (dogs and bitches) for setters.

It was decided that in case six entries were received of any variety not classified that another class would be opened for them.

The entry list will close on January 3rd.

The committee will offer a special prize of $3 for the best brace of Russian wolf hounds on exhibition.

The secretary was instructed to proceed with the necessary advertising, etc., at once.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The Matter of Payment for the Stone Crusher Discussed.

At a meeting of the Finance Committee last evening, with Chairman Dunne presiding, a number of accounts were recommended to the council for payment.

On motion it was decided not to accept the Hamilton crusher until it operated successfully. It was also decided that as the crusher was not delivered until eight days after it was ordered, and as the hire of a motor at $3 per day was running on during this time, that the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co. be charged with the amount of $24.

In reference to two lots on Patterson street and one on Smith street, on which the taxes are in arrears, it was decided to allow the sale of them to proceed.

THE OBSEQUIES

Of Mrs. Weller Yesterday Afternoon—An Impressive Service in St. John's.

The funeral of the late Mrs. (Judge) Weller took place yesterday afternoon at half past two from the family residence, Reid street, and was very largely attended.

The cortege proceeded to St. John's church, where an impressive service took place, conducted by the rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, assisted by Rev. E. V. Stevenson. The pew of the deceased, in which she had worshipped for the past forty-six years, was draped in purple, upon which reposed a beautiful floral cross presented by loving friends in the congregation. Other flowers were laid on the coffin in great profusion.

At the conclusion of the service in the church the funeral proceeded to the Little Lake cemetery, where interment took place. The pallbearers were Messrs. W. H. Roper, W. H. Rackham, Edgecombe Pearce, H. T. Strickland, D. W. Dumble and Sheriff Hall.

EMILY, Nov., 1898.

To the Officers and Members of Court Pine Hill, No. 1949, I. O. F., Smith:

Gentlemen,—I desire through you to express my sincere thanks to the Supreme Executive of the I. O. F., for the prompt payment of the endowment of $1 000.00 on the life of my late husband, Thomas H. Guthrie, a member of your Court; also the sum of $30 sick benefits and $50 for funeral expenses, Praying that your order may prosper and prove a blessing to the widows and orphans that may be left dependent upon it for their maintenance,

I remain your sincerely,
MRS. THOS. H. GUTHRIE.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS.

This week Mr. H. P. Kennedy shipped 1,105 head of cattle and calves, 726 hogs, 400 lambs and two cars of turkeys, representing a value of $31,508. The stock was loaded at Norwood, Central Ontario, Frankford, Tweed, Pakenham, Erinsville, Hastings, Garden Hill, Pontypool, Port Perry, Myrtle and Cobourg, and made in all 30 cars. If sufficient accommodation had been provided this stock would all have been centered in Peterborough, but had instead to be sent on to Toronto, illustrating the need of making better local provision for handling livestock, etc.

Now comes the test, who will judge of the cleanest and finest fruit offered in town, and the most for your money:

TO-DAY'S MARKET.

Produce of Every Kind Was Very Plentiful, the Attendance Being Large.

There was a grand market this morning, all available space on the square being occupied. The repeal of the meat bylaw is evidently having a good effect, as large quantities of beef and pork were on sale to-day. A good deal of wood was also brought in, the wheeling being first class on the country roads.

Snow apples were not any too plentiful and brought 20 cents a peck. Northern Spies sold for $1.50 per bag. Celery remains high, the price asked being ten cents a bunch or three for a quarter. The cabbage this morning looked fresh and nice, bringing 40 cents per dozen. Sage is sold at three bunches for ten cents and summer savoury brings the same price. Vegetables are very plentiful at the following prices:—Parsnips 60 cents per bag, turnips 30 cents, onions $1 00, carrots 50 cents, beets 55 cents and potatoes 60 to 70 cents.

In the building butter is selling at from 15 to 17 cents per pound, being quite plentiful. Fresh eggs are scarce at 18 and 20 cents a dozen. Geese bring from 60 to 65 cents and turkeys from 60 cents up, according to weight. Chickens run from 30 to 45 cents per pair.

LEFT FOR MONTREAL.

The McGill Students and Faculty Returned East at Noon To-day.

This morning at about ten o'clock the party of students and their professors from the Science Department of McGill University, Montreal, drove out to the first lock above Nassau and also examined the works at the Red Mills, with all of which they were greatly pleased.

Mayor Davis, Mr. John Carnegie, Mr. R. B. Rogers and Mr. H. S. Greenwood accompanied the party on the trip. The return was made in time for the students to take the noon train for the East.

In leaving Peterborough the warmest expressions of praise were heard for the many kindnesses bestowed by the management of the Canadian General Electric Works.

CATHOLIC ASSOCIATION LADIES' AUXILIARY.

Organization Meeting Held Last Night With a Large Attendance.

A meeting was held last evening in the rooms of the Catholic Literary Association for the purpose of organizing a ladies' auxiliary in connection with the society.

There was a large attendance of young ladies present, and the indications are that the ladies' auxiliary will prove a great benefit in furthering the interests of the C. L. A.

The ladies decided to meet again Monday evening for the election of officers, and a board of directors.

MR. ANDREW MERCER'S NEW MOVE.

An Explanation of His Proposed Removal to Montreal—His Present Business will go on as Usual.

A few days ago the Montreal papers contained the following paragraph in an advertisement of the "Kennedy Company (Limited)" of that city:—

The manufacture of garments, and selection of cloths, will be under the control of Mr. Andrew Mercer, one of the most successful merchant tailors in Ontario, whose native ability and 15 years' experience in high grade custom tailoring, devoted in future exclusively to these stores, will give that criticism and colour to the style and material of each garment, which will commend it to gentlemen and ensure its reliable workmanship.

The above paragraph appeared in the advertisement under the heading "The Men Behind the Guns," and refers to one of a number of first-class men selected from the cities or the management of the several departments of the great business of the Kennedy Company, proprietors of "The Fit-Reform Wardrobe." Each man named is a largely interested stockholder, and a specialist of proven ability in his particular department, who forfeits long established business interests to join this company, because he sees in it a great future against all competition.

Naturally anxious for information as to the correctness of a statement that would deprive Peterborough of one of its most energetic and enterprising business men, the EXAMINER called upon Mr. Mercer for information.

"Mr. Mercer, are the statements appearing in the papers regarding your connection with the Kennedy Company, Montreal, correct, and if so have you anything you would care to say on the subject?"

"Yes, the statements you have read are correct. For some time, and from time to time, strong pressure has been brought to bear upon me to induce me to take stock in the new Montreal business established by the Kennedy Company—the Fit-Reform Wardrobe. Besides the taking of stock, a most tempting offer of a lucrative salary as head of the department, charged with the selection of cloths, which includes all the buying and superintendence of the manufacture of garments, was made me."

"I suppose the salary offered was a substantial one?"

"It was. It was something I did not think it wise to refuse, especially when in connection with the salary mentioned I considered that my connection with large, strong and progressive company afforded a larger field and agreater chance to grow than Peterborough presents.

"But you were doing well in Peterborough?"

"I don't deny that. I have got my business in first class shape, especially since I adopted the new cash system, so that with the reputation it had gained it would almost run itself. But at its best it is necessarily limited and a young man naturally ambitious cannot well afford to refuse the more tempting position I have spoken of in reference to the Kennedy Company."

"What about the future of your present business?"

"It will go on as usual, except that I will not be personally present, and I have no doubt that the same liberal patronage it has received in the past will be continued. I have my system perfected. I have a splendid stock on hand, and those who are with me have had a training that will enable them to carry on the details of the business in a manner which I am sure will be satisfactory to the public."

"When do you think of going on duty in Montreal?"

"Some time early in January next."

"Au revoir. Of course if you promise not to pull up stakes altogether in Peterborough we can cheerfully congratulate you on your good luck."

IN CASE OF PONTON BEING TRIED A SECOND TIME.

Conclusion of the Great Napanee Bank Robbery Case—The Jury Finds Mackie Guilty—Disagree in Ponton's Case—Ten for Acquittal and Two for Conviction—Ponton is Released on Bail.

Never in the history of criminal procedure since the Reginald Birchall murder trial at Woodstock, in 1892, has a criminal trial attracted the attention and aroused the interest that the "Ponton" trial, just concluded at Napanee, has done. For over two years the mysterious robbery of the Dominion Bank in Napanee has been the theme of public speculation and the object of the keenest research on the part of the officers of the law. Circumstances so exploited the case that as the time of the trial approached, public interest and excitement increased, and during the trial it became intensified as the developments proceeded, and last night at the conclusion of the evidence, the EXCITEMENT ROSE TO FEVER HEAT.

For some reason or other, all through the case, public sympathy and belief in Ponton's innocence were almost unanimous, and in Napanee and Belleville, where the accused was best known, it was hardly safe to express the mildest dissent from a downright belief in the innocence of the accused bank clerk.

Ponton's partisans in Napanee and Belleville retained to the last their unshaken faith in Ponton's acquittal and had made elaborate arrangements for celebrating it with great eclat. Brass bands were engaged, torches provided and every arrangement concluded for a triumphal procession in honour of the acquitted Ponton. About from Belleville went down on the train to Napanee where they found an even larger number of congenial spirits, and it is not anything to the credit of these persons or to Canadian respect for law and order, that disappointment in their hopes of acquittal, in spite of evidence, lawyers, judge and jury, resulted in the mobbing of the judge and the necessity for the reading of the riot act, as detailed in our despatches of last night.

In Peterborough there was similar tense feeling of interest in the case. Last night the possible results of the trial were eagerly canvassed and the general belief expressed that the result would be Ponton's acquittal. To-day the almost was with him and all day long the bulletin board in front of the EXAMINER Office was thronged with people, anxious to gather the latest intelligence. When the first news came with the intelligence of the jury's disagreement in Ponton's case, his sympathisers still held hopes that the obstinate jurymen would eventually yield and that Ponton would go free, but the next despatch destroyed hopes of this kind, for it announced the definite disagreement of the jury in the Ponton case and a sentence upon Mackie of ten years. Mackie's case is settled for ten years, but Ponton's case, as also that of Pare and Holden, is still in abeyance. Ponton has been sent back to gaol and by the judge, which, it is safe to say will be speedily forthcoming and his fate will depend upon the issue of a new trial, unless as many anticipate the Crown should enter a nolle prosequi. Pare and Holden by virtue of their confession are of course guilty, and it is probable that their sentence will be deferred till after Ponton's new trial as they will be needed as witnesses. Meantime they will remain in jail, which, next to the penetentiary, everybody thinks is their proper home.

Napanee, 9.15 a. m., Dec. 3.—At twelve minutes past nine this morning the jury in the Ponton-Mackie case returned into court with a verdict of guilty against Mackie, coupled with a recommendation to mercy. In the case of Ponton they stood 10 for conviction and 2 for acquittal. They asked for a further charge in Ponton's case in order to arrive at a decision, but the judge thought it would be irregular.

Napanee, 9.30, Dec. 3—The standing of the jury in Ponton's case this morning was 10 for acquittal and 2 for conviction. The mistake in the first report arose through the reporter misunderstanding the foreman of the jury.

Napanee, 10 50, Dec. 3—The judge has given a sentence of ten years against Mackie, and the jury have again disagreed in the Ponton case.

Napanee, Dec. 3—The court was called to order at 9 o'clock. At 9.10 the prisoners were brought in, the jurors fyling in at the same time.

The judge at once asked the jury if they had come to any agreement. The foreman replied that they had all agreed on a verdict of guilty in Mackie's case, but that in Ponton's case they stood ten for acquittal and two for conviction.

The judge thereupon sent the jury out again to see if they could not come to an agreement regarding the accused exteller. At 10 o'clock the jury returned and reported that they could not come to an agreement in Ponton's case.

The judge then sentenced Mackie to ten years' imprisonment and directed that Ponton be taken back to gaol.

Bail be announced would be accepted for Ponton for ten thousand dollars.

Pare and Holden, the other men implicated in the robberry, were also sent back to gaol. It is not expected that they will be sentenced until after Ponton's next trial, as they will be required as witnesses.

PONTON ADMITTED TO BAIL.

Napanee, 3.30 p.m.—Ponton has been admitted to bail, and is again at liberty. Two Belleville men signed the bonds. Intense excitement still reigns at Napanee on the result of the trial.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Will Porter's Team Runs Down a Rig Driven by Mr. D. McMahon, of Douro.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis McMahon, of Douro, had a narrow escape from meeting with a very serious accident this afternoon.

As they were driving down to the Hunter street bridge, returning home, they were met by a runaway team just in front of Heffernan's blacksmith shop. The team, which belonged to Mr. Wm. Porter, of Otonabee, charged directly into Mr. McMahon's rig, upsetting it as well as the horse and throwing both occupants out into the road. The shock was sufficient to deprive Mr. McMahon of consciousness for a time, but by a miracle both he and his wife escaped serious injury.

BUSINESS VERSUS NONSENSE.

Messrs. Henry & Co. Tersely Express Their Views on Good Fruit and the Cleaning of It—Their Store Supplied With Latest Improved Machinery for Cleaning Fruit—Interesting Information.

It is amusing to read some of the flamboyant statements published in the local press by certain grocery merchants with regard to fruit and the cleaning of it. Some have boasted of the many hundred cases of fruit they clean per day; others that good fruit does not need cleaning at all. These are two extremes of the question. Henry & Co. wish to take "the happy medium" position and leave the verdict in the care of intelligent readers. They do not clean nor sell a hundred cases in a day, but are happy if they can sell the tenth part of it in that time. They also think that it does not hurt even the very best currants to be run through a cleaning machine.

INTERESTING INFORMATION.

Currants, if we can believe a good authority—the Canadian Grocer—are grown mostly in Greece, and are packed there in boxes or barrels by young Greeks, who tramp them in their bare feet, jumping from the currants into tubs or vats of vinegar and water and back on to the fruit again, in order to give it the proper flavour.

Henry & Co. have always bought the very best selected raisins and the very finest currants in the market. They had no patent fruit cleaner, and had no intention of buying one. They had bought again this fall the very finest selected fruit that money can buy; but since buying, some other merchants have raised such an uproar about fruit and the cleaning of it, that housekeepers have demanded that fruit should be put through a patent cleaning process and cleaned before sold. Henry & Co. are in the business to please the public and they must be up-to-date, consequently they determined to purchase a two-horse power fruit cleaning machine, and now have it in running order in the store. The public need not fear getting any cheap or second grade fruit cleaned up by Henry & Co's machine. They bought the fruitiest fruit, which could easily be sold without cleaning, but they are now "in the swim," and ready to turn out the best fruit, cleaned by the newest cleaning process known to the trade.

The public are not concerned to know how much this new machinery cost, nor whether Henry & Co. were the first or second or third in this district to procure it, nor how many hundred pounds they receive and clean per day. But what does concern the housekeeper is the superior quality of the fruit Henry & Co. have in stock and the superior quality of fruit they will now turn out by their new electric power machine for holiday and everyday cooking.

THE SHAMROCK BRAND.

Henry & Co. do not wish to boast that their brand of raisins and currants put up in packages and called "The Shamrock" are a hundred times better than some other brand that some other merchant is selling, but they do claim that the "Shamrock" package contains the most perfect fruit that money can buy. They cheerfully invite all customers to carefully compare it with other fruit offered, and if the "Shamrock" is inferior the money will be cheerfully refunded and they can keep the fruit for nothing. Henry & Co., like all other merchants, are in business to make money and are enterprising enough to take hold of anything new that will improve their trade and please their customers. Look in Henry & Co's. grocery window and see their coffee mill running by the electric power, which also runs their fruit cleaning machine in the other end of the shop. Mr. H. Caldwell's Siamese Twin Apple.

Mr. H. Caldwell, of Clydesdale, Chandos township, has forwarded to the EXAMINER an interesting freak of nature a twin apple (Ben Davis) fully matured. Twin apples are common enough, but the specimen sent by Mr. Caldwell, is unique, for instead of the bodies of the two apples growing into each other they are in this specimen connected by a sort of Siamese twin ligature.

THE DEAN AND HIS WIFE.

A Little Surprise For a Roomful of Blackguards.

The following was told by Lord de Ros: In the early part of the century Vauxhall was the resort of many respectable persons, especially of those who came up from the country to see London sights. During one season it was infested by a band of roughs, who made it their occupation to insult and molest the most quiet, decent people, especially any whom they guessed to be country visitors. They became such a nuisance that several men about town, among whom were Lord Alvanley and Keppel Craven, laid a plot to get rid of them.

They hired Mendoza, the famous prizefighter, and dressed him up as a dean, with a shovel hat and apron. Another prizefighter, a short man, was dressed as a middle aged lady and passed as the dean's wife, and one evening they were seated at Vauxhall in a conspicuous position to watch the fireworks. It was not long before the old fashioned, countrified pair attracted the attention of the gang, who assailed them with every kind of coarse raillery and insult, all of which they bore very meekly.

At length one of the persecutors, growing bolder by impunity, stepped up to the dean and squirted an orange into his eye. On this the dean, rising, said in a meek, quiet tone, "Really, gentlemen, I have borne a great deal, but I must put a stop to this." With that his hat went one way and his coat another, and, followed by his "wife," he sprang into the middle of the party, hitting out in all directions. Filled with astonishment and terror, some fled and some tried to show fight, but the handling they got from the prizefighters was too severe for the fracas to last long.

All the time Lord Alvanley and his friends, who were in the boxes, were calling out in delight: "Go it, Mr. Dean! Give it 'em, Mrs. Dean!" An effectual stop was thus put to the annoyance. Lord de Ros, who was present, was a boy at Westminster, and some of the Lennoxes had given him a hint that if he went to Vauxhall that evening he would see some fun.—London Spectator.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes for it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y.

DREAD TO SAVE FROM DROWNING.

A Superstition That Prevents Rescues That Could Be Made Easily.

A strong antipathy once prevailed to rescue a drowning man, the idea being that the person saved would sooner or later do some sort of injury to the man who preserved his life. Sir Walter Scott, in "The Pirate," tells how Bryce, the peddler, refused to help Mordaunt save the shipwrecked sailor from drowning and even remonstrated with him on the rashness of such a deed.

"Are you mad," said the peddler, "you that have lived sae lang in Zetland, to risk the saving of a drowning man? Wot ye not, if ye bring him to life again, he will be sure to do you some injury?"

This prejudice, which was deeply rooted among our seagoing community in many parts of the country, existed not very long ago in Cornwall. It is found, too, among French sailors and the boatmen of the Danube and is widely credited in Russia. Mr. Barry in his "Ivan at Home" gives a striking instance of the repugnance of the Russians to saving life from drowning. One day a drunken man walked into the water and disappeared. A number of spectators stood by and gazed on the scene with the utmost indifference, but no one tried to rescue him. A court of inquiry was held, but as on examination no cross was found on his neck a verdict was quickly agreed upon by the villagers, who declared that the man was "drowned because he had no cross upon his neck."

The Bohemian fisherman shrinks from snatching a drowning man from the waters, fearing that the water demon will take away his luck in fishing and drown him at the first opportunity. This is a lingering survival of the ancient significance of this superstition, the explanation being that the water spirit is naturally angry at being despoiled of his victim and henceforth bears a special grudge against the unlucky person who has dared to frustrate him. Thus when some one is drowned in Germany the remark is made, "The river spirit claims his yearly sacrifice," or "The nix has taken him."

Out of Europe also the accidental drowning of a person is attributed to a similar seizure, and the Siamese dreads the Pnuk, or water spirit, that seizes bathers and drags them under to his dwelling. The Sioux Indians have a similar fancy and tell how men have been drowned by Unk-Tahe, the water monster. For the same reason, it appears, the Kamtschadales, far from helping a man out of the water, would drown him by force. If rescued by any chance, no one would receive him into his house or give him food.

The Chinese reluctance to save a man from drowning arises from quite a different belief, it being supposed that the spirit of a person who has met his death in this way continues to flit along the surface of the water until it has caused by drowning the death of a fellow creature. A Chinaman therefore who attempts to rescue another from drowning is considered to incur the hatred of the uneasy spirit, which is desirous, even at the expense of a man's life, to escape from its wanderings.—Boston Globe.

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cts., at any Drug Store. Every bottle guaranteed.

The Printer as Humorist.

Since the "new humor," says The Academy, shows a tendency to revert to what Mr. Andrew Lang calls the "old drivel," it is satisfactory to note that the printer, whom an American writer has justly described as the greatest humorist of the age, continues to maintain his reputation.

In an article in a London paper the action of "The Three Musketeers" was described as a fight between "fiends and demigods." The printer, with his customary felicity, changed "fiends" into "friends." Of course it may be objected that this particular joke is not new. There is an old story as to a death announcement in The Times being followed by the line, "Fiends will please accept of this intimation." And not long ago a well known baronet was stated in a fashionable column to have "gone shooting yesterday with a party of fiends."

The printer probably knew nothing of these antecedent witticisms, and his stroke of humor was done, so to speak, off his own bat.

A BRITISH SOLDIER

Tells how Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills Conquer Disease.

Like the conquering armies of Britain, which are marching to victory in every quarter of the globe, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are everywhere triumphing over sickness, weakness and suffering, and freeing those who are bound by the shackles of disease.

Mr. David Walsh, of Carleton Place, Ont., a man who has served with distinction and credit in the British army, and is now an employee of the C. P. Railway, says, "While in the army I got broken down, and my nervous system was completely shattered.

"I was much troubled with liver complaint, loss of appetite, etc. My rest became broken and was disturbed by vivid dreams. This had been going on for 14 years, although I took a great many remedies to escape from the troubles which afflicted me.

"However, I got no relief until I started to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I used together with Laxa-Liver Pills, and now after having used a few boxes, I am better than I have been for years. My nerves are restored to full force and vigor, I eat and sleep well, and my entire system has been toned and strengthened."

"Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a positive and perfect remedy for Weak, Palpitating Hearts, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Weakness, Dizzy Spells, Smothering Sensations, St. Vitus Dance, Debility, Female Complaints, etc. Price 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists. T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

"Laxa-Liver Pills," says John Doherty, 35 North Street, St. John, N.B., "cured me of Constipation and distress after eating. Their action is natural and effective."

Every woman should know that there is a great home medical book that tells all about the reproductive physiology of women and all about the home-treatment of diseases peculiar to the sex. This book contains 1008 pages and over 700 illustrations. It is called Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It used to cost $1.50. Over seven hundred thousand people purchased it at that price and over 1,200,000 people now own copies of it. For a limited time copies will be given away free.

This great book contains the names, addresses, photographs and experiences of hundreds of women who were once hopeless invalids, but who have been restored to robust womanly health by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This marvelous medicine acts directly on the delicate organs distinctly feminine. It makes them strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It banishes the usual suffering of the expectant months, and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It robs motherhood of its perils. It insures the robust health of the little new-comer and a bountiful supply of nature's nourishment. It transforms weak, sickly, nervous invalids into healthy, happy wives and mothers. For a paper-covered copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For elegant French cloth binding, 50 stamps.

Miss Edith Cain, of Clinton, Allegheny Co., Pa., writes: "After two years of suffering, I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and am now entirely cured. I had been troubled with female weakness for some time and also with a troublesome drain on the system, but since I am happy and well."

In cases of constipation and torpid liver, no remedy is equal to Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They regulate and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. They never fail. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. An honest dealer will not urge a substitute upon you.

THE CHINESE CHOPSTICK.

And the Question, Was Middle America Peopled From Asia?

With the evidences of Asiatic contact supposed to be so strong in Central America one might have imagined that so useful a device as the simple chopsticks would have secured a footing. These two sticks, held in one hand and known in China as "hasteners or nimble lads," are certainly the most useful, the most economical, and the most efficient device for their purposes ever invented by man.

Throughout that vast Asian region, embracing a population of 500,000,000, the chopstick is used as a substitute for fork, tongs and certain forms of tweezers. Even fish, omelet and cake are separated with the chopsticks, and the cook, the street scavenger and the watch repairer use this device in the form of iron, long bamboo and delicate ivory. The bamboo chopstick was known in China 1000 B. C., and shortly after this date the ivory form was devised. Their use is one of great antiquity in Japan, as attested by references to it in the ancient records of that country.

One may search in vain for the trace of any object in the nature of a chopstick in Central or South America. Knitting needles of wood are found in the workbaskets associated with ancient Peruvian mummies, but the chopstick has not been found. Curious pottery rests for the chopsticks are exhumed in Japan, but even this enduring testimony of its early use is yet to be revealed in this country.—"Was Middle America Peopled From Asia?" by Professor E. S. Morse, in Popular Science Monthly.

PLUNGED TO HIS DEATH.

Insidious Disease Lurks Everywhere.

A bright young man in Grey County, Ont., thoughtlessly plunged into the lake at a summer resort when the blood was above the normal heat. The shock stopped the kidneys work. Poisons which should have been carried off were circulated through the system. Dropsy was the result, and one bright autumn the mourning badge was on the door, and a promising young life was snuffed out. He trusted himself to skilled physicians, but they failed to do what South American Kidney Cure would have done. It clears, heals and puts and keeps the kidneys in perfect action. A specific for all kidney ailments. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Why He Married.

In the north of England, where rabbit coursing is much in vogue, swift, well trained dogs often win large sums in prizes. It is therefore little to be wondered at that the owners of these animals should bestow so much attention upon them.

An old Yorkshire collier well known for his success in the coursing field recently surprised all his mates by marrying a very unprepossessing woman. He had always been reckoned a confirmed hater of the other sex.

"Why has ta gone and got spliced, lad, at thy age?" one of his friends asked him.

"Oh, that's not much of a tale," answered the old man stolidly. "I agree wi' ye 'at Betsy yonder is no beauty—if she had been, I shouldn't have wed her. But there dog o' mine, he was simply pinin for somebody to look after him while I was away at t' pit. I couldn't bear to leave him in the house by hissen, so I hit on the idea of marryin Betsy. She's not handsome, but she's mighty good company for the dog!"—London Tit-Bits.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In Death. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

HE DOESN'T PLAY POKER.

The Startling Incident That Ended His Interest in the Game.

"I can't tell any story of big sums staked and lost, nor of any great hands made on freak draws, but I can tell you a true story of why I haven't touched a card in the past 14 years, and why, if I should live to be as old as Methusaleh, I will never play again," said Mr. George O. Summers. "You often hear men say they are going to quit, but they never do. I took no vow, made no promise to abstain, but ever since a certain evening in the year 1884 card playing has had no charm for me.

"A party of us had gathered in a friend's room, and the expectation was that it would be a long session, for most of us were poker fiends and, win or lose, would stay till the game broke up. In the crowd was a delicate young fellow, and it happened that along about 3 o'clock a. m. he was a couple of hundred dollars winner. We had started in at 6 the previous evening, and it was evident that nine hours' of play had tired him completely out; but, being dead game, he didn't want to quit, especially as he was ahead. Seeing he was undergoing punishment, I suggested that it was time to quit. A vigorous protest at once came from the losers.

"'But our friend here is fagged out,' I said, 'and as it is almost day we can adjourn and resume another time.'

"Then the others appealed to the young fellow, and with great cheerfulness he answered: 'Yes, I'm willing to play on as long as I can sit in my chair. In fact, I'm willing to agree to play till somebody drops dead.'

"He meant it as a jest, but scarcely had he uttered the words than I saw him turn ghastly pale. His head fell forward, and before any one could reach out to catch him he had fallen to the floor insensible. The whole party was for a moment overcome with terror, and then we set to work to revive him. He had only fainted from weakness, and yet the incident was so tragic in its nature that I could not have been more impressed by it if he had actually dropped dead. And that is why all the fascination of poker completely left me."

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov. 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Gerrard street, east, who has been restored to vigourous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so-called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

Nut Foods.

Several physicians in different parts of Europe have been making experiments as to the nutritive and medicinal qualities of all kinds of nuts and have advanced views favoring their use as food under certain conditions for special diseases. Nuts contain a special kind of salt especially adapted for lubricating or softening the muscles of the arteries. Some practitioners claim that elderly people would be benefited by a more extensive nut diet. The only evil to be overcome is that the nut meats should be thoroughly masticated, so that no hard pieces may enter the digestive organs.

A Stingy King.

In the beginning of the eighteenth century the now so powerful German empire was nothing more than the little kingdom of Prussia, having just dropped its title of duchy of Brandenburg. The country was very poor and the military discipline very harsh. Frederick William I was hard, cross and stingy and did not even know what it was to make a present. His reputation was so widely spread that it became a byword to say that a man had worked for the king of Prussia when he had done an unprofitable task.

Different Points of View.

Charley Scott says he never thinks of an angel without seeing a vision of "a blond girl about 19 dressed in a pale blue robe." Every man to his taste. For our part, angels are made of fat little rascals about 2 years old, dressed in pale blue wings.—Kansas City Journal.

Basing his calculations on the average increase of insanity within the last 40 years, an English statistician has come to the conclusion that in the year 2301 everybody will be in the asylums.

Cobesa di Vaca explored the Gila river country in 1535 and reported that the natives were dressed in cotton garments.

What She Believes.

"I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla is a good medicine, because I have seen its good effects in the case of my mother. She has taken it when she was weak and her health was poor and she says she knows of nothing better to build her up and make her feel strong." Bessie M Knowles, Upper Wood Harbor, N. S.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Feed wheat to chickens as soon as they are able to eat it.

Keep down all surplus stock; market all that is not needed.

Fowls that are overfed are not healthy and will not lay regularly.

It is a good plan to raise good hens, but to import all of the roosters.

Limewater is a cure for bowel diseases and is also a remedy for soft shelled eggs.

Milk has all the necessary elements for the production of fat and gives the skin a good color.

In too many cases the poultry is overfed, causing it to become too fat and unproductive.

Dry lime is too caustic to be given alone. A better plan is to keep a vessel of limewater convenient.

Boiling the milk that is fed to fowls will increase its value and lessen the risk of its producing disease.

Chickens intended for breeding stock should not be pushed too fast or be overfed. A steady development is best.

Fowls that have a variety of sound food do not need artificial stimulants or condiments to make them lay or to keep them in good health.

Three Years in Bed.

From Kidney Disease—Although a Man of Three-Score and Ten, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills gave him back perfect health.

This is to certify that I was sick in bed the most of the time for three years with kidney disease. I took several boxes of pills—different kinds—and a great many other kinds of patent medicines; besides that I was under treatment by four different doctors during the time and not able to work. I began to take Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and since that time have been working every day, although a man nearly 70 years of age. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me.

James Simpson,
Newcombe Mills, Ont.

If the Kidneys are not in a perfectly clean and healthy condition, the blood becomes impregnated with impurities, and a decay of the Kidneys soon takes place. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, Inflammation of the Bladder, and a long list of Kidney diseases become seated and sooner or later in so many instances end fatally. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure all Kidney troubles. Sold by all dealers, price 25 cents per box.

FACTS ABOUT LENSES.

Some Things That All Amateur Photographers Should Know.

Very few amateurs have time or opportunity to make a thorough study of optics, but if one wishes to use his camera to get the best results he should understand something about the lens and its action.

The rapidity of a lens is a term used to denote the length of time which it requires to form and impress an image on the sensitive plate. Rapidity depends on the manner of construction and the glass employed in the making of the lens. The intensity or brilliancy of the image depends upon the amount of light gathered by the lens.

The focus of the lens is the point distant from the lens where the rays meet. Now, if the ground glass which receives this image is placed either side of this point, it will receive not a point but a spot of light, and the image will be more or less distinct as the glass is removed nearer to or farther from the point where the rays meet.

The centers of the bounding surfaces of a lens are called centers of curvature, and the straight line through the center of curvature is called the axis of the lens. If a beam of light parallel to the axis falls upon a lens, it will be collected by refraction at a single point. The point is called the principal focus, and its distance from the lens the principal focal distance.

The conjugate foci of a lens is the relation between the different distances at which an object is formed by the lens. The farther away an object is from the lens the nearer to the lens is its image formed, while the nearer it is to the lens the farther away will be the formation of the image. So for every distance at which an object is placed from a lens there is a corresponding distance in the formation of the image by the lens, and these relative distances are called the conjugate foci.—Harper's Round Table.

For years he suffered untold agony from consumption, accompanied by hemorrhages; and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. "IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

Dear Sir,—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 96
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the lowering rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

IT IS WORTHY OF INSPECTION.

Mr. Samuel Johnston's Collection of Curiosities.

IT IS A MUSEUM IN ITSELF.

It Took Years of Travel to Gather the Specimens, But There Are Few Collections of Crystals and Agates as Valuable.

A modest little dwelling on McDonel street, just east of Water street, contains one of the finest collection of Canadian crystals, agates, fossils and petrifications to be found in the Province.

The collection is owned by Mr. Samuel Johnston, who has spent almost a lifetime in picking up the many beautiful specimens and has many an interesting tale to relate in connection with his experience in searching for additions to his museum.

Beautiful specimens of crystals, hexagonal or octagonal in form, as the case may be, were secured by him in the caves of Mt. Stephen in the Rockies, above Banff. Gigantic caverns exist here, with ceilings composed of flashing stalactites and whilst through them flow the hot waters which give the Banff springs their celebrity. Accompanied by several companions, Mr. Johnston one day descended into one of these mammoth caves from an entrance at the top of the mountain, and after exploring for one-half a day made his exit through a small aperature at the base. The sights rewarded by the light of a lantern were wonderful, and in appearances, at least, no riches summoned by Aladdin's wonderful lamp could parallel the spectacle afforded by the thousand and one prismatic reflections from the crystal icycles.

Specimens could only be obtained in small quantities, owing to the difficulty experienced in getting them to the railway line. At one time when coming down the mountain side with a small sack full the energetic mineralogist slipped and went rolling down the precipitous declivity to the bottom, but although the bag travelled most of the way on top of him never once did he release his hold on his precious specimens.

Besides the fine collections of crystals, there are on the shelves some exceedingly handsome agates found at Port Arthur, many of them changing colour with every SHADE OF THE SUN.

The shading in some of the finer specimens is exquisite.

In the petrifactions some wonderful things are to be seen. A sceptic might criticise an oval stone which is stated by Mr. Johnston to be the egg of a wild goose, but his doubts have to disappear when he is shown the mate to the egg broken in two. In it the petrifying process on the white and the yolk are perfectly distinct to the naked eye. There are also some petrified prairie chicken eggs in the collection as well as potatoes, in which the eyes can be discerned and which look so natural that an expert can name the varieties of the tuber which are on the shelves. Some petrified clam shells are very natural, as are a few buffalo teeth and a number of beans. Several varieties of lichens and black moss in stone are beautiful in the extreme, and the of fish skeletons are most perfect in every detail. There are some very fine samples of petrified wood in the collection.

All the petrifactions were gathered in the vicinity of the Saskatchewan River, the waters of which seem to exercise a peculiar effect on all vegetable and animal matter with which they come in contact. It was from this locality that Mr. Johnston gleaned one of the greatest curiosities in his collection, consisting of a petrified bone of such peculiar shape as to lead to the belief that it is a relic of one of the prehistoric mammals.

Amongst the other curios on the shelves are samples of silver, copper, lead, iron and gold ores from the different mining regions visited during his travels by Mr. Johnston, and a large piece of slate from a deposit discovered by him in British Columbia, and which is now being worked at a profit.

A relic which attracts a good deal of attention is a cannon ball, which was picked up after the first Riel rebellion. Then there is a piece of the bell of a locomotive which ran away down a grade in the Rockies and was smashed to atoms. Amongst the Indian relics are a number of squaws' necklaces and ear rings made of beads, flint arrowheads, stone axes, small pipes and a fine specimen of the noted pipe of peace. Then there are the horns of wild goats, mountain sheep, antelopes and buffaloes from the Rocky mountains and the western prairies.

BOWS AND ARROWS,

In one of the corners stands a collection of canes of all sorts, some very curious ones of black alder being amongst the lot.

Something possessed by Mr. Johnston which is not often seen is a collection of knives, and there is a story connected with each and every one of them—some gruesome and others merely reminiscent. One ugly looking blade is credited with having taken nine lives in the hands of an Indian brave, whilst another cut the ear off an Ottonabee farmer not long ago. A huge butcher knife was found by Mr. Johnston's father at Quebec in 1853. The sergeant's sash, sword and musket carried by the same gentleman in the McKenzie rebellion are still kept and treasured.

Besides the curios mentioned there are a hundred and one other things of interest which Mr. Johnston has collected and are well worthy the inspection which he is always so pleased to allow.

BABY'S Terrible ECZEMA Speedily Cured By CUTICURA

My baby was about four weeks old when he began to suffer from that terrible disease, Eczema. I tried every remedy I thought would do him good. I even called in the doctor who told me it would wear away in time, but I used his medicine to no account. I did not know what to do with him. He cried all the time and his face was equal to a raw piece of meat, it was horrible, and looked as if there was never any skin on it. I had to carry him around on a pillow. I was fairly discouraged. I was then recommended to use CUTICURA REMEDIES. The first time I used them I could see the change. I used about half a box of CUTICURA (ointment), and not one half cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and at the end of one short week my baby was entirely cured. There has never been a trace of it since, to-day his skin is as smooth and soft as a piece of silk. MRS. J. C. FREERE,

Feb. 21, '98. 269 So. 1st St., Brooklyn, E. D.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

HOCKEY.

Both Winnipeg's crack hockey teams will make eastern trips next month. The Vics intend playing in Montreal in the early part of January, and it is probable that they will stop off in some of the Ontario cities. Later in the month the Winnipegs seven will come east for the purpose of meeting the crack teams in Ontario. Mr. T. L. Metcalfe has written to Peterborough asking for a date.

The Toronto Globe says,—Peterborough has decided to shake the snow of the senior series off its feet, and this winter the town will only have teams in the intermediate and junior series. This step was made necessary by the fact that Lionel King, Walter Phelan, Montgomery and Graham, four of the old stalwarts, are not available for this season.

Just where the Globe got its news is hard to say, as the local delegates left here with instructions to enter teams in the senior and junior series.

In speaking of the probable officers for the Ontario Hockey Association, whose annual meeting is being held to-day, the Toronto News says: "Mr. Alexander Beaton made the ideal secretary. Mr. Lionel King and Mr. J. S. Robertson of the younger members of the executive, at all times displayed a thorough knowledge of hockey, combined with a spirit of liberality and a keen sense of the fitness of things that make their services invaluable. That the younger generation of hockeyists should find representation on the executive board is highly desirable. It will be well if Mr. King and Mr. Robertson can be induced to stand for re-election."

There promises to be a great shift around of officers in the O. H. A. Not a few of the outside clubs are dissatisfied with the treatment that was meted out to them last season.

The first amendment suggested is that the annual membership fee to the Association be raised from $3 to $5; this will give the Association more capital if they need it. Another suggestion that ought to carry is the deposit for protests being raised from $5 to $25. If this carries it will do away with a lot of petty protesting as a club would look longer at $25 than $5.

The Peterborough Club have given notice of motion to the effect of fixing an 18 year age limit for the junior teams. James McFaddan, of the Stratford club, will have two motions before the meeting: One, that the president appoint the referees, or, in his absence one of the vice-presidents do the work. At present the rules give the secretary authority to do this, and it has been this way for years. 2, that the clause in the rules of competition providing for a sub-committee residing in Toronto to be appointed, be struck out.

An amendment to simplify the amateur rule has also been handed in making the clause to read: That every charge against a player's amateur status must be accompanied by statutory declarations, and the proving of innocence be left to the accused.

A clause that will likely be added is that no suspended player be able to play with any O.H.A. team until his suspension has been duly raised.

There are several more minor amendments, but the above are the most important, and will likely cause considerable discussion among the delegates.

MR. BARBER'S ESCAPE

A Montreal Citizen Baffles a Dangerous Enemy.

A Severe Sufferer From Bladder Disease Could Find No Relief Till he Tried Dodd's Kidney Pills—They Cured Him.

Montreal, Dec. 2.—There are few people in Montreal who have not known the agony of bladder trouble.

This complaint attacks four out of every five persons, and, unless it be checked in time, it leads to more serious and dangerous conditions, such as inflammation of the bladder, stricture, etc.

Weak or defective kidneys are the cause of bladder troubles.

The one way to get rid of bladder troubles, to cure them for all time, therefore, is to strengthen and heal the kidneys.

This, like everything else, is easy to do, if you take the right way, for there is only one way to do it.

Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known remedy that can restore the kidneys to complete health.

Thousands have proved this fact by experience.

All who have done so speak in the same terms as Mr. John H. Barber, of this city, who says: "I suffered for two years with bladder and kidney troubles, and could get nothing to give me relief.

"I suffered more than I can tell, till I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. I used only a few boxes, but they made me a strong and healthy man.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are worth their weight in gold.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or sent, on receipt of price, by the Dodds Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

A GORDON MEMORIAL

Assured in a Khartoum College by Gen. Kitchener's C. nvass.

$500,000 WANTED--HALF GOT.

The Sirdar Astonished London by His Extraordinary Exhibition of Energy—Lord Strathcona and Lord Mountstephen Give £1,000 and £500 Respectively—The Latest News by Cable.

London, Dec. 5.—Lord Kitchener has been astonishing London last week by an exhibition of the most extraordinary energy on behalf of his pet project, the founding of a Gordon memorial college at Khartoum.

On Tuesday he said he wanted $500,000 for carrying out the scheme. Being a man of action, he immediately started out to get it. He spent days and nights addressing all sorts of gatherings, from bankers, brokers and merchants in the city to actors and society men in the West End. Everywhere he has stated frankly and plainly that he wanted money and he has got it.

Up to to-day considerably more than half the sum required has been subscribed, and the fund is still growing.

So great is the enthusiasm that it is not hard to believe the sum asked for will be made up many times over.

As one Londoner put it, the appeal so far has only been made to the wealthy classes for their pounds. Wait till the poor are asked for their shillings.

When the memorial college is established and in working order, the children of sheikhs will be taught English and such elementary subjects as geography. Later on, other classes will be admitted and technical education will be included in the curriculum.

Lord Strathcona Chipped In.

London, Dec. 5.—The banking houses of J. S. Morgan & Co. and Speyer Bro. have subscribed respectively £1,000 and £500 to General Lord Kitchener's fund for the establishment of a Gordon memorial college at Khartoum, and Lord Strathcona, Canadian High Commissioner, has given £1,000 to the same object.

Lord Mountstephen Gives £500.

London, Dec. 5.—(Toronto Globe Special.)—Lord Mountstephen on Saturday subscribed £500 to the Mansion House fund to promote Lord Kitchener's proposed Gordon memorial college at Khartoum.

I gather from careful inquiry about the proposed visit of the Duke of York to Canada next year that the subject has not been seriously considered as yet, but that there is reason to believe that a favorable decision might result if the invitation were pressed.

Fashoda Affairs Settled.

Paris, Dec. 5.—M. Delcasse, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, in the course of conversation the other day, admitted that Major Marchand had been ordered to retire from Fashoda by a long and toilsome route, because the French Government was afraid he would be made too much of should he return to France within six months. Marchand, it seems, is too terribly in earnest and too vain or too simple to understand that he is only a subordinate officer in the army, and that his business is to act, not to think. He has reached Fashoda by now, and doubtless will get out as quickly as possible.

MAD MULLAH'S MOVEMENT.

Victorious March by the Khan of Rohat—British Troops Ready.

London, Dec. 5.—The unpleasant news from the Indian frontier, where the "Mad Mullah" is again on the warpath, has caused considerable apprehension among the Indian authorities, though the latest advices show that his victorious march has been partly checked by the friendly Khan of Rohat, who by a timely move has saved the British lines of communication with the garrison at Chitral, which the Mad Mullah endeavored to cut. The fanatical movement, however, has taken a strong hold among the Gwatis, and there is a prospect of another "little frontier war." A British force of nearly 7,000 men is now held in readiness for movement to the front. The followers of the Mullah are variously estimated to number from 3,000 to 6,000, and their numbers are growing daily. The outcome of the rising will probably be an effective British occupation of the whole of the Swat Valley and another big hole in the Indian budget.

Who Owns Mount Blanc?

Paris, Dec. 5.—The three municipalities of Chamounix, Sallanches and St. Jarvais have referred a serious question of municipal boundaries to the Government, Who owns the top of Mount Blanc? The leasing to enterprising projects of various spots at different altitudes on Mount Blanc has been most profitable. Chamounix having proclaimed that the entire summit is under its sphere of influence, the other municipalities have protested. A mass of old maps and documents comparable to the Venezuelan dossier have now been submitted to the Government.

Don Carlos' Chances Improved.

London, Dec. 5.—The crisis in Spain is followed with the most keen interest. Don Carlos is undoubtedly preparing for a bold stroke. His emissaries are endeavoring to suborn the Spanish army, a large portion of it being disaffected, partly on account of the arrears of pay, but chiefly owing to the conviction that the army was prevented from earning distinction during the late war on account of the incapability and corruption of the political administrators. These new factors have given Don Carlos a much better chance of success than he had when he made his former attempts to gain the throne of Spain.

Anti-German Demonstration.

Vienna, Dec. 5.—A despatch from Pilsen, Bohemia, says that the Czech population of that town indulged in an anti-German demonstration on Thursday.

Revisionists Make Demands.

Paris, Dec. 5.—A meeting of a thousand partisans of revision was held on Saturday evening. They adopted a resolution demanding the abandonment of the prosecution of Col. Picquart, the revision of the Dreyfus case and the punishment of the latter's accusers. M. De Pressense, editor of the Temps, made a speech, in which he accused the public authorities of a lack of energy in the execution of justice. Other speakers talked in a similar vein.

THE LOST LONDONIAN.

Sighted in Mid-Ocean With Her Decks Submerged and no Sign of Her Crew.

Liverpool, Dec. 5.—The British steamer King Arthur, Captain Hendry, from Demerara, arrived here Saturday and reported that she sighted the British steamer Londonian on Nov. 29, in latitude 45 north, longitude 16 west, on her beam ends on the starboard side, with decks and hatches submerged. All her boats were gone except a small boat, and there was no sign of life about her. A strong northwest gale was blowing at the time, and the vessel was apparently fast settling by the head. The Londonian sailed from Boston Nov. 15, for London, in command of Captain Lee. She was formerly the Idaho.

Her Cargo.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 5.—The Londonian carried a general cargo, including a large quantity of grain and cattle. She had about 5,500 tons in all. In her cargo were the following: 169,885 bushels of oats, 39,565 bushels of wheat, 4,251 sacks of flour, 5,822 cases of oatmeal, 1,150 sacks of oatmeal, 400 tubs of lard, 228 tubs of butter, 2,473 pieces of mahogany and 655 head of cattle. The cargo was valued at about $200,000. The Londonian carried a crew of about 30 men, including her commander, Captain Lee.

GIVING MR. KRUGER ROPE.

Secretary Chamberlain Now Intends to Pull Him Up Short.

London, Dec. 5.—At length it appears that something is to be done to right the wrongs of British subjects in the Transvaal, and that Mr. Kruger will be called to account for his iniquities. The visit of Sir Alfred Milner, the Governor of Cape Colony, has for its object to confer with Mr. Chamberlain on these matters.

"We have it on the highest authority," says the Pall Mall Gazette, "that Sir Alfred has been called upon principally with reference to several breaches of the convention reported by Mr. Conyngham Greene from Pretoria.

"Mr. Kruger has turned the screw of oppression many times since 1896. Mr. Chamberlains' idea, however, was to allow the offences to accumulate—to give Mr. Kruger plenty of rope, and to pull him short when the proper time came.

"The time has come now. The Transvaal is bankrupt; Mr. Leyds has unsuccessfully canvassed Europe for a loan; Germany has withdrawn her support; Delagoa Bay will soon be ours; the Transvaal is friendless and alone, and the Boers, realizing their helplessness and isolation, will be more ready to believe Mr. Chamberlain when he tells them his order is 'As you were.' "

Criticizing General Hutton.

London, Dec. 5.—The unofficial military journal, the Broad Arrow, says, in commenting on the recent inspections in Canada by Major-General Hutton, General Officer Commanding, that they were carried out in the cut-and-dried way of the "sixties" in England, and adds: "The result is that each regiment considers itself the best in Canada, and perhaps in the world, whilst a six-months' German or Austrian conscript or any twelve-months 'Tommy" knows more about attack, fire discipline, outpost duty or fire control than does the whole Dominion force."

Six Men Scalded to Death.

New York, Dec. 5.—The Mallory Line steamship Alamo had just swung out from her pier at 20 East River at 7 o'clock on Saturday night, for Galveston, when an 11-inch steam feed pipe in her boiler room burst and six men working in the room were scalded to death. Four others who were in the room escaped. One passenger of about 30 aboard was injured.

THE SNOWSTORM.

Citizens Living in the Suburbs Were Snowed in this Morning.

The hardware men did a flourishing business in snow shovels this morning, and at an early hour citizens could be seen scurrying home with the necessary appliances to make access to the world easy to the rest of the family.

The snow ploughs were out shortly after day break, but the territory which they have to cover is so extensive that the suburbanites had to flounder through the drifts as best they might until they reached the streets which had been cleared. The street cars made a noble effort to keep the track clear and maintain a service but they didn't make much of a job of it, taking the entire morning to get up to McDonel street, making progress at the rate of about a block an hour.

The railway trains on the Grand Trunk and C.P.R. were only a few minutes late, and neither the telephone nor telegraph service was impaired to any degree.

The snow began falling yesterday afternoon between four and five o'clock, and has continued descending at intervals ever since. By appearances, the end is not yet.

TOWN CHARITY.

It is being Imposed upon by Strangers Moving into Town from Outside Municipalities.

A matter which will in all probability be brought before the town council this evening is the fact that every fall a number of pauper families move into Peterborough with the object of benefitting from the town's charity during the winter.

Relief Officer Miller reports that already this season seven families have taken up residence in Peterborough and have applied for aid. In cases he has stated the Charity Committee would supply railway tickets to enable these families to return to the municipalities from which they originally came, but this is not what the interlopers desire. Peterborough has the name of caring well for its poor and it is to benefit from this charity that the strangers come to town to spend the winter.

The reports published of the Peterborough Protestant Home, the House of Providence and the Central Charity Board have had the effect of creating the belief that the town was a good place for a poor family to take up residence for the winter. It is a good place, providing the family is a deserving one and has lived here long enough to solicit with reason a small moisty to help keep the wolf from the door, but the matter of allowing neighbouring municipalities to dump their poor on Peterborough is quite another thing and a phase of the charity question which should be disposed of in very short order.

MISTAKE IN CHANGE.

Another Patron of the Market Pays too Much for Produce Purchased.

On Saturday, Nov. 26th, a lady purchased two quarters of pork on the market—a front and a hind one. The price asked was three dollars and fifty cents, and the purchaser counted out what she thought were four one dollar bills in payment, receiving fifty cents in change.

On arriving at home she found that instead of four one-dollar bills, she had given three one-dollar bills and a five. In the hopes that the mistake might reach the ears of the farmer who sold her the pork, the lady gave the police the facts in the case.

Just such a mistake was made on Nov. 5th on the market, and the purchaser was lucky enough to recover her money a few weeks later.

A BIG COLLECTION

Taken up in the Charlotte Street Sunday School Yesterday.

A couple of weeks ago an appeal was made to the scholars of the Charlotte street church Methodist Sunday school to contribute $50 00 towards the running expenses of the church. It was a big sum to ask, and the officers were greatly pleased yesterday when it was announced that the collection to be devoted to this purpose amounted to $47.01.

Yesterday there was an attendance of 344 pupils, which is an increase of about forty during the last few weeks.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

Y.P.S.C.E. Union.

(From an Occasional Correspondent)

Our members had a very pleasant and profitable change in the programme at our weekly prayer meeting. We had Mr. J Stubbs, with his lime light views and accompanying lecture. His main subject was "The Life of Christ, from the Cradle to the Throne." Through viewing these scenes Christ's life and works become more clear and real to us. In addition to this he had a number of views of picturesque and noted places in Canada, United States, France and the Old Country. Mr. Stubbs is a well known temperance worker, and, in closing, gave some wholesome and profitable advice to the young men and boys, urging them to live noble, useful lives and to abstain from every form of evil that would tend to degrade or make them less than God intended them to be, realizing that these bodies of ours are the temples of the living God, in which he wishes to dwell. We all enjoyed the evening very much.

WALLACEBURG, ONT.—The following letter will prove of interest to working men and others who may be in a condition similar to that of the writer:

"For three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I have been working at the barber trade for about 20 years and for the last four years I have been very closely confined and have had my meals very irregularly. I was taken with a

One day I happened to be looking over some testimonial letters and I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before I had taken two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt finely and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I have taken nearly five bottles and now I feel like a man again. I am

BAD COMPANY.

The result of the great bank robbery trial at Napanee has been the failure of the jury to agree in the case of Ponton; ten of the men believed in his innocence and only two in his guilt. This, to many, is presumption of his innocence, but whether he is innocent or guilty, will have to be determined by another trial. If he is innocent, he has himself to blame for all the trouble and disgrace that have come upon him and his friends. His case affords a striking lesson to our young men. In the ordinary course of events young men occupying respectable positions in society and responsible positions in business, may, in their hours of darkness or leisure, consort with fast companions and conceal their disreputable connections; and, while there may be nothing very much wrong in such associations, beyond the inevitable and, perhaps, imperceptible contamination that must result from vicious environments, yet in case a charge of wrong doing, however false it might be, is brought, colour and consistence are given the charge by the very fact of vicious companionship and questionable pursuits. In the bank robbery in question, on the theory that inside assistance must have been afforded the robbers, it was natural to suspect some of the employees, and, of course, suspicion would point most naturally and insistently to the young man who kept fast company, affected questionable sports and who generally gave ground for the belief that there was something arising from these circumstances that demanded explanation. A young man may keep a certain amount of bad company without serious results beyond the inevitable contamination spoken of, but if circumstances arise where this evil association turns the scale on the side of ruin, when an unblemished character and a clear record would be salvation, the importance of a young man avoiding the very appearance of evil receives terrible emphasis.

Judge Ferguson during the course of the trial referred to the fact that the youth and young men of the present generation are not given in their leisure hours to reading and the improvement of their minds as in his young days. His observations are just. The tendency is all in the opposite direction. To be a sport and to excel in sports is apparently the height of the average young man's ambition these days. Manly sports and reasonable pastimes are as important as mental culture and the pursuit of knowledge, but they are not all important. Well-rounded manhood demands that both should be cultivated consistently—not one at the expense of the other. Well developed muscle in a young man accompanied by a vacant, uncultivated, neglected mind—not to speak of morals—brings him very much in the same class as a bull-dog. Excessive pursuit of sport carries with it the danger of evil companionship, but in improvement of the mind there is everything to gain and nothing to lose. Young men should shun bad company and if they must follow sports as they should do—let them do so in moderation and mingle with it mental improvement. Their aim should be to maintain a sound mind in a sound body, which can never be done by entirely neglecting the one and exclusively cultivating the other.

THE CHANGES IN FARMING.

Prof. Robertson's report for 1897, says: One of the causes of progress is the world-wide competition created by the general diffusion of knowledge, the enormous extension of railway and shipping facilities, the building of telegraphs and the circulation of newspapers. These have made the New Zealand farmer a next door neighbor in market competition, to the Canadian; and have brought the coolie of India with his wheat into direct competition with the settler in the vast and fertile plains of Manitoba and the North-west Territories. The Canadian farmer is therefore compelled by the stress of competition to turn his attention to those classes of products which he can exchange to the best advantage. He can do that successfully by selling those which call for skill in their production and manufacture, as he is thereby lifted above competition with the low order of labour which prevails in such countries as India and Russia.

The stern necessity which continuously confronts the farmer of giving full value for all he gets has compelled some improvement of the quality of his products. A business man or speculator may acquire a good deal—we carelessly and incorrectly say, may make a great deal—of wealth by a happy or unhappy stroke of luck. It is the law of the farmer's business to get wealth only for full value given. To them as a class it is committed in a peculiar manner and measure to preserve the moral integrity of humanity by respecting the rights of others, since willingly or unwillingly they have known no other experience.

Where shall the farmer look for guidance in fitting himself for the future changes which progress implies?

1. To the Agricultural Societies, Exhibitions and Illustration Stations, which furnish object lessons and stimulations provoking him unto better works;

2. To voluntary associations, farmers' conventions, meetings of clubs and Farmers' Institutes, which make the information of the leading farmers the common property of all;

3. To the Departments of Agriculture of the Provincial Governments and the Department of Agriculture of the Dominion, through the various agencies which they provide.

ONTARIO PEAT.

Within recent years improvements have been made in the processes of drying, breaking and compressing peat for fuel purposes, which promise to give it considerable commercial importance. The industrial development of Ontario has been hindered by the lack of coal deposits within her borders; it may be that in abundant peat bogs, nature has given to the Province an adequate substitute for coal. In the Welland district, in the vicinity of Lake Temiscaming, and in the Ottawa Valley there are numerous peat beds which, when the new process of preparing peat is fully utilized, will give an abundant supply of fuel. A movement is now on foot to exploit the peat beds of Carleton County, situated about nine miles from the City of Ottawa. The promoters propose to use the "Dickson process" in the preparation of the peat.

Although the thermal value of peat is somewhat less than that of coal, it possesses advantages which go some way to make amends for lack of energy. In the burning of peat there are no clinkers, no soot and comparatively little smoke. A lack of sulphur gives it a special value for smelting purposes, in that it is not as destructive on the fire lining of furnaces as coal. But it is probable that peat fuel will first come into use for domestic rather than industrial purposes. Little, if any, change is required in the ordinary stoves for the burning of peat, which renders its introduction into the household free from heavy initial expenses. We sincerely hope that those who have interested themselves in the development of Ontario peat beds will be successful—Insurance and Finance Chronicle.

MILD FLAVOURS IN BUTTER WANTED.

During the winter and summer, British consumers want fresh-flavoured, fresh-made butter without any evidence of staleness. They want also in most markets a butter of mild flavour and not heavily salted. They also want it pale in colour, lighter than ordinary straw colour at most seasons of the year. In passing I may mention that they are great sticklers for neat, nice-looking, clean, undamaged packages. The demand from all markets to-day is for a finer, a daintier class of foods. People who work in all kinds of factories will not take strong tasting foods; they will not buy strong-flavoured bacon, and they cannot be tempted, except by a very low price, into buying strong-flavoured butter or strong-flavoured cheese.

The increase in the consumption of fine butter in Great Britain is enormous, and so long as the quality is kept fine, fresh-flavoured and mild, it is likely that there will be a demand equal to all of the increased production.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I.T. He writes, "Four bottles of Electric Bitters have cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which has caused her great suffering for years. This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates, liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by all druggists, every bottle guaranteed.

THE GRIDIRON CLUB.

Washington the Scene of a Most Unique Dinner, at Which Were Sir Wilfrid Laurier and His Colleagues.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 5.—The Gridiron Club on Saturday night gave a most notable dinner, entertaining guests of the United States, Europe and other parts of the world. In the company were the President, Vice-President, members of the Cabinet, the President of Costa Rica, the Premier of Canada, the entire joint high American-Canadian commission, Gen. Garcia, the most prominent officers of the army and navy, Senators, Representatives and many other distinguished men. More than 160 people were assembled in the beautifully-decorated dining hall of the Arlington Hotel. The dinner was in a measure conducted on lines of compliment and honor to men who distinguished themselves by both land and sea in the late war. Great ovations were given to the President, Admiral Schley and Gen. Shafter when they rose to speak, while other speakers received most generous consideration.

President Frank H. Hosford was very fortunate in his introductions of prominent guests, and with sentiment, wit and satire conducted the features of the dinner to a most satisfactory conclusion. Speeches are always short at gridiron dinners, and there was no exception to the rule on Saturday night. Remarks were made by the President, the Vice-President, the President of Costa Rico, Lord Herschel, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Secretary Hay, Secretary Long, Postmaster-General Smith, Admiral Schley, Gens. Shafter and Garcia, Capt. Sigsbee, Senator Lodge, Mr. Foster and others.

Among the features was a burlesque investigation of the conduct of the war, which conveyed some of the more humorous fancies of the real investigation. Members of the committee brought in immense stacks of testimony, also large reports and different exhibits, which took off some guests and caused great amusement. The report concluded with the finding that there was a war, that Spain got licked, and that the Anglo-Saxons stood together.

As this was done, the American and British flags were unveiled, as a compliment to the Canadian members of the joint high commission.

INGERSOLL PROVES IT.

Dodd's Kidney Pills the Only Cure for Bladder Disease.

Ingersoll, Dec. 5.—If there could be the slightest shadow of a doubt about the unfailing efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills, in all cases of Kidney and Bladder Disease and Rheumatism, the experience of Mr. Michael Jherlock, of Ingersoll, would positively dispel it forever.

Mr. Sherlock suffered unceasing tortures from Bladder and Kidney trouble, aggravated by Rheumatism, for five years. Every remedy he used failed to help him, until he began to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured him quickly, completely and permanently.

Dodd's Kidney Pills should be used by every sufferer from these complaints. They never fail to cure, and are beside, the best tonic and strengthener known.

GOT AWAY WITH THE CHILD.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. McGowan Get Out of Erie, Pa., Suddenly.

Erie, Pa., Dec. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Magowan have given their case here another sensational turn by getting out of town, taking with them Mrs. Magowan's child, Edith Beryl Barnes, whose abduction from Cleveland, Nov. 14, was the opening act of the present case.

It is generally believed that the Magowans have fled to Canada.

The Midnight Dash.

Buffalo, Dec. 5.—Shortly after midnight Saturday morning a carriage driven by a negro dashed through the streets on the west side of the city and pulled up at the foot of Ferry street. In the carriage were a neatly dressed woman and a young girl, the latter apparently about 8 or 9 years old. As no one could be found to row them across the swiftly running river in the dead of night, the carriage with its occupants stood all night at the foot of Ferry street till the ferryboat that plies between that place and Fort Erie began her daily trips. Early Saturday morning when the ferryboat was ready to make its first trip from Ferry street to Fort Erie, the occupants of the carriage boarded the boat and were taken to Fort Erie, where they landed and soon disappeared.

It is now generally believed by the persons who saw the woman and the child that they were Mrs. Edith Barnes-Magowan and her little daughter, Edith B. Barnes.

A CURE FROM TORONTO

Washed Up Among the Wreckage at Provincetown, Mass.

Provincetown, Mass., Dec. 5.—The exceedingly sharp watch for wreckage kept along the Cape shore, from Wood End to High Head, is practically a means of saving about every fragment of the ill-fated Portland that may be borne in on the waves. Two very important additions to the list of articles washed ashore were a section of a life raft and a gold-headed cane. The owner of the latter may possibly be ascertained through the marking of the knob, "Nov. 27, Toronto, 1887."

Three Identified.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 5.—Of the bodies at the North Grove Street Morgue, three have been identified. One is that of Fred. A. Brown of Portland, identified by his brother, Walter H Brown; another that of a man named Allen of Philadelphia, recognized by his brother-in-law, and the third as that of Eva M. Totten, formerly of Somerville, but recently removed to Portland.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hammick & Co., of Shelby, N.C. Sold by all druggists at 50 cents and $1 00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Miss Annie Gillespie, Orillia, Ont. writes "I had a bad cold and severe cough for some time and could not get rid of it until I used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which quickly cured me." Price 25c.

Coughs and Colds are always promptly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. 25c.

KILLED A BRIDE.

Pierre Lauzon Shoots Former Sweetheart, Who Had Rejected Him, and Turns the Revolver on Himself.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—Murder and suicide will probably be the verdict in a shooting affray that occurred here on Saturday evening Pierre Lanzon shot Fabiola Gravel, wife of O. Richot, and then shot himself.

The woman, who was shot in the head, died instantly, and the murderer died three hours afterwards.

The shooting was the result of jealousy. Lauzon had been paying court to the girl for some time, but she rejected his suit and recently married Richot. While she was walking along St. James street, near the Grand Trunk station with a young sister, she was met by Lauzon, who, after following her for a short distance, pulled a revolver and shot her in the head. He then turned the weapon on himself.

Toronto, Dec. 5.—With all the evidences of poverty and neglect an old woman known as Margaret Reid passed away in the General Hospital Saturday morning, after an attack of pneumonia. Nothing was ever known of her life, as she made no friends and always kept aloof. She had a decided dislike for any person who attempted to be genial towards her, and thought that they were after her money. She was a familiar figure around the streets, where she sometimes peddled apples, sold papers or solicited alms, and she had no particular place of abode. A search was made at her quarters, and in an old trunk filled with trinkets was found, among other things, a cheque for $2,000 in the Bank of Montreal and a receipt for $15. An address of a brother, James, was found, which read, "James Reid, Angober P. O., County Tyrone, Tyheny Concession, Ireland."

THE BIG BANK TRIAL

Ends in a Conviction and a Disagreement of the Jury.

ANOTHER TRIAL FOR PONTON.

The Jury Stood 10 to 2 for the Acquittal of Napanee's Ex-Teller of the Dominion Bank—Robert Mackie Found Guilty and Sentenced to Ten Years in the Penitentiary.

Napanee, Dec. 5.—The great bank robbery trial is ended and the net result is a conviction and a disagreement. As regards Robert Mackie the jury were unanimous in their belief in his guilt, but only two of the 12 were convinced of the ex-teller's complicity in the robbery. On Saturday morning the doors of the Court House were besieged by the eager crowds of citizens, who would hardly clear a way for the judge and the counselors. The judge took his place upon the bench at 9.05. The room was jammed. Holden, Pare, Ponton and Mackie were brought into the dock. The court was still. "Billy" Ponton looked anxious, and sat beside his mother. They talked in low whispers. Mr. Mackie, father of the prisoner Mackie, was also present.

The sheriff brought a message, and the judge said: "Very well; bring them in."

In filed the jury, looking careworn and weary, as if they had not slept a wink. The names were called. "Gentlemen, have you agreed upon a verdict?" asked Mr. Deroche.

The Jury's Verdict.

The foreman, James McCaugherty said: "Robert Mackie is guilty of the charge. Five recommend to mercy."

"Verdict as to Robert Mackie, guilty, as say you all," read Clerk Deroche, and every juror nodded his head in acquiescence.

James Mackie, sr., the father, looked weighted down with care.

"What of Ponton?" asked Clerk Deroche.

"Ten are for acquittal; two are for conviction."

"Is there any hope of their agreeing?" asked his lordship.

The foreman replied: "I could not say, my lord."

"Do you as a body desire further time as to the defendant Ponton?"

The jury talked among themselves.

The foreman reported that they would like to spend another hour together and see. It was 9.30, and the jury filed out again.

At 10.10 "Order," called Constable Huff, as the jury returned. They were a tired lot of jurors. After the list of names was called and answered, the clerk of the court asked: "Have you agreed upon a verdict as to the prisoner?"

"No," said the foreman.

"You can not!" echoed the clerk.

The judge said that it was regrettable after all the expense that a disagreement had been brought in. He had no doubt it was conscientiously arrived at. He thanked the jurors for their kind attention and care in the case, and said: "You are now discharged." The jury bustled out.

Mackie's Heavy Sentence.

"Stand up, Robert Mackie. What have you to say?" said the judge.

"Nothing, my lord, only that I am innocent of the charge. I am not guilty, and I have been a long time in jail," replied the prisoner.

The judge said that, of course, the prisoner knew whether he was guilty or not. When the jury returned a verdict of guilty, he added, the prisoner was to all intents and purposes guilty. He did not wish to say anything about the feelings of the prisoner. The offence was a grave one. The full penalty was 14 years. It was not the intention of the judge to give the fullest limit of the law. He had thought it out. The impression was the prisoner had acted as an intervener. He was the one the robbers saw. There was no need to say more.

"The judgment is that you be imprisoned in the Provincial Penitentiary for the period of ten years," said his lordship.

"Can you have my sentence dated from the time I have been in jail? I have been in jail five months."

After a pause, the judge said: "I think not," and Prisoner Mackie sank back.

Remand for Pare and Holden.

At 10.20 Mr. Osler asked that the cases of Pare and Holden be traversed to the next court. It would be in the interests of justice to carry them over under the present circumstances. Pare and Holden stood up and were asked if they had any objection. Both replied: "There will be no objection, my lord."

"Then it is traversed," said his lordship.

Ponton's Bail $10,000.

Mr. Porter said: "My lord, on behalf of the prisoner Ponton I ask that he be admitted to bail."

The judge said the jury had disagreed. They were not united in opinion.

Mr. Porter asked that the prisoner should go on his own recognizances. He submitted this should be done.

Mr. Osler said the Crown would not agree to this proposition.

The judge did not favor Mr. Porter.

Then a lower bail was asked. It should be $5,000 in all.

Mr. Osler said he thought it should be $10,000.

The judge thought the matter might be left to the judges in Toronto.

Mr. Porter objected on the ground of expense and delay. In the end it was agreed that bail to the amount of $10,000 should be accepted.

James Mackie, sr., and Robert Mackie held a close conversation together as the prisoner stood in the dock after the sentence had been pronounced. Mackie will go to the place of his next ten years' abode this morning.

"The court is adjourned by an effluxion of time," were the judge's last words.

The Jury's Deliberations.

The truth of the jury's deliberations is out. They went to their room at 8 o'clock and the full evidence was reviewed. Ten men from the start stood out boldly and firmly for Ponton's acquittal. They declared that the evidence of Pare and Holden was a fabrication and that there was an organized conspiracy on the part of the American detectives to put the guilt on Ponton. The other two jurors, Edward Kaytor and Andrew McCaugherty (foreman), were in favor of a conviction. The point they stuck on was that Pare could get his information regarding the circulation of the newly-signed notes from Ponton alone. Their comrades asked them why not from Baines, Durand or Green. The fact also that the head office had circulated similar bills was put to the two jurors, but to no avail.

It took the jury one hour and a half to agree upon a verdict against Mackie. They recommended him to mercy on the ground that he was a sort of intermediary between the bank and the real robbers.

Ponton Bailed.

Thomas McGinnis and James Cummings of Belleville came down Saturday morning and accompanied by Laywer Porter drove up to the jail. Papers were accepted by W. S. Herrington and bail of $10,000 in two sureties of $5,000 was given, and Billy Ponton was brought down to the Palsey House in a hack. There was a scene in the streets as Billy drove down. Women rushed out of the houses and waved their 'kerchiefs at him; sons and fathers went down town to shake his hand.

Ponton left for Belleville on the 4.30 train, a big crowd accompanying him to the station and cheering him as the train pulled out. Belleville was out in full force to meet him and his popular counsel as the train pulled in, and there is a hot time in Belleville right now.

Mrs. Mackie visited her husband in the jail at noon, and an affecting parting scene was enacted. Little Maudie was also present and her childish tears melted even iron-visaged Vanluven, the jailer.

Ponton at Belleville.

Belleville, Ont., Dec. 5.—There was much excitement in town Saturday over the bank robbery case. W. H. Ponton arrived on the 5.30 train in the evening, and went quietly to his home.

POLITICAL POINTS.

The North Hastings and Nipissing elections will both come on December 27th, with nominations one week earlier.

West Algoma is also to be added to the list of protests that have come to nothing. Saturday, as no one appeared for the petitioner at Osgoode Hall, Justices Falconbridge and Street dismissed the case without costs.

Shot in Rossland.

Guelph, Dec. 5.—John Morris, Guelph Township, has received word stating that John Kirkland, a former resident of the same township, had been shot dead in Rossland, B.C., by an irate neighbor, about two weeks ago. He sold his farm to John Morris last spring, and went to Rossland in company with his sister, who kept house for him until the time of his death. He was about 35 years old.

ANNUAL MEETING OF HOCKEYISTS.

Lionel King Re-elected on the Executive.

HE STOOD HEAD OF THE POLL.

Members of Clubs in the Junior Series Must be Under Twenty Years of Age on January 1st.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association was held at Toronto Saturday afternoon, and the increase in the interest taken in Canada's winter sport was shown by the large attendance of delegates, who showed a thorough appreciation of the important business on hand which was despatched with no useless waste of time. Alex. Creelman, the vice-president, was in the chair. Other members of the Executive present were: Past Presidents C A B Brown and James McFadden; vice-president Fred Tiffin, secretary Alex Beaton, treasurer J D McMurrich, E P Brown, J S Robertson, W A Boyd, L King and A A Macdonald.

The local club was represented by Messrs W A Buchanan and A A Hollingshead.

In a neat speech Chairman Creelman welcomed the delegates, and then called on E. P. Brown to read the report of the sub-committee, which was as follows:

COMMITTEE REPORT.

It is the pleasant duty of your committee to again report the most successful season in the history of the association.

The competition for championship honours was keenly contested in each of the three series, but your committee must express regret at the manner in which the intermediate championship was determined, it being through the disqualification of the winners of the final round.

For the second time in the history of the association the senior championship came to Toronto, Osgoode Hall defeating Queen's University by a score of 7 to 3.

In the intermediate Waterloo defeated Listowel, but being disqualified, Listowel secured the championship as being the last competing club.

The junior series showed the most spirited and best contested competion of all. Upper Canada College defeated Stratford Juniors by a score of 8—2. The quality of hockey shown in this contest was worthy of remark, both team playing a high class game.

To give some idea of the rapid growth of the association it might be mentioned that in 1896 12 senior and 15 junior, or 27 teams in all played in the O. H. A., while in 1898 10 senior, 23 intermediate and 21 juniors, making a total of 54 teams competed, the association thus doubling its membership in two years.

The prospects for the ensuing year are that about a dozen or fifteen teams will be added to the ranks.

Notwithstanding the many and presistent rumours at the beginning of last season, it was found after very close investigation, and the most stringent enforcement of the rules, that there was comparatively little professionalism in the ranks of the association, and your committee feel that it is a matter of sincere congratulation that such a dangerous growth was so vigorously checked. It might be added, however, by way of regret, that there is not that co-operation on the part of the clubs in assisting in weeding out professionalism that should be expected, most clubs seeming to feel that they have no cause to complain of infringement of the rules in this respect until they have experienced defeat at the hands of opponents, whom they do not then hesitate to pronounce as corrupt.

Your committee feels that with the active co-operation of all pure clubs, it would take but a short time to thoroughly cleanse the game of all such pernicious germs.

Although the association has grown so rapidly and has attained such an extensive membership, there has been comparatively little friction during the past season, and your committee desire to express their satisfaction of this harmonious state of affairs. It was the unpleasant duty of your committee to deal out a considerable measure of cold justice during the season of 1897-98 to some offending teams, but subsequent events completely vindicated the action of the Executive in every case, and it is worthy of note that hockey is booming more than ever in the respective districts of the penalized clubs.

In view of the large number of protests entered and many of them on very frivolous grounds, your committee would recommend the adoption of the amendment to increase the fee for entering the same.

In each of the three series the winners were presented with medals at the close of the season, this being the only prize in the intermediate series. All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted.

THE FINANCES.

Treasurer McMurrich's report showed a balance in the association's coffers of $525.57, the best financial status that the O. H. A. has had since its organization.

Secretary Beaton read a letter from J. Ross Robertson regarding the custody of the magnificent $500 cup which the worthy and genial friend of athletics has presented for annual competition among the senior clubs in the O. H. A.

The cup is the finest ever presented for athletic competition in the country, and was greatly admired by all present. Mr. Robertson was greeted with long and hearty cheers when he arose to formally present the trophy. During the last part of his speech he incidentally told how he happened to get the cup, and said:

"I can tell you there is a fistful of truth in the old-time quotation:

"Life, it is said, is a bumper, and we ought to see how we can best enjoy the treat.

"One of the ways of enjoying it is by engaging in good, honest, healthy sport.

"Sport should be pursued for its own sake; for when professionalism begins true sport ends.

"It is to encourage sport on these lines that I am here this afternoon.

"It was with that idea in view that one morning last summer when walking along Regent street, London, my son Cully 'remarked on the side,' in a voice that was childlike and bland—I may say that he, when occasion requires, owns a particularly persuasive voice:—'Father,' said he, 'this is Elkington's. This is where the silver trophies come from. Won't you do the decent for the boys at home? Just come in and buy a trophy for the Ontario Hockey Association. They are a good lot, and the right stuff.'

"I acted on his suggestion, and selected this trophy, which in a few minutes will pass from my keeping into yours, as my testimony to the belief that the boys of this province are as well fitted to compete for the best that the hand of the artist in silver can manufacture, as were the boys who competed for the smiles of royalty and golden favours in the centuries long, long ago."

On behalf of the association, Mr. Creelman accepted the valuable prize, whereupon Past Presidents Brown and McFadden had a resolution unanimously passed making John Ross Robertson an honorary life member of the O.H.A., for which kindness he thanked the association heartily.

THE AMENDMENTS.

The next order of business was the adoption or rejection of the proposed amendments to the rules, regulations and constitution. An idea to increase the annual subscription from $3 to $5 was lost, most of the members being of the opinion that there was enough money in the treasury, and that the time for higher fees had not yet come.

Another amendment which passed was one providing that competing clubs in semi-final and final matches, may each get a third of the net receipts. No person not an amateur in good standing (according to O.H.A. definition) will be allowed to play in association games. A fourth amendmendment, which carried, states that "Every charge against the status of an individual must be supported by statutory declarations, and the onus of proving his innocence shall rest with the accused."

After the definition of an amateur these words were added: "Who has not made any offer which, if it had been accepted, would have made the recipient a professional."

Hereafter protests must be accompanied by a deposit of $25, instead of $5 as formerly.

A further restriction on suspended players was thus added to the regulations:—"No player who has been suspended shall play with or against any club in the O. H. A. in any match to which an admission is charged until such player has been reinstated, or the period of his suspension has terminated."

An amendment which caused considerable discussion was that from Peterborough, restricting the age limit of junior players to 18 years. The limit was finally fixed at 20 years.

James McFadden's amendment to do away with the sub-committee was coldly frowned upon.

The last amendment to carry was the one which states that a referee must order the game to begin "at" the time which has been fixed.

It was decided to send a testimonial to Past-President 'Lex Martin, in Vancouver.

Dr. "Watty" Thompson suggested that goal nets should be used practically as they are in lacrosse, but the question could not be settled owing to the lateness of the hour.

A deserved honorarium of $150 was voted to Secretary Alex. Beaton.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Alex Creelman (acc.).
Vice-Presidents—J. S. Robertson, A. A. Macdonald.
Secretary—A. H. Beaton (acc.)
Treasurer—J. D. McMurrich (acc.).
Executive—L. King, Peterborough; E. P. Brown, Varsity; Geo. Gray, Coldwater; A. Petrie, Guelph; F. Morrison, Wellingtons; A. Gauthier, Guelph.

A. F. B. CROFTON IS FOUND INNOCENT.

MAN TRIED FOR SWINDLING FIRST NATIONAL BANK GOES FREE.

Entirely Exonerates Himself by Hunting up a Missing Witness.

The following from the Chicago Democrat of December first, establishes the innocence, on a serious charge, of a former well known resident of Peterborough:

A. B. Crofton, the wealthy Klondiker, who was arrested and tried for forging a check on the First National Bank and securing $1,250, and in which case the jury disagreed, has succeeded in securing evidence to completely exonerate him of the charge, and the case has been nolle prossed.

Ever since the court released Crofton he has spent his time and money in locating William P. Chesney, the former agent of the Ogden Building, whose whereabouts at the time of the trial could not be established.

He traced Chesney all through the Klondyke, and finally his trail led him back to the vicinity of Chicago and thence to Michigan City, where he hastened and found his man.

Chesney declared he had never seen Crofton before, and the latter secured an affidavit from him to that effect, and also a promise that in case there was another trial he would gladly come and offer his testimony.

CASE STRICKEN FROM DOCKET.

Crofton returned to Chicago and presented the affidavit to First National Bank directors. They instructed State Attorney Deneen to strike the case from the docket.

Crofton's arrest was due entirely to a case of mistaken identity.

Detectives McCarthy and Mackay arrested him some months ago on the alleged charge that he was A. Alford, who formerly occupied offices in the Ogden building.

At the trial the jury stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal.

Crofton, through his attorney Judge Joel M. Longnecker, says he will now bring suit for damages for false arrest.

Crofton is now living with his wife and child on Washington boulevard.

A LETTER FROM FAR-AWAY CHINA.

MISS QUINN GIVES SOME OF HER IMPRESSIONS.

Her Home and Environments in the Celestial Empire Differ From her Surroundings When in Peterborough.

THE EXAMINER has been asked to publish the following interesting letter from Miss Quinn, formerly of town, who is now engaged in missionary work in China:—

HAN SHAN HSIEN, Oct. 15.

MY DEAR FRIENDS,—I want to introduce you t' is morning to my new home and surroundings and to give you, if possible, a glimpse of what is to me real missionary experience, very common-place to older missionaries, of course, but novel enough, too, when it comes to one for the first time.

I think my last letter was written just when the summer heat was most intense. It didn't last long in that extreme stage, although we had seasons when the heat was very great for a few days. However, the summer is past and just now the weather is ideal, clear, beautiful, sunshiny days, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, and we look forward to some weeks of pleasant weather for study and work.

But I must tell you of Han Shan. It is a small walled city of about two or three thousand inhabitants, situated on a tributary of the Yang-tze river on the north side, and is reached by sailing down the Yang-tse about 85 li, and then nearly the same distance up the little river—or across country it is about 120 li from Wuhu. It nestles very cosily in amongst a circle of hills, and the intervening space seems to be carefully cultivated, many pretty trees adding to the beauty of the scene. We cannot see anything from our windows but the sky and our neighbours' back yard, but in five minutes or less we can reach the country from the north gate, or we can walk along the high embankment which almost reaches the top of the wall on the inside, and feast our eyes on the landscape and our lungs on the fresh, sweet air. We believe our location to be healthy. The streets are wider and much cleaner than in Wuhu and other places I have seen, and the people are tidier in their appearance, but that doesn't say that they are as clean as we are accustomed to in Canada. The city evidently has seen better days—and we would judge there was very little wealth here now, indeed the only very large building in the place is a pawn shop, where everybody is said to pawn their clothes.

As far as our work is concerned we feel we are just as well off to have no wealthy mandarins as citizens. Our mission, which is the only one in the place, was opened some years ago, and our brother, Mr. Hodges, laid down his life here, his death being caused by smallpox, but there have been no foreign women here until this spring, when the missionary in charge brought home his young wife. She had hardly begun work when they left. There is a handful of Christians, but in the few weeks they have been alone the enemy has come in and we hardly know how many are truly converted. The native evangelist has not been true, and at present is suspended from church membership. The difficulties and perplexities of the work at present are great and we would fail and become discouraged were we not sure God sent us, and we know He means to work. The opportunities will also be many both in the city and all through the surrounding country. Our parish is as big as we can occupy. The people are friendly and appear to listen intelligently and we are trusting for many souls.

Now I must tell you who the "us" are—only two—Miss Ross and myself. Miss Ross returned to China a few weeks ago, where she had formerly laboured in connection with the China Inland Mission. She truly seems to have "come to the Kingdom for such a time as this," as she has the language and experience and love for souls, all of which are so essential. Many of you know her, and our having so many mutual friends forms a very strong bond of union between us, which makes our living together all the pleasanter. She, of course, is in charge of the station, and I am here as a student and to help as I can.

And now I shall go back eight days and let you come with me from Wuhu again, as we went there together last January. It is not easy to leave the pleasant home where we have been so comfortable. Especially do we feel the breaking up of our united little party who came out at the same time, and we are glad that we are the first to go. As one of the girls said, we "had frozen together and melted together, and been shaken together during our voyage and the hot summer." Yet we have been kept so united in love that when we came to separate there are no regrets, or no apologies to give or receive. We are almost all going out in a few days—Misses McCully and Young to Uan Chi; Miss Morgan to Nan Ling; and dear Mrs. McBeth to Thibet—that dreadful place. We can hardly let her go, the dangers and hardships are so great, and yet God has called her and she gladly follows. She accompanies Mr. and Mrs. Shields and is now on her way. Pray for her that God may protect, bless and use her. Perhaps my heart goes out to her more tenderly because for two weeks, night and day, she carefully ministered to me through a dangerous illness. And so through all our joys and sorrows we have all stood together, and now we separate, perhaps "till He comes," and it is hard to keep the tears back as we realize it; but still that is what we came to China for, and we have no desire to hold back anything from the Lord. Dear Miss Funk, too, who does so much to make our home a comfortable one, and Mr. and Mrs. Beals, all have been so kind, it really, in a way, is like leaving home again. We are glad of the time spent here, for one thing; we have come to know nearly our missionaries in Central China, as at one time or another they have visited the Home during the year, and this is a great advantage. But at last we are off, and with our numerous boxes and parcels are settled in our little house-boat for our journey, which, this time, just takes us twenty-four hours. It is just the hour of the weekly union prayer meeting, which meets in our home, and so we, too, unite with them and with one another, and commit our future, so unknown, to our Father who loves us so, and ask for grace and strength and love to meet all that will meet us in the coming days, and to give us His love for each other. For many months we may not see another foreigner, as our station is off by itself, and none will see us except as they come especially, or we go to them. Then we sing together that hymn, which almost more than any other we love to sing in China—

"O, God of Bethel, by whose hand,
Thy children still are fed,
Who through this weary pilgrimage
Hast all our Fathers led."

And as we thus wait on God His peace fills our soul, and we know that the "God of our Fathers" will be the "God of their succeeding race," and we lay down on our little shelf bed for the night feeling as safe and happy as if in our own comfortable homes in Canada. For is not God with us? Has not Jesus said, "Lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the days." Our journey is a pleasant uneventful one. We arrive in the evening, and by the time we call our coolies and get our baggage started it is dusk. We are glad to enter the city under cover of darkness, as we cause less commotion. It was rather amusing though to soon find ourselves in a procession of donkeys. There must have been a hundred or more, each with a heavy sack across its back. And now we reach our chapel and home, all in one long building. We do not try to do more than make sure we have all our belongings, get some tea and then retire for the night. We are awakened by a big rat running over us, and stories that we have heard from missionaries of waking up and finding rats gnawing their ears hair, toes, etc., will unwelcomely intrude themselves; but this one behaved better, we are thankful to say, and we hope the rest will, too. Our house is full of them. I saw such a horrid big one yesterday. I really believe I have a greater horror of rats than anything else, but it may be that familiarity will breed not only contempt, but fearlessness also, on my part as well as theirs, for they can't be frightened.

Next morning we try to take in the situation. The house is standing furnished as it was left some months ago, when the occupants then expected to return, and the dust and dirt have accumulated till we don't know what to do. We haven't seen our friends yet to know what furniture they will want to sell, and we couldn't buy before coming until we knew what we would need and they wouldn't. However, we go to work and empty rooms, taking up matting, sweep, dust and scrub. At least our men do and we help, but fine work like cleaning windows and doors, we must do ourselves. We get our meals as we can for a day or two. After four days of this missionary (!) work we are more settled and very tired, but still far from clean. Our walls need whitewashing, our wood work, which is partly foreign in style, needs painting. How glad I would have been could I have gone down street and spent about fifty dollars in paints, paper and rugs and cretonnes for curtains. Miss Ross had the business to look after and the women to entertain who called, so I tried to help to look after some of these little matters, and I actually dreamed of curtains. However, we are comfortable, and in time we will get things more to our taste. We cannot buy much here. There is a butcher shop where we get very good beef, but to-day we find we cannot buy meat, chickens, fish or vegetables. To our dismay we find that the native flour is not good, but it may turn out better. We have sent to Wuhu for better flour. We can always get rice, almost always eggs, and at present plenty of sweet potatoes, and we have our imported stores of fruit, condensed milk, etc. So we will always have enough to eat. I am looking forward to a box that is coming from home with butter and other good things. We have a very good boy for a cook, who helped in the kitchen at Wuhu. He tries hard to give us plenty to eat, and so far has succeeded, although he has very poor utensils and materials with which to work. He remarks very often that we have come here to "eat bitterness," a Chinese expression. Miss Ross has just come in from a tour of inspection, and remarks that our boy does not know how to find all the "goodies" that are to be bought, and is sending out again. These dainties turned out to be persimmons and nice cakes and since writing this letter we find we can make good bread out of the flour.

Well, my letter is long enough. I need not ask you to whom this letter is personally addressed to hold us up in prayer; that many, many of these dear women may through us receive Jesus Christ as their Saviour; that, above all things, this may continually be our earnest desire; that the perplexities of housekeeping under such difficulties, the study of the language, the greatest burdens of what would be called the more spiritual part of the work, may be each kept in their proper place, and in them all Jesus may shine before this people, who sit in the shadow of great darkness. China to-day needs the prayers of all Christians. We almost hold our breath as history is being made here, and wonder what next.

Perhaps I should add that our address is still Wuhu, C. China, and we hope to get our mail about twice a month, as we send a special messenger. It would be disappointing if he returned with an empty mail bag. I might also say that we are well and very glad to be here.

Trusting that you also, with us, may gather in many precious souls in Han Shan Hsien, I am

Yours sincerely,
MARGARET QUINN.

SNOW PLOUGHING.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I wonder whether our city fathers can do one little thing right even if they were to try a little. The terrible condition of our streets is expected to be improved by the fall of the snow, but the walks were almost impassable this morning. I saw little children ploughing their way through the unbroken snow in the vicinity of the South Ward School. Some of them were crying with fatigue and cold and the prospect of being late. I should think that the council would see that the streets were opened after a snow fall in time to give the children a chance. But judging from the intelligence the councillors apply to the management of our streets, it is probable that they never went to school and can't, therefore, sympathize with the little children ploughing and struggling through snow drifts on their way to school. It is a downright shame that the streets cannot be cleaned earlier. If the areas are to large subdivide them; it won't cost any more in the aggregate unless the tender hearted councillors add a few dollars to the tender of applicants for the contract.

Yours, etc.,
LALLEO.

READ THE PROOF!

GENTLEMEN,—I have for a long time needed something to make blood and build up my system. My blood was watery and thin, lacking strength and vitality. Last January a friend said:—"Why not try Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills? They will supply the oxygen your blood needs and give you health and strength." I told him I was very skeptical as to any benefit that could be derived from any proprietary medicine and had no faith in them. There the matter rested until four months ago, when reading so much about what Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have done for so many people with impoverished blood, I concluded to give them a trial. I have taken four boxes and my unbelief so far as Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are concerned has been entirely removed. They are a splendid blood builder and strength restorer, and an invaluable medicine for weak, enervated people. This has been my experience, they having given me strength of body and strong healthy blood.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

Bye-Election in Nipissing to Be Held on Dec. 22, the Nomination a Week Earlier.

Toronto, Dec. 3.—Col. Clarke received the order for the issuing of the bye-election in Nipissing shortly before 12 o'clock yesterday. He issued the writ for the election to be held Dec. 22, and the nominations one week earlier. The Liberal candidate will be J. P. Loughrin, formerly unseated. The Conservative, it is thought, will be Mr. Lamarche, who contested the riding in the general election.

Hon. Mr. Dryden spoke last evening at Dungannon, West Huron, in the interests of Hon. J. T. Garrow. He returns home over Sunday, and next week will take an active part in Halton, speaking at Nelson Tuesday evening. He will attend the Guelph Fat Stock Show, and the meeting of the Experimental Union.

Next week Hon. E. J. Davis will make an electioneering tour.

The Conservatives of North Hastings will meet at Madoc next week to select a candidate for the Legislature, the bye-election for which takes place on Thursday, the 22nd inst.

Brandon Liberals intend giving Mr. Sifton a grand banquet on his arrival there. It is said Mr. James Sutherland will accompany Mr. Sifton to Winnipeg.

The North Waterloo election case seems destined never to get a hearing. Something always seems to turn up at the last minute to justify a postponement. Yesterday it was the absence of Mr. Justice Osler that put it off again.

Mr. R. Morrow Cured of Lumbago by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, Nov. 28—The vast majority of Torontonians know and esteem Mr. R. Morrow, the able and popular general agent for the Toronto Auer Light Co.

For this reason the following statement made in writing by Mr. Morrow, possesses unusual significance.

"Two years ago I was attacked by Lumbago and Urinary trouble which caused me intense suffering. I took several different remedies without any benefit. Then I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and was completely cured by them."

Lumbago is unusually prevalent this fall. All sufferers should know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for it. They never fail.

Great Watch. Great Cow.

Seven years ago a farmer living west of Webster City, Ia., hung his vest on the fence in the barnyard, and as a result of it a wonderful story is told.

A calf chewed up a pocket in the garment in which was a standard gold watch. Last week the animal, a staid old milk cow, was butchered for beef, and the timepiece was found in such a position between the lungs of the cow that the process of respiration, the closing in and filling the lungs, kept the stem winder wound up, and the watch had lost but four minutes in the seven years.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A SILVER STANDARD.

Philippine Islanders Don't Want Any of the Yellow Metal—Foreigners Do the Trade.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 3.—Mr. Edward W. Harden, who as United States commissioner investigated the financial and industrial condition in the Philippine Islands, has made a report to the Secretary of the Treasury. The report says that silver is the basis of the currency in the Philippines. There has been no gold in general circulation for more than 20 years. The Mexican dollar of dates previous to 1877 is practically the only money in general circulation. For the ordinary needs of the country, little money is used, as the credit system is in vogue throughout the islands.

The question of the future currency of the island is one of vital importance to all business men in the islands. The best informed men in Manila are unanimous in the opinion that under the present condition the silver currency is the only one suited to the islands. A great deal of the trade of the Philippines is with China and Japan, the Straits Settlements, India and Australia. In China and Japan and in India, the whole trade is on a silver basis. The natives of the Philippines are conservative to a degree in the matter of their currency, and it would be a long and tedious task to educate them to the gold standard. Notwithstanding the Americans have a force of 15,000 soldiers in Manila who are paid in gold, the people of the islands will have nothing but silver. All of the soldiers when they are paid in gold take their money to the banks and exchange it for local currency. The native will take the Mexican dollars in preference to the United States gold dollar.

Practically, all the export and import trade of the islands is in the hands of foreigners. There are a few Spaniards engaged in trade, but the bulk of the business in a commercial way is done by British, German, Belgian and American citizens.

The exports from the islands for the year 1897 were valued at $41,843,980. The imports during 1897 were valued at $17,342,990.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes for it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. HUNTING LOST COINS.

Many Believe That It Is Good Luck to Find Them.

I was talking to a prominent Wall street man as we passed along Broadway, when suddenly he darted eagerly forward, stooped and picked up something from the sidewalk, says a New York Herald man.

"I'm glad I didn't miss that this morning," said he exultantly.

"What is it?" I inquired. He opened his hand and showed me a battered 5 cent piece.

"I'm not superstitious about many things," explained he, as he fished a small and much worn purse from an inner pocket and deposited the coin, "but you will find any number of men on the street who are just as glad and am at finding stray coins. A great many are firm believers in the idea that good luck always follows such finds, and will not hesitate to embark in commercial or financial ventures on the strength of adventitiously discovered coin of the realm. I can't say that I am absolutely dominated by such a superstition, but I do admit I always feel easier about transactions of a speculative character if I have first picked up in the streets a bit of fractional currency.

"Picking up coins becomes a mania with many brokers and speculators, and from a mania it not infrequently becomes a passion. If you observe closely, you will detect a dozen well known Wall street men parading the thoroughfares with their heads bowed. They are looking for small pieces of money which careless persons have dropped. Several men with whom I am intimately acquainted haunt the vicinity of the big daily newspapers, where there is always more or less small change in active circulation, and where, as a consequence, many pennies, nickels and dimes are lost on the street. These coins they treasure and preserve with the fondest care. They would not part with them for many thousand times their intrinsic value. As a rule, coin hunting brokers and speculators carry special purses in which the finds are kept, and some have amassed as high as $5 or $6.

"Some Wall street men believe it is good luck to find a pin pointing toward them, but they are in a very insignificant minority in comparison with those who hold to the golden promises held out by the picked up coins."

The Value of Art Schools.

The most important channel through which the wise and the unwise wisdom of the time can influence, strengthen and inhibit the creative power of art is art education in the schoolroom, says Professor Hugo Munsterberg in The Atlantic. Millions of children receive there the strongest decisive influence for æsthetical attitude, millions of children have there the most immediate contact with the world of the visible arts and mold there the sense of refinement, of beauty, of harmony. Surely the drawing teacher can have an incomparable influence on the æsthetic spirit of the country, far greater than criticists and millionaire purchasers, greater even than the professional art schools. The future battles against this country's greatest enemy, vulgarity, will be fought largely with the weapons which the drawing teachers supply to the masses. Whoever has attended their meetings or examined the exhibitions of schoolroom work knows that they do not lack enthusiasm, industry, and that their importance in the educational system grows rapidly.

The Wheat Markets in Liverpool and the Windy City The Live Stock Markets—All Quotations.

Friday Evening, Dec. 2.

Liverpool wheat was steady to strong today, futures closing unchanged to ⅛d per cental above yesterday's final quotations. Paris wheat closed steady to 5 centimes lower for the day, with flour 10 centimes lower to 10 centimes higher. Antwerp wheat advanced 12½ centimes.

Chicago's wheat market exhibited little strength to-day. There was considerable liquidation of this month's delivery, and at the close the May option showed a premium of a full cent over December. Bearish news as to the crop in Russia and Argentina was to hand.

MAD OTHER BUSINESS.

Lord Strathcona's Mission to Washington a Double One.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—Lord Strathcona's visit to Washington was on other business besides the fast steamship line between Canada and Great Britain. This statement was made yesterday by a gentleman well in touch with the Canadian peer, and the details are, to say the least, startling.

This gentleman states that he learns upon good authority that Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal has been deputed by the Imperial Government to visit Washington, and, if possible, induce the Canadian delegates to modify the Dominion demands. It is said that the Canadians wanted so much that it was supposed at Washington that the success of the conference might be jeopardized if someone did not come over and induce the Canucks to put a little water in their wine, hence Lord Herschell's plea for aid.

At this, the Imperial authorities believed Lord Strathcona to be the man and his lordship started at once for Washington.

The Maria Teresa's Safe.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 3.—The safe of the Spanish cruiser Maria Teresa, which has lain for some time in the navy yard here, was opened yesterday, and was found to be filled with bags of Spanish and American gold and silver coin. It is estimated that the value of the treasure will reach $75,000. The money will be turned over to the proper officials and the safe will be sent to the National Museum at Washington.

Canadian "Drummers" in the U.S.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Referring to certain published statements that Canadian commercial travellers were forbidden to pursue their calling in the United States by the terms of the alien contract labor law, Secretary Spaulding said yesterday that the law was not so construed by the Treasury Department. Commercial travellers were not considered as coming within its provisions.

Squire Hunt Was Sleepy.

St. Thomas, Ont., Dec. 3.—The charge against Arthur Johnson of stealing wheat from a farmer named Grant of Union was heard before Squire Hunt at the Police Court yesterday and dismissed. R. H. McConnell defended. While the case was in progress and at the most important stage of the proceedings Squire Hunt fell asleep and nearly fell off the magistrate's bench.

PERMANENT CURE
—OF—RHEUMATISM.

Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Mrs. C. Allard Eight Years ago, and she has had no Return of the Disease Since.

From the tortures of Rheumatism who would not give his all to get release, even though it were temporary. But when, for a small outlay, not only temporary but permanent relief can positively be procured through the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, who need endure the agony of this terrible disease.

The case of Mrs. C. Allard, of Pembroke, Ont., is another of those instances, some of which we are publishing from time to time, where B.B.B. not only gave relief for the time being, but made a cure so lasting that after eight years there has been no return of the disease.

This is the letter written by Mrs. Allard, Jan. 16th, 1894:

"About three years ago I was troubled with Rheumatism in my arm and shoulder, and a queer, sleepy feeling in my arms so that they pained me a great deal at night.

"I tried different doctors and a good many remedies, but found no relief. I was advised by a lady friend to try B. B. B., and after using one bottle I felt so much better that I continued using it until I had taken in all three bottles, when I was completely cured.

"B. B. B. I consider a splendid remedy, and I cannot speak of it too highly." (MRS.) C. ALLARD.

This letter was received July 6th, 1898:

"Since I was cured by Burdock Blood Bitters some eight years ago I have never felt any pains or aches in my arm or shoulder. I still have the same confidence in B.B.B. now that I had then. It gave me so much relief and made such an effectual cure that I never fail to praise it." (MRS.) C. ALLARD.

The descent is certain from weak lungs, lingering coughs, throat troubles or bronchial affections through bleeding lungs, to consumption, if the first stages are neglected. Thousands of people who are now in their graves would be alive and well to-day if they had heeded the first warnings of those troubles which lead to consumption and death.

The hacking cough, spitting of blood, weak lungs, and all similar troubles of the organs of breathing, will surely lead to consumption, if they are not already the signs of it. Then there are the other indications of the approach of consumption, such as night-sweats, emaciation, or wasting away of flesh from bad nutrition, which, if neglected, lead to certain death.

Ninety-eight per cent. of all the cases of weak lungs, bleeding lungs, lingering and obstinate coughs, and other bronchial and throat diseases, which have been treated with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, have been cured by it. Do not wait until your throat trouble becomes serious. All bronchial and throat troubles are serious. The time to take the "Golden Medical Discovery" is right at the start.

Even if your throat trouble has been neglected until it has been pronounced pulmonary disease or consumption, do not hesitate to use the "Golden Medical Discovery," for thousands of letters from the sufferers themselves, who are now well, bear evidence that the "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure, even after good physicians have pronounced the disease pulmonary consumption.

"I had been troubled with bronchitis for several years," writes Mrs. Orlin O'Hara, Box 114, Fergus Falls, Ottertail Co., Minn. "In the first place, I had sore throat. I doctored with different physicians and took various medicines, but got no relief. I raised from my throat a sticky substance like the white of an egg. Could not sleep, and had made up my mind that I would not live through the winter. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' alternately, and in a few days began to see that I was better. I took eight bottles. I have not felt as well in years as since using these medicines."

HE FOOLED THE JURY

A LAWYER'S CLEVER TRICK THAT SAVED HIS CLIENT.

The Rascal on Trial Was Guilty and Proved to Beyond a Doubt, but the Shrewd Lawyer Found a Way to Win His Case.

When Colorado was organized as a territory, there was little English used outside of Denver and the mining camps. The rest of the thinly scattered country was as Spanish as any part of our latest America. Not Castilians, of course—more likely a general mixture of Azteo and Apache and a lot of other strains of blood, but certainly Spanish in name and in speech. "The government recognised that it had a difficult task before it in bringing these 'greasers' to understand the very beginning of the obligations and the duties of their American citizenship. One of the most trusted agents in this campaign of education was Judge Hallett, who was put in charge of the judicial system of the new territory. From that time to this he has been at the head of the federal judiciary in the great and prosperous state of Colorado. Despite this fierceness of rebuke and countless oddities of temper no judge has ever been so respected as he along the great divide.

When he first went on circuit, the bar left Denver with him and traveled in a body both for sociability and for safety. Then there was no railroad, the only means of reaching any place from any other being along a slightly marked trail barely passable for horses. By slow stages the bench and the bar reached Trinidad under the cold shadows of the Sangre de Cristo range. These Spanish names were an incessant annoyance to Judge Hallett, who declaimed against each one in turn and announced his purpose of memorializing the secretary of the interior to have them all made American. Of a piece with this was his attitude toward the prevailing Spanish speech of the country. He objected to it. Among the first rules of his court was that which provided that all its transactions should be in English, and that if litigants objected to the work of the sworn interpreter that was their own lookout. It might encourage them to learn to talk "American," as they ought.

In Trinidad Colonel Taylor of the bar was retained for the defense in a case where no defense was possible. The place was full of witnesses who had seen the deed done, whatever it may have been, for that is unimportant. The prosecuting attorney put on witness after witness to prove the facts. He made a perfect case, and he demanded that full punishment be inflicted. It was a difficult situation for Colonel Taylor. His client was guilty beyond a doubt. Cross examination of the witnesses could only make that fact more distinct, and for that reason he did nothing so foolish. The case was altogether Spanish. Criminal, witnesses, audience—there were not six words of English in the whole outfit. The interpreter had been called on for every word which had gone back and forth throughout the trial. Colonel Taylor arose to make his plea. He surveyed the cluster of dark faces which filled the shed in which the court was sitting.

"Caballeros," he began—"caballeros del jurado"—

There was a loud whacking of the gavel by Judge Hallett as soon as he caught the sound of the language which he despised so heartily.

"Mr. Taylor, Mr. Taylor," he shouted, "as a member of the bar of this court you must be aware that all its transactions must be conducted in the English language, the language of this country. If I thought that you were using Spanish maliciously, I should punish you soundly for such contempt of this court. You will address this court of the United States in United States and in no other speech, language or dialect."

"I bow to your honor's ruling," continued Colonel Taylor and resumed his plea, but in English and with the assistance of the interpreter. He told the greaser jury how the sight of their proud Castilian lineaments had caused him to forget a rule of the court and to address them in the sonorous speech of Spain, from which their proud forefathers came. He obeyed the judge, but he felt the restraint of having to make his pleading through the assistance of the interpreter. It was a simple matter which he could set right in a few sentences of their own language, but he feared that in English he could not do so well; yet he hoped that they would not see a fellow citizen punished solely for the reason that his advocate was not allowed to address a Spanish jury in their own tongue. Harping on this theme, he avoided any discussion of the evidence which bore so heavily on his client, and in his peroration he paid a glowing tribute to the language of Don Quixote and Queen Isabella. This done, he fled from the spot and was not seen until court had arisen for the day.

When they next met, the prosecuting attorney wanted to know why he had not been on hand to receive congratulations on the acquittal of his client.

"They set him free without a stain on his character and without their seat and it was all due to your Spanish. Why didn't you wait? You're the hero of the whole population."

"That's just the trouble," rejoined Colonel Taylor. "I knew they'd acquit that rascal and then they'd fall all over me with their Spanish. I just naturally had to hide. Those three words that Judge Hallett choked me off on, that's all the Spanish I ever knew in my life. I couldn't afford to be congratulated."

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov. 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Gerrard street, east, who has been restored to vigourous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so-called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

The Strength We Waste.

"It is strange how much dynamic force we throw into all our movements," remarked a physician of this city. "We think we are moving gently and deliberately, but we are really wasting enough power to run an engine. Sit down on a chair that is an inch lower than you expected and you come near going through the seat. It's the same when one encounters any unanticipated obstacle. The other day one of my patients attempted to light a cigar and in carrying the match to the weed he struck his knuckles against a door jam and broke his index finger.

Not long ago I was called to attend a boy, who had miscalculated the height of the bottom step in descending a flight of stairs. She thought it was similar to the others, but it was only half as high, and the result was that she landed on the pavement with a jar that sprained her knee. She was laid up for a couple of weeks. On one occasion I was myself knocked almost senseless by bumping my head against a rafter in the basement of this building. I could have sworn that I was moving along very cautiously, because it was quite dark, but I nearly fractured my skull and still have the sore as a souvenir. The moral is to go slow."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Thawed Her Husband.

The endurance of the Indian is well known. His stoicism is as great as that of the East Indian fakir. The most horrible pain is borne with fortitude. He has been accustomed to this from the earliest days. Rostein gave me one good example of what an Indian can go through. A squaw reported that her buck was missing. It was a bitter cold night and he had been absent all night without any apparent reason. A search was made and he was found in a shed under a heap of drifted snow, with a jug of firewater by his side. Apparently he was a frozen carcass. The squaw dragged him out and took him to a small lake, where a hole had been dug in the ice for the cattle. She took a pan and poured pailful after pailful of the ice water over him. By and by she had him thawed out and in a few hours he was as lively as ever.

"Seeing Glass" or Looking Glass.

The following is an extract from the will of a Lincolnshire farmer dated Aug. 1, 1796:

"Item I also give to my wife the bed she now lieth on, one ovel (sic) table, one Tea table, one Round table, three round backed chairs, one spindle chair, my shiney (sic) and Tea table, Silver spoons, one Baril (sic) warming pan and a Seeing Glass and Tongs."—Notes and Queries.

Soon Left Her.

"I was taken with swelling in my feet and limbs. I was not able to walk for four months. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and procured a bottle. Before I had taken it all the swelling left me. I took three bottles of Hood's and have not been troubled with swelling since." Rebecca Seevre, Chatham, Ont.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE

Mr. M. T. Wigle

Of Kingsville, Essex Co.

CURED OF ITCHING PILES OF 23 YEARS STANDING

M. T. Wigle, better known to every one in the vicinity as "Uncle Mike," was troubled for over 23 years with itching piles. At times he was so bad he would have to quit work. The irritation became so intense with constant rubbing that they became ulcerated and would bleed. He had been treated by many physicians, but found nothing that gave him relief. Reading in the paper the cure of a friend who had suffered in a like manner, and been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, he procured a box. After the third application he got such relief that he had the first comfortable night's sleep he had enjoyed in years. The one box made a complete cure, and he says he would not be without it for $50 a box if it could not be replaced. Mr. Wigle is a wealthy farmer, well known in the community in which he resides. It is over two years since he was afflicted, and he has never been troubled since.

Physicians fail to make a cure when Dr. Chase's Ointment gave Immediate Relief. . .

The Burial of Sir Turkey Gobbler.

Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note,
As his corse to the ramparts we hurried;
Not a waiter discharged a farewell shot
O'er the grave where the turkey was buried.

No useless coffin inclosed his breast
Nor in sheet nor in shroud they wound him.
But he lay like a hero taking his rest,
With the oysters all around him.

Simple and short was the grace they said,
And they spoke not a word of sorrow,
They steadfastly gazed on the dishful of dead
And painfully thought of tomorrow.

Little they'll talk of the turkey that's gone
And o'er his cold hashes upbraid him,
But little he'll reck if they let him sleep on
In the grave where the eaters have laid him.

Slowly and sadly they put him down,
From the field on the farm fresh and gory.
They carved not a line, but they did carve a bone
And left him in gravy and glory.

"Yes," she admitted, "I am going to marry a hero of the war."

"Are you sure you are not letting your sentiment run away with your judgment?" they asked.

"There is no sentiment about it. He will be so handy to have around the house to tell me stories that will make my hair curl."

Pictures In the Flames.

In ancient days, when men and maids
Sat in the cozy ingle nooks,
They dreamed romantic dreams, or so,
At least, we read in story books.

Alas, the stout old hickory logs
From which the sparks, all crackling, flew
Have given place to gas jets, and
The old romance is banished too!

No more the nodding lover sits
And sees within the leaping flames
Imaginary castles or
Bold knights or stately dames.

But he that sits before the log
In these newfangled, prosy days
Can only picture to himself
The bills it takes to feed the blaze.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY,"

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 96
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the lowe ing rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

RECENT MOVEMENTS IN RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

AS DEVELOPED IN ENGLAND THIS CENTURY.

Address in the St. John's Course of Lectures to Men—Rev. H. Symonds Speaks Interestingly Upon the Subject.

The address to men yesterday afternoon at St. John's was given by Rev. H. Symonds on "Recent movements in religious thought in England." The speaker began by defining a movement as originating in an idea, which if it be true finds a home in many minds and issues in action. The religious movements in the Church of England could not be properly understood without a general understanding of the principal of the English Reformation. That Reformation differed from the similar movement on the continent of Europe. It aimed at comprehension and inclusion, not exclusion. The attempt of the Reformers failed. The Church of England has never included the whole body of the English people. But it still comprehends three main schools of thought, the high, low and broad church schools. The speaker claimed that whilst there were limits to the liberty of these parties, they all had a locus standi in the church.

The first party described was that of the so-called Low church, which sprang out of the Evangelical movement of the 18th century. The characteristics of the Evangelical school were: (1) Its realisation that the heart is the seat of religion. (2) Its intense zeal for individual souls. (3) Its emphasis upon the infinite value and power of the work of Christ.

Its weakness lay in its indifference to organization and institutions. In the language of to-day it was and still is individualistic. But man is something more than an individual. He has indissoluable relations to his fellowman. These relations create certain organizations—the Family, the Nation, the Church. These are all divine, and the perfection of the institution is essential to the perfection of the society. Hence while the Evangelical thinks first of the individual, the High Churchman thinks first of the divine society, the Church.

The High Church party of to-day takes its origin from the Oxford Movement of 1833. Its distinct ideas are, (1) The reality of the Church as a divinely ordained institution; (2) The value of all the institutions of the Church, the sacraments, the ministry, divine worship. It was unfortunate that it had developed a Rome-ward tendency, but in spite of this, the speaker claimed, that it had accomplished a work of permanent value in the Church. He believed that doctrinally and ritually it had passed its high tide of influence. The report that sometimes goes the rounds of the press, that there are Jesuits acting as Church of England clergy he characterized as certainly false. Cardinal Vaughan had emphatically denied it, and no grain of evidence was ever offered in its proof.

The third school of thought described was the Broad Church. There was no Broad Church party, but there was a certain body of ideas that could be described as Broad Church.

1.—The Broad Churchman believes in the reasonableness of religion. He holds that the denial of this inevitably leads to superstition.

2.—He believes in the progressiveness of religion. Hence he welcomed the modern scientific teaching of evolution, for in the department of religion it had been taught by the Germans Lessing and Hegel before the time of Darwin.

3.—The Broad Church school accepts modern methods of study and investigation. Hence higher criticism.

4.—Hence the Broad Church school rejects the doctrine of Infallibility, whether of the Pope, or of the Church or of the Scriptures. It sees no need of such a doctrine for those who believe in an ever-living and working Holy Spirit.

5.—He believes again in the superiority of the spirit to the letter, of the essence to the form. "We have," says St. Paul, "our treasure in earthen vessels." Jesus Christ, it holds gave no creed, no definite ministry, no particular ceremonies.

6. The literary movement of the 19th century has been almost entirely Broad church. That spirit is represented in Carlyle, Emerson, Ruskin, Matthew Arnold, Browning and Tennyson. The latter is the very poet of these ideas, which are almost perfectly expressed in these lines:

"Our little systems have their day;
They have their day and cease to be.
They are but broken lights of Thee,
And Thou, O Lord, art more than they."

Coming to the present outlook of religion the following main tendencies were described:

1. A tendency to return to the simple fundamentals of religion.

2. A tendency to regard all statements of doctrines as only approximations to the absolute truth. The doctrine of the atonement could be stated in several ways.

3. A tendency to regard all forms of church government as matters of expediency.

4. A tendency to regard all forms of worship as non-essentials.

These tendencies, tendencies to simplicity in doctrine, to liberty in government and forms of worship, may be summed up in one expression—a tendency to unity, not uniformity.

The religious problem which emerges at the end of this century and which will be the task of the twentieth century, is this—to discover the true nature of Christian Unity. The two keynotes of any true unity must be liberty and love. To combine liberty with love that is the problem, and when that is solved then will be realized the eloquent forecast of the eloquent Bishop Boyd-Carpenter.

"The religian of the future will be neither Catholic nor Protestant but simply Christian. The dogmas which have separated communion from communion will fall off as autumn leaves before the fresh winds of God. The church of God will renew its strength. It will be content with a simpler creed because it will have learnt Christ. It will not need any longer Trent, or Westminster, or Lambeth or the Vatican to lead it. It will be satisfied to realise that there is one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism, one God and Father of all."

BUSINESS VERSUS NONSENSE.

Messrs. Henry & Co. Tersely Express Their Views on Good Fruit and the Cleaning of It—Their Store Supplied With Latest Improved Machinery for Cleaning Fruit—Interesting Information.

It is amusing to read some of the flamboyant statements published in the local press by certain grocery merchants with regard to fruit and the cleaning of it. Some have boasted of the many hundred cases of fruit they clean per day; others that good fruit does not need cleaning at all. These are two extremes of the question. Henry & Co. wish to take "the happy medium" position and leave the verdict in the care of intelligent readers. They do not clean nor sell a hundred cases in a day, but are happy if they can sell the tenth part of it in that time. They also think that it does not hurt even the very best currants to be run through a cleaning machine.

INTERESTING INFORMATION.

Currants, if we can believe a good authority—the Canadian Grocer—are grown mostly in Greece, and are packed there in boxes or barrels by young Greeks, who tramp them in their bare feet, jumping from the currants into tubs or vats of vinegar and water and back on to the fruit again, in order to give it the proper flavour.

Henry & Co. have always bought the very best selected raisins and the very finest currants in the market. They had no patent fruit cleaner, and had no intention of buying one. They had bought again this fall the very finest selected fruit that money can buy; but since buying, some other merchants have raised such an uproar about fruit and the cleaning of it, that housekeepers have demanded that frui should be put through a patent cleaning process and cleaned before sold. Henry & Co. are in the business to please the public and they must be up-to-date, consequently they determined to purchase a two-horse power fruit cleaning machine, and now have it in running order in the store. The public need not fear getting any cheap or second grade fruit cleaned up by Henry & Co's machine. They bought the fruitiest fruit, which could easily be sold without cleaning, but they are now "in the swim," and ready to turn out the best fruit, cleaned by the newest cleaning process known to the trade.

The public are not concerned to know how much this new machinery cost, nor whether Henry & Co. were the first or second or third in this district to procure it, nor how many hundred pounds they receive and clean per day. But what does concern the housekeeper is the superior quality of the fruit Henry & Co. have in stock and the superior quality of fruit they will now turn out by their new electric power machine for holiday and everyday cooking.

THE SHAMROCK BRAND.

Henry & Co. do not wish to boast that their brand of raisins and currants put up in packages and called "The Shamrock" are a hundred times better than some other brand that some other merchant is selling, but they do claim that the "Shamrock" package contains the most perfect fruit that money can buy. They cheerfully invite all customers to carefully compare it with other fruit offered, and if the "Shamrock" is inferior the money will be cheerfully refunded and they can keep the fruit for nothing. Henry & Co., like all other merchants, are in business to make money and are enterprising enough to take hold of anything new that will improve their trade and please their customers. Look in Henry & Co's. grocery window and see their coffee mill running by the electric power, which also runs their fruit cleaning machine in the other end of the shop. THE STORM GENERAL

Marshalled His Forces With Singular Impartiality.

ONTARIO MANTLED IN SNOW.

Hamilton Is the Worst Sufferer and Sunday's Downfall of "the Beautiful" Will Cost Her $500,000—Street Railway Traffic Badly Interrupted—16 Inches of Snow in Toronto.

Toronto, Dec. 6.—Toronto, as a rule, enjoys immunity from the heavy snowstorms and overpowering blizzards which oft occur in the far west and in the United States. Sunday night's experience here was exceptional, for before the storm abated in the early hours yesterday morning the local snow record had nearly been broken. According to the Observatory report no less than 16 inches had fallen, this having only been exceeded by the big storm of March 28, 1876, when the record was 16.2 inches. Other approximate registers are: Feb 5, 1868, 16 inches; Dec. 20, 1885, 15 inches; Dec. 22, 1879, 15 inches. The storm was too much for the staff and equipment of the Toronto Railway Company. The electric sweepers failed to keep the lines open, and a miserable experience it was for those out late on Sunday night and early Monday morning to trudge their way homeward knee-deep in snow, to say nothing of the deeper drifts at various street intersections. It was not till afternoon that all the lines were open for traffic.

There was a busy scene around the street commissioner's department yesterday morning. At 7 o'clock 300 men and 120 carts were detailed to clear the street crossings and intersections. Shortly after an additional force was sent out to remove the snow from the sides of King, Yonge, Queen and other streets on which the cars run. The expense of this is paid by the city and the Toronto Railway Company. After the dinner hour Street Commissioner Jones had 1,000 men at work in the various districts of the city. The cost will be $3,000.

All the trains arriving at the Union Station were late yesterday.

TWO NIGHTS IN DARKNESS.

Hamilton City Suffers Severely From the Ravages of the Storm King—Loss Will Be Half a Million.

Hamilton, Dec. 6.—The most disastrous snowstorm that ever struck Hamilton was the one that commenced here Sunday night. The losses sustained by the telegraph companies, electric railways and telephone company amount to $500,000. The telephone lines for many blocks from the heart of the city are down, and so are all the poles, broken like pipe-stems. The city was in total darkness Sunday night, and no attempt was made to light the streets last night or will be to-night, as thousands of broken wires are hanging across the power company's lines, and the danger to citizens would be too great.

The City Street Railway has been tied up since 9 o'clock Sunday night. Many cars were stalled in the tracks, and are still there. Trolley wires are down in all directions, poles having fallen on them.

It was after the lights went out Sunday night that the real trouble began and it became dangerous for people to be out. The trees became so heavily loaded with the soft snow that branches began to break, and in a short time the sidewalks and roadways were strewn with trees and parts of trees. Then the telephone and other poles began to yield to the terrific weight on the wires and everywhere throughout the city they snapped off and came crashing to the ground with their weight of wires. Very few citizens had any idea of the number of wires strung on the poles in the city till yesterday morning, when they viewed the wreck on nearly every street on which wires were strung. In the hotels and churches where electric light is used coal-oil lamps, candles, and bicycle lanterns had to be used.

It is doubtful if any company or corporation has suffered to the extent of the Bell Telephone Company. It was found that fully three-fourths of the city services had been "knocked out" and perhaps more.

Probably the grandest sight in connection with the storm was on King street east yesterday afternoon. The telephone wires at Walnut street were cut to clear the Electric Lighting Company's wires, and the weight went westward, and pole after pole snapped with a loud report. There was an interval of a few seconds between the fall of each of the poles, and the noise was like that of cannonading. Every pole on the south side of King street, from Walnut to Hughson street, went down, and the poles from this corner south on Hughson street to the Telephone Exchange went down in less than three minutes. Several hundred wires swing against the Hamilton Provident & Loan building.

The loss here to the Bell Telephone Company is estimated at over $100,000.

The steam railways were practically tied up from Sunday night till nearly noon yesterday.

The H., G. & B. Railway will not be in operation again for a few days. The H. & D. has its line open, and cars will be running regularly to-day.

All the idle men for miles around have been pressed into service clearing the main streets.

Young Lady Hurt at St. Catharines.

St. Catharines, Dec. 6.—The magnificent effect of the storm of Sunday night on the streets here is a fit subject for the artist. The oldest inhabitant cannot recall the time when the Garden City looked more beautiful. Street car service is suspended and will likely remain so until to-day.

Miss Lake, daughter of Mr. J. Lake, civil engineer of the Niagara Central Railway Company, narrowly escaped death Sunday night about midnight. A telephone wire was attached to a large chimney, and under the great weight of snow on the wires the chimney fell, crashing through the roof into the young lady's bedroom, where she was sleeping. The bed was covered with debris, and she was struck, her head being badly cut and her body badly bruised. She is resting easy and will recover.

THE STORM WAS GENERAL.

One Foot of the Beautiful at Some Parts—Two Feet at Others.

Manitoulin, Que.—Eleven inches of snow; roads good; still snowing.

Wakefield, Ont.—About one foot of snow; weather mild, but turning a little colder.

Kazubazua, Ont.—About two feet of snow fell here since midnight, and still snowing.

Montebello, Que.—Four or five inches of snow fell; still snowing, but weather mild.

Perth, Ont.—Snowed since 9 o'clock Sunday night; roads badly drifted in some places; about ten inches of snow on level; weather turning colder; still snowing.

Renfrew, Ont.—About 14 inches; roads very heavy; snowing now.

Newbury, Ont.—Cloudy, turning colder, about six inches of snow has fallen.

Carleton Place, Ont.—It has snowed here since about 9 o'clock Sunday night; about one foot has fallen; weather moderate; roads fairly good.

St. John, N.B.—Snow fell Monday morning, and at noon turned to rain, with a high gale, which delayed coast steamers from sailing for several hours.

Ottawa, Ont.—A genuine Canadian snowstorm. Trains late. About eight inches of snow fell at Madawaska, and a snowplow was sent out to clear the track for the express.

Biddaford, Me.—The outer end of the ocean pier at Old Orchard was carried away during Sunday night's storm. A section 150 feet long was wrecked, carrying with it the big pavilion at the end. The pier was built last spring. The loss will be $30,000, covered by insurance.

MRS. VIAU'S SECOND TRIAL.

Trouble Experienced in Getting an Acceptable Jury.

St. Scholastique, Que., Dec. 6.—At 10 o'clock yesterday morning began the second trial of Cordelia Viau, accused, with Sam Parslow, of the murder of her husband, Isidore Poirier, on Nov. 21, 1897. The details of this murder are still fresh in the public mind. On some questions of fact the Court of Appeal granted a new trial.

Mr. E. Poirier, who assisted in the prisoner's defence at her first trial, has withdrawn from the case, and Mr. J. N. Leduc will be alone in her behalf.

It was with the greatest difficulty that a jury was selected to sit on Cordelia Viau's case. The whole list of names, 45 in number, having been exhausted, the court ordered Sheriff La Pointe to assign a sufficient number of persons present in the court room, and it was not until half-past 3 that they were successful in forming one. It is not expected that the Viau trial will be completed before Monday, and Sam Parslow's will immediately follow.

FIVE COUNCILLORS WILL BE IN THE FIGHT

FOR A PLACE IN NEXT YEAR'S COUNCIL.

Majority of the Present Members Undecided as to Whether They Will Run Next Year or Not.

As to the composition of the council for next year it is a foregone conclusion that Mayor Davis will again be a candidate, and since, so far, there is nobody offering in opposition, it is probable that in accordance with the custom of the past he will be allowed a second term without opposition. As to the council, the situation is more doubtful.

The EXAMINER interviewed the members of the Council yesterday regarding their designs upon seats at the Board next year, with the result that the majority fought shy of giving a direct answer to the question. Mr. W. L. Allen, however, declares himself out of the contest once and for all. This is not as it should be. Mr. Allen has only spent a year in the council. During that time, like all other first year men, he has been gaining experience and would now be in a position, if re-elected, to vote with a fuller understanding of the questions involved. A representative young business man, as Mr. Allen is, should not be allowed to step down and out so quietly if the people again desire his services.

The members of the present council who are definitely in the field are Messrs. J. R. McWilliams, Wm. Langford, W. H. White and T. H. G. Denne. All announce their intention to again seek re-election.

Mr. C. B. Robertson states that he has been constantly urged during the past week or so by his friends to again place himself in their hands, but he has not decided yet whether he will or not. Mr. Adam Dawson is another of the undecided ones, and Mr. Cobb states that he has not made up his mind yet either.

Mr. H. Best says that he is not anxious for office again, but that he cannot tell what may arise. Mr. J. M. White has not decided yet and says that his entering the field depends largely upon circumstances.

Mr. T. H. Hamilton at first stated that he did not intend to run again, but on learning that so many of the old council were undecided, he announced his intention of trying his luck with Messrs. McWilliams, Langford, Denne and White.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum will be in the field again, provided he decides on remaining in Peterborough.

Councillor Craig moved, seconded by Councillor Morgan, that the account of Messrs. McQuillan & Co., contractors of the recently completed water works system, be laid over till next meeting and that Mr. Henderson be instructed to have hydrants set more uniformly, and that a public test be made of the system on the first favourable opportunity, of which due notice will be given.—Carried.

L. Dobbin waited upon the council and requested that the pathway from the corner of Stanley avenue to the intersection of Douro street and Driscoll Terrace, along the river front, be snow-plowed. No action was taken in this matter, the council claiming that the pathway in question is not a public highway.

The council then adjourned until the 15th inst., the date of the statutory meeting.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THERE will be several more Canadian vessels on the Yukon route next season, which will be further improved by the Federal Government. A steamer is also being built in Seattle for the same service.

THAT was a happy phrase invented by Sir Louis Davies as to our national progress being of late "by leaps and bounds," but the latest returns of the customs revenue, the Ottawa Free Press thinks, would seem to indicate that it is more like an avalanche.

THE cable tells that for the eleven months ending Nov. 31, 246 vessels aggregating 380,000 tons were built and launched on the Clyde. This is the best record for the period for ten years, and this months contracts are the best on record. Whence it would seem once more that effete old free trade Britain is attempting to put a bold face on her decadence. Say what they may, still Brittania Rules the Waves.

THE Mail and Empire unearths Edmund Burke's remark that "when bad men combine the good must associate; else they will fall, one by one, an unpitied sacrifice in a contemptible struggle," and applies it some way or another to Canadian politics. But Burke's advice has already been taken with the result that the Liberals are in power in the Dominion and Provinces from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia. And they are there to stay. Even Conservative Ottawa, where, according to Sir John Macdonald, "a pound keeper could not be elected unless he was a Conservative," has joined the procession.

COST OF ELECTRIC LIGHTING.

The cities mentioned in the following table have recently discarded the old contract system and have installed electric lighting plants of their own; the figures show the prices paid by these cities before and after they adopted the plan of municipal operation, and the saving effected by the change:

	Before.	After.	Saving per lamp per year.
Bangor, Me.	$156 00	$48 00	$108 00
Lewiston, Me.	182 00	55 00	127 00
Peabody, Mass.	185 00	62 00	123 00
Bay City, Mich.	110 00	56 00	57 00
Huntington, Ind.	146 00	60 00	86 00
Goshen, Ind.	156 00	77 00	79 00
Bloomington, Ill.	111 00	51 00	60 00
Chicago, Ill.	280 00	96 00	154 00
Brimfield, Ia.	378 00	70 00	308 00
Aurora, Ill.	336 00	63 55	272 45

The Herald is indebted for this table to the Buffalo Enquirer, which is now carrying on a campaign in favour of municipal control of electric lighting. We do not vouch for the correctness of the figures, but we are inclined to believe that they are correct, for the Enquirer is carefully and conscientiously edited. It will be observed that in four of the cities mentioned the the cost of electric lighting under the system of municipal operation is less than the cost estimated by Mr. Domville under that system in Hamilton. If the Cataract Company can do better than the best of these figures, it will do as Mr. Riley did—quite well.—Hamilton Herald.

NOTE.—The cost of Peterborough's electric light is $85 each up to 80, and if the lights are in excess of that number the price is $60.

BANKS PAY $1,500,000.

Saturday was the Day That the Bank Shareholders got Their Half-Yearly Dividends.

Canadian banks started to distribute $1,500,000 in half-yearly dividends on Friday, which means that a few people will have money to buy Christmas presents with anyway. This generosity of the banks is a usual thing at this time of the year, many of the leading institutions of the country having their half-yearly disbursements due Dec 1st.

As will be seen by the attached table, the Bank of Montreal pays out a "cool" $600,000, as the novels say, this being by far the largest amount paid by any bank in the country.

The Merchants, of Canada, pays the next largest amount, and the Canadian Bank of Commerce is a good third.

There is no doubt but that a great deal of the money paid by the banks seeks re-investment again, but the effect is scarcely noticeable on the Stock exchange, and there are of course a thousand and one other channels through which the funds circulate during the course of the year. Following are the dividends payable Saturday:

Bank of Montreal	$ 600,000
Merchants' Bank	240,000
Molsons Bank	100,000
Imperial Bank	188,000
Bank of Toronto	100,000
Bank of Commerce	210,000
Banque d'Hochelaga	28,000
Ontario Bank	87,500
Banque Ville Marie	14,968
Quebec Bank	66,000
	$1,536,368

Several of the western banks also paid half-yearly dividends Saturday, which are not included above.

THE O'REILLY CASE.

Caused Deep Interest Among Toronto Street Railway Men.

The Men, Exposed to all Sorts of Weather, are Liable to Contract Diabetes—Mr. O'Reilly's Case Proves that Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure this Disease.

Toronto, Dec. 5th.—There have been very many cases of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Lumbago, Rheumatism, and other phases of Kidney Disease in this city during the past season. It is a very noticeable fact, however, that only a few resulted in death. In the great majority of cases Dodd's Kidney Pills were used, and in every such case the disease was cured. The fatal cases were those in which Dodd's Kidney Pills were not used. Every reasoning, thinking man and woman can draw but one conclusion from these facts.

One of those who was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills was Mr. T. H. O'Reilly, motorman No. 624, Toronto Street Railway, and who lives at No. 27 Niagara street.

Mr. O'Reilly says: "I was for three years a sufferer from Diabetes, which defied every attempt to cure. My case was an unusually severe one, and I was glad to test and try every remedy recommended to me. They all failed, however, until I gave Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. A few doses convinced me that I had at last found a cure. I used only three boxes, but they swept the disease entirely out of my system. I heartily, confidently recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to any sufferer from Diabetes, as I know they are the only cure for that complaint."

Let any person suffering from any form of Kidney Complaint test Dodd's Kidney Pills. It will only cost fifty cents, and will prove the worth of the medicine.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or sent, on receipt of price, by the Dodds Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CANADIAN WHALES.

What the Norwegian, Samuel Foyn, Says of the Whales Found in British Columbia Waters.

Vancouver, B.C., Dec. 6.—Samuel Foyn, the uncle of the great Foyn of Norway, a man known the world over, and a household word wherever whalers live, is in Vancouver with the object of establishing a whaling port in British Columbia. Samuel Foyn says he is at a loss to understand how it is that British Columbia has not known of her great wealth in whales before he told them. He says the same whale will be caught in British Columbia as off the coast of Norway.

Whalebone is worth $10,000 a ton and all from $80 to $90 a barrel, according to quality. Close to Vancouver the knoel and devil fish are found in great abundance. The bluefish and finback are also found here in numbers. These whales contain little bone, but large quantities of oil. The right whale, the big bone producer, Mr. Foyn believes can also be captured in these waters.

Mr. Foyn says that in British Columbia the whale can be caught the year round, and he would guarantee 200 tons of oil for the season. It would take $45,000 to establish a factory, buy a steamer and pay expenses for the first year, but he would guarantee 17 per cent. on that and expect to make 30 per cent. Heretofore it has been thought in British Columbia that our whales were not valuable, containing no bone and little oil. Mr. Foyn says this is ridiculous, that the same kind of whales—bluefish, devil fish, knoel and finback—that have made fortunes for Norwegians, are to be caught here in abundance. This demonstrates how badly British Columbia is in need of capital to develop her industries, deep sea fishing being among the most valuable. At the present time a Yankee company are fishing out our halibut beds. They are making enormous catches, which they are shipping in ice to eastern America, and the C.P.R. seem to be the only beneficiaries, who make a good haul in the way of freight.

Dogfish are now being caught in immense quantities and being treated for their oil, which is readily purchased by wholesalers, who sell it to camps.

The salmon industry is an enormous undertaking, and although not always a big paying business to the canner, is of very great benefit to the province, distributing as it does several million dollars every year.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I.T. He writes, "Four bottles of Electric Bitters have cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which has caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure was complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates, liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by all druggists, every bottle guaranteed.

Regular action of the bowels is necessary to health. Laxa-Liver Pills are the best occasionable or hartic for family or general use. Price 25c. Any druggist.

PETITION FOR PARDON

For Robert Mackie Being Circulated in Belleville—Napanee Is Taking Up a Ponton Defence Subscription.

In London last year there were eighteen murders and in four cases the murderer escaped.

Work was begun on Monday on the new drill hall at Kingston, which is to cost $50,000.

The 26th body recovered from the steamer Portland was washed up at Old Harbor life saving station, Chatham, Mass., on Monday.

Sir Henry Irving is now quite convalescent. He has quit Glasgow and gone to Bridge of Allan, near Stirling.

A subscription is being taken up in Napanee to assist W. H. Ponton in defending himself at the next trial.

Mr. Belcourt, M.P., having declined to stand for a candidate for the mayoralty of Ottawa, ex-Ald. Stewart announces himself as a candidate.

The Canadian Engine & Locomotive Works at Kingston will have work for 250 men all winter, it is said. The foundry and shipyards will also be busy.

A petition is being circulated at Belleville for the pardon of Robert Mackie, who was convicted at Napanee of robbing the Dominion Bank. Mackie is still in Napanee jail.

At Ottawa on Monday G. T. Niblock, local superintendent of the London Life Assurance Company, pleaded guilty to five charges of forgery, and was further remanded for a week.

Trumpeter Beckett of "A" Battery, Kingston who gave himself up on Friday, attempted to escape again on Saturday, but was caught. He jumped over the wall, and was badly hurt.

Capt. Marchand has once more reached Fashoda, and as soon as he departs therefrom on his long and tedious homeward journey the negotiations between England and France on their respective titles in the Bahr-el-Ghazal district will be resumed.

An investigation into the cause of the late Portland disaster has been ordered. In this connection, Dr. Lewis, of the Massachusetts State Board of Charity, after an investigation declares that he thinks the steamer was simply overwhelmed by the terrific seas and that there was no collision with other vessel or rocks.

Monday afternoon a rear-end collision happened on College street at the corner of Clinton avenue, between two west bound trolleys in Toronto. All the passengers were given a rough shaking up. The conductor, William Symons, is suffering from a severe scalp wound and concussion of the brain. Both trolleys were damaged.

At Elkhorn, Man., Charles Wilden, who had come out on the harvest excursions from Ontario, purchased a ticket for Galt, Ont., and put it in his purse, along with $56 in cash. He walked back to the hotel, and when he arrived there the purse was missing. A diligent search failed to reveal purse or money. Two men followed him from the station to the hotel, but they declared they had seen neither.

A third woman suspected of suffering from smallpox has been removed from 32 Phoebe street, Toronto, to the Isolation Hospital. On the advice of the medical health officials, the entire household at 32 Phoebe street and 16 Garden avenue have been isolated from the rest of the community, and every precaution is being taken against an epidemic. All the effects of both houses have been fumigated, and officers are in patrol to see that there is no communication with the inmates.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Mr. R. Morrow Cured of Lumbago by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, Nov. 29—The vast majority of Torontonians know and esteem Mr. R. Morrow, the able and popular general agent for the Toronto Auer Light Co.

For this reason the following statement made in writing by Mr. Morrow, possesses unusual significance.

"Two years ago I was attacked by Lumbago and Urinary trouble which caused me intense suffering. I took several different remedies without any benefit. Then I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and was completely cured by them."

Lumbago a unusually prevalent this fall. All sufferers should know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for it. They never fail.

Signs of Rupture.

Montreal, Dec. 6.—Mr. W. B. Powell is again en route for Montreal, and it is said the G.T.R. telegraphers have reached another critical point. Mr. Hays refused to treat with the committee of the Order of Telegraphers, at least so said Mr. Edward Davis, Deputy Grand Chief of the order, yesterday. Mr. Davis has arrived from Peoria, Ill. In an interview, he said: "Mr. Hays questions our committee's status. He practically says that we do not represent the telegraphers. Over 85 per cent. of the telegraphers all over the G.T.R. have authorized us to meet Mr. Hays."

MOUNTSTEPHEN IS APPOINTED.

The Paris Peace Commissioners Are Progressing Somewhat — The Spanish Commissioners, However, Are Dejected—A Small Riot in Paris—Discharge of Harold Frederic Christian Scientists.

London, Dec. 6.—(Toronto Globe Special).—The Bristol Chamber of Commerce is urging the appointment of a Canadian agent to reside permanently at that port. In addition, Bristol will probably send a commercial deputation to Canada next spring.

The Canadian, British Columbian & Dawson Telegraph Company will issue its prospectus shortly. I understand that Sir James Grant, Sir Adolphe Caron and Hon. Mr. Turner are on the board.

Lord Mountstephen has been appointed a member of the council of the Gordon memorial college.

HOT TIME IN PARIS.

Revisionists and Antis Met in the Street and Fought.

Paris, Dec. 6.—At a meeting held last night under the auspices of the Patriotic League the most violent anti-Dreyfus organization in Paris, MM. Millevoye and Deroulede declared that the time had arrived to pass from words to acts. The audience thereupon started to march to the Cherche Midi Prison, where Col. Picquart is confined. The police interfered, whereupon the "patriots" made for a meeting being held by the advocates of revision. A collision occurred, revolvers were fired, and one man was wounded.

The Paris Peace Commissioners.

Paris, Dec. 6.—The joint commission was in session yesterday for over four hours. Much of the discussion concerned details as to the guaranteeing of the rights of Spanish citizens in the ceded colonies. The debate was occasionally energetic, and the Spaniards, on emerging, appeared to be dejected.

Secretary Ojeda of the Spanish commission, when questioned after the meeting as to the progress made, answered excitedly: "I am almost mad. I cannot talk. We are making some progress."

The American commissioners declined to say anything further than that the progress made was satisfactory.

Later it was learned that the session accomplished much. Eight open questions were canvassed, seven being practically settled without noteworthy friction.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In Death. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

One Province Evacuated.

Havana, Dec. 6.—The Spanish evacuation commissioner notified the United States commissioners yesterday that the evacuation of the Province of Puerto Principe was complete.

Christian Scientists Set Free.

London, Dec. 6.—Miss Kate Lyon of the household of Mr. Harold Frederic, the late correspondent here of the New York Times, who died Oct. 19, after being under the care of Christian Scientists, was discharged from custody yesterday. She had previously been arrested and arraigned in the Bow Street Police Court on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mr. Frederic.

Mrs. Athalie Mills, the Christian Scientist who attended Frederic, and who was also charged with manslaughter, was also discharged.

Man Boiled Alive.

London, Dec. 6.—A laborer named William Thorpe met with a horrible death yesterday afternoon at the chemical works of Messrs. Spencer, Chapman & Co., in North Woolwich road, Silvertown, by falling into a tank of boiling liquid. It is surmised that Thorpe had climbed up to a ledge above the tank in order to close a valve and that his foot slipped. He leaves a widow and four young children.

Spain Seething With Sedition.

London, Dec. 6.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "According to trustworthy news from Madrid, Spain is seething with sedition born of bankruptcy and ruin. One of the best-informed men in the kingdom assures me that the chances of revolution are increasing."

France Making Demands.

London, Dec. 6.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Telegram says: "France has made demands at Nankin that are equivalent to alienation of a valuable portion of the Yang Tse Valley. The Viceroy of Nankin stoutly refuses to accede."

Are These Men Lost?

Iroquois, Ont., Dec. 5.—Three young men, named respectively Reuben Cassels, Isaac Mayers and Mason Froats, left in a small boat Sunday to visit some friends in Waddington, N.Y., expecting to return in the evening. As the wind was very high and the river rough during the night, some uneasiness was felt yesterday morning when it was found that they had not returned, and parties were sent over the river to make enquiries. It now transpires that they were seen about 8 o'clock Sunday night leaving a point on the opposite side of the river, a short distance below this village. There is little doubt but that the boat was swamped and the young men drowned.

Freights Pitch-In.

Ottawa, Dec. 6.—A C.P.R. freight pitched into a C.A.R. freight train at St. Polycarpe Junction Sunday morning, and wrecked an engine, a number of cars and the station house at the junction. Several C.P.R. men were somewhat injured. The C.P.R. engine is a total wreck. A number of C.P.R. loaded cars are ruined, and six loaded cars belonging to the C.A.R. were badly damaged. None of the Canada Atlantic train hands were hurt.

READING THE RIOT ACT.

The Napanee Town Council Denounces the Action as Unnecessary.

Napanee, Ont., Dec. 6.—The Town Council of Napanee passed a resolution last night, strongly condemning the reading of the Riot Act here on Friday evening last.

The resolution concludes as follows: "We do declare our disapproval of the reading of said Act and wish to place on record that the reading of the Riot Act, under the alleged circumstances under which it was read, was not a necessary proceeding and was entirely uncalled for, and, in the judgment of this municipal body, was a very unwise and improper proceeding."

"GUILTY OF MURDER"

St. Johns, Que., Dec. 6.—Advices from St. Brigide say the jury last evening rendered a verdict of guilty against McCall for the murder of his father.

The Election Cases.

Toronto, Dec. 6.—At Osgoode Hall yesterday the petitions against Col. F. B. Leys of London and Mr. George P. Graham, Brockville, both Liberals, were dismissed. The only remaining case which has not been before the court is North Grey. Two other cases remain to be disposed of—West York, postponed, and East Elgin. In the latter case judgment will be given on Dec. 27.

WIRES DOWN.

The Usual Market Cables From Liverpool and Telegrams From Chicago Not to Hand Owing to the Storm.

Monday Evening, Dec. 5.

Owing to the storm, wires are down all over the country, and there is, therefore, little news to hand regarding the Chicago and other grain markets of to-day.

Toronto St. Lawrence Market.

On account of the storm, there was nothing doing on the market, one load of hay being all that was offered. Prices, therefore, remain as quoted.

London Cattle Market.

London, Dec. 5.

The cause for last Monday's good prices, the result of overdue steamers, resulted in to-day's markets being glutted on their arrival, the heavy supplies causing a bad break in the markets. Best Canadian cattle in Liverpool were quoted at 9½c to 10c, and sheep 11c; and in London 10½c, sheep 10c. This is a decline of 1 to 1½c on cattle from last Monday.

TO HUNT FOR THE NORTH POLE.

Capt. Bernier Gives an Inkling Into His Plan of Campaign.

Quebec, Dec. 6.—A crowded audience assembled on Saturday evening in the Convocation Hall of Morin College to hear Capt. J. E. Bernier of this city lecture under the auspices of the Quebec Geographical Society on his proposed North Pole expedition. The lecturer had a big success. Many persons were unable to obtain admission. Capt. Bernier says that he had already $40,000 subscribed of the sum of $60,000, which he figures upon as necessary to equip the expedition, and that of the $40,000 already subscribed, $25,000 is promised by the Canadian Government. He hopes to be able to start his expedition in May, 1899, and he feels very much gratified because it will be an all-Canadian one. He firmly believes that the pole will be discovered by a Canadian, and through Canadian enterprise. Capt. Bernier explained his theory in a very lucid manner, illustrating it by means of photographs, plans and maps thrown upon a screen by a limelight apparatus. He had been studying the matter or 20 years. He will succeed, according to his ideas, with the help of nature, by utilizing to the fullest extent currents and winds and the movements of the ice.

INGERSOLL PROVES IT.

Dodd's Kidney Pills the Only Cure for Bladder Disease.

Ingersoll, Dec. 5.—If there could be the slightest shadow of a doubt about the unfailing efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills, in all cases of Kidney and Bladder Disease and Rheumatism, the experience of Mr. Michael Sherlock, of Ingersoll, would positively dispel it forever.

Mr. Sherlock suffered unceasing tortures from Bladder and Kidney trouble, aggravated by Rheumatism, for five years. Every remedy he used failed to help him, until he began to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured him quickly, completely and permanently.

Dodd's Kidney Pills should be used by every sufferer from these complaints. They never fail to cure, and are beside, the best tonic and strengthener known.

Mrs. David Labor, Waterford, Ont., says: "I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil for pains of any kind. It cured me of a distressing pain that the doctor could not cure."

THURSDAY BARGAIN DAY at GOUGHS

WM. ROSS COMMITTED.

He will have to Stand his Trial for Passing Forged Paper.

William Ross, whose clever capture was recorded last week, was before Magistrate Dumble this morning charged with passing paper knowing it to be forged.

As stated before, the particulars leading up to the charge are that Ross is accused of giving Mrs. Dunford a cheque purporting to be drawn by Corry & Laverdure, the canal contractors, on the Ontario Bank, in favour of one Thos. Armstrong.

This morning Mr. Laverdure stated that the firm had no account in any bank in town, and that any cheques which were issued were signed by him. He knew nothing of the cheque in question.

Mrs. Dunford and several others identified the prisoner as the man who passed the cheque, and he was committed for trial.

In a second charge of passing a similar cheque on Jos. Goselin, which the accused endorsed himself, the defence waived examination.

Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the prosecution and Mr. F. D. Kerr for the defence.

OBITUARY.

Sad Death of Sister Nativity at St. Joseph's Hospital This Morning.

The death occurred this morning of Sister Nativity, aged 36 years, in St. Joseph's Hospital.

The deceased has been suffering from an attack of typhoid fever, contracted while nursing a patient, for almost three weeks, taking sick, in fact, just a day or two after the death of Sister Agnes. No danger was anticipated until Saturday, when congestion of the lungs set in and the patient sank so rapidly that a consultation of physicians was held with the result that little hope was held out for her recovery.

The family name of the deceased was Walsh, and she with her three sisters, all of Cobourg, entered the community eight years ago. The other sisters are Sister Immaculate Heart, of St. Joseph's Hospital, Sister Evarista, Lindsay Convent, and Sister Ambrose, Fort William Convent. Rev. Father Leary, parish priest of Rochester, N. Y., is a cousin of the deceased, and is expected in town to-morrow.

The death of Sister Nativity, following so closely upon that of Sister Agnes, adds to the grief that is felt by the community. The mere presence of Sister Nativity in a sick ward was sufficient to brighten the patients, and her cheering personality will be greatly missed at the Hospital.

The funeral will take place on Friday morning at 9.30.

A NOVEL PROPOSITION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—A lady suggests that there should be organized at once a Ladies' Aid Society for the town council. All the churches as well as other organizations have such societies and they have done, and are doing, a splendid work in stiffening the finances, and helping repair the mistakes made by the lords of creation in driving their financial pigs to a bad market. If, suggests the lady, a church warden or board of control, or others, manage things rashly and get the congregation into debt, it is the Ladies' Aid that comes to the rescue. Judging by the record made by one such society, the Ladies' Aid Society of the Charlotte Methodist church, their services could be profitably extended. After such excellent work the church can spare them for a little while. Then why not turn them over to the town council. True, says our sarcastic sister, the council doesn't need money so much as they need common sense and ability to do one little thing right. The ladies mentioned could furnish the much needed common sense and business ability the town councillors seem to need. With such assistance the town fathers might be able to buy a steam roller or a stone crusher without a year's trying. The ladies would also see that the streets were cleaned of snow in better style—they would want to keep their skirts clear. The ladies do not wait till July or December to enter upon their semi-annual house cleaning, and they would not begin big big sewer contracts at a time when they should be finished.

My lady friend may be a little severe from her point of view. Ladies are not generally sparing in speech, but it seems to me that some improvement might be made in the management of our town affairs.

Yours truly,
OBSERVER.

Piles Cured Without The Knife, by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Geo. Browne, painter, of Woodville, Ont., Victoia Co. says:—"For thirteen years I was a sufferer from bleeding piles and the intense agony which I passed through during those years and relief I obtained by Chase's Ointment prompts me to give this testimonial. My physicians wished me to have an operation but I felt I could be cured without the knife. Three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment stopped the bleeding and effected a permanent cure."

THE DOG SHOW.

The Best Judge on the Continent Will be Here to Officiate.

At a meeting of the Beach Show Committee yesterday afternoon it was decided to invite Mr. H. W. Lacey, of Boston, Mass., to officiate as judge of all classes of dogs.

Mr. Lacey has a reputation second to none on the continent and judged all classes at the Hamilton Show as well as the one at Montreal last week, where he gave the greatest satisfaction. The Kennel Club is put to big expense in bringing Mr. Lacey here, but it is thought that his presence will ensure an extra large entry list. On the strength of his appointment the Canadian Collie Club of Montreal promises forty entries.

The prize list has been enlarged and there are now thirty-nine classes of dogs represented. Yesterday novice classes were added for Foxterriers and Collies and the sex divided in bull-terriers.

THE CRUSHER SATISFACTORY

The Machine Which Was Purchased From the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Company Accepted.

At a meeting of the Finance Committee last evening Mr. A. E. Lech appeared for the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co. and the Company's bill of extras in connection with the stone crusher was discussed in detail. Mr. Lech explained the various items in a manner which was entirely satisfactory to the committee and the bill was ordered to be paid. The complaint about the plates wearing out so quickly was also satisfactorily explained, as the council ordered plates to crush the stone to the size of 1½ inches. After being placed in position the plates were used to crush the stone very fine for the granolithic pavements and as the plates were not designed for this class of work naturally the wear and tear was increased to such a degree as to wear them out. The corrugation for course and fine work is entirely different. After this had been explained the members of the committee unanimously recommended the council to accept the machine, which in reality accomplished 75 per cent. more work than it was guaranteed to do.

WM. LANGFORD, Chairman

The report was adopted.

The bylaw fixing the polling places and naming the returning officers was passed, making the appended arrangements:

Ward No. 1—Thos. Leplante's butcher shop, Rubidge street.—Jos. Lundy.

Ward No. 2—Market Hall—Charles Cameron.

Ward 3—Shop of J. & W. Metherall, Aylmer street—John Irwin.

Ward 4—Wm. Lee's shop, Smith street.—Geo. W. Powell.

The nomination of aldermen shall take place at the council chamber.

The bylaw received its several readings and was passed.

THE STEAM ROLLER.

Mr. J. M. White introduced a bylaw authorizing the purchase of a steam roller from the Sawyer-Massey Co., weight 35,000 pounds for the sum of $3,250.

The bylaw received its first reading and went into Committee of the Whole, with Mr. Langford in the chair.

Mr. McWilliams asked an explanation of why the sum of $3,250 was mentioned as the cost of the roller. He understood that lower figures had been received, and would like to know the reason why the lowest tender was not accepted.

Mr Hamilton stated that the difference in price was created by the greater weight of the roller which it was thought advisable to purchase.

Mr. McWilliams claimed that of the four rollers offered the Russell was the poorest. A better and heavier roller could be purchased at a lower figure. If a majority of the council insisted on purchasing the Russell roller he would call the attention of the chairman to rule 54, forbidding an expenditure of money unless notice of motion was given at "the last previous meeting of the council." It was three or four meetings ago, he stated that the notice of motion had been filed. He would insist in raising this point of order.

Mayor Davis stated that the whole affair was irregular. He reviewed the roller question from its first introduction into the council. At the last meeting when the question was discussed, a roller weighing 30,500 pounds had been decided and he wanted to know the weight had been raised to 35,000 lbs. and the price fixed at $3,250?

Mr. Hamilton also went into the old details which have been threshed out so often in the council. He thought that an effort was being made to block the purchase of a roller in a very peculiar manner. Mr. Sylvanus, representing the Russell roller, had been told at the Toronto Exhibition by the Mayor that there would be no meeting of the council in that week, but Mr. Dewey representing the Buffalo-Pitts roller had come to Peterborough with the Mayor on the same train, and the council was immediately called. When Mr. Dewey was making his tender in writing the Mayor had gone with him from the council board. These were some of the "irregularities."

The Mayor denied having brought Mr. Dewey to town and stated that he had offered no advice as to the amount of the Buffalo Pitts roller.

Mr. Best thought when the Russell and

COLTS IN THE O. H. A.

Peterborough's fast young team, the Colts, will play in the junior series of the Ontario Hockey Association this winter and local enthusiasts expect to see them land the championship.

The Colt are enthusiastic and have been in active training for the past three weeks.

The amendment to the rules, making the age limit in this series under 20 years, which the Peterborough delegates to the O. H. A. meeting, after stubborn opposition from a number of clubs, succeeded in having passed, will do a lot to encourage junior players throughout the province.

Arrangements have been made for Upper Canada Colts team, junior champions of Ontario, to play the Colts an exhibition match here between Xmas and New Years.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.

Parcels Packed for Foreign Countries Must Be Accompanied With a Customs Declaration.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—In view of the approach of the Christmas season, the attention of postmasters has been called to the fact that no parcel can be sent from Canada to any other country by parcel post unless it bears a customs declaration setting forth the nature of its contents and its value. As the acceptance by a postmaster of a parcel addressed to any other country, and not provided with a customs declaration, will result in its being sent to the dead-letter office, postmasters are specially directed not to accept such parcels without the customs declaration.

Gunning Accident at Leamington.

Leamington, Ont., Dec. 5.—While out rabbit hunting Saturday afternoon, along with a party of hunters, Henry Taffemire laid down his double-barrelled gun, while he proceeded to dig a rabbit from a stonepile. While throwing the stones back of him he happened to strike the gun with a stone, discharging both barrels in such a manner as to receive the full charge in the right shoulder, badly shattering the shoulder blade and collar bone. The patient is seriously injured, but may recover.

Chippewa Indians in Arms.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 5.—Another uprising of the Chippewa Indians is threatened. The game warden at Sauk Rapids has had a fight with 14 of the red men, whom he attempted to arrest for violating the game laws. He was badly whipped, and State Game Warden Fullerton ordered that the Indians be taken into custody. The Indians declare they will resist all attempts to capture them and organize a rebellion.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more them than 99 doctors in 100 It will do more than the hundreth doctor can unless he prescribes for it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N.Y.

Cocked Gun Went Off.

Burlington, Ont., Dec. 5.—While out shooting Saturday afternoon Chester Fothergill was carrying his gun with the trigger cocked, and, catching it in something, it went off, shooting his companion, Victor Dynes, a lad about 14 years of age. The bullet lodged in the hip and has not yet been located. Unless blood poisoning sets in the doctors fear no fatality.

New Victoria Bridge.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—It is pretty well understood that the new Victoria bridge will be formally opened on the 24th of May next, although much of the work will be completed early next year, and if the Duke of York should visit Canada it is believed that His Royal Highness will participate in the event.

EASY FOR MORPHY.

A Story of the Great Chess Master and a Celebrated Painting.

On reading the notes on Paul Morphy's visit to Philadelphia I am reminded of an incident in connection with his visit to Richmond about the same time, which was related to me some years ago by the Rev. Mr. H. of that city. I do not remember ever to have seen it in print. Mr. Morphy was Mr. H.'s guest while in the city, and on his arrival was first ushered into the library, and his attention was at once attracted by a painting over the mantel, which was a fine copy of a celebrated painting representing a game of chess between a young man and the devil, the stake being the young man's soul.

The artist had most graphically depicted the point in the game where it was apparently the young man's move, and he seemed just to realize the fact that he had lost the game, the agony of despair being shown in every line of his features and attitude, while the devil from the opposite side of the table gloated over him with fiendish delight. The position of the game appeared utterly hopeless for the young man, and Mr. H. said he had often set it up and studied it with his chess friends, and all agreed the young man's game was certainly lost.

Mr. Morphy walked up to the picture and studied it for several minutes, when finally, turning to Mr. H., he said:

"I can win the game for the young man."

Mr. H. was of course astonished and said, "Is it possible?"

Mr. Morphy replied, "Get out the men and board and let us look at it."

The position was set up, and in a few rapid moves he demonstrated a complete win for the young man, and the devil was checkmated.—Robert Munford in American Chess Magazine.

Hungarian Gypsy Minstrels.

The gypsy minstrels form a caste by themselves. Their appearance is always more swarthy than that of other Hungarian musicians, their dress is sometimes purposely fantastic, and their manner of life is far more Bohemian than the most liberal minded artist would care to own to. Every hotel and restaurant in Budapest possesses its gypsy band, and the method of payment is as free and easy as the music itself and their life. The hotel keeper is not bound by any contract, but at various intervals throughout the performance one of his gypsies takes a dinner plate and goes round among the various guests in the hall from table to table, receiving in the plate what the latter like to put there. The favorite coin deposited there is the nickel 10 kreutzer piece, answering to our twopence. I have not often seen a florin or a kronen (half a florin). The whole collection is, as a rule, made up of twopences.—Good Words.

A Possible Danger of Steam Jets as Fire Extinguishers.

For many years steam jets have been considered excellent means for extinguishing fires in inclosed spaces, and examples of their good services have been abundant. The theory of their action of course is, like that of the several kinds of fire extinguishing powders which have been proposed at different times, that the steam in the one case and the stifling fumes from the powders in the other displace the air in any particular space under consideration, and with it the oxygen as well, by which alone combustion can be sustained.

In at least one instance, however, the position was taken that if the steam jets did not extinguish a fire promptly they soon became a source of danger, and as such were held accountable for the loss about a year ago of a cargo steamer carrying several hundred tons of coal and as many more of miscellaneous chemicals and old rope. Fire broke out in one of the holds, which were fitted with steam jet fixtures, and the jets were at once turned on. On the day following it was proposed to try a hose in addition to the jets, and one of the upper deck hatches was therefore taken off.

The almost immediate result was a violent explosion, killing one of the officers and seriously injuring another. All the other hatches were blown off at the same time, and the ship began to leak, so that she soon had to be abandoned. One explanation advanced was that the steam from the jets, passing over the incandescent cargo, formed water gas, which, with suitable air admixture, became explosive, with the result noted. The theory is not a comforting one, but whether it portrays a possible condition of things yet remains to be demonstrated.—Cassier's Magazine.

REDUCED TO A SHADOW.

A Fredericton Lady Tells of Her Sickness and Suffering and of Her Restoration to Health by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont.

Gentlemen.—A year ago last September my health became much impaired, and I suffered intensely from prostration of the nerves, neuralgic headaches and general debility. The pains would shoot up my neck and down my arms producing numbness and a sensation as if my arms were frozen, so that I almost lost the use of them. My heart would flutter and palpitate; and sometimes I awakened up out of my sleep with a smothering feeling as though I was suffocating!

"Before taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I was almost reduced to a shadow, and felt worn out, irritable, and melancholy. To add to my sufferings a partial paralysis set in, and, though I doctored a great deal, and took many medicines, I received no benefit. However, on trying Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I got through Mr. Geo. C. Hunt, our well-known druggist here, their curative powers manifested themselves almost immediately. I could feel every dose doing me good. They seemed to act upon the heart, and stimulate the circulation so that every tissue of my body received its due share of vigor and strength.

"The intense headaches with which I was so frequently afflicted have disappeared, and, instead of being weak, worn out and run down, I am now in my normal healthy condition.

"I give this testimony for the benefit of those suffering from similar troubles, so that they may know there is a remedy within their reach well worthy of a trial."

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

Dear Sir.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000 which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 96
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low ing rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

A vivacious woman's fan can frequently speak in more eloquent language than any known to the tongue of man. It can invite or repel, sigh or smile, be meek or haughty, tear a passion to tatters or humbly seek forgiveness.

It can also tell the story of health. A woman who suffers from weakness and disease in a womanly way sits in sorrow and dejection while her healthy sisters enjoy themselves. She may be naturally beautiful, naturally attractive, naturally interesting and animated and witty, but the demon of ill-health is gnawing at the very vitals of her womanly nature, and she soon becomes a withered wall flower in comparison with her brighter and more healthy sisters. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a wonderful medicine for women who suffer in this way. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood. It tones and builds up the shattered nerves. It restores the glow of health to the pallid cheek. It gives springiness and trip to the carriage. It makes the eyes sparkle with returning vivaciy. It imparts animation to the mien and gestures. The fan that long lay listless and idle in the lap of an invalid again speaks the eloquent language of a healthy, happy woman. Thousands of women have testified to the marvelous merits of this wonderful medicine.

"For several years I suffered with prolapsus of the uterus," writes Miss A. Lee Schuster, of Box 12, Rodney, Jefferson Co., Miss. "Our family physician treated me for kidney trouble, and everything else but the right thing. I grew worse and worse. My body was emaciated, hands and feet clammy and cold, stomach weak, with great palpitation of the heart. I would suffer with nausea all night. I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription' and I began to improve right away. I have taken three bottles and now I am very nearly well and am very happy and thankful to you."

UNDER THE DEEP SEA

HOW THE HEAVILY LADEN DIVER GOES ABOUT HIS WORK.

His Dress Weighs Nearly Two Hundred Pounds and Is a Very Complicated Affair—The Signalman Holds the Diver's Life In His Hands.

The dress of a fully equipped diver weighs, in round numbers, 170 pounds. Taking off his everyday garb, the diver pulls on his thick underclothing—a white knitted sweater and trousers and a pair of ribbed stockings, also white. Should he intend to work in unusually deep water, he puts on two, sometimes three, sets of underclothing, to relieve the pressure of the water.

The woolen clothing donned, the next garment is the diving dress, measuring for a man of average height 5 feet 5 inches from the collar to the sole of the foot. This dress is made of solid sheet india rubber, covered on both sides with tanned twill. It has a double collar, the inner one to pull up round the neck, and the outer one, of red india rubber, to go over the breastplate and form a water tight joint. The cuffs also are of red india rubber and fit tightly round the wrists, making, when secured by the vulcanized india rubber rings, water tight joints, at the same time leaving the diver's hands free. In the outer collar 12 holes are bored for securing the breastplate. This is made of tinned copper. The outer edge is of brass and has 12 screws firmly fitted to it at intervals and projecting upward. These projections pass through the corresponding holes in the outer collar of the dress.

The band of the breastplate is in four sections, and the holes in the sections pass over the protecting screws and are secured in place by wing nuts or thumbscrews. A little careful consideration will make it clear that the dress is held in position by its rubber collar, with the aid of the breastplate flange and wing nuts.

The upper edge of the breastplate is fitted with a neck ring and a segmental screw. The use of this we shall presently explain.

The boots are of stout leather, with leaden soles, and are secured over the instep by buckles and straps. The pair weighs 32 pounds—four pounds over the quarter of a hundredweight. The lead soles are firmly attached by copper rivets. The tongues of the boots are very wide. Boots intended for rough work are fitted with metal toe caps. Thus far—underclothing, dress, breastplate and boots—is our diver arrayed. He has now to be weighted. Lead weights of 40 pounds each, shield or heart shaped, are suspended back and front by means of gun metal clips and hooks or tabs and lashings. He has now only to put on his helmet and to affix the air pipe.

The helmet, like the breastplate, is of tinned copper and is fitted with a segment bayonet screw at the neck, corresponding to that mentioned as belonging to the breastplate. The eighth of a turn, and the helmet is firmly secured, being both air and water tight. It has three strong plate glasses in brass frames, protected by guards, two oval at the sides and a round one in front. The front can be unscrewed to enable the diver to give orders without removing any other portion of the dress. An outlet valve is provided at the side or back of the helmet, which the diver can close should he wish to rise to the surface. This valve allows the breathed air to escape, yet prevents the entrance of water.

At the side of the front glass is a mechanical arrangement for getting rid of the excess of air, and it also assists when the back outlet valve is closed in regulating the expansion of the dress in rising to the surface. There is also an inlet valve, and this is constructed so as to allow the air to enter, but not to escape, in case of a break in the air pipe. The air pipe is made in lengths of from 45 to 60 feet, fitted together by means of gun metal joints. Securely connected with the helmet by means of the inlet valve and an elbow tube, the other end of the air pipe is fitted on to the nozzle of the air delivering diving pump.

His leather belt is buckled on, his knife, well sharpened and of strong steel, covered with a metal case to keep it dry and intact, is slung upon it, and after taking a drink, or a little light refreshment, the word is given, "All right," the face glass screwed on, and receiving a tap on the helmet as a signal to descend down he goes by rope or ladder, either of which must be weighted at the bottom.

Each diver while under water requires a signalman to hold his life line (that is, the line fastened round his waist by which he is hauled up) and the air pipe, both of which should be kept just taut, so that any movements of the diver may be felt. The signalman is of the utmost importance to the diver. Indeed, to use the words of a diver with whom we recently talked, he is his life. He must exercise the utmost vigilance all the time that the diver is down. Should the attendant give one pull on the life line it signifies, "How are you getting on?" If all is well, the diver gives an answering pull to reassure those above. Two pulls on the air pipe given by the diver mean "more air" (pump faster), and so on throughout the code of signals.

In addition to the signal code modern invention has adapted and utilized the telephone, and a speaking apparatus for men working at a depth of 60 feet or more is frequently used. The electric light also is now employed by divers working at a depth beyond 20 feet.—James Cassidy in St. Nicholas.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys don't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim must take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or dark colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov. 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Gerrard street, east, who has been restored to vigourous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so-called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

A MOST PECULIAR CASE.

Where the Money Came From to Pay the Attorney's Bill.

"Most peculiar case I ever had," mused the attorney who is still a favorite with those requiring a strong defense in the criminal courts. "You never saw a finer looking young fellow. He had a good face and a well shaped head. He was clean and neatly dressed. He talked well and looked you squarely in the eyes. When I went to the jail at his request, I took an immediate liking to him. It had been my business to study human nature and I was satisfied from the first that he had never committed the $10,000 robbery of which he stood accused.

"He told me his story, frankly and without reservation. I was convinced more firmly than ever of his innocence. He outlined his own defense by accounting for every minute of his time on the night of the robbery and informing me just where the witnesses to substantiate his statements could be seen. I found them, and they affirmed everything he had told me. It was as clear a case as I ever saw, and I went into court with the utmost confidence. The prosecution did the best it could under the circumstances, but we swept the board and the young man was acquitted by the jury's first ballot. He was very grateful, shaking hands with the judge, the jurymen and even the prosecuting attorney.

"'Now, sir,' he began, when we had reached the office, 'what do I owe you?'

"'Only what you can afford to pay me. The saving of an innocent man is something of a reward in itself.'

"'Well, I would like to pay you more, but at present I can only afford to give you half of the $10,000. Is that fair?'"

"Scot Free."

Scot is the equivalent of the Anglo-Saxon word "sceat," meaning taxation, therefore "scot free" originally meant "free from the payment of taxes," and now it has become a general expression for freedom from anything.

Dr. A. W. CHASE

COMES TO THE AID OF

Catarrh Sufferers

SUCCESS in life is almost impossible for a man with bad breath. Nobody wants to do business with him. Nobody wants to associate with him. He is handicapped everywhere. Offensive breath comes from Catarrh; sometimes from Catarrh of the Stomach, sometimes of the lungs, sometimes of the head, nose, and throat. It is from Catarrh somewhere, and Catarrh is another name for uncleanness.

Many men understand this, and make every effort to cure it, but it is beyond the reach of ordinary practice.

No self-respecting man can ignore Catarrh. If he has it in any form he makes constant effort to be rid of it.

There is something about the manner of life and the climate of Canada that seems to breed diseases of the mucous membrane. Medical science ordinarily doesn't try to cure Catarrh; it "relieves" it; but Dr. Chase has been curing Catarrh for over thirty years, and his name is blessed by thousands who have shaken off the grasp of this insidious disease.

QUITE UP TO DATE.

An Illustration of the Artfulness of the Modern Girl.

"The artfulness of the modern girl," remarked a woman who was a girl years ago, "passeth understanding. I have, for example, a young kinswoman of 18, whose mother, knowing that my husband was out of town, invited me to her house to tea one day. The girl was so sweet to me that in the end, though I hadn't the slightest idea of doing it when I set out, I asked her to come home with me and stay the night. She assented—not too eagerly—and as we walked toward the car together—she lives on Capitol Hill—she began to talk of young Mr. So-and-so, Commander So-and-so's son, who was so anxious to meet me. No woman is too old to be proof against flattery, so I expressed an interest in Mr. So-and-so, and told her she might bring him to see me some day.

"'It would be nice if he could come over this evening, wouldn't it?' she said thoughtfully. I agreed that it would.

"'You might have sent him a note if you had known,' I said, for at my age it isn't too often that young men want to make my acquaintance.

"'I tell you what,' she said, quite as if the idea had just occurred to her; 'I'll telephone to him and see if he has any other engagement.'

"We went into the nearest drug store, and idly I followed her to the telephone box, though she called my attention to something at the other end of the store. Central gave her the desired number—the young man's brother is a physician.

"'Is this Mr. So-and-so?' she asked.

"Pause.

"'It's all right about tonight,' she said. 'Goodby.'

"That's all she said. And then, and not till then, I realized how that innocent young thing had played it on me. As I said before, the artfulness of the modern girl passeth understanding."—Washington Post.

As a Brother.

A certain curate was of a painfully nervous temperament, and in consequence was constantly making awkward remarks—intended as compliments—to the bishop and others. Having distinguished himself in an unusual degree during a gathering of clergy to an afternoon tea at the bishop's palace, he was taken to task for his failings by a senior curate, who was one of his companions on the way home.

"Look here, Bruce," said the senior decidedly, "you are a donkey. Why cannot you keep quiet instead of making your asinine remarks? I am speaking to you now as a brother"—

Loud laughter interrupted him at this point, and for the moment he wondered why.

Overcrowded.

"Look here," said Aguinaldo's confidential friend, "there's some complaint that you are getting irritable."

"Well," was the answer, "what can you expect in a man who has undertaken to be a great general, a great political leader, a great diplomat and a board of strategy all at once?"

"Much Obliged!"

Quoth the chloride of lime
To the linen: "Now, I'm
Jolly sure that for expostulation it's time,
Since your treatment of me
Is the highest degree
Of ingratitude vile that I ever did see!

"Though I make you as white
And as pure to the sight
As new snow, by no thanks you my goodness requite,
So the time we have reached
When you needs must be teached
To say, 'Sir, by your kindness I'm greatly o-bleached!'"

NO STEAM ROLLER PURCHASED YET.

Buffalo-Pitts firms had been given an opportunity of making another tender that the same privilege should have been extended to the Harrisburg firm, as the money which accompanied their first tender was still held. He had just received a telegram from the Harrisburg agent, asking if new tenders were to be solicited. He asked the council to wait until that firm was heard from again.

Mr. Dawson inquired as to the ruling of the chairman on Mr. McWilliams claim that it would be illegal to pass the bylaw. When the matter had been left over from a previous meeting the mayor had given his that the matter would be dealt with when it came up again. The speaker wished to have the whole affair settled immediately without any more dilly dallying.

Mr. Meldrum stated that he had not been one of the deputation to Hamilton and, therefore, had not witnessed the trial of the rollers. He based his opinion on that given by Mr. Macfarlane who had been taken along as an expert, to give his opinion on the respective machines. Mr. Macfarlane has strongly recommended the Russell roller and as everyone knew this the citizens were of the opinion that the council had not enough intelligence to purchase it.

Mr. McWilliams asked that new tenders be called for.

Mr. Langford ruled that unless eight members (two thirds of the whole council) voted in support of the bylaw it could not be carried.

Messrs. Hamilton and J. M. White moved that a vote be taken to ascertain the wish of the council.

THE VOTE.

Those supporting the bylaw were Messrs. W. H. White, Robertson, Allen, Hamilton, Dawson, Cobb, Meldrum and J. M. White.—8.

Against—Messrs. Best, Denne, McWilliams and Mayor Davis.—4.

Mr. Langford announced that he would never allow a roller to be purchased for $3,250 when one could be bought for $2,900. The mayor had no right to sign such a bylaw and, as a citizen, he would issue an injunction against it. The council could not purchase the roller even if the bylaw was passed.

Mr. Best stated that he also would have an injunction issued.

Mayor Davis said that as far as he was concerned he was not prejudiced in favour of any roller, and if the prices were equal, would be in favour of the Russell if the majority of the council wished to purchase it. At the same time he did not think it was right to buy a 35,000 pound roller for $3,250, when a lower offer had been made of the English roller at 39,000 pounds for $2,900.

Mr. Hamilton asked to see this English tender.

The clerk read the offer, but Mr. W. H. White pointed out that 39,000 pounds was not the net weight of the roller, but and water, which were sufficient to make the difference.

A motion made at this juncture by Mr. McWilliams "that the committee rise" was defeated.

In order to promote harmony and satisfy those opposing the bylaw, Mr. Hamilton proposed that new tenders in weight be invited for a roller to cost $2,900.

The committee rose on this understanding.

Mr. Robertson claimed that a roller under 35,000 pounds in weight would be unsatisfactory. He had seen a lighter one working in St. Thomas and it did not pack the loose stone. Seconded by Mr. Hamilton he moved that a 15-ton roller be purchased.

Mr. McWilliams asked for the matter to be postponed until the 15th, stating that by waiting $700 had already been saved and the firms might drop to a lower figure yet on new tenders. He was acting in the interest of the town in this matter, as he would not if he was investing in a roller for himself. Any councillor who was a for a few days before closing a bargain if he could make $700 out of it.

Mr. J. M. White stated that no money had been saved—the price had been lowered when the weight of the roller asked for had been decreased.

Mr. Cobb asked the Mayor if he had the rules of order before him, and queried as to how many times he was going to allow a member to speak to a motion.

Councillor Langford urged that new tenders be asked from the various companies by telegram, and the whole matter finally settled on the 15th inst.

Councillor Meldrum thought that the matter had been delayed long enough. The money for this roller had been voted this year by the people and this year's council should expend it. There were other councillors present who had the interests of the town quite as much at heart as Mr. McWilliams, and he objected to that councillors remarks as slurring.

Councillor Robertson mentioned the statements of the representative of the Buffalo-Pitts roller regarding the Russell roller, and produced documents which he claimed proved the falsity of all these charges. He also went into the details of the mechanical construction of the various rollers, pointing out the different advantages possessed by the Russell machine.

Councillor McWilliams called for the production of a letter from Mr. Meldrum to the council, some time ago, in which he urged the purchase of

THE CHEAPEST ROLLER.

The speaker questioned Mr. Meldrum as to his present stand in connection with the immediate purchase of a roller at a price in advance of other offers?

Mr. Meldrum replied that he still was in favour of buying the cheapest roller. The present bylaw was merely introduced to bring Mr. McWilliams down to business. All were willing to call for new tenders to be opened on Dec. 15th.

The following motion by Messrs. McWilliams and Meldrum was then carried: "That the clerk be instructed to ask for new tenders for a steam roller, to be delivered on the 1st of May next, each tender to give the price for a roller, weight 15 long tons, net, the tender to give weight in pounds, not loaded, said tenders to be in by December 14th."

Councillor Meldrum drew the attention of the council to the increase in his assessment this year to the extent of $500 on his personal property. He stated that his mill had not been enlarged, but on the contrary a quantity of machinery had been taken out of it.

Assessor T. B. McGrath was asked to speak in reference to the matter and explained that the assessors in raising Mr. Meldrum's assessment did so on the ground that his business warranted it, and stated that mortgages, notes, accounts, etc., were all assessable.

The assessment was allowed to stand.

SOME RESOLUTIONS.

On motion of Messrs. Dawson and Cobb the Treasurer was authorized to pay over to the Street and Bridge Committee $150 in excess of the appropriation for 1898.

On motion of Messrs. Robertson and W. H. White the account of $7.50 of Mr. Bolten for watering two extra blocks on Bethune street was ordered to be paid.

Moved by Councillors Langford and McWilliams "that this council having received and heard the presentments of different grand juries in reference to the establishment of a House of Refuge for old and indigent persons, is willing to unite with the County of Peterborough in the erection of such a refuge and in its maintenance, the proportion of the expenditure to be paid by the county and the town, if it cannot be mutually agreed upon to be decided by arbitration; and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the County Judge and that copies thereof at the opening of each Court be laid before the presiding Judge in order that, if in future, the Grand Juries make reference to any want of provision for indigent persons, the judge may be aware of the town's position in the matter."

In support of this motion Mr. Langford pointed out that successive Grand Juries were in the habit of reporting that the town would take no action when, on the contrary, it was the county which refused to take steps towards erecting a House of Refuge. When the town wished to send a deputation west to ascertain the method of conducting such institutions the county refused to appoint delegates to co-operate.

The motion was passed unanimously.

The council then adjourned.

PEACE CONDITIONS.

Practical Conclusion of the Negotiations at Paris.

THERE ARE EIGHT ARTICLES.

By This Treaty Spain Relinquishes Her Sovereignty Over Cuba, Porto Rico, and Cedes the Philippines for $20,000,000—These Proposals Are Covered by Rough Draft of the Treaty.

Paris, Dec. 7.—The peace treaty of Paris is practically an accomplished fact. Yesterday's session disposed of the essential features of the treaty, which will be embodied in the following eight articles:

First—The customary preface of treatises, in the nature of an expression of amity and of hope for perpetual peace.

Second—The relinquishment by Spain of her sovereignty over Cuba.

Third—The withdrawal of the Spanish troops.

Fourth—Relinquishment by Spain of sovereignty over Porto Rico.

Fifth—Spain's cession of the Philippines.

Sixth—The withdrawal of the Spanish troops there.

Seventh—Payment by the United States of $20,000,000 for the Philippines.

Eighth—The provision for the "open door" commercial policy in the Philippines.

The rough draft of the treaty, which may be considerably changed, covers these proposals.

LE ROI STOCK IN LONDON.

The Big Mine Before Investors—Ridiculous Anticosti Despatch.

London, Dec. 7. — (Montreal Star Cable.)—The long looked-for Le Roi mine is at last before London investors. The London & Globe Corporation and the British America Corporation yesterday invited subscriptions for 200,000 shares, £5 each, in the Le Roi Company, Limited. The purchase price is £950,000, payable in cash, or full-paid shares, leaving £50,000 for working capital. The directors are the Marquis of Dufferin, Lord Loch, Whitaker, Wright and Andrews of Sheffield, the first three named being directors of the British America Corporation. Great things are hoped for in the way of a British Columbia mining boom here, if the Le Roi is well placed on this market.

Anglo-Canadian trade is showing notable signs of vitality, presumably partly as a result of the new tariff. The high commissioner's office has received this week 11 different enquiries from firms in Doncaster, Leicester, Dundee, Glasgow, Manchester, Liverpool, Christiania and Antwerp, anxious to buy or sell in Canada elastic fabrics, boots, spruce boards and timber generally, wheat, grain, oakum, wool, sheep dip, glucose, woodenware, antimony and butter-Scotch. Anglo-Canadian traders strongly urge, however, that an equitable insolvency law is absolutely essential.

Much amusement and some indignation has been caused in Canadian circles here yesterday by a New York message in the Morning Post, alleging that well-informed circles in Quebec believe that Mr. Chamberlain's enquiry respecting Anticosti foreshadows the intention of the British Government to seize the island in the event of war with France. A prominent official here, when shown the telegram yesterday, declared that no one, knowing the A B C of the question, or desiring friendly Anglo-French relations, would entertain, much less publish, such mischievous nonsense. Not a hundred Meniers could lessen Great Britain's absolute and irrevocable sovereignty over Anticosti.

AMERICA AND THE OPEN DOOR.

English Papers Think Uncle Sam Cannot Be Depended On.

London, Dec. 7.—The Daily Mail, commenting editorially this morning on the report of Mr. Lyman J. Gage, United States Secretary of the Treasury, says: "The American export figures are so prodigious as to confound free traders, and the time has arrived for England to consider her whole economic position. The imposition of a tariff upon non-American imports in the West Indies must be taken as a final proof that American support of the open door in the far east cannot be counted upon."

The Standard says: "Are we to understand that a British vessel would not be permitted to land her cargo at Hawaii? If so, we imagine Mr. Gage may find it necessary to modify his proposals before submitting them to Congress. He appears to have adopted the 17th century system of dealing with colonies, which England long since abandoned."

Cyprus to Be Made Strong.

London, Dec. 7.—Upon the report of the special commission of engineers appointed to survey Fimagusta, in the Isle of Cyprus, the Admiralty has recommended that the Government deepen and fortify the harbor. It will be made capable of accommodating the largest warships. The ruined city, once famous for its wealth and the beauty of its women, will become the strongest outpost of Great Britain in the Levant.

Sir Edmund J. Monson Speaks.

Paris, Dec. 7.—At the silver jubilee banquet of the British Chamber of Commerce here last evening, the British ambassador, Sir Edmund J. Monson, delivered a speech which was solid shot for the French and calculated to tickle American ears.

Made a Sensation in London.

London, Dec. 7.—Sir Edmond Monson's remarkable speech in Paris last evening has created a sensation here. Most of the papers regard it as an unfortunate indiscretion.

Treacherously Murdered.

London, Dec. 7.—The British Foreign Office has received news that Lients. Keating and Gale and 12 native soldiers, who were massacred in October last, were killed while parleying with tribesmen of the Niger territory between Jobbs and Ho.

New Lord Chamberlain.

London, Dec. 7.—John Adrian Louis Hope, Earl of Hopetoun, has been appointed Lord Chamberlain, in succession to the late Earl of Latham.

"BILLY" PONTON.

The Bicycle Club of Napanee Will Give Him a Benefit.

Napanee, Dec 7.—Billy Ponton came down from Belleville yesterday. He was enthusiastically received. A subscription list has been started, with E. A. Douglas of the Paisley House at the head. Already more than $200 has been subscribed. The Bicycle Club will tender Billy a benefit concert, and expect to net a cool $100.

E. Gus Porter, in an interivew, said he was aggrieved that Judge Ferguson did not add to his charge to the jury the traditional phrasecology concerning the benefit of a doubt. When the jury first announced their inability to agree, Mr. Porter requested the judge to state that the benefit of a doubt should be given the accused, but his worship, said Mr. Porter, replied, "I will not."

G.T.R. and Telegraphers.

Montreal, Dec. 7.—The telegraphers' dispute with the Grand Trunk becomes more and more acute, and definite action will probably be taken when Mr. Powell arrives to-day. With regard to the statement that General Manager Hays had refused to listen to Mr. Davis, one of the company's leading officials has made a reply, in which he says that "we do not know whether Mr. Davis represents the telegraphers or not. We ask him to produce his credentials and he refuses. We want to know who they have empowered to represent in negotiations with us. Until that time, we must decline to confer with any official of the order, no matter how exalted a position he may occupy."

Kingston's Disastrous Fire.

Kingston, Ont., Dec. 7.—The Grand Opera House was burned yesterday. Nothing but the walls remain, and they will have to be razed. Marks Brothers began an engagement Monday night for two weeks. The greater portion of their paraphernalia was destroyed, as also about $500 worth of property belonging to Manager Lesser. The building was 20 years old, was owned by an Oshawa loan company, and was well insured. The stores of N. Parent, bicycle dealer; A. G. Flett, tailor, and W. A. Sawyer, boot and shoe dealer, were more or less damaged.

THE BYE-ELECTIONS.

Five Dominion Election Nominations—The Candidates Who Will Be Put Up on Both Sides.

The battle royal of the Federal bye-elections will begin to-day (Wednesday), with nominations in five counties. Already the party standard-bearers have been chosen. Those who will be nominated are:

Bagot—Brodeur, Conservative; Marcile, Liberal. The late member, Mr. Dupont, Conservative, was elected in 1896 by acclamation.

Montmagny—LeBlanc, Conservative; Martineau, Liberal. Mr. (now Judge) Choquette was elected by 242 majority.

North Simcoe—Leighton McCarthy, Independent; Martin, Liberal. The late D'Alton McCarthy's majority in 1896 was 1107.

West Lambton—Farrell, Conservative; Johnson, Liberal. Mr. (now Judge) Lister was returned by 1158 majority at the general election.

East Prince—Lafurgey, Conservative; Bell, Liberal. In 1896 Mr. (now Senator) Yeo was returned by 117 majority.

Of the five constituencies in which bye-elections are to be held on the 14th, only one was held by the Conservatives.

CORDELIA VIAU'S SECOND TRIAL.

History of the Case Now Being Tried at St. Scholastique, Qr

St. Scholastique, Que., Dec. 7.—The Poirier murder trial was resumed yesterday morning. The history of the case is this:

On Nov. 22, 1897, Isadore Poirier, joiner, of St. Canute, was found lying in his bed with his throat cut by a butcher knife.

The common talk in St. Canute was that Poirier had been murderd by Cordelia Vian, his wife, and Samuel Parslow, a young bachelor, the reported lover of Mrs. Poirier. The coroner's investigation was held two days after, and Detective McCaskill arrested on Dec. 3 both Cordelia Viau and Samuel Parslow as being the perpetrators of that horrible tragedy. The learned counsel then went over the facts of the case.

The Crown have 48 witnesses to examine. They are the same as appeared at the first trial. It is rumored that the defence will have two new and very important witnesses.

The first witnesses called were J. E. Carmel, civil engineer, who made the plans of Isadore Poirier's house, and J. E. Parent, notary, who made his last will. Then the coroner, Mignault, was put in the box and produced the exhibits of the Crown, among them the butcher knife and the revolver found at Sam Parslow's, and the letters of Cordelia Viau to the Standard Life Company and to her husband.

The court then adjourned until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Ludger G. Crevier of the secret service, who made investigations on the scene of the murder, produced several exhibits this afternoon, including part of the bloodstained flooring, all of which will be brought up again during the trial. High Constable Brazeau and Jailkeeper Gratton produced some exhibits and then Dr. Henri Prevost of St. Jerome read to the jury his joint report with Dr. Lamarche. He described the principal wounds, three in number, the largest one encircled the neck; the two others, which were on the left side of the face, were sufficient to cause death. There were two other small wounds; one on the left arm and the other on the right hand.

Dr. Lamarche confirmed this report and then the court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning, on request of Mr. Leduc, who stated that his client, Cordelia Viau, was too ill to remain longer yesterday.

TO OUST MR. DRYDEN.

Petitioner James Fegan, Whitby, Charges Bribery and Corruption in South Ontario—Other Charges.

Toronto, Dec. 7.—A petition was filed at Osgoode Hall yesterday afternoon against the return of Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, who was elected at the South Ontario bye-election on Nov. 6th by a majority of 156 over Charles Calder, who was also his opponent in March last. The petition contains the usual charges of bribery and corrupt practices of a general character, as were set out in most of the petitions last spring—and subsequently dropped.

The petitioner also alleges a central bribery fund, contributed by lumbermen, contractors, and others in the United States and Canada, a charge similar to the one made in many of the petitions filed against Liberals several months ago.

The petitioner is James Forbad Fegan, laborer, Whitby. After reciting the usual charges, he goes on to say: "The writ for the said election was illegal and void, and was issued at a time when the said electoral district of South Ontario was represented in the Legislature by Charles Calder, Esq., who was elected at the general election held on March 1st, 1898, and who sat and voted in the said Assembly at a session in August, and who is now living and is resident in the province and has not resigned his seat or been legally unseated, or otherwise expelled therefrom, and is now and always has been since March 1st the person legally entitled to represent the said electoral district as member in the said Assembly.

"And further that the decision of the election trial judges which purported to unseat Charles Calder for corrupt practices by agents was and is void and illegal and of no effect, as having been proceeded with during a session of the said Assembly, without the consent of the said Calder, as required by the statute, whereby the said John Dryden was and is incapacitated from serving in the Assembly for the riding of South Ontario, and the said election and return of the said John Dryden were and are wholly null and void."

The Ottawas Dismissed.

The petitions against the two local members for Ottawa were dismissed by Mr. Justice Maclennan at Osgoode Hall yesterday afternoon. No evidence was offered against either member. They are Mr. Alex. Lumsden, Liberal, and Mr. C. B. Powell, Conservative.

The $1,000 [illegible] West Elgin election protest [illegible] was paid out of court yesterday.

Weak and Run Down, With Heart and Kidneys in Bad Condition—Restored by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I was very much run down, having been sick for several months. I had been trying different remedies which did me no good. I would have severe spells of coughing that would leave me prostrate. I was told that my lungs were affected, and my heart and kidneys were in a bad condition. In fact, it seemed as though every organ was out of order. I felt that something must be done and my brother advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I procured a bottle and began taking it. Before it was half gone I felt that it was helping me. I continued its use and it has made me a new woman. I cannot praise it too highly." MRS. SUMMERVILLE, 217 Ossington Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. Get only Hood's, because

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, December 3rd.—The principal utterance of the week in Federal politics has been the speech of the ex-Minister of Finance before the Young Conservative Club in Toronto, and the principal characteristic of that speech was Mr. Foster's complaint that the present Government was claiming credit for the prosperity of the country, whereas such prosperity was the outcome of the late Government's policy, which its successors were carrying on intact. There are, however, two fundamental errors in this assertion, which will be apparent without very elaborate investigation.

TWO FUNDAMENTAL ERRORS.

In the first place the present Administration has not, at any time, claimed credit for the return of prosperity, which was, by the way, admittedly coincident with its assumption of the government of the country, further than it is entitled to, by the adoption of a policy which utilizes the bounties of nature, and the benefits of natural development, to the best advantage of the community as a whole.

The second mistake Mr. Foster made was his declaration that the old Conservative policy is being followed to-day. The new policy, declared before the last general election, is a revenue tariff, "reduced to the needs of honest, economical and efficient government," a tariff which, "while not doing injuries to any class, would promote domestic and foreign trade, and hasten the return of prosperity to our people."

WHAT THE CHANGE HAS BEEN.

The first budget speech of the present Minister of Finance indicated the manner in which this anti-election declaration was implemented. It proposed to abolish many specific duties, to place mining machinery on the free list, and to reduce the duties on iron and steel, thus advantaging every manufacturing industry in the country using these as raw material. Moreover, it greatly increased the free list, and reduced the duties on British goods, last year by an eighth, and now by a quarter, of the existing duties.

Realizing quite as fully as its critics could possibly do, the necessity of moving slowly, that existing interests might not be injuriously affected, the Government at first proposed changes much less drastic than the principles of the party would warrant or their inclination dictate, but even with this partial amelioration, and with only a moiety of the British preference in operation, the imports of 1897 increased more than $20,000,000 over those of 1896. Of this increase the dutiable goods claimed $7,400,000 and the free list $12 000,000, the duty collected upon these imports increasing over $1,700,000. Whether there has been any reduction made in the tariff may be judged from the fact that the duties of 1896 levied upon the imports of 1898 would have produced a customs revenue of nearly $2,000,000 more than the actual figures. This was with only 12½ per cent. of a preferential reduction on British imports; with the present 25 per cent. reduction the saving to the consumer is greatly increased. In spite of all this the present tariff is declared to be as high as the old one.

THERE ARE OTHER DRASTIC CHANGES.

This is only one instance, though admittedly a most important one, of the manner in which the policy of the present administration is not a continuance of the one followed by its predecessors. The change of the Federal franchise is another most noteworthy departure. The strict scrutiny of all public expenditure and the entire disappearance of the disgraceful scandals which so marred the record of the late Administration, is a departure from the old policy which has had a tremendous effect upon the estimation in which the Dominion is to-day held in other lands. The activity shown in carrying on and completing important public works which will guarantee transportation as a whole, is a striking departure from the old policy of inefficiency and delay. Of this no better illustration can be found than in the deepening of the St. Lawrence Canals, where, this season alone more work has been done than during several previous seasons, owing to the abandoning of the policy which kept the work dragging along, that it might be utilized advantageously for the benefit of Government candidates prior to elections, and the adoption in its place of a policy of rushing through a most necessary improvement, because the trade of the country demanded it, and was hampered by the innumerable delays.

These are a few of the changes that have been made from the old policy, and and it's a small compliment to the intelligence of the Young Conservatives of Toronto and of the country, to offer them such a biased statement of the situation, as the ex-Minister of Finance was betrayed into doing in his recent speech.

PLENTY OF ACCOMMODATION.

The complaint which has appeared in a portion of the western press that the C.P.R. has not rolling stock sufficient to move the grain to Fort William before the close of navigation, has been answered by the railway officials, who declare that they are better equipped this season than ever before, having, they affirm, 1,500 more cars in the grain belt than they had a year ago, and that a large number of these cars have a capacity of 30 tons each, whereas the cars previously in use could only take 20 tons. The resources of all grain-handling roads on the continent are always very severely taxed during the last three or four months of the year, and the spell of wet weather delaying the harvest this fall, has aggravated the usual congestion of business. In spite of this the railway affirms its ability to move all the freight that is offered.

AN INTERCOLONIAL COMMISSION.

The last two weeks have been busy ones with the members of the Intercolonial Commission, meeting at Washington; and they have been endeavouring to furnish their readers with information as to the progress of the negotiations. As a guessing contest the work of the newspaper man has been usually interesting, but as a statement of fact its value is an uncertain quantity. The opposing interests which it is the endeavour of the commission to reconcile have been most insistent in their importunities for consideration, even to the extent of making the outcome a matter of great uncertainty.

The prospects of a reciprocal trade arrangement do not appear quite as bright as it was one time expected they would be; but if the Canadian Commissioners find it a matter of impossibility to secure reasonable concessions from the Republic, they may be safely trusted to refuse to sacrifice Canadian interests, without a quid pro quo. A section of the Canadian Opposition press has been quite as antagonistic to any settlement satisfactory to Canada as the most ardent supporter of American interests could be, and it is more than probable that this unpatriotic procedure has had some effect. If it has in any way embarrassed the Government they will, of course, be amply repaid.

PECULIAR POISONS

GENERATED IN THE HUMAN BODY.

The Result of Imperfect Digestion of Food.

Every living thing, plant or animal, contains within itself the germs of certain decay and death.

In the human body these germs of disease and death (called by scientists Ptomaines), are usually the result of imperfect digestion of food; the result of indigestion or dyspepsia.

The stomach, from abuse, weakness, does not promptly and thoroughly digest the food. The result is a heavy, sodden mass which ferments (the first process of decay) poisoning the blood, making it thin, weak and lacking in red corpuscles; poisoning the brain, causing headaches and pain in the eyes.

Bad digestion irritates the heart, causing palpitation and finally bringing on disease of this very important organ.

Poor digestion poisons the kidneys, causing Bright's disease and diabetes.

And this is so because every organ, every nerve depends upon the stomach alone for nourishment and renewal, and weak digestion shows itself not only in loss of appetite and flesh, but in weak nerves and muddy complexion.

The great English scientist, Huxley, said the best start in life is a sound stomach. Weak stomachs fail to digest food properly, because they lack the proper quantity of digestive acids (lactic and hydrochloric) and peptogenic products; the most sensible remedy in all cases of indigestion is to take, after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply in a pleasant, harmless form all the elements that weak stomachs lack.

The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure every form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

They increase flesh, insure pure blood, strong nerves, a bright eye and clear complexion, because all these result only from wholesome food well digested.

Nearly all druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents full sized package or by mail by enclosing price to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., but ask your druggist first.

Snowden in the character of a "Down East Farmer," showed remarkable ability as a stage performer, as did also the others. Bro. Jas. Soubbs' lantern views were interesting, notwithstanding the lack of time to arrange the canvas properly. Sister L. Cope's reading was heard with pleasure. A beautiful exhibition of the wand drill was given by four girls under the direction of Mr. Snowdon.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the members of Norwood Lodge for the kind reception they accorded to the visiting delegates. The National Anthem was then sung and the happy re-union was brought to a close.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Mr. R. Morrow Cured of Lumbago by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, Nov. 28—The vast majority of Torontonians know and esteem Mr. R. Morrow, the able and popular general agent for the Toronto Auer Light Co.

For this reason the following statement made in writing by Mr. Morrow, possesses unusual significance.

"Two years ago I was attacked by Lumbago and Urinary trouble which caused me intense suffering. I took several different remedies without any benefit. Then I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and was completely cured by them."

Lumbago is unusually prevalent this fall. All sufferers should know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure for it. They never fail.

Did you ever See a Snow Storm in Summer?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow-storm.

No need of this snowstorm.

As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will

Ayer's Hair Vigor

melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation.

It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address,

THE REICHSTAG OPEN.

Kaiser's Principal Object is the Maintenance of Peace.

HIS RECENT VISIT TO PALESTINE

The Assassination of the Empress of Austria, the Anti-Anarchistic Conventions at Rome, the Spanish-American War and Colonial Affairs Furnish an Interesting Budget—Cable News.

Berlin, Dec. 7.—The Reichstag was opened yesterday by Emperor William, who, after the introduction of many bills and the completion of organization of the army, said Germany's relations with all the foreign powers continued to be friendly, and the principal object of his policy would be to contribute to the maintenance of peace. Therefore, His Majesty hailed with firm approval the Czar's magnanimous proposal for the furtherance of that object.

Continuing, the Emperor referred to the assassination of the Empress of Austria as being a savage and ruthless act, which had caused him deep pain and which had betokened the most sincere sympathy throughout Germany.

Referring to the anti-Anarchistic convention at Rome, he said the readiness with which the invitation had been accepted by the powers justified the hope that its deliberations would have practical results.

Alluding to the war between Spain and the United States, His Majesty said Germany's neutrality was conscientiously and loyally observed towards both belligerents.

Then, dealing with colonial affairs, Emperor William pointed out the measures taken for the economic development of Kiao Chou, declaring that while conscientiously respecting the well-acquired rights of the third parties, the German Government would direct its efforts to the further promotion of its economic relations with China, which were yearly growing more important.

There was a special passage devoted to the inspection of meat, after which Emperor William concluded with saying that it was with deep emotion that he had visited, with the Empress, spots rendered dear to the whole of Christendom by the sufferings of the Saviour.

Count von Lorchenteld, the Bavarian plenipotentiary, then called for three cheers for the Emperor, after which Emperor William and his sons left the hall and the deputies proceeded to the Reichstag, where Herr Lingens took the chair, as senior member. After the usual formalities of the opening, the Reichstag adjourned until Wednesday.

The Budget Submitted.

In the Reichstag the Imperial Budget was formally submitted with the estimated revenue, expenditure and balance for 1899-00. The estimated revenue is 1,554,530,050 marks. Of the ordinary expenditure, 79,548,688 marks will be devoted to the army, 30,481,500 marks to the navy and 8,500,000 marks to salaries, harbor works, armaments and defences at Kiao Chou, in the Province of Shantung, China. Of the extraordinary expenditure, 14,606,680 marks will be devoted to the army, and 53,879,000 marks to the navy. The revenue will be derived as follows: 742,260,966 marks from duties, 489,953,838 marks from Federal contributions, the balance to be raised from extraordinary sources. The total expenditure will exceed that of the present fiscal year by 112,052,042 marks. The recurring expenditure, necessitated by the reorganization of the army, is estimated at 6,878,491 marks. This will be apportioned as follows: To Prussia, 4,730,550 marks; to Saxony, 1,468,472 marks; to Wurtemburg, 74,181 marks, and to Bavaria, 165,988 marks. The non-recurring expenditure necessitated by the reorganization is estimated at 48,741,619 marks. The increased expenditure on the army will necessitate a loan of 89,921,189 marks.

Ingersoll, Dec. 5.—If there could be the slightest shadow of a doubt about the unfailing efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills, in all cases of Kidney and Bladder Disease and Rheumatism, the experience of Mr. Michael Sherlock, of Ingersoll, would positively dispel it forever.

Mr. Sherlock suffered unceasing tortures from Bladder and Kidney trouble, aggravated by Rheumatism, for five years. Every remedy he used failed to help him, until he began to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured him quickly, completely and permanently.

Dodd's Kidney Pills should be used by every sufferer from these complaints. They never fail to cure, and are beside, the best tonic and strengthener known.

A MIXED UP STORY.

Oliver Prevost on Trial at Port Arthur for Murder—Statements of Rosana Gautier and the Prisoner.

Port Arthur, Dec. 7.—The trial of Oliver Prevost for the murder of Carrier and Delvin at the piggery on the 10th of February, 1898, proceeded all day yesterday before Chief Justice Armour. The bulk of the evidence was of a circumstantial nature, the Crown relying principally upon that of Rosana Gautier, the wife of one Gautier of Valleyfield. She was living with Prevost here at the time of the tragedy. Her story is that Prevost went out to the piggery on the evening of the 10th about dark, killed the two men, came back to town, told her so, and then made her go out with him while they ransacked the cabins and brought in, with a mule and sleigh, what plunder there was. Then he afterwards drove the mule back, tied it to a tree, and set fire to the buildings. One Daust, a brother-in-law of Prevost, swears that the prisoner told him that the woman had shot one of the men and that he had killed the other.

Prevost was practically the only witness for his own defence. He tells a long and circumstantial story of all that happened that night. It is to the effect that the woman poisoned the two men, that one died immediately, and that while he was outside she shot the other one. That in order to cover up her crime, he loaded the two dead bodies on the mule sleigh, drove them out to the piggery; that they together plundered the place, and that she accidentally upset a lamp, which set fire to the place. The woman's evidence is directly opposite to that she gave at the inquest, but she states that Prevost made her perjure herself at that time. Altogether it is a very mixed up story, and it is hard to sift out the truth. Crown Prosecutor Johnson was cross-examining Prevost at 7 o'clock last night.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I.T. He writes, "Four bottles of Electric Bitters have cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which has caused her great suffering for years. This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. Did you ever See a Snow Storm in Summer?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow-storm.

No need of this snowstorm.

As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will

Ayer's Hair Vigor

melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation.

It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address,

THE REICHSTAG OPEN.

Kaiser's Principal Object is the Maintenance of Peace.

HIS RECENT VISIT TO PALESTINE

The Assassination of the Empress of Austria, the Anti-Anarchistic Convention at Rome, the Spanish-American War and Colonial Affairs Furnish an Interesting Budget—Cable News.

Berlin, Dec. 7.—The Reichstag was opened yesterday by Emperor William, who, after the introduction of many bills and the completion of organization of the army, said Germany's relations with all the foreign powers continued to be friendly, and the principal object of his policy would be to contribute to the maintenance of peace. Therefore, His Majesty hailed with firm approval the Czar's magnanimous proposal for the furtherance of that object.

Continuing, the Emperor referred to the assassination of the Empress of Austria as being a savage and ruthless act, which had caused him deep pain and which had betokened the most sincere sympathy throughout Germany.

Referring to the anti-Anarchistic convention at Rome, he said the readiness with which the invitation had been accepted by the powers justified the hope that its deliberations would have practical results.

Alluding to the war between Spain and the United States, His Majesty said Germany's neutrality was conscientiously and loyally observed towards both belligerents.

Then, dealing with colonial affairs, Emperor William pointed out the measures taken for the economic development of Kiao Chou, declaring that while conscientiously respecting the well-acquired rights of the third parties, the German Government would direct its efforts to the further promotion of its economic relations with China, which were yearly growing more important.

There was a special passage devoted to the inspection of meat, after which Emperor William concluded with saying that it was with deep emotion that he had visited, with the Empress, spots rendered dear to the whole of Christendom by the sufferings of the Saviour.

Count von Lorchenfeld, the Bavarian plenipotentiary, then called for three cheers for the Emperor, after which Emperor William and his sons left the hall and the deputies proceeded to the Reichstag, where Herr Lingens took the chair, as senior member. After the usual formalities of the opening, the Reichstag adjourned until Wednesday.

The Budget Submitted.

In the Reichstag the Imperial Budget was formally submitted with the estimated revenue, expenditure and balance for 1899-99. The estimated revenue is 1,554,530,050 marks. Of the ordinary expenditure, 79,548,688 marks will be devoted to the army, 20,421,500 marks to the navy and 8,500,000 marks to salaries, harbor works, armaments and defences at Kiao Chou, in the Province of Shantung, China. Of the extraordinary expenditure, 14,666,680 marks will be devoted to the army, and 33,879,000 marks to the navy. The revenue will be derived as follows: 742,260,966 marks from duties, 489,953,838 marks from Federal contributions, the balance to be raised from extraordinary sources. The total expenditure will exceed that of the present fiscal year by 119,052,042 marks. The recurring expenditure, necessitated by the reorganization of the army, is estimated at 6,378,491 marks. This will be apportioned as follows: To Prussia, 4,730,550 marks; to Saxony, 1,408,472 marks; to Wurtemburg, 74,181 marks, and to Bavaria, 165,283 marks. The non-recurring expenditure necessitated by the reorganization is estimated at 48,741,619 marks. The increased expenditure on the army will necessitate a loan of 89,921,189 marks.

Pekin, Dec. 7.—The French Minister, M. INGERSOLL PROVES IT.

Dodd's Kidney Pills the Only Cure for Bladder Disease.

Ingersoll, Dec. 5.—If there could be the slightest shadow of a doubt about the unfailing efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills, in all cases of Kidney and Bladder Disease and Rheumatism, the experience of Mr. Michael Sherlock, of Ingersoll, would positively dispel it forever.

Mr. Sherlock suffered unceasing tortures from Bladder and Kidney trouble, aggravated by Rheumatism, for five years. Every remedy he used failed to help him, until he began to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured him quickly, completely and permanently.

Dodd's Kidney Pills should be used by every sufferer from these complaints. They never fail to cure, and are beside, the best tonic and strengthener known.

A MIXED UP STORY.

Oliver Prevost on Trial at Port Arthur for Murder—Statements of Rosana Gautier and the Prisoner.

Port Arthur, Dec. 7.—The trial of Oliver Prevost for the murder of Carrier and Dalvin at the piggery on the 10th of February, 1898, proceeded all day yesterday before Chief Justice Armour. The bulk of the evidence was of a circumstantial nature, the Crown relying principally upon that of Rosana Gautier, the wife of one Gautier of Valleyfield. She was living with Prevost here at the time of the tragedy. Her story is that Prevost went out to the piggery on the evening of the 10th about dark, killed the two men, came back to town, told her so, and then made her go out with him while they ransacked the cabins and brought in, with a mule and sleigh, what plunder there was. Then he afterwards drove the mule back, tied it to a tree, and set fire to the buildings. One Daust, a brother-in-law of Prevost, swears that the prisoner told him that the woman had shot one of the men and that he had killed the other.

Prevost was practically the only witness for his own defence. He tells a long and circumstantial story of all that happened that night. It is to the effect that the woman poisoned the two men, that one died immediately, and that while he was outside she shot the other one. That in order to cover up her crime, he loaded the two dead bodies on the mule sleigh, drove them out to the piggery; that they together plundered the place, and that she accidentally upset a lamp, which set fire to the place. The woman's evidence is directly opposite to that she gave at the inquest, but she states that Prevost made her perjure herself at that time. Altogether it is a very mixed up story, and it is hard to sift out the truth. Crown Prosecutor Johnson was cross-examining Prevost at 7 o'clock last night.

Glorious News.

This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates, liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by all druggists, every bottle guaranteed.

Dr. Hutchinson, G.T.R. medical adviser of Montreal, Dr. MacNicholl of Cobourg and Dr. Gibson of this city, held a consultation yesterday. They decided that every possible care and good attention are being given to both patients. They are suffering now from the results of their bruises.

Fred. Cohn, the German boy, and A. P. Walker, the fireman, are doing splendidly.

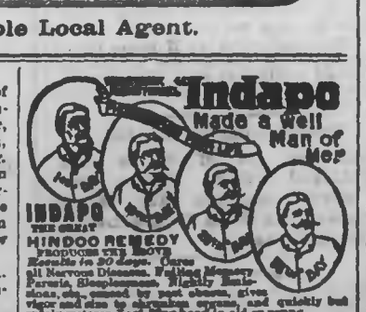
Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hammick & Co., of Shelby, N.C. Sold by all druggists at 50 cents and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.



Cures all Nervous Diseases, Failing Memory, Paresis, Sleeplessness, Weekly Emissions, etc., caused by past abuses, gives vigor and aims to strengthen organs, and quickly but surely restores Lost Manhood in old or young.

Easily carried in vest pocket. Price $1.00 a package, six for $5.00 with a written guarantee to cure or refund money collected. DON'T BUY AN IMITATION, but insist on having INDAPO. If your druggist has not got it, we will send it prepaid.

LAST NIGHT'S WRECK ON THE C. P. R.

It Occurred Just This Side of Cavanville.

THREE FREIGHT CARS WERE BURNED

The Engine on No. 52 Telescopes the Van in the Way Freight, in Which Three Men Were Sitting—No One Was Killed.

Somewhat exaggerated rumours reached town shortly after eight o'clock last evening in regard to a wreck which occurred on the C.P.R. a couple of miles this side of Cavanville. It was at first stated that the local passenger train from Toronto had collided with a freight, with a consequent great loss of life. As many Peterborough citizens patronize the local, the effect on the public was startling, and the C.P.R. station agent was deluged with queries.

The statement that it was two freight trains which had collided and that no one was seriously hurt, allayed the fears of those who were expecting friends on the local, but for an hour or so previous, until definite news concerning the wreck was received, the excitement was something intense.

As far as can be learned the wreck was occasioned by the way freight on the grade this side of Cavanville. The train was composed of twenty-nine cars, and as it was ascending the hill the engine with twelve cars broke away. The automatic air break immediately operated on the remainder of the train, and it slowed up, whilst the front portion was carried on for half a mile or so. The cars which were left behind separated into two sections, the rear end running down the grade backwards and the front end remaining on the hill. On the rear section being finally stopped, Conductor Thompson of Toronto Junction, who was in charge, burnt a red light provided for the purpose, to warn No. 52, a freight which was following up just behind, and also sent a brakeman back with a lantern to signal it. No. 52 was stopped about fifty yards in the rear and it was thought all the

BREAKING IN TWO

when the middle section of the train, which had been left on the hill, suddenly loomed up through the snowstorm, running at a high rate of speed. It crashed into the rear section, driving the way freight car into the van and forcing it on down into the engine of No. 52, which forced its way also into the van until it met the way freight car.

At this time Conductor Thompson, Brakesman Pillard and Detective Greer, of the Provincial Force, were all sitting in the van and they had a narrow escape. Conductor Thompson was badly shaken up and cut about the legs, whilst Brakesman Pillard also received some ugly gashes. Detective Greer escaped with nothing worse than the shock and the loss of his grip.

The smashing of the headlight on the engine and upsetting of the stove in the van and the way freight car and two cars of oats as well as the van were consumed. Strange to say the engine was not damaged to any extent, and is now in commission.

SET FIRE TO THE TRAIN,

Conductor Hirons was in charge of No. 52, which was a livestock train, but sustained no damage.

The accident occurred at 6.55 p.m. and half an hour later the local from Toronto pulled up to the scene. As the track was badly blocked an engine and van were sent up from Peterborough and the passengers from the local were transferred to it and brought back to town, arriving here shortly after ten o'clock. Amongst the passengers were Mr. R. M. Dennistoun and Mr. A. W. Cresseman, of town.

The auxiliary from Havelock, which had been waiting in Peterborough for over an hour, then went on through to the wreck with a large crew of men.

HIS ARM TORN OFF.

Terrible Threshing Machine Accident at Dunsford.

Yesterday morning, shortly before noon, while a young man named Henry Sheriff was feeding peas into a threshing machine working on the farm of Mr. Richard Thurston, near Dunsford, a large fork-full was thrown up to him, and in trying to put it into the machine his hand was caught by the cylinder and his arm was drawn into the machine. The arm as far as the elbow was mangled almost to a jelly, and pieces of bone and flesh passed through the machine and were thrown to the men on the stack.

The injured man was released with all possible haste and a swift messenger was despatched to Lindsay for medical aid. Drs. Clarke and Herriman were summoned and after examining the injured young man, decided to amputate his arm a few inches above the elbow. The patient is very low as a result of the shock and loss of blood, but the physicians entertain hopes of his recovery.

HOCKEY

A special meeting of the hockey club is called for this evening in the rink parlours. Important business is up for discussion.

Now that Cobourg has set the ball rolling Port Hope people are anxious to see the Ontarios scheduled in a faster league than the Midland Hockey Association. Secretary C. A. Hayden has given it out that should Cobourg jump the Midland Association for the O.H.A., Port Hope in all probability would follow. With Port Hope and Cobourg, it is almost sure that Oshawa, Whitby and Bowmanville would come in too. Negotiations are now pending with Secretary Beaton of the O. H. A. looking towards the entry of the Midland Leaguers to his organization. Neither Port Hope nor Cobourg were represented at the O.H.A. meeting in Toronto. The clubs will get in at the schedule meeting later on in the month. Mayor Quinlan has written personally to President H. B. Rosever of the Ontarios encouraging the hockeyists to greater efforts during the approaching season. It has been learned that the Belleville hockey club is anxious to get into the O. H. A. Trenton, Napanee and Picton will drop in line, too, so that the Quinte Hockey Association as well as the Midland will likely join the O. H. A.

The Norwood team have written up for a game with the Colts on Dec. 30th.

If the rink can be arranged for this season, another junior team, between the ages of fifteen and eighteen, will appear on the ice. The boys are trying hard for the rink and they should turn out with success.

A PROGRESSIVE FIRM IN PROGRESSIVE PETERBOROUGH.

Peterborough is admitted by all men who have studied the growth of Canadian towns and cities generally to be one of the most enterprising, and enjoys the well-earned name of progressive Peterborough. That the enterprise of its business men has made it what it is goes without saying. To individualize and speak of the whole round of concerns that have grown into prominence in this town would fill a volume, but we want to particularize one just here, that is J. W. T. Fairweather & Co., which, from a small beginning not too many years ago, has grown to be the recognized leader in its line in this section of Ontario, emphasising particularly just here fine furs.

While a Peterborough firm, it does a large business throughout the provinces, from ocean to ocean, and into every nook and corner of Canada, and many of the larger cities south of the line, garments made specially by this firm go every season. J. W. T. Fairweather & Co. are in direct touch with the most modern styles; they act in direct conjunction with their large city house in catering to the finest trade; their designers visit the fashion centres of the world every season in getting the latest ideas in styles, noting what fashion decrees shall be worn in furs and combinations, from the smallest little neck ruff to the handsome Alaska Seal cape or jacket.

The head of the firm is an expert fur buyer. He knows what markets to visit to get the best that is to be had. He knows where the reliable skins are bought. He knows who the reliable people are to buy from and he knows when to go to market to get right prices and is considered one of the largest buyers of furs for manufacturing purposes in Canada to-day. All these things are considerations in the manufacturing of the high quality garments which the firm turn out and has helped to make for them the reputation which the house enjoys.

The firm makes a specialty of making to order Seal and Persian Lamb garments, but they give the same care and attention in the minutest detail to all classes of furs, in all kinds of garments, big and little, for men, women and children, which are considered most in style and dependable in quality. While the firm does not discredit the stocks of furs to be found in general and departmental stores, they feel justified in dropping the hint that one is bound to have better satisfaction from a firm who are expert in everything that pertains to fur garments, the skins, the dyeing, the cutting, the fitting, the linings and the trimmings, than from people who take what is offered to them from wholesale manufacturers and know more about the quality or can give no more guarantee of its satisfaction than the price ticket shows.

Just now the firm are as busy as beavers filling orders for special garments. Their collection of fine furs in their show rooms is immense and up to date and affords splendid buying opportunities for people in quest of fur for Christmas garments. They make all they sell; they guarantee all they make, and while one can always bank on their say so in the quality they give, everything is marked on a fair living profit based on the principle of "the greatest good to the greatest number." J. W. T. Fairweather & Co. will be pleased to have enquiries by mail or have a personal inspection of their stocks from any and everybody—make comparisons if you will, feel under no obligation whatever to buy, unless you feel so disposed.

Men will not believe, but women know from experience, the amount of sand and dirt in currants and raisins. Women also know that Mason & Co's Crescent brand currants and raisins are free from dirt and stems, as they are thoroughly cleansed by the new electric process. Price, same as ordinary fruit.

Parcel Post Packages.

The attention of postmasters is called to the fact that no parcel can be sent from Canada to any other country by parcel post unless it bear a Customs Declaration setting forth the nature of its contents and its value. As the acceptance by a postmaster of a parcel addressed to any other country, and not provided with a Customs Declaration, will result in its being sent to the Dead Letter Office, postmasters are specially directed to not accept such parcels without the Customs Declaration.

Piles Cured Without The Knife, by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Geo. Browne, painter, of Woodville, Ont., Victoria Co. says:—"For thirteen years I was a sufferer from bleeding piles and the intense agony which I passed through during those years and relief I obtained by Chase's Ointment prompts me to give this testimonial. My physicians wished me to have an operation but I felt I could be cured without the knife. Three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment stopped the bleeding and effected a permanent cure."

THE NIGHT CLERK'S STORY.

A FACE LIKE CHALK.

A very bad attack of the Grippe one year ago last winter left my system in a very weak state and my nervous system completely unstrung. After getting over the dangerous stage of the disease I naturally expected to gain strength, but, unfortunately, did not do so. On the contrary, my blood became weaker. I daily lost strength and vitality, and my nervous system became so weak that it was a constant source of suffering both day and night. I lost appetite, the sight of food nauseated me, the weak state of my system caused shortness of breath and unnatural action of the heart, such as fluttering and violent palpitation, and my face was like chalk. I was in this condition and constantly getting weaker when I began taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. I had read the books they distributed and their advertisements in the papers, and thought, "Well, I have taken so much medicine without benefit it is useless to spend any more money. However, I finally made up my mind. It is a forlorn hope; I can but try. If I am not benefited I will not be hurt. So I bought a one box and received great benefit therefrom, so continued their use, and to-day am a well man in consequence; my blood is strong, my face has the ruddy hue of health, my appetite has returned, I sleep well, I have not the slightest indications of nervousness or heart trouble, and from a sick, weak, nervous man Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have transformed me in six weeks to full health and strength." I am yours very truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM WILLARD,
Night Clerk Grand Central Hotel,
Peterboro.

MURDER WILL OUT.

A Manitowaning Woman Tells of Four Killings of 40 Years Ago—Her Story Comes From Walkerton.

Walkerton, Dec. 6.—A strange woman, who claims to hail from Manitowaning, Manitoulin Islands, tells a story, which, if true, unearths one of the foulest crimes that was ever committed in Bruce County. The woman's story is as follows:

Some 42 years ago a certain Dr. Brown, his wife and two children, moved from the County of York to Invermay, in the Township of Arran. One of these children was the lady in question, and was then only three or four years of age. The boy was left at Collingwood, and the doctor and his wife and little girl went out to Invermay. They found shelter in a stranger's house, and next morning, after breakfast, the owner of the house and his wife, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Brown, went out into the woods.

A few minutes after leaving the house the lady says she heard her mother scream, but the other children would not let her leave the house to see what was the matter. The owner of the house and his wife soon returned, but would not tell what had become of her father and mother. The little girl continued to live with this family, and was passed off as their daughter. The lady maintains that a short time after the disappearance of her father and mother a stranger called at the house one night and never left alive. She claims that the man was murdered and his corpse buried at the end of the house. A few years later on the family moved to the Manitoulin Islands, and here again she had reason to suspect that a traveller was murdered by the same people.

The bones of the man whom she alleges was buried at the end of the house, are being dug for.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet the greeting usually is, "Well how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no stomach or bowel trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They eat as though they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by overworked nature rebels. Then come headaches, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets furnish help for constipation and torpid liver, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Accept no substitute.

MURDER CASES AT PORT ARTHUR.

Prevost and the Moses Brothers to Be Tried for Their Lives.

Port Arthur, Dec. 6.—The Assizes opened here yesterday afternoon, Chief Justice Armour presiding. The business before the court is several charges of murder. Oliver Prevost is charged with the killing of Rene Dalvin and Ferdinand Corrier, swine herders, on Feb. 10, 1897. The grand jury found a true bill, and the case was set down for trial at 9 o'clock this morning.

The grand jury is considering bills on the case of the two Indians, Louis and Joe Moses, brothers, who are charged with murdering three men on Pie Island, on July 4, 1894.

Prevost was brought here to stand trial for murder from Kingston, where he is serving a term of seven years for larceny, committed at Pembroke. The chief witness against him will be a woman named Rosana Gauthier, with whom Prevost, in the summer of 1896, eloped from Valleyfield, Que., and who was living with him at the time of the alleged crime. Prevost is said to be insane, and has in fact been confined in the insane ward of the Kingston Penitentiary.

M'KINLEY'S MESSAGE

Proclaims the Freedom of Cuba as Its Keynote.

RELATIONS WITH GREAT BRITAIN

The President of the Republic Acknowledges the Friendly Offices of the Mother Country—He Also Referred to the Alien Labor Law and the Joint High Commission.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Congress assembled yesterday under circumstances of unusual public interest. The same Congress six months ago declared war against Spain, and now, with the war fought and won, it came together again for legislative questions to be considered, brought on by the eventful months just passed.

Exactly at noon Speaker Reed's gavel came down with a sharp crack, the great ebony mace was lifted into place upon its green marble pedestal, the spreading folds of the American flag were broken to the breeze above the brilliant stained glass ceiling, and the House of Representatives entered upon the closing session of the memorable War Congress. The scene within the great hall was animated, brilliant and picturesque.

The Program Distributed.

Representative Dingley has called a meeting of the ways and means committee for to-day for the purpose of distributing to the various committees the subjects treated in the President's message, at which time a program for the session's work probably will be outlined.

NO "IMPERIALISM."

Cuba to Be Free Is What the Message of the President Says.

There is no "Imperialism" in the President's message. He is silent on the Philippines. On Cuba, he is outspoken for Cuba Libre (for the Cubans).

The message reviews the history of the war, showing how it was undertaken for the sake of humanity. That Spain forced the open rupture.

That the country's preparations for war were made with extraordinary despatch and unanimity.

That it was conducted with unheard of freedom from losses.

That the army and navy both acted with the greatest gallantry.

That the peace negotiations are practically complete.

Reference to the new possessions is deferred until the peace treaty is signed.

Cubans must have an opportunity to form a government for themselves.

An international agreement for uniform cable tolls is needed.

The Killed Latimer Miners

We shall probably soon reach an understanding with Hungary and Austro-Hungary regarding the shooting of the miners at Latimer, Pa.

Congress should act at once for the completion of the Nicaragua Canal.

Chilian claim commission work should be extended.

The open door in China will help our trade.

A commission to study commercial and industrial conditions in China is needed.

The United States will be handsomely represented at the Paris Exposition. A $1,000,000 appropriation is needed.

Efforts progressing to have France and Germany relax prohibitions of our fruit products.

Relations with Great Britain most friendly. Her offices during the war recognized.

The High Commission.

High joint commission negotiations are tending to favorable conclusion.

Red Cross work has been extended to sea duty by all nations.

Hawaiian commissioners' reports had been most carefully considered.

Provision needed for aiding destitute seamen in Hawaii.

New Mexican extradition convention progressing.

Our extradition statutes need amending.

Conference regarding Mexican free zone necessary.

The United States cordially sympathizes with the Czar's disarmament recommendation.

Our envoy to Turkey is charged to demand settlement of our indemnity claims.

Venezuelan boundary arbitration a success.

Bureau of American Republics is doing good work.

Permanent universal law needed against privateering.

Recommendation that United States notes redeemed in gold shall be paid out only in exchange for gold, renewed.

Currency Legislation.

Sound currency legislation still greatly needed.

Domestic paper currency must be kept safe, yet in proportion to the needs of our country.

Complete plan for merchant vessel pick-service needed.

Expert yellow fever investigation commission necessary.

Permanent increase in the army should be made.

Foreclosure proceedings against the Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific successful.

Steamship lines to our colonies should be subsidized.

New building needed for Supreme Court.

Postal service advancing most satisfactorily, as shown by tests of the Spanish war.

Secretary Long's call for three battleships, 19 armored cruisers, heartily approved.

Grades of admiral and vice-admiral should be revived.

Forestry legislation shows good results.

Centennial anniversary of the founding of the City of Washington should be appropriately observed.

Alien Labor Law Needs Amending.

The alien contract labor law is shown by experience to need some amendment.

A measure providing better protection for seamen is proposed.

The rightful application of the eight-hour law for the benefit of labor and for the principle of arbitration are suggested for consideration.

PENNY POSTAGE.

The Post Office Department Issues a Warning to the Public Concerning Its Use—Ottawa Notes.

Ottawa, Dec. 6.—The Post Office Department issues the following caution: "Although supplies of the new two-cent Imperial stamp will immediately be sent out to postmasters, and although it may be used forthwith, if preferred by the purchasers, instead of the ordinary two-cent stamp, it is important to bear in mind that the inter-Imperial postage does not come into effect until Christmas Day. The existing rates, therefore, to those countries which, in addition to Canada, have given their adhesion to the scheme for a reduced postage rate on letters on and after Dec. 25th, inst., will be observed until that date."

The Department of Trade and Commerce has received from Mr. Tripp, commercial agent in Trinidad, a report of a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held at Port of Spain on Nov. 8 at which the following resolution was adopted: "That the question of the incorporation of the British West Indies with the Dominion of Canada is worthy of the serious consideration of the Government."

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

The Total Loss Is Estimated in New York at $400,000.

New York, Dec. 6.—A large force of firemen were still busy at 7 o'clock yesterday morning pouring water on the ruins of the buildings burned by the big Broadway fire. Shortly before 7 o'clock Contractor W. A. Magee arrived and prepared to take down the walls of the Rodgers, Peet & Co. building, which threatened to fall. The work is dangerous and prevents Broadway traffic. It is thought one of the walls cracked from the fifth floor up.

Deputy Chief Crocker stated that in his opinion the losses would not be as heavy as was at first estimated. He places the total loss at $400,000.

Elopes and Marries a Negro.

At the police station the girl declared that under no circumstances would she leave her husband. She is 18 years of age, with blonde hair and blue eyes. Moore is very dark.

Insurance in force		10,000,000

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 96
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,
(REV.) J. THOMPSON, D. D.

Carried Down Stream.

When a man crossing some difficult place in his working career; spurring all his energies to accomplish some critical passage in his business journey, suddenly finds his health giving way and feels himself swept out of the saddle by the swift-running current of disease—then is the time when the marvelous rejuvenating properties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will prove an unfailing means of rescue and restoration.

It is a very simple though eminently scientific medicine. It is not a mere stimulant like so many malt extracts. It restores healthy power by reviving the innermost sources of vitality in the nutritive system. It enables the digestive and blood-making organism to manufacture good blood abundantly and rapidly, so that the immense waste of tissue and nerve fiber entailed by hard labor is offset by a speedy upbuilding of fresh energy and strength.

A prominent and venerable Illinois physician, D. W. Vowles, M. D., of Fowler, Adams Co., writing to Dr. Pierce, says: "I send herewith thirty-one (31) cents in stamps for 'The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser' in cloth binding. With this pittance for so valuable a work (only a gift to the public), I must express my high appreciation of the vast amount of good that you have rendered the public. A correct measure of your usefulness never has been, and never will be estimated by the public; no, not even by the multitude of afflicted humanity that has been relieved and cured by your medicines. Wherever I go or have been in the United States, I find persons who have used, and are using Dr. Pierce's medicines with satisfaction, for all conditions for which they are recommended. Never has one spoken disparagingly of their action, and from having seen so often their good effects, I am also enthused with confidence in their action in cases and conditions for which they are recommended. It is not common for regular physicians to endorse and recommend proprietary medicines, but in this case I have no equivocation or hesitancy in so doing."

The quick constipation-cure — Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Never gripe.

THE CUMBERLAND.

At anchor in Hampton Roads we lay
On board of the Cumberland, sloop-of-war,
And at times from the fortress across the bay
The alarum of drums swept past
Or a bugle blast
From the camp on the shore.

Then far away to the south up rose
A little feather of snow white smoke,
And we knew that the iron ship of our foes
Was steadily steering its course
To try the force
Of our ribs of oak.

Down upon us heavily runs,
Silent and sullen, the floating fort;
Then comes a puff of smoke from her guns
And leaps the terrible death,
With fiery breath,
From each open port.

We are not idle, but send her straight
Defiance back in a full broadside!
As hail rebounds from a roof of slate
Rebounds our heavier hail
From each iron scale
Of the monster's hide.

"Strike your flag!" the rebel cries
In his arrogant old plantation strain.
"Never!" our gallant Morris replies.
"It is better to sink than to yield!"
And the whole air pealed
With the cheers of our men.

Then like a kraken huge and black
She crushed our ribs in her iron grasp.
Down went the Cumberland all a wrack,
With a sudden shudder of death
And the cannon's breath
For her dying gasp.

Next morn, as the sun rose over the bay,
Still floated our flag at the mainmast head.
Lord, how beautiful was thy day!
Every waft of the air
Was a whisper of prayer
Or a dirge for the dead.

Ho, brave hearts that went down in the seas!
Ye are at peace in the troubled stream.
Ho, brave land, with hearts like these,
Thy flag, that is rent in twain,
Shall be one again
And without a seam!

To be entirely relieved of the aches and pains of rheumatism means a great deal, and Hood's Sarsaparilla does it.

Moody and the Sinless Man.

Some time ago a man who claimed perfection went to Evangelist Moody and commiserated him on his low level of Christian experience. Mr. Moody in a kind manner asked his caller if he never sinned nor did any wrong.

"No; I have not sinned for years; neither have I done anything that was wrong," was the prompt reply.

"Well, I'm glad to know it," said Mr. Moody, "but before I am convinced I would like to ask your wife."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Time Allowance.

"Waiter," said the bicyclist at the little country inn, "bring me three eggs and boil them four minutes."

Fifteen minutes elapse, and the waiter returns with one egg.

"Very sorry, sir, our eggs is out. This is the only one we had left—but we boiled it 12 minutes, sir."

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

HE DESERVED HONOR

SIR E. J. MONSON'S RECORD OF FAITHFUL SERVICE TO BRITAIN.

Sketch of His Early Career, in Which He Proved Himself an Ardent and Successful Scholar—His Public Service Varied, Long and Prosperous—Now British Ambassador at Paris.

Sir Edmund John Monson, the British Ambassador at Paris, whose portrait is given herewith, has had a long and varied career, and few have such a record of faithful and prosperous service. Sir Edmund is the third son of the sixth Baron Monson, and was born at Chart Lodge, Kent, on Oct. 6, 1834. Educated at Eton and Balliol College, Oxford, where he took a first-class in law and history in 1855, he was made a Fellow of All Souls in 1858, and Examiner for Taylorian Scholarships in 1868. Having been nominated an attache, and passed his examination, he was appointed to Paris in 1856, to Florence in 1858, Paris again in the same year, and finally in the same year to Washington. He was private secretary to Lord Lyons until 1868, when he was transferred to Hanover, where he became third secretary, ultimately removing to Brussels. In 1868 he resigned and contested Reigate. He went to the Azores as Consul in 1869, became Consul-General for Hungary in 1871, and was on special service in Dalmatia and Montenegro from 1876-1877, received a C.B. in 1878, and in 1879 became Minister to the Republic of Uruguay. Thence he removed to the Court of Denmark in 1884, to the Court of Greece in 1888, and to the Court of Belgium in 1892. He was made Ambassador to the Emperor of Austria in 1893, and now he holds the reins at the British Embassy in Paris. His country has not forgotten how to be grateful for his services, for Her Majesty conferred upon him a K.C.M.G. in 1886, a G.C.M.G. in 1892, and a Privy Councillorship in 1898.

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov. 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Gerrard street, east, who has been restored to vigourous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so-called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

A TINY RESERVATION.

William Penn's Indian Tract Still Preserved in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia contains one relic of the days of William Penn which is unknown to most inhabitants of the Quaker City. It is a small portion of ground which still retains by virtue of a provision in the charter its original character. Right in the heart of the business section of the city it lies, the only place for miles around that bears no footprints of the march of progress and commerce, the only building lot in the city which has never been near the hands of a real estate agent.

You have but to go down Walnut street to Second, turn up Second until you come to a little iron gate on the east side of the street, swing it back and enter and you stand within the Indian reservation.

In the days when Philadelphia used to be the metropolis of the red men, and they came by various trails across the country and down the Delaware to hold council there, it grew necessary for them to have some appointed spot for their conclaves. William Penn dedicated this reservation to them as a trysting place and provided that it should be sacred to their use forever.

It is a foreign enough place now, shut in as it is by high buildings on nearly every side. The old Union Telegraph office confronts it on one side, a wholesale liquor dealer's store backs up against it on another, and a high board fence chokes off the last hope of any outlook from the place.

There is no mark to tell of its original use or to stamp it as one of the curiosities of the day. One's only solace for his grievance is to imagine that the stealthy tread of moccasined feet is still echoing there and that the strange words of the redskin's tongue have left some spell upon the place.

In size it is a poor comment upon Penn's generosity, for it scarcely affords room sufficient to turn a wagon and a pair of horses. Perhaps because of its microscopic dimensions there has never been any attempt to encroach upon the rights of the old reservation.

For more than a century it has stood in its native state in the midst of the great city, a relic of a pathetic past, an heirloom for owners who will never reclaim it.

WRITES A LETTER ON DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Sufferers are at liberty to correspond with the above address and will obtain full particulars regarding the great cure.

He says: My wife was most terribly afflicted with protruding piles, and contemplated a surgical operation. A friend of ours recommended the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and less than one box effected a complete cure. We were so pleased with the ointment that I tried it myself, as I have been troubled with an unsightly skin affliction which covered the lower part of my face.

For 25 years I suffered untold agony, and was treated by the best medical skill in the United States. I consider Dr. Chase's Ointment worth its weight in gold for piles and skin disease.

TOBACCO AND THE HEART.

A Doctor Gives What He Calls Cold Facts About Smoking.

"I don't like to upset a cherished tradition," said a doctor who is himself a devotee of the weed, "but the talk one hears of nicotine saturating the systems of smokers is mostly rot. Nicotine is a deadly poison. One drop of it will make a good sized mastiff turn up his toes if injected subcutaneously, and it would take precious little of it to kill a man. The truth is that very little is absorbed, even by the most confirmed smokers. Now and then you read of men who die from excessive tobacco using and are found on autopsy to be literally reeking with nicotine. All rubbish. Nothing of the kind ever happened.

"Again, it's a favorite experiment to blow smoke through a handkerchief, and the stain that is produced is popularly supposed to be made by nicotine. It is really oil of tobacco, which is a horse of quite a different color. No, the chief harm done by smoking is the stimulus which it gives to the heart. This is particularly true of cigarette smoking, where 'inhaling' is nearly always practiced.

"Each time the smoke is inhaled it acts as a slight spur to the heart, and, needless to say, there is sure to be a reaction. If the smoker is in good general health, he will probably never feel it, but if he isn't there will be periods of profound depression, and, not knowing the cause, he is apt to try to brace up on a drink, which makes matters just that much worse. If he has organic heart trouble—valvular weakness, I mean—it's quite possible that he will tumble over some day and put his angel plumage on. Those are the cold facts about smoking—none other are genuine."

Look Out For The Engine.

We mean your heart. Keep it strong. Don't let it flutter or beat with a weak stroke. Scott's Emulsion feeds the blood. It makes the heart beat stronger, and greatly improves the circulation.

Not Very Pathetic.

An Ohio woman visiting Boston for the first time has been doing the sights. "I had my greatest thrill down at Copp's Hill burying ground," she said.

"Yes, that's just the place for the historic emotions," commented her interlocutor. She smiled.

"As soon as my sister-in-law and I got into the place," she said, "I found myself almost stepping upon a grave with an inscription on a queer little iron cover sort of tomb. I jumped back, feeling the way you do when you step on a grave, and read the inscription, just three initials, no name or date. 'Isn't it pathetic?' I said to my sister-in-law. 'Oh, I don't know,' she answered, 'B. W. W. means Boston Water Works.'"—Boston Transcript.

WINTER.

Merry, though the moon shines pale
And the wind tossed branches wail.
Purest crystals float and fall.
There they sparkle,
Here they darkle,
On the pine and lonely wall.

Merry, though the stream is still
'Neath the cold and trackless hill.
There the realms of Hesper glow.
Twilight lingers.
Shining fingers
Gild the sleeping fields of snow.

Preferred a Solo.

A gushing, sentimental girl and her matter of fact aunt sat on a green hillside, the aunt endeavoring to enjoy nature, while her niece discoursed of things far and near without a noticeable pause for breath.

At last she spoke of the beauties of the landscape at great length. "I love to listen to the music of that brook as it babbles on and on," she said unwisely.

"Yes," said the aunt, seizing her first opportunity, "the babbling of a brook is a pleasant sound, my dear. I think I prefer it as a solo, however, rather than with another part. I don't care so much for a babbling duet."

Then for a few delightful moments there was silence on the green hillside.—Youth's Companion.

Doan's Kidney Pills

THE REMEDY SHE USED.

Our representative called at the residence of Mrs. E. Toole, Kent Street, Lindsay, Ont., and was favoured with an interview. Mrs. Toole states:

"For three years I have suffered terribly with pain in my back and limbs, and also with excruciating pains in my head and neck. I felt very dizzy and when I awoke in the morning seemed to be in a stupid or dazed condition, so much so that it would be a couple of hours before I was able to do anything. Many a time I had to walk the floor for hours at night, on account of the pain from which I suffered. I had no appetite, and was very nervous and easily startled; sometimes feeling that I was about to faint from the fluttering and palpitation of my heart.

"All last summer I was attended by a physician, who said I had diabetes, and I can say that I have taken a great deal of medicine, but received no benefit from the same. In fact, I was in an awful state. No one but myself knows how much I suffered!

"I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, and have taken two boxes of them. From the first I commenced to improve. They have worked a wonderful change for the better in my health. They have cured all the pain, restored restful sleep, strengthened my nerves, and given me a good appetite. In fact, I am sure the pills were exactly the medicine I needed; and I cannot express the joy I feel at this change in my health, which is all caused by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c a box or 3 boxes for $1.25. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education, Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Again I have the honour of submitting, for the consideration of your Committee on Appointments, my report on the work being done by the various teachers in your employ. As I have therein dealt with these teachers individually and commented, where necessary, upon their efficiency, the progress of their respective classes, the effectiveness of their discipline, and the success of their methods of instruction, I shall for the present refrain from making thereon any further general remarks. Suffice it to say, that it is gratifying to be able to report so favourably of your staff and to inform you that in your schools, between teachers and pupils, the best of harmony apparently prevails, and consequently there is seldom any difficulty experienced in maintaining good order—a fact creditable as well to the pupils as to the teachers.

During the present term the regularity of the pupils has, on the whole, been fairly satisfactory, the average attendance for September, October and November being respectively 90, 92 and 93 per cent of the enrollment, as opposed to 87, 87 and 79 per cent. for the corresponding months of last year. The number of "lates" is also gradually diminishing, but there is still room for improvement, and the teachers are constantly urged to use every effort in perfecting these commendable habits of punctuality and regularity.

With regard to the question of shorter hours referred to me by the resolution passed at your last meeting, I beg to report that I have given the matter due consideration and have obtained some information thereon from principals and inspectors in several of the larger towns and cities. I find that in most places the hours are little different from those we at present adopt, and that the only pupils generally exempted from full time attendance are those in the primary or junior Part I grade, and that in many cases even this exemption is due to a lack of accommodation.

However, when we consider the ages of these pupils, and the fact that at the commencement of school life they are unaccustomed to long-continued restraint, it is perhaps unfair to ask that they be confined for the full school time in their usually, though unavoidably, overcrowded class rooms. Therefore, believing that it would be to their advantage, I respectfully recommend that all your Junior Pt. I. classes be dismissed at the hours of 11.30 a. m. and 3 30 p. m., and further that in those schools where the number enrolled in this grade exceeds 50 the junior subdivision of the grade be dismissed at the morning and afternoon intermissions, it being understood that such subdivisions shall mainly consist of only those pupils not attending school for a longer period than three months.

As for the other classes though I should not be averse to some changes in their school hours, I am at present unprepared to recommend any immediate action, believing that under the judicious teacher no injury to the pupils can possibly result. Of course mental, as well as physical over-fatigue must at all times be guarded against. This is done by closely watching the ventilation of the class room, by a proper arrangement of the subjects upon the timetable, by providing sufficient variety in the class work, by the systematic use of calisthenic exercises, and by the many other devices which the efficient teacher has ever in store.

This leads me to make some reference to a subject which, in addition to its value as a means of aesthetic culture, has a marvellous recreative influence, and which, I regret to say, has at present little place upon our school programme—I mean music. Unfortunately the majority of the teachers apparently lack the qualifications necessary to impart instruction in this subject and are, therefore, unable to avail themselves of a means of recreation which would greatly freshen the lessons and brighten the school hours of their pupils.

Few remarks are required with regard to the condition of the school premises and property. Your committee have from time to time promptly attended to the necessary repairs and have, I believe, under consideration some improvements recommended in a former report. There is one room, however, to which I would beg to again call your attention, namely, that in the Central school now occupied by the Junior Part I. class. It is poorly lighted, difficult to ventilate and lacking in the necessary accommodation. As a remedy I would suggest that the room now vacant in the George street school be fitted up and another class placed therein, thus vacating one of the upper rooms in the Central school to which the Junior Part I. class could be transferred. Should the board see fit to take such action I would ask permission to make such re-arrangement of the staff as the circumstances would require.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
DUNCAN WALKER,
Inspector.

Report was referred to Supervision Committee.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. John Flood, of Ennismore, were renewing friends here the past few days.

The Rev. Father Fitzpatrick left here for Downeyville and Lindsay on Tuesday. He expects to return on Friday.

The steamer Majestic is still hauling wood from Stoney Lake, but we expect to hear of Capt. Scollard being snowed or frozen in one of these blustering days.

Mr. P. P. Young returned home on Thursday from the hunt. He informs us Mr. C. Gutterson, better known as Shortie, was lucky in capturing one deer, and Jerry Young shot another.

Mr. W. J. Young is having an ice house built on his property behind the store. The building is being constructed by Mr. Ed. Young, and when completed will be used for storing meat, etc., as well as ice.

The addition which is being built to Rev. Father Fitzpatrick's house, makes quite an improvement to the property. The building was engineered by Mr. Ed. Quinn, of Lakefield, and Mr. P. A. Kearney is now finishing it.

LUMBER MAY BE FREE

Reciprocity Schedule Brought Down by U. S. Commissioners.

SAID TO BE ONLY A FEELER.

At Any Rate They Are Not Acceptable to the Canadian End of the Joint Commission—The Representatives of Canada and United States Now at Close Trade Quarters.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 8.—At the meeting of the reciprocity committee yesterday morning the American commissioners submitted a series of proposals regarding reductions of duty and the free exchange of products.

The officers of the Agricultural Department have been in conference with Mr. Dingley and it is understood that a number of farm products are included in the schedule presented.

The proposals, one of the Canadian commissioners said, gave a basis for further negotiation.

For the first time in a quarter of a century the representatives of the United States and Canada have got to close quarters on the question of reciprocity in trade. What the result will be is uncertain, but at any rate the people of Canada will speedily learn how far their American neighbors under Republican administration are prepared to go in the encouragement of closer trade relations. It has taken Senator Fairbanks, Mr. Dingley, Mr. Kasson, who constitute the American reciprocity committee, a long time to get their proposals formulated, but the conferences of the past week with prominent Senators have enabled them to prepare a statement as to the articles on which, in their opinion, a reciprocity agreement might be based. This proposal was presented at a meeting yesterday morning, at which Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Louis Davies and Mr. Charlton, the Canadian committee on reciprocity, met their American friends. The conference lasted from 9.30 till 11.30, and at the close of the meeting the Canadian commissioners retired to their rooms and held a consultation with Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The joint session will be resumed this morning, and more rapid progress is now anticipated, since there are at least definite American proposals to discuss. There will doubtless be much guessing in regard to the nature of the proposals, but the commissioners are now keeping even a stricture watch than before to prevent information from getting out. That the proposals made yesterday are but a feeler seems to be the prevailing opinion among the Canadians, and from that one may reasonably draw the conclusion that in their present form they are not acceptable to Canada.

Lobbyists of the lumber interests express their confidence that free lumber is not among yesterday's proposals, and they are making a running fight against it. This is altogether a matter of conjecture on their part, however, and one at least of the American commissioners, on whom they have been depending for opposition to free lumber, is coming round to the view that free lumber would not be such a bad thing. If the reciprocity discussion lengthens out, as it may, the commissioners may find it necessary to adjourn for the Christmas holidays before reaching a conclusion.

DINED BY THE LEITERS.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and His Friends Entertained at Washington.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Leiter gave a dinner of 38 covers last night in honor of the joint commission on the part of the United States and Great Britain. The table was set with the most magnificent silver and glass. According to the invariable custom of Mrs. Leiter, no flowers were used in the decoration of the table. The guests were the Premier of Canada and Lady Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Louis and Lady Davies, Sir James Winter, Mr. and Mrs. John Charlton, Senator and Mrs. Fairbanks, Senator and Mrs. Faulkner, Representative and Mrs. Dingley, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Foster, John W. Kasson, T. Jefferson Coolidge, the Secretary of State and Mrs. Hay, Representative and Mrs. Hitt, the Chief Justice and Mrs. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Boardman, Admiral Schley, Miss Leiter, Miss Daisy Leiter and Joseph Leiter.

FATAL FIRE IN TORONTO.

Helen Power, Nurse, Jumps From a Third Storey Window and Dies.

Toronto, Dec. 8.—A fire just west of the Telegram office on King street last night, which began about 10 o'clock, proved fatal to one woman, possibly to two, and disastrous in injuries to another. The firemen rescued three women who were standing in windows crying piteously for help when they arrived on the scene. Miss Helen Power, a professional nurse aged 65 years, either fell or jumped from the third storey to the stone pavement beneath and received fatal injuries, from which she died at 1.20 this morning. Miss Kathleen Barber, dressmaker, was very badly burned about the body and breast, and at three o'clock this morning had taken so bad a turn for the worse that she is likely to die. Mrs. Feroe, an elderly lady, is suffering mostly from shock, although her hands are terribly wounded by broken glass. The cause of these fatalities was that the fire rushed up the stairway and cut off access to the street. The financial loss will not be great, probably $1,200—$700 on building and $500 on contents, Messrs. McLeod, McElroy & Hunter, tailors, being the heaviest losers.

PREVOST SENTENCED.

Found Guilty of Murdering Two Swine Herders Near Port Arthur, Ont.—Two Indians Get 10 Years.

Port Arthur, Ont., Dec. 8.—This town is to have its first hanging, and the date set for the execution is St. Patrick's Day, 1899. Oliver Prevost has been convicted of murdering two French swine herders named Carriere and Dalvin on the 10th of February, 1897.

The case opened on Monday before Chief Justice Armour, and was not concluded until half-past 1 o'clock yesterday morning, when the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

The evidence was largely of a circumstantial nature, the principal witness for the Crown being Rosanna Gautier, wife of a Valleyfield, Que., man. At the time of the tragedy Mme. Gautier was living with Prevost at Port Arthur as his mistress.

After the announcement of the verdict Chief Justice Armour, in an impressive manner, commented upon the justice of the verdict, and condemned the prisoner to be hanged on the 17th of March next, St. Patrick's Day. This will be the first hanging in Port Arthur's history, although there have been several murder trials here.

Two Indians Sentenced.

The Assizes came to a sudden termination here yesterday, when the charge against the two Indian brothers named Moses, charged with murder, was changed to that of manslaughter, to which they pleaded guilty and were sentenced to ten years in Kingston.

FACTS ABOUT HEALTH

It is Easy to Keep Well if We Know How—Some of the Conditions Necessary to Perfect Health.

The importance of maintaining good health is easily understood, and it is really a simple matter if we take a correct view of the conditions required. In perfect health the stomach promptly digests food, and thus prepares nourishment. The blood is employed to carry this nourishment to the organs, nerves, muscles and tissues which need it. The first great essential for good health, therefore, is pure, rich blood. Now it is certainly a fact that no medicine has such a record of cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is literally true that there are hundreds of people alive and well today who would have been in their graves had they not taken Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is depended upon as a family medicine and general regulator of the system by tens of thousands of people. This is because Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure. This is the secret of its great success. Keep your system in good health by keeping your blood pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla, which absolutely cures when other medicines fail to do any good whatever.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

HON. MR. FOSTER is a wise man; he knows where to direct his missionary efforts. The Montreal Herald points out that he addresses his anti boodle speeches to his Conservative friends.

AT the general elections in May, 1897, Missisquoi, Que., was carried by the Liberals by 405 majority; Bagot went Conservative by forty-seven majority and Beauharnois Liberal by 272. It is likely that in the bye-elections all the seats will go Liberal.

THE Ottawa Journal speaks out in favor of the maintenance of the Yukon royalty. It says: "No reason why Canada at large should pay out a million dollars a year to facilitate strangers and aliens getting away with Canadian gold. Three fourths of the people in the Yukon are foreigners who will go home when they have made their pile." That is Canadianism. That is the view the Times has taken of the matter from the outset. Canada should not merely be freed from expense in the Yukon matter; she should derive a revenue from it while the productive season lasts.

BRITAIN'S RULE ABROAD.

(Providence Journal.)

Great Britain administers the affairs of hundreds of millions of persons of all races without putting a strain on the British taxpayer, and with fewer white soldiers than most of the European powers. In India among 300,000 people, there are only 70,000 white men in the garrisons; in Egypt, among 9,000,000 people, the normal white garrison is only 3,500, while in Ceylon, the Straits Settlements, the West Indies and West Africa, there is not a single white regiment.

Are these not re-assuring figures for the anti-imperialists, who dread sending large armies to tropical climates and fear that the United States treasury will run empty? But now, that this government has been drawn, largely by force of circumstances, and partly against its will, into its share of the great work of civilizing and controlling the tropics, it is of wide interest, while many patriotic Americans predict that their beloved land is going to ruin, to notice that there are foreign statesmen who believe that our countrymen "will perform the duty worthily and with honour and advantage to themselves."

FOR POULTRY RAISERS.

Some Practical Points.

Kerosene, remember, is the cheapest of all insecticides. Therefore, don't be afraid to use it liberally on the hen-roosts to prevent lice. Apply some now, for lice do damage even in cold weather.

As the weather grows colder and the hens have to be confined, it is advisable to place a rusty nail, or the like, in their drinking fountain.

Corn meal mush is a most excellent fattener, and especially if fed warm. In case it takes away the fowl's appetite, feed some fruit and vegetables such as apples and cabbage. These will not cause any loss of the fattening foods to be devoured.

Construct nests so that hens must get down into them, if you don't want them to eat their eggs. A hen rarely attempts to eggs unless she can get to the conveniently, and generally she requires an abundance of room for this purpose.

If you cannot obtain meat for your fowls, buy them some cottonseed meal. Feed it daily in proportion of one pint to a mess of soft food sufficient for two hundred hens. Milk, also is an excellent substitute for meat, being preferred by some poultry keepers to anything else No matter how well-balanced it may be, as much as possible to give

Be sure to provide a scratching place. Cover the floor with fine dry leaves or chaff to the depth of not less than a foot. Among this scatter daily a handful of wheat (millet seeds are preferred if obtainable), and let the fowls scratch for it. The fact is, the more they are induced to scratch the better they will look, the happier they will be, and the more eggs they will lay. Just try it and see.

Do not forget to examine your henhouse and see if it is in good condition. If there are any cracks stop them at once, for to have wind and rain thus get in is frequently the cause of roup. Also clean out the hen house at least once a week, and sprinkle the floor and roosts with crude carbolic acid (ten cents' worth will suffice for a long time) and every fortnight put a few drops in the drinking water. See that the drinking water is kept fresh at all times, and when the weather is quite cool never fail to warm it.

Did you ever See a Snow Storm in Summer?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow-storm.

No need of this snowstorm.

As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will

Ayer's Hair Vigor

melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation.

It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address,

AN ANGRY EMPRESS.

Must Have Kang Yu Wei at Any Cost—French Ultimatum Causes Consternation.

Pekin, Dec. 8.—The Dowager Empress' anger at Kang Yu Wei, the Cantonese reformer, is said to have culminated in a secret order sent to the Chinese minister at Tokio, Japan, instructing the latter to capture Kang Yu Wei at all costs.

The German minister here, Baron von Heyking, has demanded of the Chinese Foreign Office that a German missionary lately maltreated in the Province of Shan Tung shall be escorted through the district by Chinese officials, and be shown special honors, and that the Mandarin responsible for the outrage be degraded.

The members of the Tsung Li Yamen are greatly perturbed at the French ultimatum regarding the missionary held by the Sze Chuan rebels. They declare it is impossible to comply with the demand of France for his release, as the Sze Chuanese rebels are beyond control.

Fighting in the Swat Valley.

Bombay, Dec. 8.—Fighting has been renewed in the Swat Valley, between the Mad Mullah and the forces of the Nawab of Dir. Forty were killed on each side.

Paris Papers Angry.

Paris, Dec. 8.—The Paris newspapers yesterday vigorously denounced the speech delivered the day before by the British ambassador, Sir Edmund J. Monson, at the annual meeting of the British Chamber of Commerce here, as being a commentary and warning in the most offensive form. They say the French ambassador at London, M. Paul Cambon, will certainly be instructed to ask the Marquis of Salisbury whether it was by his orders that Sir Edmund undertakes to direct France's foreign policy.

Britain Will Be Hit.

London, Dec. 8.—Senor Juaralda, president of the Spanish finance delegation now in London, says the bulk of the trade of the Philippines is in the hands of the English, and if anyone is going to lose in trade by the war it is the English.

The Spaniards almost unanimously feel that America's success is greatly due to England's sympathy, and any loss which English trade may suffer by the transfer of the Philippines is looked upon as just retribution.

Revision of Anglo-Congo Convention.

London, Dec 8.—A Brussels despatch yesterday afternoon says in response to a suggestion of King Leopold to the British Government that the Bahr-el-Ghazal be included in the Congo Free State, Lord Salisbury says the Anglo-Congo convention must be revised so as to secure British occupation from Uganda northwards. This involves the revocation of the Congo State's lease of the Emin Pasha Province.

Beresford's Homeward Trip.

Shanghai, Dec. 8.—Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, member of Parliament in the Conservative interest for York City, who has been in China for some time on behalf of the British Associated Chambers of Commerce, will start on his home voyage early next month, going by way of Japan and the United States. He received many invitations from Americans to make the return trip by that route.

INGERSOLL PROVES IT.

Dodd's Kidney Pills the Only Cure for Bladder Disease.

Ingersoll, Dec. 5.—If there could be the slightest shadow of a doubt about the unfailing efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills, in all cases of Kidney and Bladder Disease and Rheumatism, the experience of Mr. Michael Sherlock, of Ingersoll, would positively dispel it forever.

Mr. Sherlock suffered unceasing tortures from Bladder and Kidney trouble, aggravated by Rheumatism, for five years. Every remedy he used failed to help him, until he began to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured him quickly, completely and permanently.

Dodd's Kidney Pills should be used by every sufferer from these complaints. They never fail to cure, and are beside, the best tonic and strengthener known.

Scrofula Cured.

CORDELIA VIAU'S TRIAL.

A Priest and Other Witnesses for the Crown Gave Important Testimony at St. Scholastique, Que.

St. Scholastique, Que., Dec. 8.—At the opening of the court yesterday morning, the prisoner looked at each of the jurymen when they rose to answer their names, and then assumed the same position with bowed head as she had done during all sittings of the court.

Rev. E. L. Pinault, priest of St. Canute, attended court in the morning, accompanied by Father Constant of St. Scholastique. He gave his evidence as follows: "I am the priest of St. Canute, and I had occasion to know the victim, Isadore Poirier, and the two accused, Cordelia Viau and Sam Parslow. It was commonly known in the village that the two were lovers, and two years ago George Parslow made a complaint to me to that effect. Then I wrote to Isadore Poirier in California, asking him to come home or to take his wife with him, but he answered in a very unsatisfactory way. A few months after Poirier returned. I paid no more attention to them. Sam Parslow was a singer in the choir at the church, and Cordelia Viau acted as organist."

The next witness was Evariste Champagne, agent for the Standard Life Assurance Company. He had occasion to meet the accused several times and received letters from her concerning her husband's insurance. She had asked him if the company would pay the insurance in any case of death, suicide or accident. This was two months before the murder took place.

The court then adjourned till 2 o'clock.

Important Witnesses.

At 2 in the afternoon the Crown called Mr. Joseph Meanier of St. Jerome. He stated that a few days previous to the murder Cordelia Viau, the accused, and her husband were boarding at his house. On the Monday before he saw the accused and Sam Parslow speaking on the street in front of the house, and asked them to come in out of the cold. They paid no attention to his remarks at first, but finally came in. He could not understand what they were speaking about, as they spoke in a very low tone.

The accused gave a bottle to Sam Parslow. When her husband came back from work at 6 she said to him: "You go to St. Canute and take Sam Parslow with you." Poirier objected and they had a few words, but he finally consented and went.

The day after Cordelia rose very early and said that she did not expect her husband that morning. "It was after the murder," said the witness, "that I told my wife that it was premeditated."

Miss Delia Lachapelle swore that the accused said to her one day: "They don't hang any more to-day, and in a few days you will see some other thing." Antoine Charbonneau and Philias des Ormeau, farmers of St. Canute, were the last witnesses. They were appointed keepers of Poirier's house by Coroner Mignault, and they found in the stove some ashes that they suspected was from linen or paper. During the sitting the accused got permission to retire from the courtroom because she was unable to remain longer, and her doctor stated to the court that she was suffering very much.

Court was adjourned till Friday at 10 a.m.

Piles Cured Without The Knife, by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Geo. Browne, painter, of Woodville, Ont., Victoia Co. says:—"For thirteen years I was a sufferer from bleeding piles and the intense agony which I passed through during those years and relief I obtained by Chase's Ointment prompts me to give this testimonial. My physicians wished me to have an operation but I felt I could be cured without the knife. Three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment stopped the bleeding and effected a permanent cure."

A Greek Genius.

Diamandi, a native of Pylaros, one of the Greek islands, is a remarkable calculator. After a mere glance at a blackboard on which 30 groups of figures are written he can repeat them in any order and deal with them by any arithmetical process. It is said that he never makes an error in calculations involving billions, and he can extract square or cube roots with marvelous rapidity and accuracy. An eminent German specialist declared the other day that all these ready reckoners were idiots. This is not the case with Diamandi, who writes poetry and novels in the intervals of business and shows considerable intellectual capacity.

PLAN SAILSBURY'S.

HOCKEY MEETING.

Mr. W. A. Buchanan Tendered his Resignation of the Secretaryship, as he is Leaving Town.

A general meeting of the members of the Hockey Club was held last evening in the rink parlours, with President Fife in the chair.

Messrs. W. A. Buchanan and A. A. Hollingshead, the delegates to the O.H.A. annual meeting, made their reports, which were received, on motion of Messrs. Kenner and Stocker.

As the age limit for junior teams was fixed at 19 years. Mr. Hollingshead stated that the Colts would enter this series and would affiliate with the Peterboroughs, taking the position of a third team.

The question then arose as to the advisability of entering a team in the intermediate series as well as the senior. The discussion on the matter was prolonged and the arguments adduced on both sides did much to throw light on every side of the point at issue.

Mr. Kenner strongly opposed the idea of three teams being entered, pointing out the disastrous consequence which attended a similar attempt two years ago.

Half a dozen speakers, however, strongly advocated the entering of teams in all three series, pointing out that that it had been decided to enter two teams anyway and that the fact of the Colts entering the Junior series practically left the situation unchanged, as in reality the Peterboroughs were still only entering two teams, as at first decided upon. One of the strongest arguments used on this side of the question was that as the Colts practised on different days from the Peterboroughs, if only one team was entered there would not be sufficient skaters on the ice for practice games. It was urged that the interest in hockey could not be maintained amongst the players and that as soon as the members of the team were selected those who were left out would discontinue attending practice, whereas if there were two teams, the interest would continue unabated through the season.

To close the question Messrs. A. A. Hollingshead and Vic McWilliams finally moved that teams be entered in the Senior, Intermediate and Junior Series, the latter team to be composed of the Colts.

In amendment Mr. H. R H. Kenner and Wilfred Crossley moved that teams be entered in only the Intermediate and Junior Series.

The amendment was lost and the original motion carried.

Mr. W. A. Buchanan, secretary-treasurer of the club, who is leaving town, then formally tendered his resignation.

President Fife made a neat little speech expressing the general sorrow of the members at losing one of the Executive, and the difficulty which would be experienced in selecting a man to fill his place, who could discharge the duties as capably.

Mr. Kenner and Mr. R. H. Keils added a few words to the eulogistic remarks of the president, after which the following resolution was carried:

Moved by H. R. H. Kenner, seconded by A. A. Hollingshead, "that the officers and members of the Peterborough Hockey Club learn with sincere regret the fact that Mr. W. A. Buchanan is going to sever his connection with the Hockey Club. In accepting his resignation we wish to place on record our high estimation of the valuable services he has rendered the club as secretary-treasurer during the past year. The season of 1897-8 has been the most prosperous one, both financially and otherwise, in the history of the local organization. This has been due, to a very large extent, to the untiring efforts he has put forth in the welfare of hockey in Peterborough. He has commanded the highest confidence of both the playing members of the team and the patrons of hockey in town. Whilst we are very sorry, indeed, that we will lose his valuable services, we are pleased to know that he has taken a step upwards in journalistic circles, and we wish him every success in his wider sphere of usefulness on the Toronto Telegram."

Mr. Buchanan briefly thanked the members for their kind expressions of esteem and voiced his regret at having to leave Peterborough, which he would not have done under any other circumstances than those which governed the present occasion.

The matter of selecting a new secretary-treasurer was left in the hands of the Executive Committee.

The president was asked to call a meeting of the playing members in order that a captain might be selected immediately and the men drummed out to practice.

Charlotte Street Special Services.

The special services in Charlotte street church are being continued all this week, beginning at 7.30 p.m. The first half hour is given to singing, in which all join heartily. Then a short sermon is given, followed by singing, prayer and testimony, the meeting closing at 9 p.m. The meetings are full of interest and profit to all who attend. Rev. Mr. Moore will preach to-night and Rev. Mr. Shorey on Friday night.

The Evening Journal, St. Thomas, speaks in this flattering way of Miss Ina Fenwick, whose picture appeared in a recent number of the Saturday Globe:—"Miss Ina Fenwick, elocutionist, won her way in the hearts of her audience at her first appearance, and the good impression was deepened as the programme progressed. Miss Fenwick has a winning manner, and a sympathetic well modulated voice, and withal she is graceful. Her lighter number pleased the audience best, but her recital of the Constance Speech from King John, displayed her truly wonderful emotional powers. She rendered Eugene Field's humorous poem, "Seein' Things at Night," in a manner that brought down the house.

TWO WEDDINGS.

Nuptials of Miss Eliza Green and Mr Wm. Heap, and of Miss Alice Lund and Mr. Thos. J. Carr.

A pretty wedding took place in All Saints' church yesterday afternoon, when Rev. W. L. Armitage performed the ceremony uniting Miss Eliza Green and Mr. Wm. Heap of Toronto, formerly of town.

The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Katie Green, and the same office was performed for the groom by his brother, Mr. George Heap.

The bride was prettily attired in pearl grey ladies cloth, trimmed with white satin and chiffon, while the bridesmaid was gowned in blue also trimmed with white satin and chiffon. Both carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. Wm. Green, 178 Park street, where the wedding dejeuner was served, about seventy guests being present. Mr. and Mrs. Heap left on the afternoon C. P. R. train for their future home in Toronto, where they will take up residence at No. 371 Bothurst street

Amongst the many valuable presents received was a dinner and tea set, a chamber set, a crumb tray and brush and silver cruet from the staff of the wire department of the Canadian General Electric Works, where the bride was formerly employed.

CARR—LUND.

Mr. Thos. J. Carr, of Otonabee, and Miss Alice E. Lund, of town, were quietly married yesterday afternoon in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends in the George street Methodist church.

The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. S. J. Shorey.

Miss Mary Bunton assisted the bride, and the groomsman was Mr. Herbert Hair, of town.

The wedding took place in Winnipeg on Tuesday, Nov. 29th, of Miss Lillian James, of that city, and Mr. George McWilliams, formerly of Peterborough.

Mr. W. H. Moore's Horse Demolishes a Plate Glass Window.

This morning as Mr. W. H. Moore's driver was going down George street he drove on the street car track and, turning off too suddenly, upset the cutter. Having dropped the lines in the fall the horse, feeling free, dashed madly down the street and taking to the sidewalk just in front of Mr. Stenson's boot and shoe store, flirted the cutter through the south plate glass window, smashing it to atoms. Before the horse was caught it received some ugly cuts about the legs.

A Bible Benefit

We are overstocked with BIBLES, HYMN BOOKS and PRAYER BOOKS, which we imported direct from the Oxford Publishing House, London, Eng.

This is a case where it does not do to have too much of a good thing, and we intend to arouse a missionary spirit in Peterborough, if bargains in BIBLES will do it. It may cost us something to reduce the stock, but necessity has no law.

Between now and December 25th our $700 stock of Bibles must be reduced at least one-fourth, even if we have to anticipate cost as the selling figures.

We thought we had reached the Acme of Bible selling a year ago, but here's a new mark:

Bagster's Comprehensive Teacher's Bible, size of page 8x5¼, minion type, red under gold edges; tough paper, and almost as thin as India; binding so flexible that it may be bent double, back to back. Publisher's regular price $4.25; Stratton's price.....$ 2.95

Oxford Teacher's Self-Pronouncing Bible, size of page 8x5¼ in., bourgoise type, red under gold edges. Publishers regular price $2.50, Stratton's price.....$ 1.75

Oxford Ruby Type Bible, yapped binding, lined with silk baize. Publisher's price $1.25, Stratton's price..... 94c

Oxford Pearl Type Bible, yapped leather binding, lined with silk baize. Publisher's price 70c, Stratton's price..... 49c

Oxford Minion Type Bible, yapped binding, Oxford Teachers' Helps, with Dennistoun's patent cut index, lined with silk Baize. Publisher's price $2.25, Stratton's price.....$ 1.50

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

THE KENNEL.

Enquiries are coming in from all over the Province, as well as Montreal, regarding the dog show. The secretary answered no less than twenty-seven letters yesterday.

Mr. A. H. Stratton is giving a very handsome Japanese vase for the best cocker on exhibition.

Forty-two classes are now provided for in the prize list.

Mr. Geo. H. Gooderham, the millionaire distiller, is offering some valuable special prizes, and is sending down ten of his terriers, including the famous Veracity, for which he paid $1,500 in England.

The Canadian Kennel Club offers ten dollars in specials, and the Canadian Collie Club is offering medals and cups.

HOCKEY

After practice on Monday evening the players will elect their captain. A full attendance is requested.

The Executive of the Hockey Club meets on Friday evening to elect a new secretary-treasurer and to decide some other questions of great importance.

SNOWSHOEING.

Five members of the Snow Shoe Club were out last evening for the first tramp of the season. The snow is hardly packed enough yet to make the sport enjoyable, but a crust is forming which will easily bear the weight of a snowshoer in a few days. Jackson Park was the objective point of the tramp last night.

GOLF.

To-day's Globe says :—There is probably no city or town in Canada where more real manly sport is encouraged or indulged in than in the enterprising and progressive town of Peterborough, Famous in curling, active and successful in cricket, lacrosse and football, now enthusiastic devotees of the good old royal game of golf, the people of Peterborough have a proper appreciation of the value of all outdoor exercise. The much-used golf grounds, covering about 200 acres of rising land at Auburn, have a situation at once attractive to the lover of the picturesque and natural. Looking west from the "Chilcoot" on the uplands can be seen the Otonabee river, rushing on with its immense waterpower to feed Peterborough's industries located on its banks, and immediately to the east is that great national waterway, the Trent Valley Canal, yet destined to play an important part in the transportation problem of the country. There is a membership in the club of 50, made up of an equal number of ladies and gentlemen, and a number of each can be seen on the links any fine day playing with a devotion and determination worth of North Berwick or Newport. The links are about two miles from the centre of the town, but an unsurpassed electric car service brings them within easy distance. A number of competitions take place during the season. Saturday saw the finish of the bankers' annual match which has been in progress for a week. The weather was all that could be desired, and the play was of a high order. Below is the result :

Bank of Montreal and Ontario Bank vs. Banks of Toronto and Commerce—F N Napier, Montreal, handicap. 15, 125 ; R C McHarrie, Commerce, 126 ; R M Hamilton, Montreal. handicap, 20,95 ; A St A Smith, Toronto, 93. A G Parker, Montreal, 114 ; J H Carter, Commerce, 121. W D Parker, Ontario, handicap 20, 126 ; J C Ardagh, Toronto, 130. Arthur McNee, Montreal, handicap 15 126 ; Geo S Johnston, Toronto, 126. Majority for Montreal and Ontario, 10 strokes.

DOMINION TRADING STAMP CO.

Handsome Showrooms and Office of the Company Opened in Peterborough.

There has just been opened in Birdsall's block, at No. 434 George, a branch office of the Dominion Trading Stamp Co. The agency is under the management of Mr. F. A. Peachey and Mrs. Anderson, graduates of the head office in Toronto. The premises have been specially fitted and furnished for the business of the Company and present quite an æsthetic appearance—the quiet and unconventional wall and ceiling coverings harmonizing in excellent taste with the artistic character of the goods displayed.

Whatever ulterior benefits, of a personal or private nature, may accrue to the merchant or customer who uses these Trading Stamps, it will be generally admitted that every legitimate effort made to encourage the system of buying and selling for cash should be encouraged.

The cash system has been gradually growing in Peterborough ; and while many merchants have been extremely anxious to put the system into force, they have felt apprehensive of the effect it would produce on their business. There is a class of customers who appreciate the blessing of being able to pay spot cash, and thus avoid the peroodical "dun" for their monthly, quarterly or yearly accounts. But there is also a large class who seem to prefer the "dun" to parting with their cash ; and a still larger class who haven't the ready cash to pay.

The Dominion Trading Stamp Company have a very simple and easily adapted scheme to offer whereby purchasers for cash from any of the merchants adopting this system are given these stamps along with every purchase. A one cent stamp is given with every ten cent purchase or multiple thereof ; twenty five cents, two stamps ; thirty-nine cents, three stamps ; one dollar, ten stamps, etc. These stamps are pasted in a directory book, and when filled it will be honoured on presentation at our show rooms and there exchanged for any article that the holder chooses to select. By reference to the advertisement of this firm, which will appear in to day's EXAMINER, a partial list of these articles is given. The public are invited to call and examine the extensive variety of handsome goods now on exhibition. No goods are sold, everything exchanged for trading stamps. The show rooms are opened daily and Saturday evenings, and already many admirers of this attractive new premises have been callers.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—The interior of Ormond & Walsh's Drug Store is being repainted by Mr. Watson.

—Mr. Garvin will give a talk on Literature to-morrow evening in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

—The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Society will be held in the Morgan House this evening.

—Since the recent fall of snow a few loads of wood have made their appearance on the market, but not in such quantities as to materially lower the price, which is still abnormally high.

—It is believed that the old elevator at Midland this year had the biggest season since the erection. Nearly five million bushels of grain have passed through it. The new elevator also did a big business.

—At the present time there is 1,100,000 bushels of corn and oats in the new elevator at Midland, and 430,000 of No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat in the old elevator. The grain is being shipped away as fast as possible to make room for other cargoes expected before navigation closes.

—How is it that the school board can, and usually does, get through its business at 9 or 9.30 ? And they do their business well, too. The town council, after holding committee meetings almost every night previous to a meeting, can't get through much before 12. What is the reason of the difference ?

A SUCCESSFUL AUCTION SALE.

Mr. Johnston Cooney, Otonabee, Sells his Farm Stock at Good Prices.

Mr. Johnston Cooney, an old and highly respected resident of Otonabee, having made a success of farming, has leased his farm and is coming to town to enjoy in comfort the products of the industry of his past life. Yesterday he held an auction sale of his farm stock and implements, which was in every way a great success. Both were of first-rate quality, and consequently Mr. John Haggart, the energetic auctioneer, had no difficulty in getting good prices. The prices of cattle and horses showed a good advance. Altogether over $1,500 was realized from the sale.
